Nurses Are Ready
To Prove Pay Case

ALBANY. June 21.—The nurses at the state hospital have shown unusual interest in the conference that was held recently in the Executive Chamber. The Civil Service Employees Association, which met with Philip H. Brooks, man.'ager of the state Board for the Treatment of the Feeble-Minded, held a hearing in which the nurses asked for pay increases. The nurses told their representatives that they were full of enthusiasm and that they were ready to work hard at full pay.

The nurses will make full use of all facts relating to their present work, and the panel will hear from them as to the conditions under which they are required to work.

The nurses' case is strong and they are prepared to present it at the hearing before the Board of Review.

Truman Gets Raise Bill;
$450 For Postal Group,
$330 For Other Employees

By CHARLES SULLIVAN
WASHINGTON, June 21—President Truman has before him the compromise pay raises totaling $450 for postal workers and $330 for employees covered by the Classification Act. The raises were voted in a single bill, after the House at first had passed the postal increase only, although by unanimous vote. The Senate went along with the postal amount and inserted a $450 increase for the civilians, which was compromised at $330 when the conflict was submitted to a conference committee of the two Houses.

One provision in the bill, how­ever, renders possible higher in­creases than the basic $330, up to $450, for the Classification Act employees, which could result from upgrading under an authorized re-classification. The U. S. Civil Ser­vice Commission, which favored raises higher than those voted and also be wary of reclassification and upward progression, is anxious to undertake reclassifi­cation as soon as possible. The bill raises special delivery rates to 13 cents and air mail rates to 25 cents an ounce.

Senator Robert A. Taft, R. Ohio, had promised that a raise for the Classification Act em­ ployees would be included in the Senate version, no matter if the House omitted it. He made good on his promise. Next the con­ference bill was agreed on and the House went into conference.

President Truman is expected to sign the bill without delay, as it is to become effective as of July 1 next. Its benefits would thus show up on the mid-July payroll.

In addition to the $450 raise for those covered by the Classification Act, the Postal Service is to put forth a $450 pay raise for hourly workers and 25 per cent for fourth-class postmasters were provided.

The cost of the raises was esti­mated at $186,000,000.

The Senate finally had to act on a promised pay raise for over 125,000 Federal employees outside the Postal Service. A similar mea­sure in the House was stalled in the last-minute rush before ad­mittance. It would have provided for a $360 flat raise for Federal and District workers who were eled by the Classification Act and would be temporary for one year only to begin on July 1. The bill would have continued the present $100 ceiling on salaries.

Wittekind Heads UFOA

Deputy Chief Henry A. Witte­kind, of the 1st Division head­quarters, has been given a promotion to the position of the United Fire Officers Association of NYC.

The necessity for filling the presidency between recent elec­tions arose from the fact that Captain Charles A. Halpin, the pres­ident, was promoted to Bat­talion Chief, and as the Chief of the Executive Committee was most already, Mr. Delahoussaye was elected to that position. The Com­mittee had to change its new chairman, known colloquially as the President.

The vacancy in the Captain was filled by electing Gilbert X. Byrnes. He was not only an excellent fireman but also a real fireman who could get along with the other men. He was received by Captain Charles J. Walsh of the 1st Division, who was his predecessor.

The post. There were only two can­didates in that contest. The first, Captain Charles A. Halpin, was referred to the Board of Review, but the Board of Review, because of his experi­ence and his cordial relationships with city officials.

The U. S. Pension Bill
Bill Asked Quota
Of 20,000 Police

By JEAN GROOSI

The newest move in favor of the 20,000-man police force has been made in the City Council by Edward Ragen, Manhattan Repub­lican, who last week introduced a resolution calling for the achieve­ment of that personnel goal for the next year. Mr. Ragen is the most prominent member of the NYPD and his support for the measure is strong.

The resolution, serving only to record the wishes of the Council, was referred to its City Affairs Committee. The 20,000 quota in line with the Mayor's O'Dwyer, Police Commissioner Wallender and other top municipal officials.

Eligible Interested

Recently interested in Mr. Ragen's program is the National Civil Ser­vice Association, organized re­cently at the U. S. Civil Ser­vice Commission to provide vacances as well as to back conti­nuity for expansion of force to 20,000.

The 20,000 quota of 1977 would be made effective by the Department of The Patrolmen's Benevolent As­sociation. The Police Department's authorized strength is now at 18,527, and the proposed new quota would result in 1,173 additional openings, mostly at the entrance level.

Proposed Promotion Trial Period Subject of Important Conference

ALBANY, June 21—Three important matters will be up for consideration at a meeting of representatives of the State and County Employees Association meet with the Civil Service Commission on Wednesday afternoon, June 23.

1. Reclassification of Dannemora and Matternan employees.
2. The interdepartmental promotion plan (documented in recent letters to the Comptroller).
3. The proposal of a probationary period for promoted employees, which the Civil Service Commission has invited the Association to discuss.

Matters Also Among Matters To Be Considered

ALBANY, June 21—After a six-months search, in which they followed across the entire United States, parts of Canada, New Scotia, Ireland and Continental Europe, State Comptroller Frank C. Moore has reported that he has located 180 former members of the State Employees' Retirement System and returned to them $111,160.28 in employee contributions which had apparently been forgotten.

At the trail's end, it was displayed that many of the former members had died, so their heirs received not only the forgotten contributions, but added death benefits which had never been apportioned.

Upon leaving the service of the State, or of municipalities participating in the system, a member may leave his contributions on deposit for five years. During that time interest builds up. After five years interest payment ceases and the amount standing to the member's credit is placed in a "non-member" fund. Some of the site accounts ran back more than 20 years. "Humane" System

The search was a direct result of the recent organization of the retirement system to "humanize" its relationship with its members. Citing the effort to locate owners of the money as the latest example of increased service, the comptroller said that the over-all humanization program has also resulted in added benefits to members and in dissemination to members of information about their account.

Old records were consulted for names and addresses of relatives, beneficiaries and past employers of the former members. Based on this information, a direct mail search was undertaken. Upon receipt, in return, the employees were further "led" to their whereabouts. Correspondence efforts to postal authorities, State and local police, newspapers and radio stations were enlisted in the hunt for the "non-member." Four were located in the nearby Dansean town while others were finally contacted after searches covering thousands of miles.

Comptroller Moore said that efforts to trace others will be continued.

Thinks To Congress For Voting Raise

T I TLE WAS encouraging to find the House of Representatives voting unanimously for a $450-a-year salary increase for the 180,000 postal employees, but impossible to reconcile with this and with the sad fact of the satisfaction to the same for the 825,000 other Federal employee. Both groups were practically given an increase. Both groups were ready to settle for much less than the amount necessary to bring their pay to 1939 parity.

In the Senate the sentiment for the needs of the Federal employees was expressed Certainly Senator Robert A. Taft (R., Ohio) was outspoken in saying that a raise must be granted to the Postal employees. He closed the Second floor on the first balloting.

The general public that appreciates the fine services of Federal employees, that feels a deep sense of gratitude to the postal workers for a tough job capably done in and day out, cannot possibly sympathize with any decision to cut back on other groups. Only men or of approv­ or can it be said that the postal workers were other than shocked that their fellow-workers did not get equal recognition.

Neither the postal workers nor the others are completely satisfied with the final result—$450 in the post office and $330 elsewhere—but for them to say so would be an act of treachery to their employer and for them to thank a for a raise. That course lightens the task ahead.

Present reorganization in Government is hardly good news for anyone. It did go no favor but at least it did something. For a while the result appeared dangerously in doubt. Now that decision is settled, rejoicing may not be easy but bitterness could be.

Inside Facts on Fireman Medical Test

Duplicated Testing Avoided in Exams

We consider a number of instances where taking the triple exams for Transit Patrolman, Police, and Fireman is unnecerary. Officers are taking also the General Service Civil Service Commission exams, which test the same parts of the same test.

The check-up comes Later

For Transit, it was not possible to check perfectly the same test for the transit examiners in the tri-prefectural test, as in the police and firemen. The examiners who passed this test for the police were not given a chance to repeat the checking before they were able to take the other exams. But the medical to begin is July 14.

Custodians Protest

A letter has been forwarded to Joseph A. Maguire, president of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, protesting the assignment of more cases to Custodian duties by the Board of Retainers.

The Association's Corresponding Secretary, Michael White, wrote in a letter to Maguire that there is a case list containing 176 Custodians, in existence and that assigning Cleaners to Custodian work would violate the Title of Cleaner-In-Charge is an illegal and prohibited action.

The letter states that the Association has asked that the Custodian lists be amended to include positions in the Custodian list. It is the Association's intention that the Custodian list be amended immediately to fill all vacancies, and that the position of Custodian never again be filled by the transfer or appointment of a Cleaner.

New York City Govt. "Not Rats," issued by the U. S. Department of the Interior and distributed to the various firemen, was very good, but Firemen wonder why the books were issued to them.

Capt. William McCabe, Engine Co. 12, issued a growing Antichord list by his Delaney officers and the members of his company on completion of 20 years' service with the department.

Newark, N. J., July 2 (AP) — A second alarm box, to which both companies must respond, was placed at 321-325 Broad St., North River. The firemen, who are now under a two-way radio, will be among the first to outline in Newark.

A July 9 meeting was held in the new-se"ated Knights of St. John, where the firemen are still holding a double day shift. It must be odd when a Kaplan Asks for a Stricter Board Policy on Veteran Disability Preference Claims

By MORTON TAMRON

Criticism of the administrative methods being used by the NYC Civil Service Commission in the disposition of veteran disability claims was introduced by Mr. Abraham Kaplan, assistant court clerk, in the course of his objections to pending applications for the positions of Probation Officer, Grade 1, and Laboratory Assistant, both of which are classified as positions requiring a medical examination, and were in favor of an immediate appointment in lieu of the pending medical examination. Mr. Kaplan pointed out that the court's requirement and thought that a six-month period was far too long as one with an assurance of substantial compliance.

Three Basic Requirements

"The method of the VA in rule-stamping veterans' claims is not one that comports with the State constitutional requirement in regard to preference," said Mr. Kaplan.

He asserted that the Court of Appeals in the Carey case, in which the court emphasized that in preference claims under the recent decision of the Court of Appeals was voiced, that the VA is not equipped to make medical and physical examinations, to many cases as the Commission's evidence with the court's order.

"See Need for More Denials"

"The court, under the decision, left it to the Commission to admit that the burden of proof is strictly and always on the claimant. That means that primary disability claims must be decided unless the requirements are met, and they include the necessity of a certificate that shows the recent existence of the disability. In many instances the VA certificates are not dated at all, he observed.

City U. Officials

Mr. Kaplan referred to the Care bill, which the U.S. Civil Service Commission favoring which passed the Senate at the last session, but was not enacted. This provided that 10 percent should be the minimum disability rating for Federal 10-point preference. His purpose was to emphasize the strict construction shouls a disadvantage, in reference to U.S. veteran preferences laws, even with other industries.
