County Responsibility in Health Plan Participation Is Outlined By Meacham

Responsibility for counties wishing to participate in the State Health Insurance Program of the Civil Service Department was outlined at a recent meeting of the State Welfare Conference held at Whiteface, N. Y.

Mr. Meacham, director of the Personnel Services Division of the Civil Service Department, outlined the State plan, written by Blue Cross, Blue Shield and Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., and the accompanying options, Health Insurance Plan of New York and Group Health Insurance Plan, available only in certain areas in the state.

The state officials emphasized the responsibility of the various political subdivisions in seeking the plan for their employees. The State is not in the business of selling the plan, he said, but wishes to help the political subdivisions in any way possible in setting up a health insurance program in their particular community.

In dealing with the county participation, here is what Mr. Meacham said:

Cost Described

"Be on the mind that the costs I speak of now are present costs for the first contract year which ends December 31, 1958. On a semi-monthly basis, the employee and the State pay $1.29 each and for individual and dependent coverage, the employee pays $4.45 and the State $2.99. On a monthly basis the employee pays $2.58 and the State $2.58 for individual coverage. For individual and dependent coverage, the employee pays $8.89 and the State $5.99. But while changes in the State Plan may be made from time to time, you may be sure that whatever the plan is, it will be the same for local as for State employees. Let us consider now some of the other aspects of extending the opportunity to participate in this plan to the employees of the local subdivisions in New York State. The opportunity to participate is extended by virtue of Chapter 805 of the Laws of 1958. Under this law there are several specific requirements for participation in the program. First, the local subdivisions must be willing to participate and participation must be approved by the Temporary Health Insurance Board. According to Chapter 805 of the law, the election to participate shall be exercised by the adoption of a resolution setting forth the provisions of the plan. The resolution of its passage in the governing body and in the case of any municipal corporation where a resolution of its passage must be by vote of the electorate is required by Law to be approved by any other body or officer, such resolution shall also be approved by such other body or officer."

County Share of Bill

"The second requirement set forth in the law is that the participant subdivision . . . shall be required to pay the same rate of contribution as the State . . . As indicated by you previously the current contract calls for the employer to pay 50% of the cost of individual coverage and 33 1/3% of the cost of dependent coverage. If this rate is changed for the State in the future, the future plan must be approved by the employer and the employee shall be required to change their rate of contribution to conform to that paid by the State. The average (Continued on Page 3)"

The New York City Housing Authority signed a contract with HA and Local 237 Sign ir.g 2,600 employees. Chairman Commissioner; Irving Weiss, presence of Ira S. Robbins HA Precedent-Setting Pact Foley, chairman of the union's to the housing division, and Joseph De Simone, (extreme right) member of the employerm_ARCHIVE, chairman, Irving Weiss, chairman of the union's housing division, Louis Statin, union's business agent, and Joseph De Simone, to the housing division, and Joseph De Simone, (extreme right) member of the grievance board.

Across-the-Board Raise

The contract provides for an across-the-board salary increase through the granting of an advancement increment, the increment being at a higher level than formerly; payment in cash for overtime work, instead of in compensatory time off; liberalized leave rules for skilled trades employees; and a better break for employees injured on the job.

The effective date is July 1, 1959, and the contract runs for a year. Although officially entitled "memorandum of agreement, the pact is not a contract, and the HA makes no bones about that fact.

When Mr. Reid was Chairman of the Board of Transportation he continued the annual signed agreement with the Transportation Workers Union, and has continued to do so.

The committee was established in 1958 to help eliminate employment discrimination on the basis of sex, religion, and national origin. The second report covers the committee's work from May, 1959 to January, 1960.

The public members of the committee are Archibald J. Carey, Jr., Chicago; chairman; Bertha B. Rieker, of Pittsburgh, vice chairman; Milton H. Rice, New York City; and Mrs. Jane W. Warnock of Eagle Butte, S. D., alternate public members. The government members are J. Ernest Wilson, Assistant Secretary of Labor, Civilian Mobilization, and W. Arthur Stein, president, D. C. C., former Chairman of the Fair Employment Board.

The purpose of the committee is to educate employers about the benefits of a fair employment policy and to bring the right man and the right woman to the right job.

There are a sorry spectacle constantly recurring in Washington in which no one can take pride. The antics in the Goldflne hearings, before a House Committee, are reflecting a low ebb in American thought. Some of the testimony has cast a shadow over the Civil Service. By implication, some of the public workers have found themselves being suspected of accepting rewards for doing favors for certain businessmen. Between 20 and 30 of them are acknowledged recipients of small Christmas gifts of $23 to $50 checks from Mr. Goldflne.

"Goldflne testified he played Santa Claus by annually giving these small items to "some poor workers." He, obviously, in his statement, was using the adjective "poor" to describe their financial circumstances. But instead have taken to the public rostrum to state their views. One gave much of his time and energy to formulating a compensation plan for the Armed Services.

here still. When India and Pakistan were divided, the British government, which had administered the subcontinent since the 19th century, was forced to take a more active role in managing the affairs of the two new nations. The British were concerned about maintaining stability and preventing further conflicts. They established a new government in Pakistan and worked to ensure the safety and welfare of the many people who had been displaced by the partition. The British also had to deal with the issue of how to handle the large number of refugees who had fled from one country to the other. They set up camps and provided food and shelter to these refugees. Despite these efforts, the British were unable to fully resolve the issue of the partition of India and Pakistan, and the relationship between the two countries remains complex to this day.
Dual Landmarks

HISTORY was made last week when the New York City Housing Authority, through Chairman William Reid, signed an annual contract with an employee group. Never before in the City's history had a New York City agency signed a contract with an employee organization.

This was a first of the first water because it represents the breaking of an imperceptible yet effective barrier that had prevailed far too long.

There is no more reason why government should not sign a contract on pay, hours, leave, working conditions, and fringe, than why industry should not—even no reason why it should not. Government signs contracts with contractors. Why government, as a sovereign, can not well contract with Reid and his fellow-Commissioners, Ira S. Robbins and Paul Mangin, of the New York City Teachers Retirement system, the same principle that governs the signing of such contracts by the Housing Authority Retirement system as well, since the decision was based on a specific provision of the State Constitution. This provision reads as follows:

""After July 1, 1940, membership in any pension or retirement system of the State shall be irrevocable under existing law, must have arisen in most cases either from misunderstanding or obstinacy, the Committee would grant that opportunity, and should be encouraged to make a similar appeal to Senator Byrd on behalf of New York City employees, as should the comptrollers of other jurisdictions.""

TODAY is July 15, 1958

Give Em Another Chance

REFUSAL by wary public employees to accept Social Security, under legal provisions that made the decision irrevocable under existing law, must have arisen in most cases either from misunderstanding or obstinacy, so that it was generally supposed that the entire residual is not in good earnest. The spirit in itself, hardly representative of such dealing with government generally, did as much as to set a landmark as did the signing of the first contract. The employees were as much struck by that spirit as by the practical advantage it would provide, including a substantial pay increase. They felt that the consideration shown them was something so new and friendly as to be inspiring.

The United States Senate soon will vote a bill establishing a code of ethics for Federal employees and officials, too. A 10-point code was reported favorably by the Senate's Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

Last year a similar code was voted by the House of Representatives. The Senate did not concur. But this year, particularly because of the disclosures by the House Special Committee on Legislative Oversight, the Senate is expected to go along. The committee exposed gifts accepted by Federal officials from Berhard Goldline, textile magnate friend of Sherman Adams, the Assistant to President Eisenhower.

Goldline testified to making a gift of some $100 to several Federal employees. Mr. Adams was one of the recipients. Payment of hotel bills was one of Mr. Goldline's favorite gifts. Code of conduct, the committee declared, foresaw them accepting the propriety of accepting such gifts. The code is expected to define the allowable limits even more precisely than does the present draft. The whole subject is now before a conference committee of senators and Representatives.

Text of Some Planks

One of the planks of the present draft instructs officials and other employees as follows:

"Never discriminate unfairly by the dispensing of special favors to deprived clients, or to members of a particular group, or to those who can afford to pay, or to those who cannot.

"Put loyalty to the highest moral principles and to country above loyalty to persons, party, or Government departments.

"Never allow any information coming to him confidentially in the performance of his duties to be used unfairly or in an improper way.

"Seek to find and employ more economical ways to get specific work accomplished.

"Make no private promises of any kind binding upon the duties of office.

"In no business with the Government, either directly or indirectly, which is inconsistent with the conscientious performance of his governmental duties.

"Never accept free gifts from any contributor for the benefit of the Federal Government by that time. Also, there is a State code of ethics applicable to State employees, that Attorney General Louis J. Goldstein asked Mayors to submit to the General Services Board. Mr. Schackman felt that the present code of ethics met the situation at least as well and expressed hope that the New York code would be even more satisfactory and effective.

New Code for NYC

Meanwhile New York City is soon to vote a code of ethics applicable to its own employees, while quasi-independent agencies are currently discussing one. The City's State Employees Retirement Board has in mind the need for a written code of conduct for Authority employees which will in unmistakable terms define permitted and prohibited activities. Such a code will prevent unfortunate misunderstanding and will enable the Authority and the public to receive the benefit of staff services in line with the highest standards of ethical conduct. Such a code is now being prepared.

Grateful for Reinstatement

Mr. Schackman made this statement to the Leader:

"I want to express my appreciation to Chairman William Reid and to the other members of the New York City Housing Authority, to Ira S. Robbins and Frances V. Magin, for their consideration and fairness to me. I want to thank my attorneys, former Commissioner of Investigation Louis E. Vacarino, for his diligent and able efforts in presenting my case.

"Most of all, I want to pledge all of my talents and efforts to the service of the Housing Authority and the public in a renewed affirmation of my profound gratitude that I am a citizen of a country where the words democracy and justice have real meaning."

The New York City Housing Authority is expected to adopt a code of ethics of its own. Chairman William Reid said so in connection with the recent reinstatement of a suspended employee.

The Authority members unanimously approved the reinstatement of Schackman, chairman of a Police Department Board of Examiners, in no way impaired by the performance of his duties. The case demonstrates the need for a written code of conduct for Authority employees which will in unmistakable terms define permitted and prohibited activities. Such a code will prevent unfortunate misunderstanding and will enable the Authority and the public to receive the benefit of staff services in line with the highest standards of ethical conduct. Such a code is now being prepared.

NEW—State-wide Contract

Greatest advance ever made in health protection for State employees

The new State-wide contract gives you and your family comprehensive, world-wide, hospital and medical protection—with employer contribution toward the cost.

A three-part program, provided by Blue Cross, Blue Shield, Major Medical coverage as described in the booklet which has been distributed to all State Employees.

BLUE CROSS—with expanded hospital benefits. Covers in full for 120 days semi-private room and board, plus all the usual hospital services. Also, covers anesthesia, blood and blood plasma, physiotherapy, hydrotherapy and ambulance service. For private room care— you receive an allowance equal to the most common semi-private room charge.

BLUE SHIELD—with expanded doctor benefits. Covers surgical and in-hospital medical care by your own private physician, plus allowances for anesthetists’ fees and for radiation therapy. Provides payment in full for nonmaternity care by any participating physician—if your annual family income is $6,000 or less ($4,000 if single). And, most doctors in New York State are participating Blue Shield doctors.

MAJOR MEDICAL—Please refer to “Health Insurance for New York State Employees” for a complete description of your major medical benefits under the State-wide contract.

The State-wide contract is for now and for your future...

WHEN YOU RETIRE: You can continue your Expanded Blue Cross, Expanded Blue Shield and Major Medical protection, according to the New York State enrollment regulations. So, wherever you reside or travel when you retire, you can keep this broad, long-term protection at the same low cost.

For more information about how you can get this coverage for yourself and your family, contact your Personnel or Payroll Officer.

ACTIVITIES OF EMPLOYEES THROUGHOUT NEW YORK STATE

Erie

Alexander Y. Burke was elected president of the Civil Service Employees chapter, CSEA, at the June meeting of the chapter. Burke was chairman of the governance committee of the Buffalo Competitive unit for the Erie chapter. He served as chairman of the Citizens for Competitive unit for almost two and a half years, resigning because of illness of his wife.

The Erie chapter has adjourned for summer vacation. The next meeting will be held September 30. Helen MacDonald, president of the Meyer Memorial Hospital unit, is contributing at Erie Hospital, before the operation. Mr. Alexander Burke is also at the hospital having bed surgery. The ladies are in the same ward and both are doing very well. They extended their thanks for the many good wishes they received.

Mr. and Mrs. Burke particularly thank their neighbors for the many flowers Mrs. Burke received.

Ray Brook

Approximately 60 members and guests enjoyed a beef dinner at the 13th annual dinner dance of the Ray Brook chapter held at the Elks Club. Rev. Dinslow gave the benediction. Dr. John Lawton was master of ceremonies. Joseph Donald, field representative of the Civil Service Employees Association, was principal speaker. Other speakers were Dr. Frederick Reit, director of the Ray Brook Hospital, and past president Dr. Harry W. May. Mrs. Lawton has been elected to the State Senate.

The chapter extends its sympathy to Mrs. Lawton and family on the death of her daughter Margaret.

Congratulations to Marion Egan and Loyd R. Delevan, who were married June 25, in St. Luke Church, Saranac Lake, with the Rev. R. Rait officiating. Attendants were Sophie Philippon and Harry T. Lawton. After a short honeymoon, they couple reside with Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Lawton at Boonville. They are both employed. A miscellaneous shower was given for the couple by her colleagues on June 20. Marion is an assistant dietician and Lloyd an attendant.

The chapter is pleased to welcome back Alma Fournier after surgery at Rhode Island General Hospital.

Albany

The Western Reformers held its first high school graduation exercises in June 18, with a total of eight girls receiving diplomas. Genevieve C. O'Connell, superintendent, gave the welcome address; Thomas J. McHugh, commissioner of the department, delivered the graduation address, and Elizabeth V. Robinson, supervisor, presented the diplomas. The exercises were held at the State Protection Division, Board of Visitors, and the exercises were open to the public.

After the graduation program was completed, the annual banquet was held in honor of Mrs. Robinson's family and members of police officers of the institution. She was presented with the bouquet and other gifts.

After the take-off on "This Is Your Life," a reception was given by the Albany Daily Times to welcome the superintendent's residence. Guests and staff members were present.

Later that evening the annual CSEA banquet and installation of officers of the Apple Grove Restaurant in Medina. A large number of employees and their guests attended. Thomas J. McHugh was guest speaker.

Genevieve C. O'Connell, superintendent, addressed the group and introduced Commissioner McHugh. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Broadhead have returned from a fishing trip to Canada where it was very cold. Mrs. Thelma Correll was smart, warm clothes.

June 19, a banquet and installation of officers of the State and City Civil Service Commissions was held at the Empire Room, Hotel Statler, Rensselaer, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Connell were the guest speakers.

Adams have returned to work after a recent illness.

Sympathy is extended to Mark Reiner on the death of his brother, who was in the Marine.

The City Water Department is wondering about the lucky New York Blake, who always carries the door prize. What is your formula?

HOW WE DO IT

For over 20 years we have insured the automotive policies of our policyholders without the expense of maintaining adjusting agents or the customary agency system. There are no temporary staff, no agents or other charges of any kind.

UNEXCEPTED CLAIM SERVICE

You will receive personal claim service from over 700 professional claim representatives conveniently located throughout the United States and its possessions. The speed and fairness of claim handling is one of the major reasons why over 45,000 policyholders now insure with GEICO.

COUNTRY-WIDE PROTECTION

You are protected by the Standard Family Automobile Policy—the same policy issued by most leading insurance companies. Wherever you drive, wherever you travel, your policy provides protection.

The Financial Responsibility Law of all states can be complied with and the New York State compulsory automobile requirements are fully satisfied by a Government Employees Insurance Company policy.

*Government Employees Insurance Company rates are set in the state of New York. The rates may be higher or lower than those set by the Department of Labor and Industries of the State of New York.

Included in these rates are federal income, state income and state unemployment insurance taxes, motor vehicle taxes and other assessments.

The following standard limits of liability are available:

Liability, General Ac
erage (Model ID kidn)...

JOHN J. KELLY, JR. Associate Counsel

This report on the 1958 activities of the Legislative Committee is culled from the Legislature's Report on the 1958 session of the State Legislature, issued by the Assembly, and the Legislature's Report on the 1958 session of the Senate, issued by the Senate. The report contains information on legislative actions, bills introduced and passed, and other matters of interest to the public.

REQUIRE ELIGIBILITY FOR RETIREMENT SYSTEM

Because of a quirk in the Federal Social Security Act, the New York State Retirement System was able to pass a law that would make it impossible for a Social Security beneficiary to receive the benefits of both systems. The State Social Security Administration has rejected any such application.

PAYMENT OF DEFICIENCIES ANNUAL ADJUSTMENT

Chapter 461 of the Laws of 1958, introduced by Senator Bell, provides for the establishment of a system of annual adjustments for the purpose of ensuring that all members of the Retirement System are paid their full share of benefits. The system will be administered by a board of trustees created by the Legislature.

ACTIVITIES OF EMPLOYEES THROUGHOUT NEW YORK STATE

State Rehabilitation

On June 24, seven children, who have been born as a result of polio, were presented with diplomas in the New York State Rehabilitation Hospital. The children, who are under the care of Dr. H. Barlow, are being treated for polio sequelae.

Metro Public Service

Edward J. Hunter and Margaret A. Rosenthal were honored at a luncheon held at Gateway Towers. The luncheon was sponsored by the Metro Public Service Commission.

REMEMBER ELIGIBILITY 1958

The Governor's brief memo titled "Recall of the Bill" reads as follows: "This bill enacts a new Civil Service Law, to take effect April 1, 1959."
