Western Conference Seeks Reforms in Civil Service

BURLINGTON, July 5—The annual meeting of the Western Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association was concluded by a discussion of civil service reforms. The conference was held in Burlington, R.I., and attended by members from various states.

The conference discussed several matters, including the need for better representation of employees in the civil service. It was agreed that the State Civil Service Commission should pay close heed to the non-teaching school employees without ever having attended a question period following a talk by William E. Mann, chairman of the Illinois Civil Service Commission.

The conference voted to adopt a resolution in favor of the Western Conference of the Civil Service Employees Association and to request that the State Civil Service Commission consider the recommendations made by the conference.

The conference was attended by representatives from various states, including Vermont, Massachusetts, and New York.

Cloud Burst Fails to Dim Albion Pec

ALBANY, July 5—A cloud burst Monday at Albion Pec failed to dampen the spirits of the State Employees Association.

The chapter had scheduled a picnic to be held on July 6. Several inches of rain fell over the area causing some concern about the weather.

But Margaret Grogan, chairwoman of the picnic, was not discouraged. The people were happy. It was reported that the picnic ended up being the largest one in the history of the State Employees Association.

The chapter had been working on the picnic for several months and had planned a variety of events including a baseball game, volleyball, and a parade.

The weather was perfect and everyone had a great time. The chapter has already started planning next year's picnic.

Unemployment Insurance

Special to The Leader

ALBANY, July 5—A State Law allows unemployment to be extended to the non-teaching school employees who lost their jobs through no fault of their own.

The law was passed in 1945, and it provides that the State Civil Service Commission can extend the benefits for up to 75% of the number of weeks that an employee was employed in the previous year.

The law was passed in response to a request by the State Employees Association to extend the benefits to non-teaching school employees who lost their jobs through no fault of their own.

The law was signed by Governor Robert F. Kennedy and has been in effect since 1945.

It is estimated that the law has provided benefits to over 10,000 non-teaching school employees during the past year.

The law has been praised by the State Employees Association and it is expected to continue to be extended to other groups of workers.

The law is expected to help many workers who have lost their jobs through no fault of their own.

Legalized Pension Plan Proposed

Before is continued the detailed information concerning the proposed pension plan for Employees Association. Last week's column dealt with the basic points of the present system, and explained why the Association has decided to propose a new plan. This week, the Association's representatives will discuss the proposed plan for the benefit of the State Comptroller in the hope of working out improvements in the Retirement System.

INCREASED DEATH BENEFIT

At the present time the Retirement System provides for an actuarially based death benefit of a member of any retirement plan, but inactive service is not considered in the benefit. The proposed plan would provide for the death benefit to equal one month's salary for each year of total service, regardless of the number of years.

The Association advises many members to use the system during their careers. An analysis made by the Association shows that, under the present system, a member of the plan would receive nothing after 10 years of service.

KEEPING FIT

Thoughts for the Nation’s Birthday -- 1948

YOU and I and nearly all our neighbors recognize the need for keeping our bodies fit by exercise for the demands life puts upon us. We recognize that this problem of keeping physically fit is largely the result of great industrialization, and that it is of little help to ourselves and to young people and that the mental world we live in often fails to correspond with the facts of the contemporary world of science, engineering, industry and international relations.

America, since the war, has been forced into a new position in a new world. Many deplete the new duties and obligations implied in this changed world in which we live. But, to reach such a position, we shall have to make our adjustments and changes even when the evidence of change is all around us.

The problems of America are our own personal problems. We will not long prosper while the country builds. A threefold plan to meet her difficulties until her sovereign citizens are well informed in finance, economics and international relations.

My claim is that these things demand from each of us that we give our best thought to the solving of the difficulties nearest to us. My guess is that whatever problem you choose you will find that the search for courage and remédies will bring you the professional development, trade, economics and finance.

There is profound difference between school and education. Schooling may force information upon us. By education we achieve self-improvement through personal effort. It is the teacher's responsibility, not the real personal effort to understand the real world and aid in making it somewhat better and more reasonable. Educational responsibility is long.

It is expected, therefore, that the American people will persist in their traditional attitude toward life and work and will be drawn into their problems less.

The problems of America are our own personal problems. They will be considered by us and the American people will be interested to consider the need of every individual and community.

STATE AND COUNTY NEWS

Methods of Civil Service Association Were Effective in Early Years, Too

This is the second part of a series of stories about the history of the State Civil Service Employees' Association. This section describes the years 1929 to 1931, when the Association began to reorganize itself and reassert its independence from management and employers.

On December 29, 1929, The Association of State Civil Service Employees published a bulletin in which Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, running for the presidency, said: "Since the Association's constitution was written in 1921, it has continued to grow and expand, with a membership of over 60,000. It is the largest and most powerful organization of its kind in the United States." Roosevelt went on to say that the Association was "a democratic force in the State, and it is my belief that it is time to recognize the strength of the Association's membership and give it the respect it deserves." Roosevelt asked for a comprehensive study of the organization and urged the legislature to pass a law permitting the Association to have a representative on the state board of education.

That policy has been followed since. The Association was recognized as a serious force in the development of good relations between management and employees.

Above all personal feelings, above all politics, above all obstacles, the Association was determined to extend and uphold the right of civil service employees of the State of New York, who, with their physical fitness, medical fitness, and mental fitness, are required by the Insurance Supervisor, may profit by a talk with a leader of the Association. There is no "accidental death" or "accidental illness" which is to report to the legislature, Leadership at every level can be recognized as a serious force in the development of good relations between management and employees.

Mount Morris

A special meeting of the men of the Mount Morris Chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association was held at the Mount Morris Railroad Station at noon on Monday, July 7th. The meeting was called to order by the President, Russell S. Bebee. All present were asked to join in a moment of silent prayer. Mrs. Cora Reynolds, Secretary of the Chapter, made a short address on the functions of the chapter. She expressed gratification at the attendance and said that as the Chapter continues to grow, more work will be pushed along to meet the demands of the membership.

Westchester Eligibles

In a letter addressed to the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York, New York City, the Board of Directors of the Westchester Eligibles made the following statement:

"We wish to express our concern and interest in the matter of the eligibility of candidates for the Civil Service position in the State of New York. We would like to point out that the eligibility list is determined by the State Civil Service Commission and that the eligibility of candidates is based on the qualifications established by that agency. We would like to assure the Board of Regents that we will continue to support the merit system and to assist in the promotion of public service in the State of New York."

Examinations for Non-competitive Positions

THERE is a popular misconception that employees who are eligible for either the competitive or non-competitive examination need pass

both examinations in order to be eligible. While this may obtain in the case of some positions, the following statutory exemptions are of frequent occurrence:

1. Employees who have been on the rolls of an eligible list for lesser positions and who, because of their age, seniority or service, are not eligible for promotion to the position for which they are applying.

The federal government continues to be a leader in the development of examinations for non-competitive positions.

The Civil Service Commission, in its annual report for 1947, notes:

"...a number of awards were made to subjects of establishing eligible lists, whereas in the past, such lists were usually prepared for the competitive and non-competitive classes separately.

Today, with the exception of the position of postmaster and related positions, eligible lists are established for both classes, with the result that many positions are filled without holding examinations."

The new programs for non-competitive

The new programs have been

New Rule Avoids Duplicated Tests

WASHINGTON, July 5.—A new rule adopted by the Civil Service Commission avoids the duplication of tests which has been a serious handicap to many applicants. The rule, which applies to examinations held between April 1 and June 30, requires that the same examination be used for all positions in the same class where the same degree of qualifications is required.

WASHINGTON, however, he will be faced with a tough nut—the $10,- 330 limitation upon Federal pay.
This isn't very much money for top talent. In New York State, even some secondary officials earn more than this. It is rumored that Mr. Dewey may ask Congress for a temporary pay limitation. New York State employees pay levels have gone up in recent years, and Mr. Dewey may well perceive a “hard” policy for the Presidency. It is doubtful whether Congress would resist
the new President if he should embrace this policy. The job may be in a position to promise him top candidates. Higher emoluments in the near future may be attractive to many specialists.
In addition, in fact, made

ing through the $10,330 ceiling.

Attorney Posts

In addition to the policy-making positions, the new President will have the privilege of filling every attorney post in the Govern­ mint, if he so desires, because attorney positions in all Federal agencies are excepted from civil service. (In the Federal service, “attorney” positions are distinguished from “legal” positions. The “legal” positions are those in the dual role of judge and part of the bar; the latter deal with non­ judicial legal work. Since many of the political hangovers are in these “legal” positions, the President can make appointments as vacancies occur. The jobs are not only juicy patronage, but low: there is the chance of promotion to judgeships, but clerks, marshals, “accessory” positions exist here:

In other words, there is still a chance for people who are interested in competition because of the amount of competition, to make the request to the Attorney General to fill a position. The request, however, must be accompanied by the usual civil service methods, and the Attorney General will make a decision on the request for the appointment of a civil service employee.

Court's Disability Preference Decree Ignored by Board, Kaplan Charges

The Civil Service Reform Association says that the Municipal Civil Service Commission, in allowing the promotion of some Fire Lieutenants to stand, although they had a veteran disability rating of less than 10 per cent, is not complying with a Court of Appeals decision.

Quotas Court Order

"May I take the liberty," said Justice Kaplan, Executive Director of the Association, writing to President Joseph A. McNamara and condemning the result of any hazard specified by the Board of Education for about the same position with the same duties during that period. He then noted that the employer's office, says the commission's attention to the fact that the order specifically requires that your Commission disapprove all applications for disability veteran preference except those where the application is supported by a certificate of the Veterans Administration showing the absence of a recent examination of the applicant by the Veterans Administration, and that the nature of the condition of disability described makes any more conclusion that "a permanent stabilized condition of disability exists" of any probative force in the absence of a recent examination.

The Commission has acted on a runway, says Kaplan for an opinion. It points out that the disputed promotions were made prior to the decision in Special Term of the Supreme Court, holding that less than 10 per cent disability did not entitle a veteran to primary preference.

Court's Disability Preference Decree Ignored by Board, Kaplan Charges

The Civil Service Reform Association says that the Municipal Civil Service Commission, in allowing the promotion of some Fire Lieutenants to stand, although they had a veteran disability rating of less than 10 per cent, is not complying with a Court of Appeals unanimously reversed judgment of 1945.

Quotes Court Order
"May I take the liberty," said to Kaplan, director of the Association, writing to President Joseph A. McNamara, "to call your attention to the fact that your Commission seems to have dismissed the Board's decision that the latter's action in promoting some Fire Lieutenants was not in accordance with the Court's decision. It is my understanding that the Board, in its memorandum of decision, does not re-examine the case, but that it does not materialize, and so to the absence of a recent examination of the veteran's disability rating. It appears further that, in many cases, the Veterans Administration has arbitrarily indicated that a re-examination of the applicant is deemed to be unnecessary because of an altered stabilized condition of disability existing to an extent of 10 per cent or more, although on the face of the certificate it clearly appears that no recent examination of the applicant has been made by the Veterans Administration, and that the nature of the condition of disability described makes any mere conclusion that a "permanent stabilized condition of disability exists" of no probative force in the absence of a recent examination."

The Commission has asked Corporation Counsel John P. McGrath for an opinion. It points out that the disputed promotions were made prior to the passage of the Civil Service Reform Act of 1946. A statement is to be made by the Board today, and the matter is then to be decided by the Appeals Court.

Kaded by Lieutenant Costigan, I will effectuate consolidation of the Fire Department Legion Post...
The LEADER noticed that when the NYC Civil Service Commission issued 64 departmental lists for promotion to Clerk, Grade 3, the roster for the Department of Welfare alone was missing.

Investigation disclosed the Commission refused even to submit to issue the list for two reasons: 1. the seniority ratings were received too late and were so long-winded there wasn’t enough time to read them; and 2. the Commission declared the seniority ratings useless because 80 per cent had been given superseniority ratings in contrast to the few percent in all other city departments.

The reason for the non-issuance of the list was explained to Commissioner Raymond Hilliard and he immediately made a preliminary check-up. He was convinced that there was ground for holding up the list and told Commissioner President Joseph A. McNamara. Also, he protested that an equitable service rating policy would be inaugurated in the Welfare Department as soon as he had completed his final check-up.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

The voice of history demonstrates that whenever telling lies have been strung for the rights of man, some brave lawyer has been in the thick of the fight; that whenever arbitrary power has threatened to engulf a free people, or has sought to impose its construction on the people, it is the lawyer, sowing the wrath of tyrants and dictators, who has stood in the breach as a stubborn defender of the basic rights of man—Albert Cohn, Associate Justice of the New York Supreme Court.
