WILLIAM T. BROWNE ARGUES FOR POSTAL WORKERS
WASHINGTON — The House recently凑够了数并进行了投票，支持大约350,000名临时职员，最后放弃。如果他们不被批准或者拒绝，这些临时职员就将失去工作。这个决定将对许多联邦工人产生影响。如果委员会的报告表明，许多联邦职员的薪资在过去的五年中没有增加，那么他们将有权要求联邦政府支付增加的薪资。委员会的官员们表示，他们将根据报告来决定是否批准这些联邦职员的薪资增加。如果委员会的报告表明，许多联邦职员的薪资在过去的五年中没有增加，那么他们将有权要求联邦政府支付增加的薪资。委员会的官员们表示，他们将根据报告来决定是否批准这些联邦职员的薪资增加。
NYC Employees Must Carry Identification

In a sudden executive order issued late last week, Mayor Fiorello La Guardia directed that all city employees must carry identification cards.

The use of identification by city employees is a new departure today every identification card carried by the city employees, from the firemen and policemen, to the workers in the New York City Water Department, was issued to the executive branch of the city. The cards are to be worn at all times, according to Mr. La Guardia, when employees return to their work after going out of town, violators will be subject to prosecution.

The cards will bear the name of the employee, his address, the name of his department, and the number of the card. They will also have the name of the city department to which they belong.

Why Can't This Problem Be Solved?

We invite your attention to the issue on page 2 of this issue, based upon a letter written by Miss Elizabeth Williams, a member of Local 10, National Federation of Post Office Clerks.

Mr. Brown's letter makes sense. There is a battle going on in Washington, both in the rear and in front of the scenes, concerning in which wage raises shall be allotted to Federal employees. In the heat of battle, it is said, the postal workers have been trying to obstruct the administration's pay raise program. Mr. Brown's letter, in a personal and matter-of-fact way, brings us to the focal point of our issue—all the other issues being incidental. Mr. Brown himself is not one of the postal workers. The whole point of his statement is to say that the administration's plan has many inequities in it. The postal pay plan will fall upon every Federal group with even more impact. The inequities without the plan, says Mr. Brown, hit the postal employees hard.

The administration has indicated, according to some sources, that the postal plan, however meritorious, which fixes the postal workers alone, will be vetoed. Spokesmen in Congress have stated that the postal workers won't play ball with either Federal plan. The demand concessions for themselves alone, no matter what the plan, is a demand to start with. This is a clear statement of Mr. Brown's own feeling that the truculence attributed to both sides in this battle is a feeling is that the truculence attributed to both sides in this battle is a purely factual manner, presents what looks like a system of cheap, slave labor. My feeling is that the truculence attributed to both sides in this battle is a purely factual manner, presents what looks like a system of cheap, slave labor. My

Two conditions to start with, it doesn't get the public response it should. The one civil service department heads is in for a blast, in about two weeks.

And Other Things

The period was a time which caused such a furore when it was inaugurated by the President. The system of cheap, slave labor is now in force.

Fredly, we say that if such attitudes exist on either side, they shouldn't. They're not conducive to the best interests of the postal workers. Our own feeling is that the truculence attributed to both sides in this controversy actually isn't there.

The general solution to the problem must turn on these facts—

1. Postal workers haven't had a raise in 17 years. No one, however, unilaterally into effect can affect to neglect the interests of the postal workers.

2. With these two conditions to start with, it doesn't seem to us impossible to arrive at a formula which will satisfy nobody.

Write watching the end of this work, which caused such a furore when it was inaugurated by the President. The system of cheap, slave labor is now in force.

ON PARK ROW

WITH WILLIAM LEWIS

Since the previous column, hearing this title, appeared on July 16, we have had numerous ques­tions to continue further on the same subject. Not being required at this time to make any opinions in the first place, with a little encouragement — brother, that’s all — we have decided to continue primarily our own and should be fine.

If you can renovate a house to suit your needs, it would be ridiculous to have to sell it down and build a new one. Therefore, first de­ norm your needs and then seek around to see if there is an organiza­tion in the department that is not renovating to meet those needs.

The ideal park organization already in existence, according to that title should have a fair degree of permanency. We find the nearest approach to this ideal in the Greater New York Park Commission. It is one that, as with most everything else, in this column, there is plenty of room for improve­ment.

There are over 50 per cent of the FBI agents are noted experts, which is top in shooting. It is simply good common sense that the FBI has a relationship to this account of FBI agents.

"This course begins with target shooting; that is, each man mustmaster such fundamentals as how to hold the target, Vision, grip, squib, etc. After he has mastered the basics of the game, he then proceeds to the .22 calibre revolver, the .38 Special, the 38 revolver, the .357 Magnum, the 38 special revolver, the .45 automatic revolver and the .45 caliber revolver. The .45 caliber revolver is the one which is the most popular and the one which is the most effective." (Ref. 1)

"What's more we don't know of a patrolman who has lost his life in the line of duty who could not have worked his way through the training program. The training program requires that every police officer take a 500 yard, 1000 yard and 300 yard test. The average patrolman can hit his mark 85 per cent of the time on the .22 calibre revolver, 100 per cent on the .38 Special."

Ellis Prepares to Sue City for Kern Probe Fee

Some few months ago a LEADER reporter was interviewing a Mr. Ellis, who said he had been acting as legal investigator for the city, probing the work of Mr. John W. Kern, civil service head, and his Commissioner. Mr. Ellis spoke of the fee he was going to ask the city for his services.

The LEADER reporter asked about how much.

"Won't be inconsequential," he replied from Mr. Ellis: Either poor or get used.

Vald, says McGoldrick

In pointing out there exists virtually no validity in connection with the Ellis claim, McGoldrick says that no appropriation ever being made for the purpose of such a service.

Commissioner further pointed out that all Mr. Ellis's services have been voluntary; that, moreover, the principal services rendered have been, that the investigation has been quite extensive and circle the commission, the services in connection with the Ellis claim, McGoldrick refuses to be involved.

Mr. Ellis has reminded the Comptroller that the investigation will be given those working on the Ellis case, and that, in the beginning, he has been based on auxiliary arithmetic, questions, and the City auditing.

Application closing time was

Mr. McGoldrick had to be moved as The LEADER went to press.

Grays Sues

At the same time, Mr. McGoldrick was holding his ground in the investigation of the city, assisting in the examination of the trial, and after a final recovery of all $17,272.63 for services performed for the special Ellis committee, Grays contends he went the joints submitted to the Court of Appeals in successful defense of the investigation and to substantiate the necessary in the possession of Mayor Laguardia.

6,000 Take

Issuer Tester

Totaling 6,000, the first contingent of trainees in the Brooklyn Navy Yard as helper trainees in a number of trades were to report for their tests on Tuesday, July 28, in Walton High School, Jerome Avenue.

The positions, which pay $1.68, 74¢ and $1.22 a day, cover the titles of laborer, machinist and metal worker. Additional examination will be given those working more than 40 hours a week.

Cantilever work is also being handled by actual methods, and as a result the training program has been based on elementary arithmetic, time and a half compensations, and the like.

Mr. McGoldrick states that no inconvenience was involved in the pursuit of this investigation.

Resort News

Old-fashioned methods of combining healthy exercise and recreation such as canoing, horseback riding, bicycling, promenades to have reserved popularity in Maine this summer for vacationists who are leaving their cars at home.

Canoing is popular in Maine, for the State's great network of inland waterways, comprising nearly 2,500 lakes and as many streams and creeks, provide an ideal "highway" for canoists. Bicycle clubs have also been formed in a number of resort towns, with some working near the proximity of points of interest.

Camping, too, is an important adjunct to recreation in Maine, as more are being operated from Miami to Hudson State, the first with eight days at a leading resort hotel in Hudson State.

Painted-lake and inland-waterway enthusiasts, who find the regular all-train trips from both New York and Boston to Miami, more travelers than ever.

The State Civil Service Commission this week opened up four positions for a role in the administrative service, to be filled from $1,600 to $2,100.

Leaves New York City

The State Civil Service Commission this week opened up four positions in the Department of Taxation and Finance, one in the Department of Labor and another in the Department of Recreation.

The Coliseum is for admission for a single entry, $1.25 to $2.50, and for season tickets, from $1.00 to $2.10.

The Labor Department test is for senior stenographer, with a salary of $1,450 to $2,000.

Government Opens Positions To College Seniors, Grads

For the third time this year the United States Civil Service Commission is holding an examination to recruit college seniors and graduates for Federal war work. This examination is for the benefit of college students who will complete their courses in the summer session. Applicants are particularly desired in the fields of public administration, business administration, library science, economics, statistics, and mathematics through calculus. Graduates and seniors who will finish their college course by September 30 may apply. Applications must be filed by August 27 with the Commission's Washington, D.C., office.

Nursing education consultants are needed to give consultation service to schools of nursing. Positions are in Public Health Services and pay from $3,000 to $4,000 a year. Registered nurses who have completed a course in a recognized college with a full program in advanced nursing education at least a year, and also graduated from an accredited school of nursing with a steady average of 85 to 89 per cent may apply if they have full appropriate experience.

Additional medical technicians are being sought. Salaries range from $1,600 a year for junior laboratory helper, to $2,000 for senior medical technician. Under the new requirements, graduation from high school is no longer necessary. Completion of an approved course of clinical laboratory technicians may be substituted for two years of the required experience for all positions.

COP SALARIES VARY WIDELY
How much do cops and firemen earn?
In view of the controversy in New York City about the entering salary of police officers, a recent study of salary series may prove of interest. The study, conducted by the National Civil Service Managers' Association, is based on a survey of 1,000 cities.

According to the study, the median entry salary of police in small cities ranges from $1,339 in cities under 10,000 population and $1,510 for cities over 10,000 population. Salaries for patrolmen range from $1,700 to $2,400. The number of police officers has increased more than doubled since 1941, with an average of 178 employees per 1,000 population as compared with 212 the year before. Two-thirds of all cities over 10,000 population have some sort of retirement plan for police officers. Of the cities making provision for retirement, nearly 77 per cent contribute to the retirement system.

The median entrance salary for firemen is $3,000 in smaller cities and $4,665 in larger cities. The median salary for a fire chief is $5,950 in smaller cities and $7,500 in larger cities. The number of firemen exceeds that of police officers by a small percentage in the average city. More than 68 per cent of the cities in the U.S. Civil Service Examinations have some sort of retirement plan in effect, and the average city contributes nearly 71 per cent to the retirement fund.

LAST CALL TO ENTER CIVIL SERVICE FAIR!
Folks, this is the last call for entries in the CIVIL SERVICE FAIR, which will open next Monday, August 3, at the Sachs Auditorium, 16th Street and 8th Avenue. The Fair, sponsored by the CIVIL SERVICE LEADER, will give Civil Service workers their first look at the posters which show what they do for constructive spare-time amusement. It will cost you nothing to enter; and you may win a prize.

From all over the greater metropolitan area and from distant points as well, men and women have been quick to respond to the invitation to exhibit in the CIVIL SERVICE FAIR. If you haven't entered your application blank yet, clip it from today's edition of this paper, and mail it at once.

Seek Champion Pie-Baker
The opening day of the Fair will be highlighted by a unique pie-baking contest, the winner to be acclaimed as New York's Champion Pie-Baker. The contest will be announced and prizes awarded on the spot, ceremonies beginning at 2:30 p.m. on Monday, August 3rd, at the official opening of the CIVIL SERVICE FAIR in the Sachs Auditorium.

You should bring or send your entry or entries (enter as many kinds of pie as you like) to the Fair between the hours of 10 and 1 o'clock on Monday, August 3rd, at the address given above. If you are going to enter this interesting Pie-Baking Contest and try for the Champion Pie-Baker title, pick up a copy of the CIVIL SERVICE LEADER on this page at once.

Tell Your Friends
Tell your family, your friends—everyone—about the CIVIL SERVICE FAIR, and invite them to go to see it. Hours: Daily except Sunday, from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. It will open on Monday, August 3, and will close on Saturday, August 15. Admission is free, and everyone is invited.

A Field Day for Photography Fans
Photography fans will have a field day at the Fair, for countless photography exhibits will be shown in a special salon. Artists will be well represented with beautiful oil paintings, water colors, crayons, etchings and cartoons.

Autograph collectors will show their prized specimens, gathered from the famous men and women in today's limelight. The ladies in Civil Service are showing needlework in all its branches: needlepoint, petit point, embroidery, crocheting, knitting and many others.

Train, ship and airplane models will be on hand in great variety. Leatherette and woodcarving exhibits. The making of jewelry has developed into a popular handicraft.

Woodcarving a Favorite Exhibit
Woodcarving, a leading hobby among boys and men all over the nation, will be among the Fair's exhibits. Petwork, which is elaborate, ornamental and difficult to do as woodworking goes, will be exhibited by Meyer Ullman, of Brooklyn, a practicing employee. Sculptures of famous heads will be shown by Nathan Bauch, of Sanitation, will exhibit cartoons.

From Elmira, N.Y., will come a stamp collection to be exhibited by Richard L. Way, former N.Y. men's women's divisioner. The exhibit will be judged and winners announced by Miss Clara Lynch of the New York City Department of Hospitals.

In Set With Conservation Trend
Picture frames made ingeniously from scraps of cloth and cardboard are the clever exhibits of Sol H. Goldstein, Police Department, Brooklyn, who has fallen in step with the times by thus converting otherwise useless materials into something both attractive and useful. Picture frames made of cigar cases, for instance, will be shown by Christian Hohn, a city transit worker. Hand-made crepe paper flowers, beautiful and life-like, will be exhibited by Clara Louise Baer, of the Lower East Side Hospital.
