Independent Nominations Assure Lively Contest for Assn. Posts

By MAXWELL LEHMANN

ALBANY, Sept. 6—Six names have been independently nominated for the title of vice-president for the State Junior Engineer, Civil Service Labor Union, by the executive committee of the union. In addition, it was learned that some members of the executive committee have also been nominated for the title of vice-president. The full list of nominees includes:

- John McManus, of Rochester
- James O'Donnell, of Niagara Falls
- Peter Conlon, of Albany
- John P. Farland, of Schenectady
- William A. Thompson, of Westville
- Angelo J. Donato, of Buffalo

The executive committee has named each of these men as a candidate for the title of vice-president. Each candidate will be subjected to a series of tests and interviews to determine his qualifications for the position. The tests will include an examination of his knowledge of the union's by-laws and rules, as well as an interview with each candidate. The executive committee will then make a final decision on the appointment of each candidate.

The nomination of these six men has been met with enthusiasm by the union members, who are looking forward to a lively contest for the title of vice-president. The election will take place on the afternoon of September 15, and all union members are encouraged to participate in the election by voting for their preferred candidate.

Political Activity Forbidden Workers in 8 State Agencies

By MAXWELL LEHMANN

ALBANY, Sept. 6—Employees who have been independently nominated for political activity positions in eight state agencies have been warned against taking part in political activity. There have been several instances where employees have been involved in political activities that have been found to be in violation of the state's political activity law.

The restrictions regarding political activity apply to all employees of the state agencies, regardless of whether they are permanent or temporary. Employees are prohibited from engaging in any political activity that may interfere with their duties, or that may result in the loss of their employment. The restrictions include:

- Participating in political campaigns
- Serving as an officer of a political organization
- Serving on the board of directors of a political organization

The agencies affected include:

- State Board of Regents
- State Department of Education
- State Department of Health
- State Department of Labor
- State Department of Public Instruction
- State Department of Public Welfare
- State Department of Public Assistance
- State Department of Public Affairs

The restrictions apply to all employees, including those who are employed on a part-time basis. All employees are required to comply with these restrictions, or face the possibility of being dismissed.

Cut in Hours Near For Fire Officers

By H. J. BERNARD

On the return from vacation of Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle, the question of cutting the hours of service for fire officers was discussed. The commissioners are considering the possibility of reducing the number of hours worked by fire officers in order to reduce the city's budget.

The proposed cut in hours would affect approximately 1,200 fire officers, who currently work a 40-hour week. The proposed reduction to a 36-hour week would result in a significant savings for the city, as well as a potential reduction in the number of fires that the fire department is called to.

The commissioners are expected to make a decision on the proposed cut in hours by the end of the month.
New Legion Chief is State Employee

ALBANY, Sept. 6.—A State employee, retired, who is the son of the late Charles J. Kingsbury, fourth vice-commander of the State Department of the American Legion, was elected this afternoon as the new commander of the State Department of the American Legion.

Mr. Kingsbury, who is 60 years of age, has been employed in the State Department of the American Legion for 25 years.

He was elected last week at the State Department of the American Legion's annual session at Saratoga Springs, according to Arthur F. Duffy, director of the State Civil Service Employees Association.

Face-Lifting Of Buildings Still Goes On

ALBANY, Aug. 30.—Sealed proposals were opened today by the Department of Public Works for the purpose of making face-lifting work on public buildings in the State capital.

The work will include repairs to the Capitol, the Capitol Annex, the Capitol Garages, and the New York State Museum.

Nelson, Hospital, and the First National Bank of Albany.

Deadline is Near for Gov't. Course

ALBANY, Sept. 6—Final registering will be held here next week for the fall term of the State-sponsored courses in business administration being offered in Albany. September 20 is the deadline for the registration of students.

According to Dr. Lyle M. Kress, director of the course in business administration, the course consists of 16 hours of instruction, and students will be required to pass all courses in order to be credited with the course.

Last year, 55 students, including 25 veterans, were enrolled in the course, and this year a total of 50 students is expected.

They must complete the course within 12 months of their enrollment.

Organization Moves Into Big Membership Drive

ALBANY, Sept. 6.—The Civil Service Employees Association, known as a "unity call" for all public employees, is seeking new fellow-workers as members of the Association in their present drive.

This is an extension of a membership campaign, scheduled to begin early in October. Fathers of the Association are planning to send an open letter to all employees, urging them to join their fast-growing organization. It will also have to be asked to step up their organizing activities too.

Stressing the theme "Unity is Vital," the letter will point out that perplexing issues before pressed with respect to increasing living costs and working conditions. In general, the story of the Association is a living proof that "organized with his voice." It is a progressive, intelligent, honest organization," the public employee can do much to promote his own welfare and happiness.

"Of course," Association officers point out, "the bulk of the members of the Association depends upon the participation of all eligible employees. All these in the benefits of the Association.

Bear Mt. Chapter Outing Draws 700

By ANNA Lee KRAN

"Gee, this is terrific," said the local youngsters, biting into a fried chicken and french fries, as they munched their way through the Mounties’ first outing of the season at Bear Mt., near Hancock, last week. It was the club’s first outing of the season and 700 members and friends turned up to enjoy the fun.

The wooden-floored rink, its loopy carpeting and lively color, was well filled by 8:30 P.M. President Donald went to work at the head of the show line, calling out friendly goodbyes to friends andflop players. As he left the floor, the game was on.

Six and eleven-year-old kids, eager to prove their athletic ability, were lion-hearted players on the Bear Mt. Mt. A group of enthusiastic parents. Older boys and girls, too, turned out to have fun and enjoy the games.

At 9:30 P.M., the final tally was 31 points for the Mounties. The Bear Mt. Mt. won a tug of war.

Rising Costs Hit Newspapers, Fares And Civil Service

Will Labor Day out of the way, the election campaign is in full swing. For civil service employees, caught in the cost-of-living squeeze, this means one paramount thing—keep close tabs on what the various candidates say about their plans to get and keep you on the job.

The argument that civil service employees have received already one living-cost bonus after another is of course specious. For civil service employees, who have to live on the same salary as their便秘 in private industry, are still below the general cost-of-living index. The figures are worth repeating over and over again.

Workers in nine basic industries received increases since 1939 averaging 30.9 per cent. Civil service employees received an average of only 32 per cent. During this same nine-year period, the retail price index has risen 67 per cent.

Most spectacular advance in recent months took place in the New York subway system, which saw an increase of 100 per cent in the cost of each ride. Even magazines and newspapers have felt the pinch. The Saturday Evening Post has hiked from five cents a day to 10 cents. In New York, the prosperous Daily News was finally raised to three cents, following comparable rises in virtually every newspaper in the country. Neither the State nor the City has raised their rates similarly.

In less than three months, milk has jumped from 12 cents to 15 cents. In less than 12 months, butter has reached 23 cents a quart. Butter shows the same type of increase. On Jan. 1, milk was 35 to 38 cents; to 42 to 45 cents. On Aug. 1, 41 to 51 to 67 to 76 to 84 cents. Eggs are up from 35 cents a dozen for a gallon or 19 cents a quart. These are the facts that civil service employees must keep in mind when they talk about rising costs and fixed salaries. These facts are not as hard to argue.
Should Maintenance Allowance Be Taxed?

ALBANY, Sept. 6.— Should maintenance allowance be subject to income tax? The Massachusetts State Employees Association has asked Dr. Frank L. Tolman, President of the State Civil Service Employees Association for cooperation in dealing with the subject. The Massachusetts group is asking Deputy Com­ missioner of Internal Revenue H. F. McArthur, who has asked that civil service groups assist in present and prevent their arguments.

Dr. Tolman's response to the Massachusetts group contained some interesting information.

"Our State Comptroller has been contacted by the Deputy Com­ missioner of Revenue, H. F. McArthur, Treasury De­ partment, Washington, D. C., as to whether maintenance allowances to State employees and, if so, with the State Comptroller, we feel sure, will seek to convince the Bureau of Revenue that these allowances are proper.

"We have no doubt that it would be proper for the officials of the State who are concerned, to write to Congressmen, Goodrich, Deputy Comptroller, State Office Build­ ing, Albany, is handling the matter directly, and seek to arrange to present a united front with the Internal Revenue officials on this subject. It would be best for the State officials to indicate the questions that requirements of "personality" in your State who are re­ quired to pass a final examination to determine their fitness to perform the duties of the job will be considered in making nominations.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6—The Veterans Service Section of the Civil Service Commission has received inquiries from members of reserve organizations concerning their reemployment rights if they leave Federal positions to volunteer for active duty in the United States Army. In answer •to these inquiries, the Commission states:

"The Selective Service Act of 1948 provides that persons who, subsequent to June 24, 1948, renounce upon active duty in the United States Army or the forces of the United States, the Civil Service Commission may be held responsible for their services in response to an order or call to active duty shall be entitled to reemployment rights and benefits, provided they do not leave their Federal positions within three years from its beginning or at the time of theirs release or they obtain their releases. This acquires Government employees who are members of the Reserve and who have permanent Government positions for active duty that they may have reemployment rights.
This is true whether they are or¬ dered to active duty voluntarily or involuntarily.

U.S. Gives Active Reservists
Full Re-employment Rights
Accepting Active Military Held Volunteering at Cost of Job

ALBANY, Aug. 30—What constitutes "voluntary" service in the reserve component of the armed forces or in service of a military type is defined by the institution of the Training Service. This is a joint undertaking of the State Department of Civil Service, the State Conference of Mayors, the Municipal Training Institute and the Public Service Commission, in cooperation with the State Department of Education. An employee of the State or one of its counties or cities to a military leave of absence. If service is voluntary, the employee may be given the chance to decline, to which men are entitled to a leave of absence for the ex-tent of their tour of duty.

As long as members of the national guard or naval militia or other reserve units such as entitled to 30 days leave without pay. Where service in any particular year does not exceed 30 days, the employee is entitled to paid leave in spite of the fact that he may have given his consent prior to being ordered to duty.

An opinion on this matter was privileged by the General Central Naval Headquarters. Goldstein to Brigadier General of the State of New York who was offered the third year's active duty as part of other military obligations.

Goldstein's Opinion

Mr. Conroy wrote: "The only statutory provision which the reduction of the statutory leave of absence and protection against voluntary service in the active duty of military Law Section 546. The service, therefore, is not eligible for the armed forces after the end of the statutory leave of absence. If it happens that men are ordered to duty without having had a chance to decline, these men are entitled to a leave of absence for the ex-tent of their tour of duty.

Veterans Preference

Veterans Speak up on Preference Editor, The LEADER:

This bill, regardless of your support by veterans, because, in reality, it is a measure written by lawyers. I support the measure submitted by the American Legion.

In answer to those non-veteran who ask what is the future of the merit system, I can answer that veterans are able to assume any position in civil service as well as do non-veterans. Also, the only answer is the Mitchell Bill. Welcome Mitchell Bill to Albany.

Your write-up last week in support of us is capable of winning a general preference vote. I shall let us join the whole idea, all of us give a bill that is sound, that will put all the best men back in the service of the country. The recent ruling that less than 10 per cent of veterans for disabled veteran and 20 per cent for non-disabled veteran is below the level of the veteran against veteran. Every week some one has some statement to make concerning the change in civil service administration resulting from veteran preference. There is no question of discrimination among veterans as well as non-veterans. All of these so-called polls are taken in different organizations in favor of the opinion that veteran preference is given priority and the opportunity to mention that the greater number of the veteran organizations are non-veterans.

Army and a combat unit knows that the great majority of the veteran's service to the United States is not as the soldier in the field but as the service by recruiting employees where service by recruiting employees is not as the soldier in the field but as the service by recruiting employees with the Government and in the armed forces.

Of course, this is not complicated and the current bill is made simple by the American Legion. It should make it possible to fill all the positions with the ability to mention that the veteran's service to the United States is not as the soldier in the field but as the service by recruiting employees where service by recruiting employees is not as the soldier in the field but as the service by recruiting employees with the Government and in the armed forces. The Condon proposal would be made simple and the office from skipping over a disabled veteran is not less than the appointment of a non-disabled veteran.

Requests for public service are made by the Veterans Administration, Associate Chief of the Veterans Section of the Civil Service Commission, who has just issued a report on the status of the veteran against the non-veteran in the prohibition of any non-disabled veteran. The Mitchell Bill would make it impossible even for the veteran to get anywhere in civil service, because the man who would have the opportunity of the Condon proposal would be made simple and the office from skipping over a disabled veteran is not less than the appointment of a non-disabled veteran.

However, if we think there is no merit in the Mitchell Bill, we believe that there is no merit in the Mitchell Bill. We are not going to let the American Legion win this war for such unhappiness and such a bill support.

Mayor Called to Test For Political Firings

views differ on communism as barrier to city jobs

The opinion of two of the members of the NYC Civil Service Commission is that to continue to support the Communist party or those who believe in communism is grounds for disqualification for office. Mr. Kaplan believes the Commission can continue to allow limited exceptions, but Mr. Patterson believes that the Commission should not be allowed to make exceptions.

Steno List Too Small; 29 Stenos and 32 Typists Needed by Welfare Dept.

Reclassification of Jobs In Parks Dept. Is Ready

Budg Director Thomas J. Paterson explained that the proposed reclassification of titles covers many employees who are receiving benefits, and will submit it to the Civil Service Commission for consideration. The Commission will then consider the reclassification and make its recommendation to the Mayor for action. The Commission is expected to meet on June 11 to take up the reclassification.

Mr. Paterson said that the reclassification of titles was made necessary because of the large number of employees who are receiving benefits, and that the new classification would make it possible to give those employees a chance to improve their positions. The new classification would also make it possible to give those employees a chance to improve their positions.

WANTED: AS PROBATION OFFICERS AT LOW PAY

Case Will Go To O’Dwyer and Patterson

An impasse confronts the proposed NYC examination for Probation Officer (Domestic Relations, Magistrates and Special Services Court). While the examination has been held up for a year and a half until the salary could be adjusted upward to attract the quality of personnel that the judges require, the NYC Civil Service Commission has decided not to wait much longer. But the heads of the three courts say that they will not make any permanent appointments from any eligible list promulgated at current scale.

The salary of Probation Officer was originally $1,980 to $2,400 a year, which made it impossible to recruit even provisionally at the low salary.

While the Probation Officers got a split of the $3,000 raise for the employees in the maximum by $910. In 1949, the Probation officers requested that their pay be made commensurate with their duties.

The Probation officers requested again that their pay be made commensurate with their duties.

Recently the $3,000 permanent raise has been granted, but the $4,500 top is still outstanding. In October, 1945 the LaGuardia administration awarded the $250 permanent raise.

The Association is endeavoring to get Director Thomas J. O’Dwyer to consider to the needs of the Probation Officers and he intimated that compliance may be expected.

The pay of Probation Officers is one of the five or five pressing salary problems, Budget Director Thomas J. Patterson told The LEADER, and we expect to go into that problem.

The LEADER has urged the Budget Director to give full and early consideration to the needs of the Probation Officers and he intimated that compliance may be expected.

Juniors and adolescents are difficult and exacting and require the greatest degree of experience and skill. He said that the Association would like still further requirements for any employment are made.

John Warren Hill is Presiding Judge of the Domestic Relations Court, George B. De Lona is Chief Judge of the Court of Special Sessions and Elmer Bremberger is Chief Clerk. Those are the three top judges who re­quested to go along with the line of Nicolas Hill, who is at the present time the lowest salary.

Conference with O’Dwyer Sought

The Association is expected to request that Mayor William O’Dwyer afford them an early opportunity to confer with him on the subject of raising the grade of Senior Probation Officer to $3,000 to $4,500.

NYC plans Exam, But Courts Balk

Jobs that the State offers in General Sessions in Manhattan Borough and in that the employees are paid from state funds.

Speaking of the civil Probation Officers, who do a job of work in a blind alley with a low income.

MR. THOMASON said that the re­distribution of the Probation Officers in the NYC work is with the employees, have been provisionals, whose jobs can las­a month, were paid for and paid for, and presumably, his salary is less than that of Probation Officers in the Kings County Court, especially since most of the NYC work is with the employees in the supervisory positions, although their lives have been dedicated to helping others, in fire act beyond the line of duty.
