New U. S. Training Course To Open for Top-Flighters

The Tenth Administrative Intern Program is scheduled to begin September 6, the U. S. Civil Service Commission announced soon.

Intern programs are given for a number of agencies interested in training employees to discover and train employees who show promise of being able to use their education and experience in Government service.

The ten-month training programs are conducted twice a year. Each year, employees are enrolled after being accepted for the first six months of the program and are then selected for employment in various phases of Government administrative work and placed on the Civil Service lists on the day they are enrolled.

Each Federal agency has until July 6 to nominate candidates for the program. From these employees, members of the Civil Service Commission will select a limited number of personnel.

Projects are to be assigned to the interns by the agency to which they are assigned. The interns will be paid a salary and maintenance, and their position will be considered as one of employment in the Government.

In addition, a Junior Management Intern Program, open to candidates below Grades CAP-2 and P-2, is expected to be announced soon.

Programs will be conducted under a year by the Commission and the Administrative Interns, a group composed of representatives designated by the heads of the cooperating agencies, including retailing assignments in various Federal agencies, designed to provide the selected employees with the opportunity to gain valuable experience and lead to the fullest possible use of their skills and abilities.

McNamara, Bromley Clash Over NYC Job-overhaul

The hearing before the Council's Civil Service Committee proved far more drama than such a dry subject as "reclassification" would seem to warrant. But with visiting councilmen Iraso, Paley, Rubino, and others participating in the questioning, and with strong hints of political intervention within the precincts of the merit system, the matters in some sense at several points.

Mr. McNamara was unmercifully badgered by Councilman (Continued on Page 13)

Retirement Laws Explained by Comptroller

The State Civil Service Commission clarified procedure under the DeMarco decision, which was announced recently.

The new memorandum follows:

New Ruling by Commission Clarifies DeMarco Decision

The State Civil Service Commission, after an administrative hearing, ruled in favor of a federal government worker who was denied a promotion.

An employee promoted as of April 1945, is a position that would have resulted in a promotion to a higher grade, the court was told.

As an employee promoted as of April 1945, the employee in question would have been eligible for review of the same salary in the lower grade.

The court order states: "A memorandum submitted by the parties and signed by the parties was submitted to the court."

Example of Applications

Of DeMarco Case Decision

The following is an example of the application of the DeMarco decision, which had its inception in the case of a Senior Account Clerk. (G 6, 465-469) reclassified on June 21, 1947, to Principal Clerk (G 10, 820-825). Earnings of salary of $2260 were lower than the minimum salary of the new position of Principal Clerk, he was given an increase of $250 on April 1, 1948, which was increased to $520 on June 30, 1948. He was given an additional salary of $250 on April 1, 1951, as a result of the DeMarco decision. It was subsequently discovered that under the provisions of Submission 6 of Section 41 of the Civil Service Law the salary of Principal Clerk should remain at $3250 for the period prior to February 1, 1948. A decision was made to give the employee an additional $520, which was increased to $540 on October 1, 1951.

As a result of a bill sponsored by the Governor, local governments will be required to extend their unemployment insurance coverage to private employees. The Governor signed the bill into law today.

The new law also provides that the unemployment insurance fund will be self-supporting, with the cost of administering the program to be borne by the employers.

The Governor's veto of the previous benefits in the new benefit system has also been removed.

The Governor's veto was sustained by the General Assembly, and the new benefit system will go into effect on July 1, 1949.

stated in the new city budget. The Budget Committee, founded in 1950, includes the city council members and a representative of the police and fire departments. This committee has the power to pass on the general budget of the city, and it is the only committee which can veto any portion of the budlarly, usually once a month, and the meetings are open to the public.

Mr. Steele was elected as president of the budget committee, and Mr. George Correction as vice-president.

assisting Mr. Steele in the drafting of the budget. Mr. Cylver, serving as director of budget, will be in charge of preparing the budget for presentation to the city council. Other members of the budget committee include: Mr.
Harlow, Mr. Hofheins, Mr. Marthinsen,
Mr. Meyers, Mr. McCall, and Mr. Mun-

to present a comprehensive budget for the coming fiscal year to the city council at its next meeting.

In the meantime, the city council will continue its work on the present budget, which is scheduled for completion by the end of May. The council will then have the opportunity to review and recommend any changes or drafts of the budget before it is submitted to the voters for approval.

But Where, Dr. Johnson Is Civil Service?

Temple University's President Robert L. Johnson last week announced formation of the "Board of the Citizens Committee for Reorganization of the Executive Branch of Government." The board is to study the recommendations of the Hoover Commission.

Dr. Johnson said the board is composed of outstanding men and women who "represent major groups—agriculture, business, labor and professions, veterans and women's organizations.

But where, Dr. Johnson, is civil service? In the whole roster of glittering names—some famous, some stuffed shirts—there is no representation of civil service. Yet who, more than these very people who would be most intimately involved in government reorganization, should be better qualified to say where the board is going? In fact, Dr. Johnson has only to speak to a few Federal civil service people—and he'll find plenty wrong with the Hoover recommendations on civil service.

When a Man Is Killed in Line of Duty

When a NYC cop or fireman is killed in line of duty, his family is frequently left nearly destitute. When William Lurye, an organizer of the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union, was stabbed to death, his family is frequently left nearly destitute.

Mr. Lurye had been a member of the ILGWU for 18 years and was active in the union's activities. He had two sons, age 10 and 16, and a wife, Nellie, age 35. Mr. Lurye was killed while trying to prevent a strike at a factory located at 27-21 Butler St., Brooklyn, May 19. He was 38 years old.

Mr. Lurye's two sons, who were at school at the time of the murder, were notified of their father's death by the police. The children were taken to the ILGWU headquarters, where they were comforted by union officials.

A Fund for the Lurye Family

A fund has been established for the benefit of the Lurye family. Contributions may be sent to the ILGWU headquarters, 111 West 33rd St., New York City.

Parole Officer Vision Requirements Protested

Alfred Seeker, of 27-21 Butler St., was killed by a police officer on May 18. The officer, who was shot, was a parole officer. The state Parole Officer Association has filed a formal protest against the state's parole officer requirements.

The association claims that the vision requirements are too strict and that the medical test is too lenient. The association has called for a meeting to discuss the issue.

Tolman Asks Drive For New Members

Albany, May 23—Mortimer M. Russell, counsel to the State Civil Service Employees Association, has been retained by the association to contest a ruling of the State Civil Service Commissions which employees of State institutions, hospitals and prisons, many of whom have come to know the Civil Service Employees Association through its free paying, non-partisan campaign of activities, have been excluded from membership in the State Civil Service Employees Association. The NYC Employee Council Hear About NYC Job Jungle

...see like an American eagle. That's the image that was used in the literacy test, "I am sick with a cold." The original candidate wrote, "He had the fellow write with a cold." The original candidate was Paul M. Brennan, director of the examination, but from all appearances, his last name was Joe McCoy, a Patrolman eligible. True, his last name may be Joe McCoy, but the Commission feels that no alertness and fingerprints were obtained.

That was the phrase coined when the employee was challenged and the resolution by the NYC Commission was appealed. There was a distinct suspicion of an employee who had been appointed to the Commission turned thumbs down on a NYC Commission proposal to the Clerk of the Board of Transportation.
There are no eligible lists for the most promising jobs that the Commission has to offer. Fred H. Hedin, examiner in charge of Board of Examination tests at the Commission's office, recalled that no new examinations or extension of time of claims in time. ‘

The last examination was held in 1940. It is expected that this year there will be about the same number of examinations. The Commission’s office, at 200 City Hall, just west of Broadway, is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. all week, except Saturday, when it closes at 1 p.m. From the new lists. However, many notices of examinations are being received in the office, and in the forthcoming examination will be taken from the following modification of those in the past.

Candidates Fail
To Tell New Address

John J. Van Nest, civil service, Joseph J. Zweifel; entrance, William Hirsch; welfare, Charles W. Hicks. The last examination was held on June 10th. 1040

The title of the jobs is Main- maintenance of way. All these positions set forth. Three groups exist.

The three groups exist as follows:

Group A—Electrical, for employment on signaling and light- ing devices.

Group B—Mechanical, for work with power devices.

Group C—Electrical, for work with electrical devices.

Thus Groups A and C are closely similar.

Although the starting pay is the same for all, the rule is that of a year's satisfactory service before Group A, $1.20; and $1.34. The weekly pay for Group B, and $1.24. The weekly pay for Group C is $1.24 and $643.42.

McNamara Stresses Opportunities

President Joseph McNamara, of the Commission, stressed the opportunities existing for getting one of the best and most promising jobs that the City has to offer. Fred H. Hedin, examiner in charge of Board of Examination tests at the Commission's office, recalled that no Board of Examination lists have been killed by lapse of time in ten years or more; all lists have been terminated by appointing or promoting all willing eligibles. When making job opportunities so high are these facts: The number of provisional in the last examination was 662; Group A, 137; Group B, 138; Group C, 137. The maximum legal life of the list, normally are from the open-competitive examination. There are 40 Exams This Year.

The open Competitive examination will be waged. Civil Service Com - mission's office, recalled that no new examinations or extension of time of claims in time.

The Secretary and the President. "We don't give Compensation for which is payable amounts in power. Although the starting pay is the same for all, the rule is that of a year's satisfactory service before entering the electrical field, or to a mani- festly equivalent combination of trade school, technical high school or college after completion of an accredited course of study in the electrical field, or to a manifestly equivalent combination of trade school, technical high school or college after completion of an accredited course of study in the electrical field, or to a manifestation of the foregoing experience and education.

"Training and experience of a candidate is the key in the selection of this position which was acquired in the field of the City, was shall be filled only by promoting candidates from the eligible lists. Candidates not having the required experience may apply for the written test prior to appointment if they meet the above requirements. Only the experience of passing candidates will be exam- ined with respect to meeting the above requirements.

"The Commission is bound to notify candidates to fill out their applications and address it to the notification post. The written examination will be open to all candidates who are notified. The Commission should be notified of any change of address. Candidates not having the required experience should notify the Commission even prior to appointment. The Commission will consider candidates who are notified of any change of address.

"Quayle in Our Corner," Muelse Tells the UFOA

Captain Fred Muelse, president of the Uniformed Fire Officers Association, in a message to the members, conveyed through The Leader, counselled them to be patient about the improvements that they seek, with the implication that the outlook was promising.

"The First 100 Days," said President Muelse, referring to Frank S. Hogan's first term in their office, and they should be patient about the improvements they seek, with the implication that the outlook was promising.

"We have an eye to the future," said President Muelse, "and are thinking of the new and future offices. Pension rates should be reduced. We have been for two years a member of the Police-Fire Conference that is seeking such a reduction. Some improvements seem more promising than pension changes. Meanwhile we are keeping up the campaign for reduction in pension costs to the members with no reduction in benefits."

The New York City Transportation Commission, in its annual report, has recommended that the City Directory limit the length of service for fire officers to 35 years. The report states that since 1900, 15 officers have served more than 35 years.

The report, which is sent to the Board of Estimate for approval on the previous day, but are not acted upon by the Board, is taken as granted. The board's report contains 26 columns, for each of the years from 1900 to 1925. The column report includes the number of officers who served at bottom classification (which are filled with the exception of the first officer), and the number of officers who served at top classification (which are filled only in the case of the first officer).

The report notes that the number of officers who served at bottom classification has decreased from 1900 to 1925, while the number of officers who served at top classification has increased. The report also notes that the number of officers who served for more than 35 years has decreased from 15 in 1900 to 0 in 1925.
