New State Pay Negotiations Expected

ALBANY, Dec. 15 — Officials of the New York State Association of Civil Service Employees and the State may take their case to court. In a Christmas Budget Directory, 2. Norman Hurdl, head of the State Department of Public Welfare, stated that the State had submitted an offer to the Association and the State may continue to meet with representatives of civil service employees in the next few weeks.

According to the Association, the offer has been made. The Association wants to improve conditions for civil service workers in the State.

Salary Because

The LEADER this week.

While the Consumers Price Index has tended to stabilize, the weekly and weekly earnings both in the State and United States have, in general, continued to rise. An examination of the changes since October 1951 shows that there is some trend in excess of 5%.

Industrial production has moved up in October and early November and early reports on retail sales for Christmas look favorable. Construction activity during October dropped less than seasonally reflecting the continuing high rate of investment of fixed capital.

Employment continues at its high level with unemployment approaching its irreducible minimum.

Twice As Easy. The Howell twins, Joan and Nancy, show how simple it is to make their bed with an electric blanket.

That’s because just the one electric blanket takes the place of several heavy winter covers. And here’s a tip from Con Edison—an electric blanket makes a wonderful Christmas gift. It’s a present that will warm the heart of anyone on your list.
Public Aides Without Pensions

The ordinary citizen is certain that all public employees participate in the advantages of a retirement system. Like so many impressions about civil service, this is mythological. Here are the facts about local communities in New York State.

Out of 932 towns, 332 participate in the State Retirement System. Out of 559 villages, 332 take part. Out of 890 Boards of Education, the employees of 514 are members.

In addition, 268 commissions, fire districts, sewer districts, other small units of government are members. Employees enjoy the protection accorded by the State Retirement System. It means too that thousands of persons on public payrolls are entitled to neither of a public retirement system or social security.

It occasionally happens that when representatives of public employees bring the matter up before local supervisory boards or other officials, that various arguments are brought up to continue denying the privileges of a proper pension. Perhaps the best answer to these arguments is: they are archaic. In 1905 they may have had some logic, but in 1952 they cannot be sustained at all. The idea of poverty, which small communities sometimes make, is not a meritorious one at all. Retirement payments must be made to steady employment, and the ordinary citizen is certain that all public employees participate in the advantages of a retirement system.

When the Lyons Residence Law was enacted originally, depression conditions existed, places to live were as readily obtainable in NYC as elsewhere, and it was reasonable to require that all NYC employees be NYC residents. That law provided then, as it does now, that candidates for NYC exams shall be NYC residents for the three years immediately preceding appointment. The Lyons Law, as so altered the aspect of the law, that simply make it possible for non-veterans in City employ to be put on a par with veterans, because of the identical conditions that both groups must face.

City employee organizations should get behind the bill. Mrs. M. Haines has made an excellent start in introducing it, but can't be expected to tackle single-handed the job of getting it enacted.

Albany, Dec. 15 — The State Civil Service Commission will consider proposed revised attendance rules for institutional employees at its meeting in Albany this week. The new rules concern the length of the work-week, the employment year, overtime, turndown, attendance with pay, vacation, and leaves of absence. The attendance rules, laid out in the following departments: Corrections, Health, Mental Hygiene, Social Welfare.

Remember the frostbite cases during the first winter in Korea?

The Armed Forces Had This Problem
To keep its G.I.'s warm and comfortable in mud and snow at temperatures down to 40° below zero — and up to 60° above zero.

This was the answer that was the Distinguished Civilian Service Award for two Civil Service workers.

NOW you too can work outdoors, hunt or fish all winter with YOUR FEET FULLY PROTECTED against extreme cold — INDEFINITELY, thanks to frost-bite-proof THERMOBOOT.

A boon to Policemen, Firemen, Postmen, Truck Drivers, Sportsmen and everyone who wants to or has to stay out in the cold.

Keeps Your Feet Comfortably Warm in Temperatures Down to 40° Below Zero

Light and warm and equally adapted to the built-in revolutionary new principle, "MOISTURE BARRIER" principle. May be worn for hours through streams—through drinking troughs—on extremely low external temperatures with no fear of frostbites, shingles or any other foot discomfort or cold, however extreme. Normally oiling, oiling drying — NO special care whatever. Will wear for years without fault or defect. NO seams or stitches to split — NO Scratch-resistant.

Lighter weight than all other so-called low temperature footwear with more uniform, balanced weight distribution than ordinary footwear, ammonia shock absorbent.

Cold feet won't drive you indoors if you are a winter sports enthusiast. YOU CAN NOW STAY OUT IN SUB-ZERO WEATHER FOR HOURS, IN THERMOBOOT. Originally developed for the U. S. Navy, it is now in use by all four branches of the armed services and our United Nations allies for winter wear in Korea. THERMOBOOT utilizes the insulating medium of wool and dead air space, as illustrated below.

The closer members of the regular boards and commissions get to the civil service employees in all ranks of local government, the more certain it is that the organization for improvement of services and economy within the local government, the closer chapters of the Association are promoting this type of cooperation. A real need is the strengthening of local Civil Service Commissions so that the civil service examinations and promotions may be carried on for local hiring and firing of civil servants.

While the spotlight is usually upon the major departments, the U. S. Army, the U. S. Air Force, and the State Civil Service Commission, a host of smaller governmental organizations have an interest in the application of the merit system in their own operations. These include the United States Post Office, the Salvation Army, and the Salvation Army, and the Salvation Army.
