The Public

By Dr. Frank L. Tolman
President, New York State Civil Service Employees Associations, Inc., and Member of Employees' Merit Award Board.

Speak For Yourself, Vets!

The veteran has a mind of his own and he often uses it to find his own solution of his problem. The veteran goes to all veterans to work for any State or local agency, to apply their minds and their efforts now to recapture the American dream. It is a dream of the American people, of those who would solve their problem for them. It is the veteran holding a civil service job who has the greatest interest in the proposed Mitchell Amendment. It is the G.I. who expects some day to enter public service who should study both proposed amendments to determine which is the better, both for him and for the State.

The Legion Meeting

When the soldier became a veteran and with other veterans established his own organization, the responsibility of that organization to lead in unsullied upbuilding of the civil government is tremendous. We greet the great New York State American Legion meeting in Saratoga this week. We have met Legion representatives again and again throughout the years in legislative circles and elsewhere.

The Association has pioneered much legislation helpful to veterans. Whether it is the metropolitan retirement systems, the proposed constitutional amendment, or the present Federal service ratings—these are other substantial recognition of a universal debt to veterans.

When Is The Veteran Helped?

We have disagreed with certain Legion leaders with reference to preference in civil service, and we have pointed out that the type of preference which they have sponsored on occasion has not been helpful to the merit system, to efficient civil government, or even to the veterans themselves. The G.I. insisted that only a very small number of the veterans who were eventually employed actually helped and that in very many cases veterans are discriminated against. The vendors—brothers and sisters, sons and daughters of veterans oftentimes—rejected almost entirely under the present Federal service preference. This plan have made a case for a fairer type of veteran preference in public service. It is the Mitchell constitutional amendment passed last year by the Legislature.

Civil Service Is For Mitchell Bill

I have already compared the proposed Mitchell and Condon veterans preference amendments in a statement to the Civil Service LEADER. Already the Mitchell proposal has won strong endorsement among public workers as opposed to the present preference or the proposed Condon amendment. For instance, the American Legion of New York City, through their independent organization, recently polled their membership on the type of veteran preference desired and out of approximately 8,000 ballots, 5,922 favored the Mitchell proposal. Only 441 favored the Condon proposal.

Also, the Jewish Veterans Association has endorsed the Mitchell proposal unequivocally.

Needed Reform

Among state employees there is a general feeling that the Mitchell proposal would bring about a needed reform in recruiting for civil service, which is today chaotic and promises to remain so until we have a plan that is fair to veterans and non-veterans alike, and which will assure the best service to the people of the State.

I appeal to all veterans, including the delegates to the great Legion meeting, to use the momentum of their position as veterans preference and to leave the way fully open for submission of the Mitchell proposal to the people following the recommendation of the State Veterans Association, Inc.

I appeal to all veterans familiar with the public service and the present unsatisfactory conditions as to preference, to speak up in their posts, in their positions, in meetings, and in public debate, and to make certain that the various veterans organizations understand the virtues of the Mitchell proposal.

WHAT EMPLOYEES SHOULD KNOW

Imunity Is Restricted For Public Officials

By THEODORE BECKER

One of the protections found in the Civil Service Law is that an individual need not be against himself on criminal charges. This guarantee applies not only to criminal trials but also to proceedings before the grand jury.

If the testimony is taken under oath as a matter of immunity from criminal prosecution based on his testimony, he cannot be used against himself in a civil proceeding. However, if the testimony is not taken under oath as a matter of immunity, he may be subjected to being imputed an admission of guilt.

It sometimes happens that a public official, who is called upon to testify before a Grand Jury regarding his official duties, if the official testifies and refuses to answer any question relative to his being guilty of breach of the law, he would be imputed an admission of guilt. He would be imputed an admission of guilt.

even if he does not sign such affidavit, however, he is oblige under such penalty.

By law our a public official cannot, with impunity, avoid the penalties of his official act and by invoking the safeguard of his immunity.

Immunity may be expressed in various forms, and it is not always apparent to the citizen that such immunity is acquired.

The Civil Service Law permits an official to be interrogated by a grand jury in the absence of the official.

WESTCHESTER WORKERS ASK COMPENSATION STUDY; PROPOSE CHANGES IN LEAVE RULES, STAFF RELATIONS

Following is the text of the resolution requesting immediate study of the possibility of merging §10-200 with §10-202 of the State Civil Service law for the purpose of determining the necessity for such a merger, and if determination is affirmative, to recommend to the legislature of the State of New York the adoption of such a merger.

RESOLVED, that this Association asks that the parallel statements to those set forth in the last phrase "or for an increase in salary until six months from the date of his permanent appointment" and "or for an increase in salary until six months from the date of his temporary appointment" be inserted in such order as the legislature of the State of New York may determine.

RESOLVED, that the basic weekly rate of pay to be paid to employees who are employed for more than 40 hours per week be extended to 48 hours per week.

RESOLVED, that the existing leave with pay for employees who are employed for more than 40 hours per week be extended to 48 hours per week.

It is requested that Rule 21 be further amended to provide that any employee may be allowed an extension of leave without pay for the purpose of visiting his family or for an undefined period of time in the event that he is "required to be in attendance at a service under conditions involving hazards to health and safety" and for which he is not otherwise compensated.

Rule 21 arbitrarily restricts the amount of time in any year, regardless of the amount of overtime which an employee may be required to work, to an extended leave of absence without pay in excess of 12 days in any year.

It is requested that Observation Of Religious Practices be extended to cover all religious practices.

It is requested that an immediate study be begun to determine whether a minimum of $2.00 is being utilized in the present $7.00 Emergency Compensation Fund, which now covers all employees of the County, and if it is not in keeping with current economic conditions, to make it impracticable for the purpose of the act.

Further, that a basic work week of 40 hours or less be standard with business, industry, and labor in the County, and it is not in keeping with the present economic standards to require more hours from certain small classification employees.

It is requested that a review be made of the present method of computing Emergency Compensation, and if it is not in keeping with the present economic conditions, to make it impracticable for the purpose of the act.

Better Promotion Methods Are Needed, Says Fleming

By ARTHUR S. FLEMMING
U. S. Civil Service Commissioner

Some of the things which must be done now by the national government is to save this generation from the loss of opportunities to do worthwhile work in the public service. The time is ripe for the creation of a national civil service commission to act in the public interest.

We must strengthen the foundation on which our career services rest.

We need immediate gain in staff, salary, and resources on selecting employees for our career service.

The need for such strength is obvious. When we have in the past found out something about the character of the man and women who put us in office of public trust, it has often been too late. The long run it saves money by giving us the best kind of service rendered to our people. Many more of our employees than in the past could have been prevented by the right kind of character and qualifications investigation. Mental ability alone does not qualify a person for public office.

At the same time we need to do a better job of letting the community know that there are 6,000 people were discharged for cause only during the past fiscal year. And, of course, at all times we need to keep those discharged from the service, against arbitrary discrimination. This is simply because someone in a position will help their employees to reach the agreed upon standards of performance. We need to do an infinitely better job than we have done of letting the people of this nation know that in their civil service there are men and women, who, without thought of self, are rendering the maximum service to their fellow human beings.

Activity In Retirement

Making advance preparation for retirement before age 60 is a widespread practice. The Department of Veterans Affairs, for example, encourages all veterans who are able to work to do so, and many executives and workers, especially those employed in the Department of Veterans Affairs, are planned for after 65 years of age.

The Departmen...
Skimping on Salaries Proves To Be a Dangerous Practice

HOWEVER negligent government, in any branch, may be to meet the going wage of private industry, it finds out. From the ploughman to the physician, the problem is in line. Ever since in a while blasing examples of underpayment stymie recruitment, then of course the remedy is applied. Under a coordinated salary the problem would never arise, of it cropped up could be cured. The need of continued to be met. The appropriate action by government to raise salary wages before recruiting the office is obvious.

NYC, the classification of positions is a hopeless jungle which soon will have to be straightened out if the City is to continue to hold up its head in personnel matters. Examination constantly crops up. The Department of Domestic Relations Court so far has halted the holding of an examination for Probation Officer, under pay is made sufficient to attract the quality of applicants courts desire. The Board of Estimate should raise the salaries without delay. Also, pay in the Inspection Service is too low and declinations of appointment offers are far too numerous. Holding more and more examinations, in an attempt to get enough eligibles to accept jobs that are underpaid, is a worthless and dangerous makeshift, and could become a disastrous policy.

NYC has not been generous with its employees on the whole, although it should have incorporated all bonuses in permanent pay, but it has permitted isolated cases of underpayment to persist, and if this course is not stopped, the City will be rightly accused of being a wage cutter.

Addition of 5 Points To Candidates' Marks Voided by Court Order

Supreme Court Justice Henry W. Shaw has ruled that the addition of five points to the scores of all candidates in the certified list for Firemen must be voided by order of the court. The action was taken in the interest of the police force, which has been increased from 2,000 to 4,000, as a result of the action of the Budget Director in the certification of the list. The order of the court also voids the action of the Board of Examiners in awarding passing marks to candidates who had answered less than 75 or 85 per cent of the questions correctly upon the written examination. The court ruled that the Board of Examiners erred in its construction of the examination questions and in its interpretation of the answers of the candidates.

The court found that the Board of Examiners had incorrectly interpreted the examination questions and that the answers of the candidates had been incorrectly scored. The court further found that the Board of Examiners had not followed the rules and regulations governing the administration of the examination, and that the candidates had not been given a fair and impartial examination.
Board Moves to Bar Communists From Holding NYC Govt. Jobs

There are no jobs in the NYC government for Communists, President McNamara declared in an interview with a LEADER reporter. Since Communists are opposed to our form of government, they should be barred from holding public office, McNamara said.

"Such a move is in keeping with the wishes of the people and in line with the law," McNamara said. "I don't see why we should have Communists in public office."...
