U.S. Gives Samson Hospital
To State Mental Hygiene

The Federal Government transferred the Base Hospital of the Sampson Air Force Base to the State of New York. The deed to the property was presented to Governor Harriman by Joseph B.
O’Connor, Regional Director, U.
Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The hospital, which had cost
the Federal Government $4,598,- 000, was conveyed free, for use as a mental hygiene facility. It con-ists of 463 acres of land and 49 buildings. Transfer was made under the Federal Government’s Public Advisory Services Act, under which by the Federal Government, no longer needed by the Federal Government. The new and placed them even further behind their counterparts in prirate industry.

How Resolution Reads
Here is how the Salary Com-
mitee’s resolution reads:

WHEREAS, a large number of employees feel strongly that their wages fall behind those in comparable positions in other industries;

WHEREAS, the cost of living has increased, and has reached a level which puts them below the cost of living in
private industry;

WHEREAS, substantial upward
adjustment in State employees’ wages is necessary to bring their wages on a level commensurate with compensation paid by
private industry;

WHEREAS, substantial upward
adjustment in State employees’ wages is necessary in order to continue to attract and retain skilled and trained workers;

WHEREAS, this Association has succeeded in bringing about substantial upward adjustment
in wages;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RES-OLVED that this Association and its members shall:

1. The salary resolution becomes the Number One resolution of the Association for the coming year;

2. The 1958 salary resolution was approved by the State Legislature; and

3. The 1959 salary resolution shall be the Number One resolution of the Association for the coming year.

Assemblyman William G. Giac-
cio, the sponsor of the resolution, will address the Metro-
Conference on October 12, 13 and 14 in Albany.

To Wage Hard Fight
Both the Legislature and the Administration will be the targets of a hard fight to get pay increases. Public employees are still smarting over the failure to get any salary benefits in 1958. AnADMINISTRATION-sponsored pay boost was killed by the GOP-dominated Legislature this year.
Although the same Legislature approved a round of raises Inde-scribed by the Department of Labor, no larger increase than $100 to $200 is to be given.

To State Mental Hygiene
The Federal Government has approved the transfer of the Sampson Air Force Base Hospital
in New York to the State of New York. The hospital, which had cost $4,598,000, is to be conveyed free for use as a mental hygiene facility.

The hospital consists of 463
acres of land and 49
buildings.

The transfer was made under
the Federal Government’s Public Advisory Services Act, under which the hospital was no longer needed by the Federal Government.

The new hospital will be constructed on the site at a cost of $4,598,000. The transfer will make it possible for the hospital to continue to operate.

Assemblyman William G. Giac-
cio, the sponsor of the resolution, will address the Metro-
Conference on October 12, 13 and 14 in Albany.

The 1959 legislative session is only a little over three months away. It is not too soon for the Civil Service Employees Association to organize its forces to present and defend its legislative program. True, there are the facts that a state election will be held in November, and that the final drafting of the Association program will take place at the business meeting in October. Nevertheless, it is imperative that certain basic things be done now—so that the Association will, immediately after election, be ready to present its requests before the executive and legislative branches.

Our chapters and their members have become increasingly important during legislative campaigns. In fact, much of our success in recent years can be attributed to the effort which the Association members made on the local level, to reach their individual legislative representatives. The members of the Association live in the districts which the legislators represent. The members and their families make up their constituency. These people are important to the Assemblyman and Senator, and, by the same token, the legislators are important to the voters in their districts.

It is the meeting between the Association member and the legislator which is of paramount importance. Whether they meet him at home, on the street, in the barber shop, in church, in a hotel, or by telephone or letter is unimportant. The principal thing is to reach him—and to let him know, as individuals, what the needs of the public employees are and what is the program of the Association. It is important that these facts be conveyed to him clearly and emphatically. This is the only way he is going to be convinced of the earnestness and validity of the employees' needs.

Activity on Chapter Level Needed

This technique is not new. It is constantly used by scores of different organizations. However, to make our organizing efforts as effective as possible, our organizing techniques need to be set up to do the job. Our chapters need to be organized with a special legislative steering committee at the helm to make certain every legislator is covered and made fully acquainted with the CSEA program. This will mean volunteer work—hard and persistent work. It will mean renewed visits. It will mean a knowledge of the facts and an ability to meet counter arguments. It will mean tact, poise, restraint—qualities which convey the impression of a responsible organization.

The Association has over 90,000 members. Each member is a part of a family (statistically each family is composed of 3-plus adults), so that the Association directly and indirectly has an effect upon some 240,000 human beings. If each of these voted in accordance with the convictions of our organization and their program, there would be little doubt of the size of the impression it would make upon the state's governing bodies.

CSEA Blue Cross-Blue Shield Review Health Plan Progress

State and local leaks affecting members of the Civil Service Employees Association enrolled in the State-wide health Insurance plan were reviewed at a recent all-day conference at Blue Cross, Blue Shield of New York's headquarters, 80 Lexington Avenue, New York City. The conference was attended by CSEA officials and the staff of the Blue Cross, Blue Shield government relations program.

John F. Powers, CSEA president, congratulated Blue Cross and Blue Shield on the effectiveness of its non-profit, community services to governmental employees included in the Blue Cross Blue Shield health insurance program. Among the advantages he stressed were the provisions of 116 State-wide health insurance plans which stipulate that employees be furnished insurance on an equal basis regardless of the fact that the employee may be a member of a labor union, that the higher premium of the State-wide program is equal to the lower premium which is available to State employees who are not members of labor unions.

Seymour Halpern
Running For Congress in Queens

Former State Senator Seymour Halpern is running for Congress from the 43rd Congressional District, Queens, on the Republican ticket. This senator-elect from Forest Hills to the Nassau County border, and takes in Elmont, Woodside, and Queens Village.

As a Senator, Mr. Halpern was known to public employees as "Mr. Civil Service." For five years he headed the Senate Civil Service Committee and he was the sponsor of the bill to create the Temporary Commission to Revive the Civil Service Act. Mr. Halpern sponsored more than 80 bills to benefit civil service employees, among them statutes to eliminate age requirements in promotions; eliminate physical requirements in promotions; eliminate pro-section dead ends by permitting interdepartmental promotion; granting right of appeal by employees in disciplinary actions; retirement at age 51; creation of the State Merit Awards for employees; granting of cost of living bonuses and promotion pensions; improving wage schedules for State employees.

He is also well known for having fought attempts to put over ripper bills in the Legislature.

Mr. Halpern has been elected by his district to the New York State Senate. He was a Senator for 14 years, the youngest man — at 26 — elected to the Senate by New York.

Although not a lawyer, he has shown himself sponsored more highly by any other member in the history of the Senate.

Prompt CSEA Protection

The CIVIL Service Employees Association, representing above 10,000 State, county and municipal workers, has once more demonstrated the quickness and efficiency with which it operates in behalf of the public employee. In the most recent effort concerns protection of State institution employees' right to retain the State-legislated "no-loss-in-pay" provision when reinstating employment.

Until last week, employees — such as prison guards and mental hygiene attendants — who resigned their position in one of two weeks, or a period of two weeks or more, took similar employment in another institution lost money by being deprived of the benefit of "no-loss-in-pay" legislation enacted by the State. In some cases this amount could reach as high as $150. The legislation called for production in institutional work hours with no loss in pay.

The Employees Association asked Comptroller Arthur Levitt to spell out the basic right of the employee to retain this provision upon reinstatement in State service because the "no-loss-in-pay" provision was applicable to the employee at the time of resignation.

Last week Comptroller Levitt made such a ruling and a great benefit has accrued to the employee by his doing so.

The Employees Association is to be saluted for again acting so quickly on behalf of the public worker.

Top-Notch Course

NEW YORK CITY shows that it is in real earnest in its training program, for it has established the precedent of having top officials as the speakers at a 10-lecture course, including Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Comptroller Lawrence J. Stack, City Council President Robert F. Wagner, City budget Director Abraham D. Beame. It's an in-service training course to acquaint City employees with the intimate details, as well as the broad service objectives, of operations of the City Government. Some of the topics are highly specialized and will particularly benefit employees working in particular fields.

Other jurisdictions would do well to have the Governor, the Mayor and other high officials as lecturers in training courses, and let the employees ask questions that the speakers will answer.

Congratulations to the Personnel Department and the Board of Education on the fine forward step they have taken jointly.

Unique Responsibility

The Code of Ethics for Federal employees, enacted by concurrent resolution of the Senate and the House, comprises in a terse 10-page guide the traditional requirements that public employees must meet. Summarizing the Code enjoins employees to obey the law, the rules and regulations, accept no gratuities or favors that might be reasonably construed as influencing one's performance of governmental duties, and make no private promises, as no employee has any authority to make a promise binding on his public duty.

The word "employee" as used in the code includes also officers and officials, and any other appointee on the Federal payroll.

The code is not much different than its predecessors, but reaffirms the unique responsibilities of a public job.
Looking Inside

to die a slow death. The result is that employee organizations are re-touching to submit any more appeals, and claims for restoration of colleagues bargaining on pay, an advantage that the Plan wiped out, with the implied promise that the employees would benefit more fairly, and on a scientifically determined basis.

Promise Kept Early, Broken Later
That promise was fulfilled in the beginning, as far as any one may judge in dealing with a mixture of intangibles and probabilities, but in actuality being broken now in the name of economy and austerity. Meanwhile more and more employees are seeking the reversion to Section 229 of the Labor Law, the benefits of which are applicable only to laborers, mechanics, and workmen engaged in the construction and maintenance of public works. Employees who suc-sceed in having their case changed that way would become entitled to the rates of pay prevailing in local private industry, as determined by the Comptroller and confirmed by the Board of Estimates. In such cases the City loses its discretionary power over pay. Prevailing rates are immune from even an austerity budget.

Bulletin for Mental Hygiene Employees

Your All-Mental Hygiene Employees Association

was organized in nineteen hundred and five.

It is an organization of employees in the Department of Mental Hygiene who have banded together for the purpose of promoting those objectives which would insure better working conditions; adequate salaries; promotional opportunities; realistic personal policies; resolution of problems and the general welfare of its members.

Who, except an association of the employees themeselves, is in the best position to know institutional problems and has a keen interest in the solution of these problems?

How Does The Mental Hygiene Employees
Association Gain Its Objectives?

Working closely with C.S.E.A.; and through its representative, this association prepares resolutions and promotes legislation for the welfare of Mental Hygiene employees.

The M.H.E.A., has several meetings each year with the Commissioner of Mental Hygiene and the Director of Personnel. At these meetings these problems are discussed which do not require legislation but may be solved by a directive from the Commissioner's office. This is a common meeting ground and sounding board for suggestions and recommendations for the benefit of the institution employee. Many pertinent questions have been satisfactorily answered at this conference.

The M.H.E.A. periodically meets with the Director of Classification—Department of Civil Service, in behalf of reclassification, upgrading, and bringing benefits for the institution employee. Similar meetings are held with the Director of the Budget.

What Can The M.H.E.A. Do For Me?

Through its power and prestige, as it composes the largest departmental group of employees in the State of New York; it therefore, can influence the realization of the following objectives:

1. A serious salary study to reflect the duties and responsibilities of each title.
2. A salary scale comparable with the current industry, and in consideration of the present cost of living.
3. Correction of existing inequities in the salary structure.
4. Modernized pension system.
5. Vesting of retirement rights.
7. Encourage Civil Service as a career through a study to improve promotional opportunities in ALL titles. Emphasis should be noted for the clerical workers.
8. Differential in salary for evening and night duty.
9. 37-1/2 hour week for office workers.
10. Additional increment after 25 years of service.

What Can I Do For The M.H.E.A.?

I can become a member; an active member, I can recruit members and in so doing I will help the M.H.E.A.
to help me.

Credmore

At a meeting of the Credmore chapter, CSEA, held on September 9, the following officers were elected: 1st Vice President, Samuel Emmott; 2nd Vice President, Raymond Bragginner; Treasurer, Edward A. Augustin; Recording Secretary, Marie LaChouette; Library Secretary, Irene Waters Good; Assistant Librarian, Edith Sottong. Those who have served the chapter for the past two years will continue in their positions and unselfishly during their third year.

Birthday greetings from the chapter to Mrs. Anne Ronch, George Warfield at 85, and Leonard Sottong, all of whom will celebrate birthdays this month.

The charter was reactivated to resume the tradition of having a bowling league this year.

Speaking of bowling—there is a very active one on the Monday night league for any employee or friend of the chapter who wishes to join the league. The Tuesday night league is still another possibility to be quite a scalp. Any person interested in bowling might have the pleasure of joining the league.

At the aforementioned meeting it was decided to purchase a television set for the employees. We are sure the reception of a half-tv set will be a success.

ALBANY, Sept. 27 — A total of 284 persons participated in a screening clinic for glaucoma at the New York State Fair in Syracuse, August 28 through September 4. It was announced by Dr. Herman E. Hilboue, State Health Commissioner. Of these, 15 were found to have eye tensions over the screening level. They were referred to their physicians for further study and treatment.

The clinic, conducted in cooperation with the Syracuse Branch, New York State Ophthalmological Society, was part of the State Health Department's exhibit at the State Fair.

Glaucoma is a condition caused by increased pressure within the eyeball. Dr. Hilboue said, "The majority of its victims are persons over 40 years of age."

"It is important that older persons include a screening test for glaucoma as part of a periodic physical examination," the State Health Commissioner said. "This chronic disease, if not caught early enough, can lead to blindness."

Dr. Hilboue said that glaucoma can be controlled if it is discovered at an early stage. The method of early detection is really accomplished through the use of drugs.

Of those tested, 175 were women, and 109 were men. Sixty-six, between 50-59; 55, between 40-49; 26, between 30-39, and 30 or under.

The clinic was included in a new State Department of Health exhibit which stressed the importance of periodic health inventories. The exhibit exhibited that a medical history, physical examination and selected laboratory tests form the basis for a good health inventory.

Hilboue is confident of his district's accomplishments in developing new camping areas and has 329 miles of trails for hikers and its 20 miles of bridle trails.

At its suggestion, the district has its own mill where blow-down timbers are milled into camp sites, picnic tables and other recreation needs.

The district also includes a fish hatchery from which 34,000 pounds of trout last year. Including Rainbow, Lake Trout, Brook and Brown trout and Spiek, a cross between Speckled and Lake trout.

Concern For Fire

Fire prevention and fire control is a major concern of District 9 employees. Some areas of Adirondack State Park are the high peak section of the Adirondack mountains and some of the Adirondack's most inaccessible tracts.

A network of 18 fire observation towers keeps a constant vigil, unaware of the watchful eye of George J. Young's, district ranger assigned here.

The fire observers who man the towers, in their watch and trying conditions in keeping a lonely vigil for the first wisp of smoke that may indicate the beginning of a forest fire.

"Those working in District 9 include several nationally-known tourist areas such as Whiteface Mountain, famed for its skiing for tourists. A 30-year fire fighting force can be fully equipped from emergency stocks available in District 9."

Proud accomplishment of the District of contrary to those. The observers, is the way the beasts of the region have been handled in the last 10 years. It is to any great extent, their former wild quality.

The employees watch over the vast undeveloped camping areas on the lakes and mountains and will protect the campsites and other recreation needs. For example, it is the responsibility of the employees to watch over the lakes and mountains and to protect the campsites and other recreation needs.

New camping areas have been developed and the better that can be used with modern conveniences for a 40-made winter.

The Adirondack

Then District 9 is noted for several nationally-known tourist areas. From the Olympic Bobbed Run at Mt. Van Hoosen, which is the highest point on the North American continent, to the famous Whiteface Mountain Ski Center and the Whiteface Mountain Memorial highway and Whiteface Memorial highway and Whiteface Memorial.

Onondaga Chapter Offers 14-Point County Program

By JACOB SLOD

I tell you when I have to fight for more dough, I know better working conditions, fringe benefits, pensions, this kind of stuff I understand. All my life I have been brought up to make my voice against injustices, this is the first time last week. This is something new to me. How can you write when the tears keep falling on the paper and blur the words?

I am a 5-year President or delegate of Woodbourne Chapter, CSEA. Even activity found Dave giving his time and effort. His work as an officer brought credit and prestige to all who had the pleasure of working with him. He was a R.N. and his help in the Institution Hospital was deeply appreciated by the Doctors.

I have worked in prisons 17 years. I don't cry easy, but I can't help it. The words are getting thinner.

When a man was very sick and needed a private nurse, Dave was there. Did his 12 hours at the prison and then went to the Mount. He's my friend, that was enough for me. Five years ago I underwent surgery, blood was needed, the first pint came from my friend Dave.

They buried him in the Woodbourne Cemetery. People came from all over the State to pay homage to a great man. Not a big money man, not a big shot in high position, just a Correction

Onondaga County social case worker starting salary is only $1,000, second income on salary only to Cortland County with its $2,000 starting salary.
