Kelly Rejects CSEA Plan To Upgrade Correction Officers; Appeal Filed

ALBANY, April 14 — Rejection of an appeal for reallocation by correction officers and correctional employees has brought a prompt decision to appeal the case by the Civil Service Employees Association.

J. Barry Kelly, state director of classification and compensation, stated that he had been notified by an appeals board of the existence of this case by early this week. The appeal was filed in the Department of Labor in Albany.

The question of the desirability of a change in the classification of correctional employees to different pay scales was considered.

Mr. Kelly stated the appeal was "sight.

The salary tests that govern exemption of executive, administrative, and professional employees from the Fair Labor Standards Act would be revised under a proposal announced by the U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

Acting Administrator Clarence T. Lenquist plans to adopt the recommended changes after receiving public comments concerning several important provisions of the proposal.

The recommended requirement changes: executive employees increased from $55 to $60 a week on a salary basis; administrative and professional employees increased from $54 to $59 a week on a salary or fee basis.

It is also recommended that the special proviso for employees performing for a fee that more than 50 percent of the work is performed for a fee be changed from the present fee basis to a salary basis, and that the salary basis be increased from $75 to $95 a week on a salary basis.

75th Anniversary Deserves Full Support

On May 4, 1883, the first Civil Service Law for New York State was signed. On May 4, 1958, Governor Harriman will open the 75th Jubilee Observances of the Civil Service Law. Civil Service Law with the dedication of the new State civil service office building on the campus site in Albany. During the week the State will hold its open house ceremonies in every agency. Employees will be invited to visit each institution and office to see at first hand the great work which the employees of the State are performing to keep the machinery running smoothly for the benefit of the public.

The celebration of the 75th year of civil service in the State will continue throughout 1958. In the fall the New York City Civil Service Commission will commemorate its diamond jubilee with appropriate ceremonies.

The Civil Service Employees Association can also join in the celebration through a group of activities. A few of the chapters have already dedicated meetings and dinners to this theme. The Metropolitan and Southern Conferences are planning to feature the anniversary celebration at their joint workshops in April.

Wider Response Asked

It would be well if other chapters and groups followed this pattern. Meetings and dinners could be held with the story of the civil service as a focal point. Appropriate speakers could be secured to give a brief discourse in all of its phases - from its history through its place in the modern social order. Appropriate and effective exhibits could be prepared to help emphasize the role of the civil servant. For seven months after the initial ceremony, a concentrated public relations program through the chapters and the headquarters office could be used to dramatize the meaning and importance of the civil service. It is a unique opportunity and one which, as an organization, should not miss.

The headquarters staff of the association will be ready and willing to assist any group in the organization in arranging its program, preparing and setting up its exhibits, procuring speakers, and arranging for getting appropriate local publicity. Through effective programs of this character an association could help bring a greater awareness to the general public of the importance and problems of its public servants.

representatives stated that a study of the matter will have been completed so that the work could be provided to employees.

Over time amounted to a payment of one dollar due of less than one dollar would have had to be paid this payment.

The desire to pay all employees of the civil service in the full amounts due them as overtime worked would be debarred if overtime payments were made bi-weekly under present conditions and such a schedule has not been placed in effect for that reason.

The suspension was made by Association representatives that employees might be willing to have bi-weekly payments made where $5.00 or more was due and that the lesser amount was accumulated and paid at the bi-weekly payment date of at least a net amount of $5.00 was made. Association representatives explained that the procedural difficulties present in attempting to accumulate these amounts but advised that the matter would be given continuing consideration in an attempt to arrive at a workable solution.

Promotions and Seniority

Association representatives expressed that there were some instances in which the Association's policy with respect to promotion in the non-competitive and exempt classes and notification to employees existing or impending vacancies were not being adhered to uniformly throughout the organization. The representatives stated that the policy as set forth in paragraphs 1 of Mr. Ryans' memorandum of June 20, 1957, to the maintenance staff had been reviewed and discussed with the appropriate supervisors so as to obtain a common understanding and application.

Authority representatives agreed that in order to avoid any muddying of the application of this policy, this would be reviewed further with supervisory personnel so as to further promote uniform interpretation and application.

Exhaust Systems in Garages

Authority representatives advised that the installation of exhaust systems in garages is required under or under way in all maintenance subdivisions. Authority representatives advised that the Syracuse Division Shop and certain others in the organization as far as to further promote exhaust systems in garages.

Association representatives indicated that such an exhaust system could be installed in the temporary shop at Walden Avenue in Buffalo and that representatives agreed to investigate the feasibility of installing exhaust in that shop in the organization.

Mr. Ryans, it was subsequently determined that the temporary occupation would not be extended beyond July 1, 1958, when it is expected that the permanent headquarters building will be occupied. Consequently, the installation of exhaust systems in the temporary building in that particular facility was considered.

The staff was accordingly instructed that the temporary occupation would not be extended beyond July 1, 1958, when it is expected that the permanent headquarters building will be occupied. Consequently, the installation of exhaust systems in the temporary building in that particular facility was considered.

Bulldozer Boards

Association representatives requested the review of civil service policy requiring that any employees not employed on an exhaust system or literature be cleared through the  Administration of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Authority representatives stated that this policy has been reviewed and indicated that the decision was based primarily on the objection of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen to it.

Plans are under way whereby the Board of Estimate would clarify rules applying to checkoff, to save the City money and improve the efficiency of the process.

Two factors that have caused considerable complaint about the present method of operation relate to taking employees off the checkoff without consulting them or the unions of which they are members.

Unions at Disadvantage

When an employee is shifted from positions to non-duty standing, his name goes off, and goes off temporarily. Inclusion of an employee under a checkoff would get no money. Mayor Robert P. Wagner made a public announcement that the May 8 meeting of the Board of Estimate was issued simultaneously with a joint checkoff committee. Also, the City unions want a simpler way to handle such cases. The unions protest that taking an employee off the checkoff without their consent for more than a month costs them money, even if only the cost of collecting dues is considered.

The State operates the checkoff system under a method that has been in operation for several years, with a lower cost. The State operates the checkoff system under a method that is the least expensive, and to the advantage of the State and employes.

Police Win Some Pay For Overtime Work

After it appeared that police officers during the transit strike would get no money, Mayor Robert P. Wagner made a public announcement that the May 8 meeting of the Board of Estimate was issued simultaneously with a joint checkoff committee. The State operates the checkoff system under a method that is the least expensive, and to the advantage of the State and employes.

SANITATION SECRETARY

The Department of Sanitation has an additional 1,300 Transit Authority employees and dependents joined H.I.P. Blue Cross during the recent annual reopening campaign. Coverage for the new group of enrollees will start on July 1. Some 20,000 employees and dependents are now enrolled under the Transit Authority's health insurance, according to Arthur T. McManus, H.I.P.'s director of enrollment. This represents about 75 percent of the members eligible to join.

Under H.I.P., employees and dependents are entitled to fully prepaid medical, surgical, maternity, pediatric and other specialist care without any charges beyond the premium. This service is given at employees' homes, at doctors' offices, at H.I.P. medical group centers and in the hospital.

Courses provided without charge under the H.I.P. contract are X-rays, laboratory tests, physical therapy, visiting nurses service, and private ambulance service. Blue Cross provides prepaid hospital care (bed and board, drugs, nursing service, use of operating room, etc.).

Free Riders on Way Out

Public employees, more so than employees in private industry, need protection against being kicked around, because they work for government, which is sovereign. Fighting that is a tough job. An individual does not have the experience and resources to do it. An organization of employees does.

Time and again organizations prove their value not only to their members, but also to non-members. It should follow that benefitted non-members would join, but in the main they don't, for they're free-riders by nature.

Pay Day Is Coming

The parasitical can persist only so long. The time will come when, with exclusive collective bargaining in effect, and the numerically dominant union having to speak for all employees, non-members will have to pay a service fee to the controlling union equal to the amount of dues. It's only fair. Since nobody could process a grievance except the exclusive majority group, there is no reason why it should have to be compelled to speak without being paid. In fact, speak only is part of the problem. Legal and factual research must be done, and briefs prepared. Who is to pay for all the costly work done for the non-member?

New York City denied terminal leave to an employee entitled to it. What would have happened, do you think, had the employee not been a member of a powerful organization? Being a member, he found his union backing him to the hill, and as a result, he is apparently quickly winning rights to which he was fully entitled. Per annum employees changed to a per diem basis find their names stricken from the dues checkoff list, if they know nothing else or don't consult with the union of which they are members, another miscarriage of justice in the New York City government. This abuse of law has not been corrected yet, but a union is pressing for it, and likelihood of succeeding appears as strong as in the terminal leave case it waged.

The Common Cause

Many illegal acts perpetrated upon public employees never get any publicity. The employee knows of no way of obtaining it. An employee organization knows. It has a public relations expert. Moreover, it has all the means necessary to obtain justice for an employee.

I should realize how much they have in common, and how well informed and strong organization can serve not only their own best interests, but those of their families as well.

Question, Please

I AM A STATE employee. I don't like my present job. I should realize how much they have in common, and how well informed and strong organization can serve not only their own best interests, but those of their families as well.

There are two State positions for which I qualify: the job I want is maintenance man (plumber and steamfitter), Grade 7 and the other is clerical assistant, Grade 11. Your training and experience would determine which would be assigned to you. Both titles are in the non-competitive class. Apply to the Department of Public Works, State Office Building, Albany, N. Complete Salk Vaccination Urged By Dr. Hilleboe

ALBANY, April 14 — The need for continuing efforts toward complete Salk vaccination of all persons was stressed today by Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, State Health Commissioner.

Dr. Hilleboe explained that while publicity and a number of campaigns to vaccinate persons who have not yet had at least one of the three Salk vaccinations, "The polio vaccine is safe and effective. Therefore, all persons, particularly those under 40 years of age, should start the series of three injections as soon as possible," he said.

Dr. Hilleboe said he encountered with U. S. Surgeon General Lewis Burdick who recently stated that unless there is an immediate stepping up of polio vaccination program, serious outbreaks could occur this summer.

"Vaccination means the full series of three shots. While two and even one injection will afford some protection, maximum effectiveness can be achieved only with three shots. If we protect our children and ourselves against polio by getting our shots now, we will be better able to relax this summer and have no fear of this dread disease," Dr. Hilleboe said.

Price of Lots At Booming Port Charlotte Retirement Colony Will Rise on April 28

A $100 price increase is being effective April 28, at Port Charlotte, Fla., site of the nation's largest home-building project for retired people, was announced by Charles P. Mackle, Jr., 302 East 42 Street, New York City, sales representative.

According to the realty firm, Port Charlotte's minimum priced lots will jump from $705 to $895. Current prices range from $295 to $1,095, with waterfront lots from $2,350 to $2,450.

This new movement to spade lot sales has been felt particularly where buying of Port Charlotte homes and lots.

On some of the more expensive lots in Port Charlotte's planned home community, homeowners have been considerably reduced to make room for new housing. The result has been a decrease in the average income to invest in their retirement property. A sample of the Georgian Harbor Model, a 3-bedroom model with carport, which has reduced the FHA down payment to $400 from a previous $525 for a home that sold for $12,395. The monthly carrying charge is now $110, one dollar, from $75 to $76. The 2-bedroom model selling for 5,000 has cut the FHA payment to half from 900 to only 450, with monthly payments increasing just a shade more from $92 to $93.

The same is true of many of the Mackle-Built homes, which make buying more a wise economy, before prices bounce up. The investing wave of more than 3,000 people weekly — or over 120,000 people annually — striking permanent retirement spots has made Port Charlotte a booming town which is rapidly mushrooming daily. Already some of the families are living there and all the surrounding project sets into full swing some 800 low-cost retirement and vacation homes will be completed by the end of the year.

Demand is Steady

Behind this expanding real estate development on Florida's newly-developed west coast is the steady demand for economy home sites. The Mackle Brothers, developers of Port Charlotte, have planned every feature so that their customers can move their motor boats and small craft right in the backyard.

The new community planned and created by the General Development Corporation and the Mackle Brothers, 302 East 42 Street, New York City, is eran in particular Civil Service workers and their families of different price categories. The homes are also provided with their record of achievement is Mackle-Built Lot includes a $5,000 real estate tax exemption for the first year and new homeowner, and a tax holiday from Port Charlotte's personal state food taxes for new residents.

Some of the Mackle-Built homes designed to last a lifetime and not flimsy, temporary vacation cottages. Concrete block construction has been used in the concrete buildings, which can be completely finished. The homes are reinforced with steel, have plastic waterproofing materials, and boast full laquered windows, tile window sill, tiled doors and plastic interior walls. All these factors help to make them large, maintenance proof and keep homeowners at a minimum of tree senior citizens.

There is a wide range of 10 models to choose from in a number of different price categories. Some models have one bathroom, several bedrooms and a rambler-style design and some of them even have an "astradome" of light in the kitchen area.

Long-Range Planning

The Mackle Company has a time-honored policy of giving full value for each real estate dollar invested in Port Charlotte. This has resulted in a tremendous peak of nation-wide demand for the Port Charlotte development. Thousands of orders come in each week, others by telephone and personal calls to the regional and local sales offices. Quite a number of customers already own a home in Port Charlotte, eight, many of them younger couples with growing children — to look over the property they have been interested in the past two years. Pay for the two jobs is the same.

Port Charlotte is a good opportunity for Civil Service workers and their families to look forward to a better future because they can live on their pension during their golden retirement years in fabulous Florida. Today's Port Charlotte section is a sea captain by profession. For the Great Lakes run, this skipper relaxes in Florida sunshine. Says the skipper, "I will not retire. I will not retire. I will not retire."
