CSEA Wins Bill On Non-Teaching Aide Salary Protection

ALBANY—A salary protection bill for non-teaching school district employees, considered by the Civil Service Employees Assn., to be one of the most important measures ever gained for local government workers, has passed the Legislature and is before Governor Rockfeller for approval.

The bill, sponsored by the Employee Association, was introduced by Senator Bernard Smith (D-Bronx) and John O. McCarthy (R-Huntington Station). In essence, the bill permits local school boards to levy a tax to raise non-teaching aides' salaries when voters fail to approve a levy for the necessary funds. School teachers now have that protection.

The CSEA also reported victory on gaining passage of the half-pay, 25-year retirement plan for employees of the Thruway Authority and success in supporting passage of a 20-year retirement plan for Regional State Park Police.

Another CSEA victory was passage of a measure that increases the salary limitation of public employees working at farms and nurseries from $10,000 to $12,000 per year.

New State Pay And Other Benefits In June 18 Paychecks

ALBANY—State workers in administrative agencies will start getting the pay raise and other money benefits recently negotiated by the Civil Service Employees Assn. in their pay checks on June 18, and institutional employees on June 26. CSEA learned last week.

On those dates, CSEA said, employees will get their first pay raise at the new rates and will also find a bonus sum in the same pay check for retroactive pay due since the April 1 effective date of the benefit package.

The new money to be paid will reflect the pay hike itself, the new schedule and dominate minimums, location pay for employees in the nine-county New York area, and the balance of the 1968 $600 minimum for those workers hired after March 31, 1968, and before April 1, 1969, who had received less than $600 under the ten percent raise negotiated in 1968.

Pay checks of June 18 and 25 will not include compensation for the new inconvenience pay for employees who work at least four hours between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. According to official sources, CSEA said, final arrangements for payment of this benefit have not yet been worked out.

Noting that many queries have been received in CSEA, it is expected that the new rates will be subject to discussion.

Brydges, Duryea Lead Legislation Fight For Civil Service

This column predicted some months ago that despite the Taylor Law and its provisions for collective bargaining, State workers would still have to deal with the Legislature.
In March, the Civil Service Employees Assn., which represents the vast majority of State employees, found itself at a crossroads. Earlier, they had been negotiating for these workers with the Rockefeller Administration but the Administration called off all talks because of a strike by a competing organization. This happened last November and in March the leadership of the Employees Assn. not only saw the Legislature reaching the end for action on a budget but also were faced with strong demands from large sectors of their membership for militant action to force resumption of negotiations.

It was at this point that CSEA went to Senate Majority Leader Karl W. Snyder and Assembly Speaker Perry Duryea for a resolution on the plight of State workers. Senator Snyder’s resolution was strong and firm. He assured the CSEA that they would be some form of pay raise for employees in 1969 and gave literally of his time to go over this and many other important issues, such as half-pay retirement, with CSEA representatives. There is no doubt that this important support did much to help the Employees Assn. negotiate such a strong contract with the State when talks with the Rockefeller Administration eventually were resumed.

Perry Duryea, although pleased, urged a strong, conservative majority, pointed all these CSEA bills through the Assembly, despite some hot reaction to pay raises being included for appointed ofcials, especially during an acsor­ity-budget year. Out of his crowded schedule, Duryea, from the beginning of the session, was very liberal with his time to public employee organizations.

Other Good Friends

Among the other good friends the Employees Association had in the Senate was Sen. John Flynn (R-Yonkers) who sponsored CSEA bills on salary, retirement and health insurance, and, with Assemblyman Andrew Stein (D-Manhattan), a measure that would have provided a well­ financed blueprint for State workers.

Steinberg’s Rule

It is important to note that on these and several other mes­sages, CSEA worked closely with Assemblyman Lewis Z. Lentol (D-Brooklyn), and, with Assemblyman Andrew Stein (D-Manhattan), a measure that would have provided a well­ financed blueprint for State workers.

workers are not lost to the vital functioning of the education system because of the failure of voters to realize the significance of refusing to approve necessary tax levies.”

A memorandum explaining the bill reads:

"This bill would amend the Education Law in relation to levying a tax for non-teaching salaries where voters neglect or refuse to vote the sum estimated necessary."

"At present, should qualified voters neglect or refuse to vote the sum estimated necessary for teachers’ salaries, or should said pupils or their guardians, in case of a school district, fail to vote the sum estimated necessary for ordinary contingent expenses, the sole remedy, Board of Trustee, or Board of Education may levy a tax for those purposes.

"Under the provisions of this bill, the same protection would be granted to non-teaching school employees. Without this protection, the jobs of non-teaching employees under such circumstances are jeopardized, ultimate result in unfair and overwhelming financial burdens for these individuals.

Other Victories

Other important measures won by the CSEA, and awaiting approval by the Governor would: provide a cost-of-living adjustment for State workers on Workmen’s Compensation leave. Provide one-half day’s pay for emergency duty outside of regular duty hours.

Benefits Examiners Being Sought By Social Security

It's time to stake your job claim at the New York Pay Center of the Social Security Administration. These positions require organizations which have vacancies for college graduates or persons with equivalent experience in career positions as claims examiners. The claims examiner must be a trainee at the GS-5 level ($7,339 per year). After completing one year of satisfactory performance, the incumbent becomes eligible for promotion to GS-6 ($7,426 per year). One year later, he becomes eligible for promotion to GS-7 ($7,527 per year). The benefit examiners at the Social Security Administration are hired at the GS-5 level ($7,339 per year) and after completing 8 months of satisfactory service become eligible for promotion to GS-6 ($7,426 per year). The above salaries are based on the full 52 week pay schedules which will become effective July 1969.

City Invites Applicants To Look Into Steno Jobs

ROCHESTER — The 150 Monroe Community College clerks, custodians and non-professional employees, you didn't get raises Jan. 1 will become members of the Civil Service Employees Association, and get the raises after all.

The Monroe County Legislature's employee benefit and fringe benefits board will give the full legislature approval of a plan that would include most of the Monroe county employees in the general unit of the OSBA's Monroe County chapter. Approval by these measures approved.

County Legal Adviser William J. Stevens told a joint committee meeting this week that the Legislature action is necessary because of the State's Taylor Act covering public employee unions. In the past, the college board has automatically adopted the same plan for non-teaching employees.

The Legislature also must ratify the board's action recognizing the College Faculty Association as a collective bargaining agent for professional staff members, Stevens said.

Non-Teaching Salary Protection Bill Vital

Governor Rockefeller can benefit both the public and non-teaching school personnel by approving a measure before him which would prevent the salaries of these vital workers should voters fail to pass levies which would otherwise provide funds for adequate public schools.

Teachers now enjoy this protection. In essence, the bill would permit school boards or other responsible authorities to levy a tax for needed wage raises should the voters fail to do so.

This legislation makes good sense. Non-teaching personnel are vital to the conduct and maintenance of the educational system everywhere. Voters are not always aware of their importance in the scheme of things and sometimes inadvertently reject levies that deserve passage.

Governor Rockefeller should sign the bill. He has shown good judgment in the past in finding good personnel because of inability to pay proper salaries.

It is a measure which benefits all sides and we think it wise for Governor Rockefeller to give it prompt approval.

Justice For Firefighters

One of the many bills before Governor Rockefeller for approval would allow the inclusion of lung disease as a line of duty injury for firefighters.

As we have pointed out editorially in past editions of The Leader, this bill is a necessity to accomplish the ends of justice.

When a firefighter breaks a limb at a fire, this is considered a line of duty injury, under present law.

When a firefighter is injured on the job to the extent that he is no longer fit for firefighting purposes, he is retired at three-quarters salary.

But, under present law, a firefighter who incurs diseases of the lungs—such as tuberculosis, cancer, emphysema, acute bronchitis and the like—Is retired at half-pay disability deemed to be non-service connected.

This is absurd! Lesions on firefighters' lungs are, no doubt, caused by the intense heat and smoke they must breathe in the course of their duties. When a firefighter is given a civil service physical examination prior to his appointment, his lungs must be completely clear with no history of lung disorders. Physically, he must be perfect. Many young men, intent on firefighting careers, such as armed forces veterans in apparent good physical condition, are rejected for even the most minute deficiency in health.

When such a man, after a short career as a firefighter, comes down with lung disease, what other conclusion can one draw except that the condition was service connected?

Support for the bill was given by New York City Administration after collective bargaining last year and this. Last year, Governor Rockefeller vetoed it on the grounds that it had always been vetoed. This year, both the Mayor and the Legislature as well as the City Council passed the bill overwhelmingly.

Now, it is up to Governor Rockefeller to sign it into law. It is only just.

That's all, folks.

One thing you don't get when you buy a new Volkswagen: Confused.
Because all you get to choose from are six different Volkswagens. Instead of 30 or 40 look-alike models some other carmakers make.
So it's a lot easier to pick out a VW.
And a lot more comforting.
You don't have to worry about your VW going out of style next year. Or turning out to be last year's dud cleverly disguised as this year's stud.
Those six VWs are the very same ones we've been making land-improving for years.
Starting with our little car, The VW Beetle.
And our sports car, The VW Karmann Ghia.
And our luxury car, The VW Fastback.
Our big car, The VW Squareback.
And our great big car, The VW Station Wagon.
And our chuck wagon, The VW Compmobile.
And that's all, folks.

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society, with chapters in all major cities of New York State, was founded in 1946 to seek the cause and cure—still unknown—of this disease which afflicts more than 500,000 Americans. Multiple Sclerosis is a disease of the central nervous system that most often strikes young adults. The patient may suffer impairment of speech, sight and movement.

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society has allocated some $7 million to research since its inception. Regional chapters assist patients with loans of wheelchairs, crutches and sickroom equipment, and serve as clearing houses for information on how best to cope with this disabling disease. Chapters conduct regional fund drives and contribute a large portion of the proceeds to the National Society for research.

Requested By Board

Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller proclaimed May 26 as Teacher Recognition Day in New York City and issued a call to every community to join in actively honoring teachers for their unselfish service in our behalf.

announcing the special day, Governor said: "American in general, and the citizens of New York State in particular, have always respected and honored our teachers. They have always been a great deal from schools. In recent years, the Board of Education has taken action that only through education can we ever achieve true equality of opportunity for all citizens. In education is the key to the future. In order to relieve overcrowding in schools in all five boroughs, the Board of Education has never been as difficult and thankless activity for the involved as in the Board of Education today. For this reason the Board is required to limit the extent of the proposed reductions in order to maintain the minimum of educational standards in all our schools.

Dr. King was assassinated a year ago. Shortly thereafter, the Board of Education, in honor of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Year, is to be held in Lincoln Center.

Opportunity For An Elevated To Asst. Bridge Oper.

Your ascent in civil service rank can be a lift in status at any time. We have the good news of a special 1000 job openings for May 71 for the title of assistant bridge operator. Salary begins at $160 with the prospect of promoting the bridge operator post, spanning the pay range of $750 to $1000 per annum.

At present, four vacancies exist within the Municipal Services Administration of New York City. Your typical tasks could include operating traffic lights at street corners and traffic gates; reporting any malfunctions that would impede the smooth operation of the bridge operator; patrol of boats and bridge approaches; avoidance of roadways, footwalks, piers, bridges, and engine rooms; and following the traffic rules at the reporting of auto accidents, and similar responsibilities.

To elevate yourself to one of these four openings, you must first meet minimum qualifications—namely, completion of eight years of age and one year of full-time experience of a mechanical or electrical nature in the line of work which you are interested in. No satisfactory combination of education and experience.

Those who score well on the written exam will still have a qualifying oral exam test before them, since the position requires extraordinary physical effort. This test will be given to show the stamina and sagacity of candidates. It will be a test of a dumbbell press and a broad jump. Applicants will be given a physical test at the end of their own risk, although every effort to provide reasonable safeguards will be made.

Medical testing may be administered beforehand the physicals are given, and personnel reserves will be excluded from the top candidates found to be physically qualified. Standards used in the examinations will be determined in advance.

To gain further information and to apply, and maybe bid for your aspirations, visit the New York City Department of Personnel, 49 Thomas St., Manhattan.
Leary Elevates

Cone To Job Of Personnel Chief

Police Commissioner Howard B. Leary announced recently the appointment of Assistant Chief Inspector Elmore C. Cone as Chief Inspector of the New York Police Department. The promotion elevates Chief Cone, a 27-year veteran of the force, to one of the departments' four 3-star posts.

A graduate of NYU, where he earned his B.S. and J.D. degrees, Chief Cone was a practicing attorney when he joined the Police Department in August, 1942.

Chief Cone will bring considerable experience in police personnel work to his new position. As an Assistant Chief Inspector, he commanded the former Personnel and Administrative Services Bureau and subsequently served as second in command to the department's first Chief of Personnel, now Chief Inspector George P. McManus. As a Deputy Chief Inspector, he served as Assistant to the Chief of the Alameda Police Department, a department with the department's Tactical Force as a Deputy Inspector and Inspector, and he commanded the 19th Precinct.

Law Enforcement Week Proclaimed By The Governor

Governor Rockefeller has issued a proclamation declaring the week beginning April 18th, New Law Enforcement Week throughout the State. In the proclamation, the governor observes, "In every community of our State and throughout the nation, peace officers uphold law and order. They perform with courage and steadfastness. Their dedication is indispensable, protecting the weak and the defenseless, our property and our freedom.

"Without their enforcement of law and order, no unit of our body politic could continue to exist. We in the Empire State have particular reason to be proud of our policemen and policewomen. Our State troopers, as well as the police officers of our counties, villages, towns and cities are famous for maintaining the highest standards," declared Rockefeller.

SCEA, Parks Dept. Ask Upgrading For Grade 9 Foremen

(Special to The Leader)

ALBANY—The Civil Service Employees Assn. has joined in the Alienable State Division of Parks in an appeal to the Civil Service Commission for reallocation of parks and parkway foremen from grade 9 to grade 11 and general park and parkway foreman from grade 14 to grade 15. Both titles are rarely classified.

The reallocation appeals were previously denied by the Director of Classification and Compensation, but CSEA hopes to win a favorable recommendation from the Commission.

Evidence cited by the Employees Association in support of the appeal for park and parkway foreman included the fact that three other titles have "first line maintenance supervisors," and that the wide variety and scope of their superintendents should be reflected in their salaries.

CSEA, in supporting the general park and parkway foreman's reallocation to grade 15, said "this class is distinguished by either executive, second-line, or maintenance supervisors, and the wide variety and scope of their supervision should be reflected in their salaries.

CSEA, in support of the general park and parkway foreman's reallocation to grade 15, said: "this class is distinguished by either executive and second-line supervisors' responsibility, or supervision of journeymen and craftsmen as well as semi-skilled and unskilled workers."

The Commission is expected to give its decision shortly.
