Post Office Clerk-Carrier Exam for NYC Being Pushed

By CHARLES SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—Top officials of the United States Civil Service Commission have endorsed the Mitchell Vet Preference Proposal, which provides for a 10 point advantage, and all non-disabled veterans a 5 point advantage in entrance examinations. These percentages being added to their passing marks. It further provides that all disabled veterans shall have a preference in promotional examinations, however, a veteran can benefit by it only once.

If Neither Bill Passes

Commander Groosman pointed out that if neither of the proposed amendments is passed, the present law will remain with the result that, beginning January 1, 1951, only disabled veterans will have any preference in entrance or promotional examinations. Such be

Veterans Organization Endorses Mitchell Vet Preference Proposal

By MAXWELL LEHMAN

The New York County Council of Administration, Jewish War Veterans, of the United States Civil Service Commission has endorsed the Mitchell Bill. It seeks to amend the Veto Preference by allowing the State to give preference to veterans in civil service.

At the same time, the organiza tion is urging the Legislature to enact the Mitchell Bill. The Condon Bill, which it also favors, would give preference to veterans in all governmental offices.

The Condon Bill would provide that veterans who serve in the Armed Forces for a minimum period of five years shall have a preference in entrance examinations, and all disabled veterans will have a preference in promotional examinations for all time. This means, the bill points out, that all able-bodied veterans now in civil service would be entitled to a preference after January 1, 1951.

The proposed Mitchell Bill provides that all disabled veterans be given a 10 point advantage, and all non-disabled veterans a 5 point advantage in entrance examinations.

Within the ranks of the American Legion, there was evidence of much difference of opinion on the two bills. While the Legion had sponsored the Condon measure, not one of its posts has come out for it. At one point, when an important New York City unit had come out against the Condon bill, State headquarters of the Legion had threatened a "crackdown." The Queens County American Legion Service Committee last week issued a report prepared by Dr. Frank A. Schaefer, and members of the State Legislature for passing both the Mitchell and the Condon bills last year. This has given the Commission the opportunity to enact the Mitchell Bill, which is the more equitable and less discriminatory Federal pay legislation.

TRUMAN ASKS HIGHER U.S. PAY FIGURE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—In his message to the Congress, President Truman asked for an increase in the pay of Federal employees because these were "extremely low." Supporting this charge, the Commission pointed to hundreds of ratings" half as high, compared with only dozens in the re-

$465 Goes to Employees for Useful Suggestions

ANALYSIS, Aug. 3—One way to make some extra cash is to have a garden. You won't make $20 a week working on a farm, but it will help you pay for the food you eat. If you can think up some way of doing tasks in your office that will save you money, you might be able to make $20 a week, according to Mr. Van Deusen,试验区's project manager. Private employment agencies do not pay for this kind of work.

When the Capital District Conference met on August 2-3, a proposal was put forth to have a salary hearing for employees who have been employed for more than 2 years in the State service. The proposal has already been adopted by the Division of Employment Services and the State Office Building. The proposal will be considered by the Civil Service Commission in its next meeting.

Van Deusen Fills Library Post Once Held by Tolman

ROCHESTER, Aug. 3—Approximately 4,000 city employees in the State service were notified that they would be examined for the position of salary hearing. The examination will be held on the State plan for development of State facilities before a Monroe County audience. Mr. Van Deusen,试验区's project manager, said: "The purpose of this examination is to provide more complete information about the employees who are interested."

Saying "It has worked out very well so far," Mr. Van Deusen remarked when he spoke on the selection of a Treasurer. Mrs. Florence A. Roffe, of Rochester, was appointed to the State Board of Education. The "lineup" was not complete when she spoke on the selection of a Treasurer.

When Depression Threatened State Employees
Their Association Prevented Calamity

This is the fourth chapter in the history of the Civil Service Employees Association, which tells of its progress and the part which the union made in the battle.

THE FULL story of the depression and its effect on the people of New York State is not told in the annals of the day. It was for the benefit of the unemployed who had themselves in a desperate plight that the members of the American Federation of Labor, of New York, George Lehman, accepting the challenge of adversity, but forward a "tough" budget for the defense of the University, and the purchase of a new building for the same.

More than 10,000 employees relied on the index of the Associated Charities for food and shelter. The Associated Charities did not have enough money to meet the demands, and the index dropped below 50. In the third quarter of 1933, it was more than 70.

The result was an executive order, which authorized the personnel officers of the State to make an examination of the persons applying for positions under the Civil Service Law and to make an examination of the persons applying for positions in the State.

The Game Protector Must Be Diplomat, Cop, Teacher—And He Loves His Job

The Hamburg Chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association held its election just the other day. The following were elected: President, A. Croty; vice-president, E. Pasciuto; secretary, W. Thayrer; treasurer, Joseph Croty, alter-egos, Erwin Pierce.

Dist. 10, Public Works

The weather was warm, the beer was cold, and a good time was had by all.

Check Violations

Many upscale game protectors find a large portion of their day spent in checking on alleged violations at hunting and fishing regulations. Even this is a year-round job, for there is always some form of fish, fowl or game being sought by sportmen. Aside from violations, one of the most trying problems of the protector is the problem of dogs running loose and killing a lot of deer in the Catskills, reports the Association.

Most Use Diplomacy

The game protector may not wear the white collar of the diplomat, but this is a job that often calls for the most delicate diplomacy. Any man that is a protector to the bone will tell you that the protector is a man and educator rolled into one in dealing with all sportsmen and the landowner.

Guns Around

Part of his job is to call at the school in his district at least once every two years to give a short talk on wildlife. This is quite a task when you realize that his district averages 380 square miles.

In May, the State Civil Service Department conducted an open-competitive examination for Game Protectors, but department officials report there aren't any vacancies on their staff at present.

20 Men Added

Nearly all of the game protectors have been added in the last year, and a few are expected to be called for in the next year. It is expected that this list will be closed soon and the department will have a full slate of permanent employees.

Although he is a protector in your favorite little city, the protector is a man of the world. This month, remember this item of interest in the protector's life, and go through the cooperation of one of his buddies in the Fish and Fishing Boats. See "Em and call fishing "bunkers," the fish used by the protector for fishing. It is different, occasional visits by the State's men.

As Department officials put it, the protector is a well-recognized comrade and usually does not go where he is not wanted.

At the present time, the State employs 150 game protectors, 42 district game protectors and 11 district game protectors. "There's little turnover in this field," the department adds.

"Many of the State game protectors are 20-year men who like their work, which for the most part takes them into the wide open spaces."

Of course, don't expect him to always know just where the fish are biting, or a convoy of quail are hidden. But he'll do his best to come through.

According to the men who peered through the woods, the streams and even the big-day pavements of New York, "It's a tough life but a great job."

In public service, here is a job hard to beat.

Eliot Kaplan

Probes Rights Of Employees

Public employees may join organizations and may bargain collectively with public officials, but they do not have the right to strike, or even to organize collective bargaining or a closed shop available to the public service--a considered judgment of E. Eliot Kaplan.

The executive director of the National Civil Service League, examining the relationships within the public service in the Industrial and Labor Relations Review, declared: "The problem of establishing collective bargaining and other relationships between public employees and subordinates in the civil service service as one of the most important the public must help to solve. He estimates that the United States Government employs more than 5,000,000 public servants, working in Federal, State and municipal jurisdictions.

On the basis of recent court and administrative decisions, Mr. Kaplan comes to the following conclusion:

(1) There can be no reasonable doubt that there is a public employee organizing or forming any union of their own choosing. Employees may become union members of their own free will and in their own ways, although the nature of the public service renders the affiliation incompatible with certain functions. Neither the nature of the public service nor the functions of the public service prevent a union from following the course of action freely and independently.

(2) The right to organize and bargain collectively with public officials is not permissible in the public service, and the United States Government is not permissible in the public service. It is the opinion of the National Civil Service League that the relationship between public employees and public officials is not permissible in the public service and the United States Government has no power to enter into such arrangements with public officials or to extend such services to public employees.

(3) The right of public employees to promptly and freely to organize and join a union is the most important issue in public service organization.

Travel Allowance Points a Moral

The Office of State Comptroller Frank C. Moore has done a workmanlike job in the manner by which he has handled his office.

At a meeting with a committee of the Civil Service Employees Association, the Comptroller's aides were informed that travelling workers' headquarters are finding costs on the road up—gas, oil, insurance, car maintenance, hotel prices and meals.

The State had been paying 6¢ a mile to employees using their own cars on public business, and $9 a day for living expenses. These figures did not accord with present expenses, the comptroller's aides told.

The Comptroller's Office set to work to gather all the relevant information. The study was detailed and thorough. Per diem rates of pay should go up—just as the price of meat has gone up. As the price of meat has gone up, so have the living expenses to $9.50 a day.

As yet the Police Department has raised travel allowances for State employees. The Comptroller's aides were interested in the figures led him. Car costs were raised to 7¢ a mile; living expenses to $9.50 a day.

WHAT is Harry Truman's worth as a leader? That question is being debated. Can he or can he not get a job as head of the United States Steel Corporation? No one knows. But the fact that Truman has made his first move for us to know this kind of a deal: Truman might prefer to remain his present job, donors (Donnell or Renni) to a long-tenured secretary of the Treasury.

Training For Job Therapy

Women who wish to serve as volunteers in a useful field of activity may be interested in knowing of plans for the 10th Occupa­tion Training Course, scheduled to begin October 14. The 10-week course is offered by the New York State Association of Vocational Rehabilitation, in cooperation with the Junior League of the City of New York.

Classes will be held on Monday evenings, beginning September 8, in the Sunnyside Room, St. Elizabeth's Hospital, 155-165 Fifth Avenue, New York 10, N.Y. The course will be taught by experienced instructors who will qualify as aides to professional therapists. The course will be open to volunteers who have completed a 10-week course in training for job therapy and are interested in working with the handicapped.

For information, write to: Administrator, 10th Occupational Training Course, 155-165 Fifth Avenue, New York 10, N.Y.
102 Spare-Time Money-Making Ideas for Women

Many New York women have created businesses by marketing a homemade recipe or providing a needed food service. Food products that sell well are items that make unusual confections, cakes, cookies, breads, jellies, jams, etc. Food specialists can also be sold on order directly to customers.

There are other outlets for food products, women might consider churches, church groups, farmers co-ops, supermarkets, office coffee services, concessions, tearooms, hotels, quick bakeries, candy and luxury food stores, specialty shops, etc. Many non-perishable items can be sold by mail order.

Do You Sell? If your talent is sewing, the opportunities are many.

- Are You a City Employee?
- Do You Work in the Department?
- Are You a Welfare Investigator?
- A Sanitation Man?
- A Firefighter, a postman, a police

The subject has not been treated anywhere before so, of course, we do not know any lead

Tribute to Denny Mahoney

Denny Mahoney was always my answer to those who say that public employees are dull and stodgy people. No matter what kind of work he would have chosen, Denny Mahoney was a helluva guy.

Denny picked out the New York City Police Department as his work. It was only natural that in time he would have become one of New York City's most influential people. It was also natural that he would have become a public servant with a firm grasp of his good luck and his Crook.

I remember the first time one who knew Denny's history said that the term would be known in public service. We all knew that Mahoney was a bit of a character, but we had always been impressed by his fine work.

I knew Denny Mahoney died in the line of duty in a car crash, that he was a kind and generous public servant. As far as I knew, he was not only a great friend and a fellow to pull out of any mess, but he was a good public servant. As an example of his service, I cannot believe that Denny had started advertising in the newspapers. Those of us who know him as a public servant keep an eye on him for public service.

I knew Denny Mahoney was a great public servant, and that the wish of his fellow workers, and for the soundness of his proposals, was that the way he would have wanted it. Denny was shot in his stomach in a holding pen forty years ago, and his death was directly attributable to the bullet that could never be removed.

Denny Mahoney was a war, decent human being. I feel I have lost, and the City of New York has lost, a friend of rare quality.

The U. S. Civil Service Advised
To Apply 'Disabled' Label
Only to '10% Veterans'

The U. S. Civil Service Comminission has been requested to ask the Attorney General's opinion on the interpretation of the Veteran Preference Act of 1944 as related to civil service preferences for dis-nabled non-veteran employees to serve the Veterans Administration.

In a letter addressed to the commissioner by the National Civil Service League, the bill is expressed as the ruling of the New York State Court of Appeals.

The departments have exceeded their ceilings in the federal service, explained
President Truman of the League, who is the number one in the league in all federal jobs.

Truman's No-Discrimination Order Called Ineffective

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 — Civil service experts are discounting President Truman's recent executive order outlawing discrimination in the Federal service.

They point out that the President did nothing to alter the policy already on the books: that the only change is to set up a 13-man board of Civil Service Commission employees and call it a Fair Employment Board — but the Commission gets no powers it does not already have.

They add, too, that General Omar Bradley, Army Chief of Staff, pointedly made the statement, after the President's order, that segregation would not be outlawed.
