CSEA Charges Grand Jury
With Missing the Point
In Rockland Investigation

ALBANY — A grand jury report criticizing the administration of Rockland State Hospital was in turn taken to task by the Civil Service Employees Assn. for "missing the point."

"The grand jury's findings, or at least gross reports concerning them, use a scatter-gun technique that hits everything in sight with equal force, evaluates nothing in its proper perspective, and attributes everything wrong to poor administration by the local director," said Dr. Theodore C. Wenzl, president of the State's largest civil service union.

"If there is anything else wrong at Rockland State Hospital," said the CSEA chief, "it certainly can't be of higher priority than this. And this is nothing that can be blamed on Rockland's director. The root of the problem is simple economics. It's up to the State to come up with more money to recruit more employees."

Wenzl put the blame in the same place for the fact that many of the hospital's safety officers work at second jobs to supplement their income. "If these people were paid fairly with other police groups, instead of $2,000 a year less, they wouldn't have to work in their off hours and could devote their full attention to their job with the State," he said.

An Old Fight
Inadequate salaries for lower grade institution employees was not a new problem for his organization.

Growing List
Thousands Of State And County CSEA Members
Endorsed For Election Aid

ALBANY — President Theodore C. Wenzl of the Civil Service Employees Assn. last week praised the thousands of State and county employees order, and hard work during the State's collective bargaining elections.

"I would like to thank all of the local chapter presidents, representatives and members of from both State and county CSEA chapters who have cooperated in a magnificent effort to get the vote out and to tell the whole story to all State employees," Wenzl said.

Contract Negotiations
Begin In Nassau Cty.

MINASOL — Negotiations toward 1970 contract were started last week by the Nassau chapter Civil Service Employees Assn. and its representatives on behalf of 12,000 employees.

A comprehensive program reflecting the needs of employees in all departments and grades is being presented, according to Irwin Flusser, president of the chapter and head of its negotiating team. He declined however, to reveal the package until it has been fully explained to the Nassau County negotiating team.

Ground rules were established at the initial meeting. Talks are to resume tomorrow, July 30.

The Salary Committee of the Civil Service Employees Assn. will have its first meeting on laying groundwork for any contract of State employees, Solomon Bendel, committee chairman, announced last week. The session will be held July 21 at 5:30 p.m. in Gannett's Restaurant, 76 Diana St., New York City.

CSEA To Fight For Nurses Aide Who Fought For Others

ALBANY — The Civil Service Employees Assn. will represent Mrs. Armenia Andrus, a nurses aide at Ardmrook Regional Hospital in Cortlandt, in a hearing before the Public Employment Relations Board, Aug. 12.

CSEA contends that Mrs. Andrus was fired from her job "as a result of her conscientious fight for fair and justice for another employee," an association spokesman said. Mrs. Andrus claims that she was fired on her day off because she had represented another hospital worker in a grievance procedure. She is vice-president of the hospital's CSEA chapter and a member of the chapter negotiating committee.

CSEA filed an unfair labor practice charge with PERB against the hospital in April on the basis of the information supplied by CSEA, PERB agreed to the hearing.

Representing Mrs. Andrus at the hearing will be CSEA regional field supervisor John D. Corcoran Jr. and CSEA regional attorney, Henry Meiner of Glen Falls.

CSEA Attacks Problem Of Differential Pay For Part-Time Aides

ALBANY — The Civil Service Employees Assn. last week called attention to the "serious problem" of the inequity of part-time State employees for the area and shift pay differentials negotiated by CSEA in collective bargaining last spring.

In a letter to Director of the Budget T. Norman Hard, CSEA demanded that the State give the differentials — $300 extra area per employee in the nine-county New York City area and $50 extra shift pay for those who work at least four hours between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. to all part-time personnel, citing the inequity that exists particularly at State institutions.

Vital Helpers

"As you probably know," the letter said, "the staffing at many of our State institutions is such that part-time help in professional and non-professional titles is absolutely necessary in order to provide adequate patient care. Employees holding such jobs, such as nurses, are angered . . . that they are not eligible for these pay differentials."

WEST HAVERSTRAW — The Civil Service Employees Assn. has protested to State Budget Director T. Norman Hurd the hold-up reclassifications and reallocation of 15 hospital attention at the 15 mental rehabilitation hospital here.

CSEA last week requested that the long-delayed reclassifications and reallocation at the State mental institutional at grade 5 also rehabilitation nurses aide — be made immediately to the 15 employees.

A recent Grand Jury investigation at Rockland State Hospital, despite some of its superficial criticisms of conditions, revealed that the hospital is using one basic procedure, plaguing all Mental Hygiene Dept. institutions—severe understaffing.

The reasons for this continuing lack of sufficient personnel to care adequately for the mentally ill is simply inadequate pay and lack of promotional opportunities.

These points have been pressed home time and time again by the Civil Service Employees Assn. Another factor stressed by the Assn. and the police Association and long ignored—is police officer status for security police in institutions. Even the Grand Jury recognized how vital this status was for safety of personnel.

Despite the misconstrued criticisms of the report, let's hope the more positive aspects of the investigation improve the conditions we mention here.

What's the catch? There isn't any. $1,799* is the suggested retail price at the port of entry for the VW sedan. The price includes the Federal excise tax and import duty. It also includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers, outside rearview mirror, padded dash, front seat headrests, and seat belts front and back. Not to mention the new electric rear-window defogger and the new ignition/steering lock. It's the price of the real thing, not a stripped-down economy model. What else do you have to pay? Transportation from the port of entry. Dealer delivery charge, local sales tax. One optional extra that makes a lot of sense, automatic stick shift. (It eliminates the clutch pedal.) Another is leatherette upholstery. And that's it.
The Statewide Plan:

It's like having a fortune in your own bank vault.

That's a fact. Belonging to the Statewide Plan is like having a fortune in your own bank vault.

No one knows how sick he might be, no one knows what a serious illness can really cost. Recently, Blue Cross covered New York State employees' hospital bill of over $19,000. The patient didn't have to pay a penny.

And the Statewide Plan didn't have an option...it paid substantial amounts for doctors and other medical bills under Blue Shield and Major Medical.

With the Statewide Plan you have it all—a "no nonsense" three-part program especially designed for you and your family.

There's one hitch though. It's strictly to pay your hospital and medical bills. But on second thought, can you think of any time you'd need money more?

We can't.

How to put a malicious caller in his place.

The penalty for making an obscene or harassing call (including those where the caller remains silent) can be as much as a year in jail and $1,000 fine.

We've installed special equipment and set up an Annoyance Call Bureau to work with you and the police to catch offenders. Since this bureau was established, the police have made over 400 arrests, and 190 offenders have been convicted.

If you should ever receive a malicious or obscene phone call, the best thing to do is hang up immediately. The caller usually wants you to talk back or argue. If you don't give him that satisfaction, chances are you won't be bothered again.

But if the calls should persist, contact your telephone business office or, after hours, just dial Operator and the Annoyance Call Bureau will take it from there.

We believe your right of telephone privacy is important. We don't want to see it abused. And with your cooperation, we'll do our best to see that it isn't.

State Workers: Negotiating with the Front is a tough ballgame.

And we’re the pros.
Members Thanked For Election Role

by outside labor forces. It is, of course, true, as the saying goes, ‘It is not the size of the dog in the fight that counts, but the size of the fight that counts.’ CSEA has proved this in the past, and has a lot of fight in it.

County Members’ Effort

“Our county chapters have invested time and money in this effort, and the sending of true support. I am confident that, because of the all-out, dedicated efforts of CSEA’s 172,000 members in State and county chapters alone, CSEA will sweep the board in the five-county bargaining units.”

Wendt referred to the five units – those of Nassau, Suffolk, Rockland, Orange, and Westchester – as the operational service units; the institutional service units; the educational service units; and the professional, technical, and scientific services unit – set up by the State Public Employees Relations Board. Separate elections for a collective bargaining representative are being held in each of the units.

Elections on State and County Lists

The deadline for all ballots in the security unit. New gray ballots were mailed to employees in that unit after an error was discovered in the original yellow ballots. The deadline for all other units was July 21.

In this ball before the votes are counted, all we can do is wait for the results.” Wendt said. “CSEA was electrified when the results of the elections in all five units are announced. I am sure that all of us in CSEA will be grateful for and proud of our hard work during this trying time. We have some very happy news today. We are in the united efforts in the past few years, that CSEA is a great organization, and we are proud to represent it at any meetings of the Board. We are not bound by any other organizations and want to do as many as possible. A strong and forward is about to be taken up by all State employees, when they exert CSEA as their bargaining representative.

“Our generous, loyal members are responsible for this leap forward. I congratulate all of those who have participated in these elections.”

Degrees Awarded

ALBANY - Two retired State Health Department researchers have been awarded honorary doctorate degrees from Hobart and William Smith Colleges.

The recipients are Dr. Roland I. Brown, a biochemist, and Dr. Elizabeth Lee Hazen, bacteriologist.

The citations read: “Research scientists, you worked to meet the needs of man. The enemy was false, but you produced the first effective and safe aninfection drug, for use on humans.”
