WASHINGTON — The potential driving force in the training of all Federal workers may require the administration to revise its strategy on the President's order to pay time and a half to all Federal workers paid less than $3,000.

The powerful bonus drive was predicted in The Leader last week.

Just what form the compromises will take among the interested groups behind the overtime plan is still a matter of speculation but this much is clear:

1. The bill that will be reported by the House Civil Service Committee will benefit all employees, skilled and unskilled. And the attempt will be honestly made to treat them all equally and equitably as is possible. For example, it has been suggested that the Government work week be extended at the expense of overtime pay which would guarantee each worker the same pay for the same time. The overtime bill would extend in to an additional 120 hours, but 100 would still be eligible for overtime pay each week.

2. The low-paid postal workers for whom the House has already provided in the present plan will retain their eligibility for overtime. Postal representatives are divided on this score. Some believe that the overtime bill won't benefit all employees, but merely perpetuate them.

3. Administration spokesmen agreed to admit in testimony before the committee that the President's order will apply to airmen, postal employees, Edgar B. Young, Budget Director, had estimated that $110,000 workers will be eligible for overtime. The overtime bill would extend in to an additional 120 hours, but 100 would still be eligible for overtime pay each week.

4. Of that 180,000, he estimated, about $120,000 are clerical workers. The other low-paid postal workers who would be eligible to draw $600 overtime would merely see their pay augmented by $10 per annum or who wouldn't get overtime.

5. The Low-Paid Workers Committee members immediately defended the low-paid postal employees. The President's order, they said, is the ultimate

6. Frankly these postal employees believe there is no other way to improve the conditions of Federal work, which is clearly evident that the committee, which includes labor and management representatives, custodial employees and other low-paid employees, would merely see their pay augmented by $10 per annum or who wouldn't get overtime.

7. The postal workers pack the House, in approving the 1943 fiscal year that starts on July 1, 1944, unless action is taken to improve the conditions of Federal work, which will result in economies by reducing the force of the Wage-Hour Division and the Wage and Hour Division. But the committee's move in this matter. CIVIL SERVICE IN NEW YORK CITY

Collective Bargaining Bill in City Council

City employees speculated this week over what effect a bill introduced in the City Council might have. This bill, which would provide for collective bargaining, is expected to have a significant impact on the work environment for city employees.

The bill, introduced by Councilman Donald F. Grant, would provide for a representative of city employees to negotiate with the mayor and city council on matters related to working conditions. The bill would also provide for the establishment of a grievance procedure to resolve disputes.

The bill is similar to a law that was recently enacted in the state of Oregon, which has led to a significant reduction in the number of grievances filed by city employees.

Conductor Physical

Conductor candidates who took their written examinations in Textile H.S., Pleasant Park H.S., George Washington H.S., and Washington Irving High School will be the first to be called for the physical examinations beginning June 17.

The physical examination includes a written test on April 25, will be administered to those who passed the written test. The examinations will be scheduled to begin on June 17 and June 18.

The physical examination consists of several tests designed to assess the physical fitness and stamina of the candidates. The tests include:

- 500-yard dash
- 100-yard dash
- 40-yard dash
- 20-yard dash
- 10-yard dash
- 5-yard dash
- 2-yard dash

In addition to the physical examination, candidates will also be required to take a written test on April 25. The written test will assess the candidates' knowledge of public transportation and their ability to handle a variety of situations.

Disturbance Dismissed

At its meeting last week, the Civil Service Commission dismissed the complaint of a BMT conductor who objected to the "time-consuming disturbances" during the written promotion test for assistant traffic director held May 6 in Stuyvesant High School.

The conductor claimed that the disturbances prevented him from finishing his test in the prescribed period of time and that this caused him to lose marks. The commission ruled that the disturbances were caused by the other candidates and that the conductor was not penalized.

Facts About Welfare Firing

The dismissals in the Department of Social Welfare as a result of the city budget cuts are bad, but not as bad as anticipated. The 267 firings originally scheduled are now down to 112, with hopes that even this number may be reduced.

Some of the dismissals are due to changes in the department's policies and procedures. Others are due to the city's effort to reduce its budget deficit.

The dismissals will affect employees in a variety of positions, including social workers, counselors, and clerical workers.

Cashier Test For Two Offices

The examination for cashiers in Two Offices recently ordered by the Civil Service Commission will be held on Saturday, June 28. The exam will test candidates on their ability to handle cash transactions and their knowledge of city policies and procedures.

The examination will be open to all eligible candidates who have served legal papers on the interesting party.

The examination will be held in the office of the district attorney. A list of candidates will be published in the New York Times.

The Civil Service Watchdog Reports

Here are the highlights of the annual report issued last week in the Civil Service Department's Annual Report.

The public service must be safeguarded against the evils of nepotism, political interference, and other practices that undermine the integrity and efficiency of the service. The Civil Service Commission has taken steps to prevent such abuses, but more can be done.

The next civil service exam will be held on July 1, 1942. The Civil Service Commission has received over 24,000 applications so far. The next exam will be held on July 1, 1942. The Civil Service Commission has received over 24,000 applications so far.

Porter List Is Active
One of the most active city lists is the Porter list. The Civil Service Department has received over 24,000 applications so far. The next exam will be held on July 1, 1942. The Civil Service Commission has received over 24,000 applications so far.

Supermen Get Laborer Jobs
Eighth men have been appointed to the Laborer jobs in the Civil Service Department. They will be placed in the temporary labor pool until their work is completed. The Civil Service Commission has received over 24,000 applications so far. The next exam will be held on July 1, 1942. The Civil Service Commission has received over 24,000 applications so far.

Comptroller Hires Grade 1 Clerks
The Office of the Comptroller is hiring Grade 1 clerks for a temporary period of two months. The Civil Service Commission has received over 24,000 applications so far. The next exam will be held on July 1, 1942. The Civil Service Commission has received over 24,000 applications so far.

Railroad Clerk Promotions
Thirteen promotions to railroad clerks in the Independent Division of the Board of Transportation have been made. Two of the clerks were promoted to the rank of first assistant, seven were promoted to the rank of assistant, and four were promoted to the rank of clerk. The Civil Service Commission has received over 24,000 applications so far. The next exam will be held on July 1, 1942. The Civil Service Commission has received over 24,000 applications so far.

Efficient Mail System Set Up

A central mail room in the Municipal Building to facilitate and speed up the mailing of mail among city departments—was announced last week by the Civil Service Department. The new system will result in substantial economies, according to Mr. Canudo.

Taking over the mail from the Municipal Building chutes, establishment of a new postal office mail box, use of the central room for distribution of payroll records and The City Record as well as re-directing of communications to other boroughs and even establishment of a central mailing branch in other boroughs are also being considered.

DRAFT DEFERRALS FOR COPS, FIREMEN

Mayor LaGuardia last week made public an arrangement he had concluded with selective service officials whereby experienced policemen and firemen will be recommended for deferment from the draft.

Eugene Canudo, secretary of the Hospitals Department, has worked out a way to save money on mailing.

Patrolmen candidates who passed Saturday's written test will be examined by a galaxy of big-name athletic coaches during their physical tests commencing July 12.

Among the more noted former athletes and athletic coaches hired by the Civil Service Commission to put the finishing touches through their tests are Emyr Walsh, veteran line-coach and newly-appointed head football coach at Fordham; Emil Von Elbing, N.Y.U. track coach; George Spitz, former pole-vaulting champion and now an instructor in physical education at Queens College; Cliff Riddle, famous as a triple-threat back with the Washington Redskins, now assistant football coach at Columbia; Pete Waters, Manhattan track coach; Jimmy Pearl, City College instructor; Puffy Kaskin, baseball coach at Brooklyn College; Ed Kellner, Fordham basketball coach; Al Noon, graduate manager of N. Y. U. and Jerry Bul­qut, Manhattan baseball coach, and Walter Metzkaug, director of athletics at St. John's College.

300 a Day

Three hundred sixty candidates will be examined daily in the physical tests each day, excluding Sun­days, from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. on Tuesday, July 28. Remaining tests will be held four times a day, till 3 a.m., 12 noon, 3 p.m. and 6 p. m. On Saturday, July 25, examinations will be called as only the morning ses­sions will be held.

In order to eliminate sharp editions to the entrance track in the New York City Building at Flushing Meadow Park, the old World's Fair grounds, Paul M. Brennan, director of the physical and medical bureaus of the Com­mision, in charge of the test, has increased the number of laps from ten to fourteen on the mile run. The time for this part of the exam needed to score one hundred per cent is still five and one-half minutes.

Other Parts of Test

Other parts of the patrolman physical prove include a strength test and an agility test. The strength test is divided in two parts, a dumbbell lift and an ab­dominal muscle lift. The lifting of an 80-pound dumbbell in each hand is required for a perfect mark on this part of the test. On the abdominal muscle lift, candidates are required to raise a 60-pound barbell behind their neck, while lifting themselves up from a prone to a sitting position. In the agility test, entries must

Subway Board Mum On Vacations

The Mayor has issued an order reporting in last week's issue to the effect that New York City employers may add their secretaries, up to 12 days, to their two-week vacation periods. The ques­tion is whether the Mayor's ap­pointment to the Board of Transpor­tation. This week Jerome Daly, sec­retary of the board, said he didn't make up his mind on it.

If you fail

If you fail in the patrolman exam, your next step is to qualify for a position in the World War. The World War meets its quota this month, perhaps a month earlier.

Every penny is a patriotic penny if it hastens the privileges of peace. Every dollar you invest in War Bonds will shorten the months of the war. If your World War meets its quota this month, perhaps a month earlier.

Consider Longer Hours
For State Employees

ALBANY — Longer hours for State employees are under consideration by Governor Lehman and the Senate and Assembly committees that will prepare the State's budget for the coming year. The Leaman administration has repeatedly stressed the need for longer hours. The committees have reportedly sought advice from groups that favor longer hours, including the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. The Senate committee is chaired by Senator Joseph C. Nye, and the Assembly committee is chaired by Representative John W. Jacobson. Both committees are expected to meet soon to discuss the issue.

Time Off For Hospital Workers?

ALBANY — Attorney General Bennett has announced that he will investigate the case of a hospital worker who was denied time off from work to attend a family member's funeral. The worker, who is a member of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, claims that the hospital's policy of denying time off for personal reasons is discriminatory. Bennett said that he will look into the matter and consider whether the hospital's policy should be changed.

Why Don't They Show Up?

Out of twenty-five reasons why applicants fail to appear for examinations, the most frequent reply is "working and unable to get leave to take examination."

"Received examination notice too late," and "examination date conflicted with prearranged plans," according to a survey recently completed by the Indiana State Personnel Division. One hundred fifty-five applicants who failed to appear for examinations replied to a questionnaire sent out by the Personnel Division. The data was then divided into three groups: (1) Reasons over which the Personnel Division has no control, such as "illness," "weather," "inducted into army," and "accepted another position." Forty-three per cent of the applicants who failed to appear fell into this group. (2) Reasons over which the Personnel Division has partial control, such as "working and could not get leave to take examination," "date conflict with prearranged plans," "day of week inconvenient," "time of day inconvenient," "no means of travel," "misunderstood examination," and "notice received too late," "distance," "notice not received," and "two examinations conflict." Twenty-one per cent of the applicants were in this category.

On the basis of the results obtained the Personnel Division has determined to hold more evening examinations. The Personnel Division has also decided to advance the date for notifying applicants, wherever possible.

How to SCREEN YOUR LIGHTS
FOR AN EFFECTIVE DIM-OUT

It's the job of all New Yorkers together to blot out the sky glow that makes targets visible to enemy submarines. It's a job that we must all undertake in order to safeguard our vital shipping as well as the lives of those who man our ships.

We—your "lighting company"—who have helped to make this "The City of Light," now urge you to shield your lights for the duration.

There need be no hardship in doing this. If proper precautions are taken, you can still have all the light you need where you need it, without creating any glare or reflection above the City.

Consolidated Edison is glad to cooperate with the Army and local authorities in re-emphasizing the instructions issued from official sources.

NOTE: Do not confuse dim-out rules with those for a blackout. A dim-out has been ordered for the duration of the war. Black-outs may be ordered at any time for varying periods.

A dim-out requires that all lights must be screened to prevent direct rays or reflected glare from being visible from the outside. A black-out requires that no light of any kind may be visible from the outside.

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia says:

"In all things use common sense. It is not intended that you should go without light—that's depressing and dangerous, and stops essential work—and it isn't good for children. Keep your home cheerful... Keep light where it belongs: an aid to your eyes instead of to the enemy."

W E R E writing this editorial to call two significant developments to your attention. The first is the meeting last week between Governor Lehman and Mayor LaGuardia (and their staffs) to see what can be done to reduce the rising costs of government in New York City. The second is the widening of opportunities for women by the Second Important Civil Service Commission covering the New York area.

These two events may be considered, together, as important indications of a better utilization and an equalization of the powers of the nation’s largest city to help the war effort.

Six Day Week

L A S T WEEK, The Leader proposed editorially that the most six-day week now in force in New York City employees be re-examined by an official commission. The City Council went a step further, and passed the Sharkey resolution which provides that the six-day week be continued for the next six months in war work.

The Council preferred this to another resolution, proposed by Adam Clayton Powell, to do away with the six-day week altogether, no better. We have said before that in our view the six-day work week should be considered in but one light: does it or does it not help the war effort?

The Sharkey resolution, even though it may be open to the criticism of Adam Clayton Powell, is a wise move forward, and will do much for the morale of the city employees, so seriously battered in recent months.

But of course, this is only a resolution. It doesn’t carry the weight of law. It’s now up to the Mayor to do something about it.

Don’t miss the next Special Number of THE LEADER, on Tuesday, June 23.

For Medical Treatment

C. G. Torchett, 200 E. 14 St., has June 24 to take your medical re-examinations. This is the last day for your reason for your conditional rejection. Have you made up your mind yet? To know that you will get in touch with the Civil Service Commission by June 24, is the surest step to get a hole-in-the-wall certificate for your war work. Also, have you made it clear that you will do your best to make the new examination?”

Old Tests

Do you want to use a past examination for practice? Go to the Municipal Reference Library, 401 Park Ave. S., New York. Copies of past city civil service tests can be obtained at the Record Room of the Civil Service Commission, 90 Broadway, immediately. You must register to have the tests mailed to you. Make your application to the Commission by June 24, in order to remain on the Freeman eligible list.

A Washington Reader Writes

Sir: I have been reading the information about the pay raise for Federal employees. I find it interesting that the President has decided to give all Federal employees a raise.

Another reason that prompted me to change the subject of the Salmon Department was that they told me a man would have to be a salmon man prior to becoming a salmon man. Now I see in a recent issue of the Salmon Department that there is no such thing as a salmon man, but there is a salmon management, and that is what the President wants.

Merit Men

The biggest single commodity moved today is waster paper. . . How come Dave Thompson, in LaGuardia's office, doesn’t know about the New York at War parade, says he doesn’t. And how come they don’t make it easier for public to purchase from goods for this parade! . . . Don’t let it surprise you if hundreds of younger men in the New York State prisons are released for service in the military forces. Several big states are now training up for this move . . . The big brick in an important N Y SSB defense is due very soon . . . One of the oddest, most curious court cases in years will be tried in the State Supreme Court. LaGuardia will be charged with responsibility for what happened.

Blaming Whatsover with the Federal Court House building downtown — do they have to cover the windows for the lights for the first five minutes of every blackout? Well, Robert F. Wagner, as the Mayor’s labor secretary, had her salary paid out of Welfare Department funds. . . . Something is wrong with the Chamber of Commerce. . . Too many NYC officials think every little leak is a violation of an article in the uniform code is a military secret . . . That’s a way of a story about the Federal Government. Panama chased Abe Goldsher (his Henry Feinstein’s son). . . A new hole-in-the-wall, Sydney Baron, political publicist, will become a father-in-law to Mort Yarmore, leader reporter now at Fort Knox, was a prize for a New Orleans leader in the Louisville Courier Journal.

War Job News

A SPECIAL SECTION OF THE CIVIL SERVICE LEADER

With this special section, The Leader departs somewhat from its customary fields of news-coverage. Life in the Army and Navy is more to the fore today than it has been in exceedingly few occasions which cannot be utilized by high officials and the armed forces. And persons with special qualifications, persons who have the training or are willing to go out and get the training, will find that the chance of rising in Uncle Sam's forces is greater than ever.

For the moment, however, we will be interested in what to acquaint himself with the many opportunities which may be available to this section. This section does not pretend to cover the subject totally. It is hoped, however, that the material presented is such as to give the prospective soldier, sailor, or airman an indication of the various things he can do—what there is for him with his qualifications, what he may study to help speed his advancement, what careers are available once within the ranks.

As a matter of fact, the opportunities available are constantly changing, and nowadays entailing to enfold ever greater sectors of the population.

In that remote past, the Signal Corps, once formed with the scene with respect to the armed forces, as until now we have kept you informed of events in civil service, war production training, and war jobs.

Getting an Army Commission

Here are five main avenues to a commission in the United States Army:

1. The Officer Candidate Schools, available to enlisted men as well as warrant officers, from 18 to 46.

2. The Aviation Cadet Training Program, ready for soldiers and civilians from 18 to 35.

3. The Reserve Officers Training Corps, available to college students and those studying in universities conducting such a course.

4. The Personnel Placement Service of the Adjutant General's Office, which picks a number of specialists and technicians between 18 and 60 right out of civilian life.

5. The Personnel Placement Section of the Adjutant General's Office, which picks a number of specialists and technicians between 18 and 60 right out of civilian life.

Because a few important civilian skills remain in demand, it is still possible to obtain a commission the direct way.

Merely write a letter to the Adjutant General's Office in Washington, D. C., offering your services as an officer and asking for a Personnel Placement Commission.

If you have sufficient skill in any particular line, your questionnaire may land you an immediate commission after being studied by officers of the Personnel Placement Sections.

If an opening exists, you will promptly be instructed to report to an examining officer in your Corps Area, or to an examining board. Otherwise, your application will be held by the Machine Room Division. When an opening does arise, your card will be consulted.
Army Sets Up Corps for Specialists; They’re Civilians, Wear Uniforms

The Army Specialist Corps is designed to make available to the Army the skills of men possessing professional, scientific, technical, managerial, and administrative qualifications in positions where it is not necessary to employ military personnel; to utilize these individuals in relieving military personnel of command and combat duties; to train qualified personnel for technical positions where the demand exceeds the supply; to utilize as consultants on a temporary or part-time basis such professional and other specialists as may be required by the Army; to give the protection of the uniform under the Geneva Convention to certain civilian employees of the War Department whose duties may make them liable to capture and to enable the Army to use the services of persons who would not otherwise be eligible for active duty because of age or physical requirements.

Appointment

Appointments in the Army Specialist Corps will be made only to meet specific needs or vacancies and in accordance with requests of the arm and services of the Army and other agencies of the War Department. The maintenance of an inactive force is not contemplated, as members will be assigned only in the particular capacity for which they are fitted, and only on those particular services are required. Corps members will be available to all echelons of the Army for service anywhere.

Appointments will be made by the Secretary of War upon the recommendation of the War Department Personnel Board. Appointments to grades paying a salary of $4,000 or over will be signed by the President and be confirmed by the United States Senate. Members of the Corps will be detailed for the duration of the war plus six months, although temporary appointments may be made for a longer period. No appointment may be made unless an active need exists for the type of service he is qualified to perform.

Requirements

Applicants for appointment must be citizens of the United States, and pass a flexible type physical examination prescribed for enlistment in the Army Specialist Corps.

Although the individual must have completed a college course in general, men subject to call for induction under the Selective Training and Service Act will not be eligible. Qualifications to be considered will be the education, training and experience of the individual and his general suitability to fill the position available.

Individuals will be appointed in the Corps forShowing military and political, professional and scientific qualifications, including industrial, and sub-professional services.

Persons with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel and below, and with military and industrial qualifications, and pay with Officers and Enlisted Men of similar grades in the Army.

Salaries

Titled and grade of pay for the officers are, approximately:

- Brigadier General, $10,000 to $13,000
- Major General, $8,500 to $11,500
- Colonel, $6,500 to $9,500
- Lieutenant Colonel, $5,500 to $8,500
- Captain, $4,500 to $6,500
- First Lieutenant, $3,500 to $5,500
- Second Lieutenant, $2,500 to $4,500

Titled and grade of pay for enlisted men:

- A10th in the Draft? (Type) easy breezy!

"...be prepared to wear uniforms for the next four years, with some modifications. Preliminary models will be produced in a soothing green color with burgundy collar, shoulder tabs and additional trimmings. Members will not be required to wear uniforms on a daily basis.

Those interested in making a career as a Civil Service personnel are invited to contact the Civil Service Recruiting Office near their home. Members will be provided with information about the various job opportunities, training programs, and career paths available within the Civil Service system."

Why Not Try for a Specialist Rating?

Special Rating and Special Pay Are Available for Men Who Have the Right Training

Why not try for a specialist rating? All of the services can use men with specialized ability—men who are proficient in trades or are able to learn new techniques rapidly.

In the Army, for example, thousands of men now are profiting from their specialized knowledge, skills, or experience in various trades, careers, or professions. They are getting Special Ratings and Special Pay.

How you can obtain a Specialist Rating:

1. At some time during your service, you will be notified of the various ratings which are open to you. These will be based on your educational qualifications, training, experience, and present occupation.
2. To enter into competition for a Specialist Rating, you will be required to present evidence of your background, training, and present occupation.
3. You will also be required to take an examination in the field of your proposed specialty.
4. If you are selected, you will be notified of your Specialist Rating and Special Pay.

In the Navy, many men are already profiting from their specialized knowledge, skills, or experience in various trades, careers, or professions. They are getting Special Ratings and Special Pay.

How a WAAC Officer Is Made

They Can Reach the Top on the Basis of Merit Alone

How a WAAC officer is made, and you can make the same basis of advancement, is the subject of this article. WAAC officer candidates are selected on the basis of merit and potential, and no guarantee can be given for advancement. The first group of commissioned officers will have to be made in a merit basis.

A new plan of recruiting ungraded high school graduates and qualified to qualify for aviation, with the rank of Ensign, the U. S. Navy Reserve, on the recommendation of the U. S. Navy Corps, has been approved by the Navy Department.

The new plan will provide for the enlistment of college students in the United States, between the ages of 18 and 27 years, who have had at least a high school education, and who are physically fit and mentally alert. The enlisted men will be trained to be pilots and will be paid $75 a month. They will also be furnished uniforms, living quarters, food and medical care.

The following facilities afford practical and theoretical knowledge and experience:

- Complete units for individual cooking and baking.
- Extensive chemistry, biology, bacteriology and food laboratories.
- Field trips to hospitals, institutions, hotels, food markets.
- Lectures by eminent medical specialists. Co-educational.
- 10-hour free trial period.

Candidates between 18 and 27 years of age who have graduated from high school may apply. The interview will be held on June 4, 1942, at the office of the War Department, Washington, D.C. The interview will take place from 9 to 9:30 A.M., and will be open to the public.

A WAAC officer candidate must pass a mental alertness, physical examination, interview and final "personality test.

While in training, the candidates will receive $75 a month. They will also be furnished uniforms, living quarters, food and medical care. The candidates will be paid $75 a month, plus allowances.

Houses may be assigned to the candidates for six months of advanced training. The candidates will be paid $75 a month, plus allowances.

Low-Cost Medical Care

One of the first serious obstacles to making low-cost medical care available to all is the high cost of medical care. The following measures may help to reduce the cost of medical care:

(a) Use of prepayment plans,

(b) Use of group insurance,

(c) Use of managed care organizations.

These measures can help to reduce the cost of medical care and make it more accessible to everyone.

Refugee's Corner

An immigrant's experience in the United States

The story of an immigrant's experience in the United States is one of hope and promise. These immigrants often face many challenges as they adjust to their new country, but they are determined to succeed.

One such immigrant is a young woman from India who arrived in the United States with a dream of becoming a doctor. She worked long hours and saved every penny she could to pay for her medical education. Finally, after many years of hard work, she was able to open her own clinic in a poor neighborhood.

The story of this immigrant's journey is one of resilience and determination. It is a story that we should all strive to emulate as we face our own challenges in life.

Have You Aptitude
For Drafting?

The draft board is preparing for the induction of approximately 300,000 men into the armed forces for the next few weeks. The Department of the Army has already received over 50,000 requests for deferment. The draft board has been instructed to defer any man who is not physically fit for military service. In order to determine whether a man is physically fit, a classification examination is given to all men called for service. This examination includes an interview with a medical officer, a physical examination, and an occupation test. The occupation test is designed to determine the man's aptitude for a particular job. If a man is found to be physically fit, he will be drafted into the armed forces. If he is found to be physically unfit, he will be deferred from service. The draft board is trying to find a way to defer as many men as possible from service so that they can continue to work. The draft board is also trying to find a way to ensure that only men who are physically fit for military service are drafted into the armed forces.

of Vocational Tests, and the obtaining of satisfactory results on these tests will be a satisfactory index of the quality of the employment received.

The tests are designed to measure the ability of the testee to do the work of the particular position with which he is applying, and the results of the test will be of more value to him than the results of the examination itself, since the latter only determines that he is eligible for the position.

The tests are administered under the supervision of experienced test administrators, and the results are given promptly and accurately.

In conclusion, it can be said that passing these tests is essential for anyone wishing to be considered for employment in the field of telegraphing.

Yates in Charge of Retirement System

ALBANY — State Comptroller Joseph V. O'Leary last week announced the appointment of Deputy Comptroller Harry D. Young, Jr., to handle the numerous, important and controversial matters in charge of the State Retirement System.

Mr. O'Leary made the announcement with co-endorser with re- cipients of the Retirement System from the State Office Building to the large structure at Washington Avenue and Northern Boulevard.

Supporters paid tribute to the contributions of members, partly by contributions of State and participating municipalities, and partly by interest on investments, the State Retirement System is the agency through which 100,000 State and local government employees look for security and that of their dependents upon retirement in old age.

Franklin R. Holmes, under whose guidance the system has grown to its present proportion, will continue as director of the organization.

Better Sight

So many candidates who have done well in their written tests have failed to obtain Civil Service positions because of visual disabili- ties. Eyes have been an im- portant cause of failure and it is important your vision be in top-top condition when you apply for your physical examination. Have your eyes checked on request by appointment. Civilian Jobs in Signal Corps

An unlimited number of jobs is open for civilians in the United States Army Signal Corps if you hurry and apply today (Tuesday) in the Club House of the Hotel International, Madison Avenue and 50th Street, New York City. Men of all ages from 18 to 35 years are encouraged to apply for the following positions: Telephone operators, switchboard operators, and clerks.

Only an oral interview is given. A grammar school education may even be waived if the applicant has the experience required.

Jobs are being filled immediately as close to New York as possible but may be as far as California or even overseas. Job holders will not be informed.

The Army mission has been traveling around the country interviewing applicants.

U. S. Opens $2,600 Investigator Positions

U. S. Provides Free Typewriters in Test

Help Wanted: Men and women who can typewrite 30 words a minute. No upper age limits. Salary, $46.60 a year. Appointments to be made two days after passing a test.

This was the urgent call issued by Uncle Sam in a dramatic effort to stem the rising tide of vacancies in civilians who typewrite in Washington, D. C., this week. In order to make the offer even more urgent, the Civil Service Commission will forego absolutely free, typewriters for candidates who wish to take these tests. Instead, it is decided that applications will be given free of charge to all candidates who pass. Previously, candidates had to have their own typewriters for the test. But they have to have their own doctors examine them, at extra expense.

Typewriters and stenographers as young as 17 can actually apply provided that their age is at least 17 by October 1. All conditions should go to the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Room 305, 611 Washington Street, at either 9 a.m. or 1 p.m.

Editor’s Note: This is an excellent opportunity for high school grad or, for older persons who could be shown how to type 30 words a minute after three weeks training.

Guinier Dismissed

It was revealed last week that Robert Guinier, civil service examiner, and SCWA officials, had been quickly dismissed from his position, and the Civil Service Commission will not make a new appointment for a month. The charges against which the dismissal was based differed from those which had made his case a cause célèbre some thirty-two months ago. The union stated that Guinier had been investigated the case carefully since the dismissal. It has not yet determined definitely what its action will be. The SCWA, indicated, however, that it was not accepting Guinier’s dismissal with equanimity.

Take Flight with the Civil Service Commission

Civil Service commissioners have been busy lifting the lid on the mystery of how many jobs are available for those who want to make a career in government service. The Civil Service Commission has compiled a list of all the positions currently open for application in different parts of the country. The list includes positions ranging from low-level clerical work to highly skilled professional jobs. The commission has also compiled a list of the qualifications required for each position, so that applicants can determine whether they meet the requirements. The Civil Service Commission is dedicated to ensuring that all applicants receive fair and equal treatment in the hiring process. They are committed to providing opportunities for qualified individuals regardless of their race, gender, or national origin. The commission is also working to increase public awareness of the benefits of working in government service. They encourage applicants to take advantage of the opportunities available and to apply for positions that match their skills and interests. In conclusion, the Civil Service Commission is dedicated to hiring the best and brightest for government service. They are committed to providing opportunities for qualified individuals and are dedicated to ensuring that all applicants receive fair and equal treatment in the hiring process. The commission is working to increase public awareness of the benefits of working in government service and encourages applicants to take advantage of the opportunities available.
