ALBANY — Membership in the Civil Service Employees Assn. has skyrocketed to a record 179,655, due mainly to the unprecedented rush in members in the local government area, according to a special report released by CSEA’s membership committee at last week’s Board of Directors meeting in Albany.

The report revealed an overall gain in membership of 16,066 for the period between September 30, 1967, and January 1, 1968. An overall increase in membership of 13,192 new members were added to the growing CSEA county directory. The State membership figure of 2,350 also exceeded the normal yearly growth pattern, a CSEA official noted.

A membership committee official attributed the astronomical growth in the local government area to the employees’ desire for strong representation in collective negotiations made possible under the State’s Taylor Law, which became effective last September.

Dr. Theodore C. Wenzl, CSEA president, said this growth pattern reflects the faith, trust and respect public employees in our State feel for CSEA. “It is an indication of a bigger and brighter future for CSEA and the employees it represents,” he said.

“Thousands of employees have joined the CSEA team because they know we offer the best representation possible,” Wenzl declared. “We also are growing with our membership,” the CSEA official noted, citing the 20 percent growth in the CSEA professional staff in the last year alone.

A breakdown of the current overall membership figures shows 105,443 members in the State division and 62,066 in the county division. The report also shows 3,741 associate memberships and 185 members from the retired ranks.

ALBANY — Initial steps have been taken by the Civil Service Employees Assn. to secure a three-grade reallocation for employees in the correction officer series in the various penal institutions operated by New York State.

CSEA research men are compiling supporting evidence for the upgrading preparatory York is now operating on the theory that those who break the law can be rehabilitated — can be returned to society as law-abiding productive citizens.

“People on parole make the transition to better lives in society rests almost solely with the correction officer,” Wenzl noted. “They know we offer the best representation possible,” Wenzl declared. “We also are growing with our membership,” the CSEA official noted, citing the 20 percent growth in the CSEA professional staff in the last year alone.

Maj or Pension Improvements, Pay Hike To Be Demanded By CSEA’s Salary Committee

(CSAB Opening Fight)

ALBANY — Initial planning for improvement to be sought this year in State employee salaries, retirement and other money benefits got underway here last week at the meeting of the Civil Service Employees Assn. salary committee.

Solomon Bendel, long-active member of the CSEA’s New York City chapter who again heads this key committee, brought up for discussion numerous resolutions submitted by the CSEA membership from which a proposed salary program will be shaped for presentation to Statewide delegates at the organization’s annual meeting next month.

Although Bendel emphasized that all the committee’s thinking thus far is very preliminary, he did indicate that figures are already available from CSEA’s research staff to support a demand for a pay increase for the more than 139,000 employees in the State’s main bargaining unit for which CSEA is the recognized bargaining agent.

According to Bendel, the committee is studying the question of improving retirement benefits very intensively. The recently-announced retroactivity for the 1960 retirement plan, considered a mark of gain at the time it was negotiated by the CSEA, has already (Continued on Page 14)

CSEA Condemns D of E Reallocation

BUFFALO — A special office to be established by the State Civil Service Commission's recent decision denying the reallocation of the senior and principal employment security clerk titles has received strong criticism from the CSEA.

Dr. Theodore C. Wensil, CSEA president, said the denial was unwarranted and without foundation.

"The entire process was essentially a sham," Wensil noted. "The entire denial of the contentions chosen to routinely dismiss the appeal rather than look closely at the issues."

Editor, The Leader:

The State Insurance Fund article written by Misserialie Jordan in the July 25 issue of The Leader was very enlightening to me and probably to a great many civil service employees, even if it only made the standpoints of civil service employees have proved over many years that they can successfully conduct an insurance organization in competition with private business.

So often the efficiency of civil service employees is compared in an unfavorable light to that of the same work by private persons, but many of us may have been misled to accept this slur as a settled fact, not knowing enough to counteract the evidences to the contrary in the operations of the State Insurance Fund.

It might be a good idea to publish further articles from the various State employees as the State Insurance Fund outlines specifically what qualifications are required and the work they perform. For that matter, similar articles might be published to benefit all other New York State agencies. This should prove to be interesting, enlightening and patriotic for all civil service employees.

LEADERS EXAMS

Editor, The Leader:

In the July 25 issue of The Leader, you expressed your opinion on the unfairness of civil service exams, and I would like to do the same. It seems that National has made exceptions and allowed people who were unable to pass the exam to have jobs.

What better way to undermine our organization? Imagine the incompetent employee assigned to a job when an able one is needed. Why allow into state positions, not to mention "special" friends, "nominal stroders," etc.

Peruse these exceptions made in the Federal government positions and the reason for so much blundering, incompleteness and all-around general conclusion found in most of those jobs.

I, for one, would rather be supervised by personnel who know what they are doing and not someone who is unable to pass a simple exam.

Most civil service exams are set to try our State the best in the union through competition; therefore, perhaps "whatsiamean" should go to work for the Federal government, just to see what the public wants on the other side of the fence.

The law should be an instrument of justice. Justice Thomas R. Morsysey, Jr., demolished misconceptions and senti-

The Kantor proceeding sought to direct the respondents to grant the ten petitioners who are court officers of the Supreme Court, Kings County, equal pay for equal work. With court reorganization effective September 1, 1965, the County Court of Kings County merged with the Supreme Court, and the petitioners who had been assigned to the County Court became court officers of the Supreme Court.

At the time of the merger, the salary of County Court officers was $6,310 per annum, and the petitioners were kept at this salary from September 1, 1963, to July 19, 1964. After July 19, 1964, the petitioners were paid $6,915 per annum as compared with the new annual salary for Supreme Court court officer of $8,300. After July 19, 1964, the petitioners were paid the same as other Supreme Court officers.

The respondents admitted that the court officers who had been transferred to the Supreme Court from the County Court performed the same duties as those court officers who had originally been in the Supreme Court.

In seeking equitable jurisdiction, even under Section 116 of the Civil Service Law which declares that it is the policy of the State "to provide equal pay for equal work," the liberal jurisdiction of this Court was recently illustrated by the opinion of the Court of Appeals in Matter of Goldberg v. Beame. In that case, the Secretary to the County Judge continued as secretary when the County Judge became a State Supreme Court judge. The Court held that he was entitled to the same salary as the secretary of a Supreme Court Justice because the Legislature must necessarily have intended that former County Court employees be treated like Supreme Court employees after September 1, 1962, for purposes of the salary base as well as a salary increase.

The respondents relied on two technical defenses to the Kantor petition. The petitioners had signed releases discharging the respondents from liability by reason of the services rendered by the employees of the City of New York. The Court decided that the releases were invalid because the claims of the petitioners for certain purposes they were State employees and not employees of the City of New York. As a result, former County Court employees were allowed only salaries of the petitioners as City employees and not those accrued subsequently to the time when they became State employees.

The second technical defense was applicable to those petitioners who did not endorse their salary checks "under protest." This defense relies upon the Administrative Code of the City of New York which states that endorsement of a pay check constitutes an accord and satisfaction of all claims for salary unless the employee endorses the check with the words "under protest." The existence of this requirement was enough why court employees routinely endorse all their pay checks "under protest." In the case at bar, the Court in deciding for the petitioners had no choice but to limit the recovery of the petitioners to the payrolls periods for which a petitioner signed his pay checks "under protest."

Only questions of general interest can be answered here.

Q. Recently, my wife had an accident at home. I reported the accident and submitted a bill for $10.00 to Blue Shield. They paid $10.00 for the doctor's bill, but said they couldn't pay the remaining $10.00 which was the cost of an X-ray at the doctor's office. Later my daughter had an accident. The doctor had an X-ray taken and Blue Shield paid the entire cost of the accident. I wonder why the total cost was not paid in both cases.

A. If an X-ray is performed within 72 hours of an accident in an out-patient Department of a hospital, it is a covered item under the Statewide Plan. Your wife's X-ray was not covered because it was performed in the doctor's office, but your daughter's claim probably originated in the Out-Patient Department and, therefore, was paid as part of the emergency treatment. The $10.00 charge for the X-ray is a covered medical expense on your Major Medical. Keep your receipt.

Q. I am enrolled in both the Statewide Plan and Parts A and B of Medicare. I understand that prescription drugs are covered under Part B of Medicare. Are they covered under my Statewide Plan?

A. Yes. Prescription drugs are covered under Part B of the Statewide Plan with co-insurance and deductible factors applying. To make a claim under Major Medical, you may secure the necessary forms from your payroll or personnel officer.

What's the catch?
There isn't any.
$1699 is the suggested retail price at the port of entry for the VV sedan.
The price includes Federal excise tax and import duty.
It also includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers, outside rear view mirror, and seat belts front and back.
Not to mention the padded dash and front seat headrests.
It's the price of the real thing, not a stripped-down economy model.
What else do you have to pay?
The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge. And local sales tax.
There is one option that makes a lot of sense. The matching leatherette upholstery. For $30.00 extra. (Nearly everybody gets it because it eliminates the need for slipcovers.)
Well, that's it.
Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.
Headlines Like These Need Not Apply To You!

If you are a City employee, only H.I.P. can stand between you and the extra charges that lurk behind headlines such as these.

Cash allowance and major medical insurance programs cannot give you the full protection that your family needs today.

Fewer and fewer physicians are accepting insurance fee schedules. More and more "insured" families are having to pay out-of-pocket for services which doctors' charges exceed the scheduled allowances. Major medical subscribers find that the higher the medical bill, the greater their "share" of the cost.

Only H.I.P. members have the peace of mind knowing that their insurance fully protects them for all the plan's basic services—be it a preventive health check-up or open-heart surgery.

And they also know that H.I.P. is the only plan in the New York area that has established its own professional standards for affiliated physicians.

A better plan today—An even better plan tomorrow!

YOUR PUBLIC RELATIONS IQ
By LEO J. MARGOLIN

Mr. Margolin is Professor of Business Administration as well as the Director of Manhattan Community College and Adjunct Professor of Public Administration in New York University’s Graduate School of Public Administration.

Can It Be Done?
THE NEWSPAPER headline reported: “City Seeks A Program to ‘Humanize’ Firemen.”
THE NAME OF the game is to campaign to communicate the simple fact that firemen are nice people, who should be greeted with cheer and applause rather than with hostile, boorish and asorted garbage.
The BARRIERS of stones, brick and even gunfire have occurred 500 times since January 1, 1968. In other words, New York City firemen have suffered these assaults an average of three or four times each day thus far this year.

WE KNOW WHAT the City officials handling the “cooling” process in the slum neighborhoods are trying to do. They want to transmit a message, which may read something like this: “Firemen are your Friends. They protect your lives and property. Help them.”

PUBLIC RELATION WORKS work when you are trying to persuade reasonable, comparatively normal people, not necessarily possessed of any worldly goods but sufficiently disciplined to live within an acceptable pattern of human conduct.

CONTRARY TO what the Mayor’s Urban Task Force believes are the facts, the environment in which alumni dwell live is not normal. It is grossly

Mrs. Rose Shapiro, president of the Board of Education, made the following remarks following the meeting of the board of the new appointed members of the Board.

"We need with considerable interest the Mayor’s interview in today’s New York Times. It is important to know that the Mayor and his Administration are formulating plans to broaden the educational program. The Mayor has indicated that this will be a major new financial day for education, with none of the programs will be made up by the City. "May I remind you that decentralization was first proposed by this Board in 1964 and for three years we have been grappling with this serious problem. We have not been, as it were, to use a variety of words, to the harshest, not the idea that anyone who has any contact with us can easily detect. The members will readily see the day-to-day efforts we are making to decentralize the school system. On behalf of the Board of Education I welcome them and wish them success in their work with us in an effort to resolve our many problems. Unfortunately there are those who are seeking to divide the new board members from the old and to publicize the two groups. No greater disaster could befall the system and the children it serves, if this comes to pass. Only through joint effort can great work be made.

"In conclusion, let us begin the newly opened school year with the motto, 'Let us work together in an effort to make our schools the best they can be.'"

79 Contract Disputes Settled By PERB In 30 Day Period

ALBANY—The State Public Employment Relations Board has announced that 79 contract disputes were successfully settled in a recent 30-day period.

Since Sept. 1, 1967, the Board's Office of Conciliation settled 236 contract disputes and brought about settlements or agreements in 640 mediation sessions.

The Taylor Law, which was enacted in 1947, is aimed at providing a means by which the parties can settle their differences.

ALBANY—John A. Howard of Buffalo, an on-the-job training specialist with the State Management Internship Program, has been elected Grand Knight by the Minisotan Knights of Columbus.

Department Internship Plan Opens 23rd Session

ALBANY—Two New York State executive training programs have reached the 500 enrollment mark this year.

The New York State Public Administration Internship Program began its twenty-third session in July with an enrollment of trainees exceeding $8,000 a year.

The CSEA study shows that the cost of the Public Administration Internship Program has increased by approximately 80 percent of those graduates have remained in the State service.

In announcing the selection of the new trainees to the Governor Rockefeller said, "This program has been very successful in the search for general and advanced training.

Suffolk Court Unit Filing Upgrading

ALBANY—Requests for new court filing units are among the three titles in the laboratory technician series, affecting approximately 500 State employees.

The application deadline is July 31.

Work of the laboratory technician can be extremely accurate and involve in taking and analyzing specimens, which requires a high level of supervision.

Space is limited and immediate action is necessary.

CSEA specialists recommended that the Taylor Law be amended to accommodate the current growth of the State's labor relations field.
