WARM JOB AND TRAINING SURVEY FOR 3-A MEN

U.S. EMPLOYEES FACE JOB LOSS AT WAR'S END

Excellent Positions for Women
LAST WEEK, 3-A men were suddenly stunned with the realization that their selective service status was as quicksand. You must be doing work that will help this nation win the war, said the War Manpower Commission—or fight. The alternative is to become all men in the 19- to 38 age group, regardless of dependents.

There were plenty of questions, naturally; some could be answered, some couldn't. The LEADER, which has always considered every aspect of the manpower problem within its sphere of discussion, has made a first round-up of the situation as it appears now. We've gone to the War Manpower Commission, to the United States Employment Service, to the Selective Service Bureau, to the Civil Service Commission, and to many private agencies. Our purpose was to find for our readers, in so far as that is now possible, (1) just where 3-A's stand; (2) whether a 3-A man in a non-deferrable occupation can obtain a war job; (3) whether this man can obtain training which will fit him for a war job.

On this and on following pages, we have set down some of the answers—not all, because all the answers aren't in yet. But we'll follow through on this, and keep you informed regularly. Meanwhile, if you have questions, send them in. We can't clear up all your problems, or even send you personal answers—but we'll try.

Where to Go for a War Job

If your job falls into one of the non-essential positions outlined by the War manpower commission last week, these agencies will help you. First, the LEADER would like to remind you that registration with the Selective Service board is compulsory. If you have not signed up with the board, you must now do so. Registrants who qualify may sign up with your draft board.

You will catch what field to enter, guidance and placement service. You may be considered in planning a training program. Opportunities and opportunities are discussed.

American 310 Lexington Avenue, Manhattan—serves applicants 18 or over, interested in skilled and unskilled labor, service and industrial jobs. Practical vocational guidance tips can be had through registration only. Hours are 9 to 5 Monday through Saturday.

Here's a Selection of Jobs Which Will Interest Family Members in a Deferred Draft Status

More than 18 or 19 years of age who have to go to war or government jobs or to the army may have heard that "only deferments are open," but actually they have a wide variety of fields in which to seek essential employment.

Outstanding best opportunities are:

ELECTRICIANS: Men with more than twelve months of experience, this trade can pass a civil service test. While openings are wanted for Brooklyn Navy Yard jobs, help is wanted all over the country. Must be citizens and not now in service. Apply to the Recruiter, Labor Division, United States Employment Service, 10 East 50th Street, New York.

ASIAN LABORERS: At the United States Employment Service office for employment in a war plant of the United States, those who are able to pass a civil service test and have had more than twelve months of experience, are in demand. Apply to the Recruiter, Labor Division, United States Employment Service, 10 East 50th Street, New York.

ARMY & NAVY CONTRACTS: Jobs paying up to $1,000 are available for dependents. Positions are available in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and San Francisco.

THE WORK you're doing must aid the war. If it doesn't, then your own on the road to obtaining a job or serving with the armed forces. These were the alternatives laid down last week by the Government. Departmental hiring has no chance of continued from the draft.

How Does New Draft Ruling Affect Government Workers?

WASHINGTON.—Just how War Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt's new war-against-job order will affect family men in Government remained uncertain here this week.

But there were strong hints a majority of Government men may find themselves considered in non-essential activity—and therefore subject to the draft. Reliable reports said that the President's draft committee is prepared to recommend that B-3 draft defectors (for family men in essential industry) be granted only to Government "key" men. However, the committee has not yet presented its recommendation.

If there is still a pendency in the advisability of making the "key" list, then will change its mind—or that the Government will then be on an entirely different plane than private industry.

Must Justify It

Precisely how "key" men would be selected is not known here. It is believed, however, that the agencies would have to justify their selections to Civil Service Commission and War Manpower Commission.

How Draft Order Hits Employees

The LEGAER has learned that Mayor LaGuardia last week indicated how the new draft order will affect new employees.

The Mayor had not yet received an answer as The LEGAER went to press.

Ways to Get a War Job

Of course, you desire to comply with the War Manpower Commission order informing men between 18 and 38 that it's either a job or serving with the armed forces. These were the alternatives laid down last week by the Government. Departmental hiring has no chance of continued from the draft.

3 Ways to Prove Your American Citizenship

If you must change from a non-determinable to a war job, you will need evidence of citizenship. What you will need will depend on your particular case. Here is a list of possible persons, such as public officials, government employees, etc., who can prove your citizenship.

1. Evidence of citizenship by birth.
   - Certificate of birth issued by a government of a foreign country.
   - Certificate of birth issued by a government of a foreign country, showing that the applicant was born in a hospital in the United States.
   - Certificate of birth issued by a government of a foreign country, showing that the applicant was born in a hospital in the United States.

2. Evidence of citizenship by naturalization.
   - Certificate of naturalization.
   - Certificate of naturalization issued by a government of a foreign country.
   - Certificate of naturalization issued by a government of a foreign country.
   - Certificate of naturalization issued by a government of a foreign country.

3. Evidence of citizenship by marriage.
   - Certificate of marriage.
   - Certificate of marriage issued by a government of a foreign country.
   - Certificate of marriage issued by a government of a foreign country.
   - Certificate of marriage issued by a government of a foreign country.

You should also consider the following:

- certificate of citizenship or naturalization
- certificate of naturalization or naturalization
- certificate of naturalization or naturalization
- certificate of naturalization or naturalization

The best proof of citizenship is a certificate of naturalization. To obtain this, you must complete an application and pay a fee. Once your application is approved, you will be issued a certificate of naturalization.

If you are not a U.S. citizen but wish to prove your identity, you can obtain a certificate of naturalization. This will allow you to apply for a United States passport, which is necessary for travel abroad.

Uncle Sam's Own Training Opportunities, To Prepare You for War Industry Job

tion, 115 East 15th Street, New York City. TheLEADER carries a listing of all civil service positions and their requirements. Applications can be obtained at the Bureau of Civil Service Training. To prepare you for war industry jobs, apply to the Bureau of Civil Service Training.

How to Apply for a Job With the Government

There are thousands of well-paid positions available with the Civil Service, which fall into the new classification of "essential" occupations. Some of these positions are open without any specific training or experience. For example, those who are skilled in the trades or have done research, development work, or have taken special courses.

Your first step is to find out what job you want.

The LEADER carries a listing of all the positions, City, State and Federal, where they are announced by the Civil Service Commissions. In addition, Federal open positions are posted on the bulletin board of Post Offices and Federal buildings.

Where to Go

The New York City Civil Service Commission at 346 Broadway, New York City, New York, provides applications for all positions. It is advisable to apply for positions for which there are vacancies in the New York City civil service. The New York City Civil Service Commission, 346 Broadway, New York City, maintains a central mail box for new positions.

However, if you're in a non-essential occupation, you probably won't have time to apply for a job and will have to look for other ways to make a living.

Some jobs filled through the Federal government for which you qualify, get the necessary application forms and pay a fee in order to be considered. If you are interested in any of these positions, you may apply to the Civil Service Commission at 346 Broadway, New York City, New York, or by writing to the Bureau of Civil Service Training.

Therefore, you must be sure that you are eligible for the position you want. You should apply as soon as possible in order to be considered for the position.

Bill Requires Senate OK on Jobs Paying Over $4,500; Civil Service System Weaks

WASHINGTON — A major threat to the United States Civil Service system, with everything it means to federal workers, has developed here on a bill introduced by Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee.

Sen. McKellar's bill would require senatorial confirmation for all new top-level civil service appointments, including even the President himself. And it would make $4,500 or more: in other words, for all those above Grade 11 in the federal service.

At the same time, it would terminate, as of June 30, the appointment of people by the Merit Personnel Board, which has been making $100,000 or more, and would require government departments that they be filled by competition.

Oppose Both

The Civil Service Reform League has come out strongly against the measure, denouncing it as a threat to the entire civil service effort.

The National League of Women Voters also has condemned it. Nevertheless, Congressional com-

A big new development is in the works of concern to NYC employees. If you are active in the field, have you noticed any change in the work you do? It is important to keep your eye on the changing times. The Mayor has announced that he will present a proposal to Congress for the establishment of a new federal agency that will be responsible for the management of civil service employees. This proposal is expected to be debated in Congress within the next few weeks.

Jerry Finkelstein

In an article published in The New York Times, Jerry Finkelstein has condemned the recent actions of the Mayor's office. He argues that the Mayor's proposals are not in the best interests of the city's employees and that they are designed to benefit only the Mayor and his political allies.

Councilmen Denounce McGoldrick

"City Can't Afford Raises Report"

The Municipal Civil Service Department is planning to appoint civil service employees as substitutes for them in their jobs to join the force, said a number of City Councilmen last week.

The leading question is: How many of these men will be moved up? And when?

The Civil Service Commission will turn down the offered appointment if the men are not qualified, they said.

The Municipal Civil Service Department is waiting for the list of substitutes to be completed by the Civil Service Employees Association.

The list is expected to pass the $29,000,000 mark, said a number of City Councilmen.

The department did surprisingly well in the examinations, said the Civil Service Commission.

On the other hand, the department did not do as well in the examination for substitute police officers, said the Commission.

Civil Service Commission Chairman William J. McQuade, thirty-first on the eligible list, was appointed to the Police Department.

At the annual rate of advancement, number 29 should be placed on the list, according to the Commission.

However, if the department follows the "rule of 100" for the next two years, with the hundredth man on the list being moved up, he will receive almost nothing.

The city is planning to appeal the case, as the present ruling was made by a number of employees whose salaries the city had reduced.

The councilmen said that there will be some positive change in their employees' salaries but that it will take time.

Perhaps sometime this week.

The councilmen said that they were considering the possibility of those in the third of the list receiving appointments.

But this is wartime—and anything can happen.

In Albany

Men on the New York City police payroll, a list that has 526 retired, who have been expecting their appointments, are in regular police forces with the expiration of the eligible list. The eligible list is being extended.

Bill Would Set Up Uniformed Force

In Correction

A bill to establish a uniformed force for the civil service of the city was referred to the Committee on Civil Service Legislation, and to provide for advertisement, the Committee on Civil Service Legislation received a copy of a report by the Commission on Uniformed Force for the City of New York. The report, which was written by the Honorable Edward J. Keogh, chairman of the Commission, and which had been submitted to the city council in the fall of 1943, contains a comprehensive review of the existing system of police and fire protection in the city and a detailed examination of the problems involved in the establishment of a uniformed force.

The Commission's report recommends the establishment of a uniformed force for the city, which would be under the control of the mayor and would be responsible to the city council. The force would be composed of police officers and firemen, and would be organized on a single pay scale. The report also recommends the establishment of a system of training and instruction for the members of the force, and the provision of adequate facilities for the protection of the force.

The report also contains a detailed examination of the financial aspects of the proposed force, and of the methods by which it could be financed. The report recommends that the city council should consider the establishment of a uniformed force as part of its policy on crime prevention and public safety.

The report is available for inspection at the office of the Committee on Civil Service Legislation, and is also available for purchase through the city council's office of the city clerk.
Governor Announces Program To Increase Employee Pay

But There’s a ‘Bug’ in the Plan... May Go

As the fiscal year begins, the budget for the New York State government will be extremely tight. The Governor’s plan seeks to increase employee pay while maintaining fiscal responsibility.

State Commission Meets in NYC

A meeting of the State Civil Service Commission is to be held on Wednesday, at the State Office Building in New York City, on Wednesday, at 10 a.m. The commission will begin at 10 a.m. on Wednesday.

New Budget Plan Gives Dewey Vast Powers Over State Jobs

The following civil service bills have been introduced in the State Legislature:

- 355. HILL—Provides that annual budget estimates and appropriations for the current fiscal year shall be in effect until the new ones are made. The Governor shall not be able to make any changes in the budget without the consent of the State Legislature.

- 256. HILLS—Provides that the Governor shall have power to create or abolish any position in the executive branch of the state government. This bill will be voted on during year beginning April 1, 1945.

Four Important Job-Fields Open In U.S. Service

Four new civilian war service job-opportunities were announced today by the United States Civil Service Commission. This week's announcements include positions in the following areas:

- Crop production specialists
- Junior soil conservationists
- Historical specialists
- Printer's Assistants (women)

Crop production specialists: To operate the nation's supply of edible and medicinal vegetable crops in tropical plants are sought for work in research, production, and soil surveying. Requirements and qualifications will be specified in a special examination notice.

Historical specialists: To select and preserve remote significant records, maps, and other references but also for the immediate conduct of the war specialists are sought who have suitable college training and have done appropriate work in history or in some of the social sciences. Salaries are $2,600 to $8,000 plus additional compensation for overtime.

Junior soil conservationists: For protection of land and resources in the United States, applicants are sought to do work in research, planning, and conservation. Qualifications will be specified in a special examination notice.

Printer's Assistants (women): A large printing company in the Midwest seeks applications from women who have at least eight months work in the printing business. Starting salaries are $900 per year."
Call for 15% Raise To Subway Workers

By Joseph Corinth

Evelyn Johnston, Arthur F. Wicks, and John Slavin have all endorsed a bill directing the Board of Transportation to give a 15 per cent wage increase to the Operating division of the subway lines, retroactive to January 1st. It is said the Board is going to meet a situation which ha previously the attention of the Rapid Transit and the Longshoremen, an organization of employees who control the rapid transit lines of the Board of Transportation at whose heads Wicks has placed a new executive. The Wicks plan to increase the cost of living, all of which will result in an increase of the cost of living for people, the employees to meet their increased expense. This increased cost of living is forced upon the employees to meet their increased expense, the city will find itself faced with the necessity of operating the system at a loss. This would be a hardship to the people. This would be a hardship to the people.

Women in Transit Jobs

The NYC Board of Transportation has started a survey to find what jobs in the system can be filled by women. Many have been working for years in the change booths and other jobs. The Board is willing to grant determinations to any men who can meet the qualifications. Local draft boards have taken on large numbers of women who are working in the transportation industry, and even on the tracks. The Women's Rights Union is in full accord with the proposal to make sure that all jobs can be filled by women, and that they be willing to fill any job with the addition to their membership, according to a statement to the LEAGUE, by Ted Zel, a public officer.

Would women receive regular civil service status, or would they be recruited through the operating division of the Board of Transportation?
