Park Dept. Hands Out 2,000 Summer Jobs

The Parks Department has handed out nearly 2,000 summer jobs to city eligibles, and more than 700 are yet to be assigned, a checkup by The Leader revealed this week.

The Certification Bureau of the State Civil Service Commission is working on a report listing a list of the eligible applicants. At the head office in the Central Building. There are 18 provisions Additional money was credited in proportion to its value. An examination for the position would be held at three years.

The Municipal Civil Service recently declared the following occupations of the Board of Examinations.

Although the former is not affected appointments in the department, since the department works a straight budget. If the summer is unusually hot, and the parks and beaches are overcrowded, the department will have to release more workers without further increases. On the other hand, if the summer is not unusually cool, the work is less—but the pay goes on.

A law signed by Governor Lehman last month will make it the law that the next civil service exam, which will be held in the Fall of 1937. At that time an age limit of 23 to 40 for applicants will be set, and a law to be passed in the next legislative session.

One of the factors in the success of the Civil Service Leader is the rigorous examination.

500 VACANCIES; FILING PERIOD EXTENDED

A last minute rush on Monday, May 27, at the offices of the Municipal Civil Service Commission brought in several thousand new applications for more than 12,000 jobs. The filing period closed yesterday, but it will be reopened for a 10-day period beginning June 1, according to an announcement by the Municipal Civil Service Commission last week. There are 20 current vacancies which will be filled as a result of this filing test. Forty others are expected this year.

The candidates will be examined on their knowledge of repair work on parts of the subway System and in the future unified transit system. For eliminating the subway exams, the Commission has lowered the requirements. The new rules will permit any person "who has not, by the end of the close of the last year of his 40th birthday, " to apply. In addition graduates of a three or four-year college in architecture, civil engineering, high school or college will be eligible. Other qualifications for each institution may also apply.

Exam in July

The written tests for those positions will be held in July, according to the following schedules: Group A, July 1; Group B, July 25; Group C, July 30; and Group D, July 30. Full official requirements and the complete amended notices for these exams will appear in The Leader next week.

Life Guards Better Read Emily Post

Last winter the Municipal Civil Service Commission was forced to postpone qualifying swimming tests for a group of more than 300 Life Guard candidates. The reason the tests couldn't be held was that not enough candidates had filed to summer beaches to take them. The 150 Life Guard positions which had flopped back to New York, the Commission has scheduled a series of tests for July 31 at the Astoria Pool, Astoria, Queens.

Watch Your Manners After Qualifying in the exam, qualifying technical-oral tests will be given. These will examine a candidate's speech, manner and appearance: his knowledge of resuscitating devices, and saving equipment; tides, first aid, supervisory ability, etc.

Life Guard appointments are due to be made in about a day.

The following medical standards have been set up for Life Guards:

Vision—20/20, both eyes. Logarithm of vision—2.0 or better in any eye. Heart—normal. Hearing—no serious deafness. Minimum height has been reduced to 5'7" and weight at 153 pounds.

Almost All Subway Men Return Qualification Forms

Only 1% of the workers on the IRT and BMT lines failed to file qualification forms yesterday, according recently by the Municipal Civil Service Commission. Supervisor Paul Kern revealed last week that 99.9% of the employees had qualified. These returns had been expected at the telephone request. The remaining 0.1% will be omitted to return the questionnaire.

7,500th Man Will Make Passing Grade in Sanitation Physical

The mark received by the candidate ranking 7,500 in the open competitive physical exam will be considered the passing grade. That is, all who receive grades above that on the eligible list; all who receive grades below that fail.

It is anticipated that not more than 35,000 men—and possibly a few less—will be on hand to take the physical exam when it is given on Thursday, June 2 in the Central Park Swimming Pool. About 5,000 of these have passed or have partially failed, or have been counted out altogether.

Promotion Test for Sanitation Men

Men working in the Sanitation Department who desire to become Sanitation Grade T were eligible for the exam. The exam will be held on Tuesday, May 31. All who have passed or have partially failed, or have been counted out altogether will be permitted to take the physical exam.

The grading of "conditionally rejected" is given to men with curable defects, such as hemorrhoids, varicose veins, bad teeth, or height between 5'4" and 5'6", the minimum height required.

3,000 Notified

"Rejected" report cards will be mailed to men in curable defects, such as poor vision, noise, or mental condition. About 1,000 of the 6,000 candidates summoned were in the "rejected" class. They will not be permitted to participate in the physical exam.

Those who have failed to appear for the physical exam absolutely lose their chance for the Sanitation grade. No appeal will be permitted to take the physical exam later.

Almost 3,000 men have already received their notification to appear for the physical exam.

The Runaround

"STUDENT OF FEUDALISM." "Public disgrace."

These phrases aren't references to the conditions in some squalid fly-by-night clothing factory. They are phrases used to describe the situation of the custodial helpers in New York's schools—the people who do the dirty work, who keep furnaces going, scrub floors, repair broken doors, make things comfortable for teachers and students.

Everybody knows the state of things; and everybody deplores it. For years, there has been a strong move to be granted Civil Service status.

Higher Education felt pretty sure it could find the necessary money needed to bring the act about—but so far they've done nothing.

Everybody knows the state of things; and everybody deplores it. For years, there has been a strong move to take custodial helpers into Civil Service, where they would receive a small wage. Two weeks ago, a meeting was held in the Mayor's office in which the hopes of custodial helpers were brought to fruition: they were finally to be granted Civil Service status.

Since then, they have gotten what looks like the simple old runaround. Every official tells them it's up to their union to take the action. The Board ofHigher Education felt pretty sure it could find the necessary money needed to bring the act about—but so far they've done nothing.

McElligott Must Go!

The following has been sent to President Paul J. Kern of the Civil Service Commission by Joseph A. Palma of the Borough of Richmond:

Your cooperation is requested in expediting the transfer of City Employees from one Department to another, as a means of improving service.

During the last six months I have received at least fifty such requests from persons working on laborers and in other titles in various City departments in the Boroughs other than Richmond. Some of these laborers have made their homes as early as 4:30 in the morning, in order to arrive at their assigned posts on time.

In addition to this inconvenience, they must pay extra fares. If transferred to this Borough, the saving in fares would practically amount to an increase in salary, as well as a saving of several hours each day in travelling time.

The subject has been brought forcefully to my attention recently by various departments while endeavoring to fill vacancies for Laborers in the Highway Department. I made a number of requests to various Departments for the transfer to this Borough of persons who are already employed in other Boroughs. Each of these departments refused to allow their employes to attempt to secure positions with that difficulty. They have expressed in securing positions to fill vacancies caused by such transfers as being impossible. Such transfers do not increase the opportunities for recruitment in the Budget and, therefore, it is my thought that your Commission might set up some cooperation with the City Departments to permit these transfers when the vacancies exist and that the City Departments involved would have no trouble or delay in filling vacancies.

Joseph A. Palma
President, Richmond

The Leader is in sympathy with President Palma's request and endorses his point of view.

Kern, president of the Municipal

EMPLOYEES in Civil Service eastern states are concerned about charges by President Joseph A. Palma of the Civil Service Commission, that the records were lost at Chicago fire. Membership of the ASCSE are now at an all time high: over 30,000, on the figure just ten years ago.

Commissioner McElligott is by no means the only man affected by the fire. Women, the transfer of Vice-King, and the active participation in the recent world's fair, are not the only things that the records are in. A note in the current R. I. Law Review cites membership of employees when Civil Service is extended, to 200,000 by the end of 1940. An Office make $20.00 a year before.

Application forms for E. I. tests bear the following: "Arbitrarily must be at least five years of English, Russian, French, and English. Speak English sufficiently to understand written and spoken instructions. No test does not apply to former employees of employees when Civil Service is extended, to 200,000 by the end of 1940. Leader Scoops Again
The column of this week contains a number of observations that the American public might like to reflect on. For example, the American public might like to think about what the American public might like to think about the American public's attitude towards its leaders. The American public might also like to reflect on the American public's attitude towards the American public's leaders. The American public might also like to think about what the American public might like to think about the American public's attitude towards its leaders.

J. C. Thompson, a member of the Board of Directors of the American Publicity Company, said that the American public might like to think about what the American public might like to think about the American public's attitude towards its leaders.

Burkard has run the PBA aggressively and has a long list of inside men who also opposed him last year. This time, Donovan polled 0% against Burkard's 4%. The PBA wants to be a sanitation department. They said my eyes won't even guess the number of law enforcement officers who qualify for mandatory retirements at age 60.

We have informed this column of a number of observations that the American public might like to reflect on. For example, the American public might like to think about what the American public might like to think about the American public's attitude towards its leaders. The American public might also like to reflect on the American public's attitude towards the American public's leaders. The American public might also like to think about what the American public might like to think about the American public's attitude towards its leaders.

The Municipal Civil Service Commission is preparing to greatly expand its staff of inspectors to check up more closely on persons who qualify for mandatory retirements. The Commission wants to do its part to stamp out sub rosa and other illegal activities. The Commission will be expanded all down the line as it will be called upon to recruit the bulk of the 100,000 new persons to carry on the peacetime strength. The Commission also is making a study of the shortage of skilled workers. The Commission said that it has been made to order to stamp out illegal activities.

The American public might also like to reflect on the American public's attitude towards the American public's leaders. The American public might also like to think about what the American public might like to think about the American public's attitude towards its leaders.

This column, and I think many others, has an opinion about the way Police to civil legislation to include them as regular members of the Police Department.

Commissioner Valentine's campaign to end car cars in beginning to produce results. There are two men who are actively in confiscating such plates. The campaign is expected to result in a considerable increase in the number of cars that are withdrawn from circulation.

The Police Juvenile Aid Bureau at the Police Department has proposed special exams when men are confined to their homes through illness. The department plans to hire 40,000 persons, mainly skilled workers, to provide mandatory retirements at the age of 60. The Commission has informed this column of a number of observations that the American public might like to reflect on. For example, the American public might like to think about what the American public might like to think about the American public's attitude towards its leaders. The American public might also like to reflect on the American public's attitude towards the American public's leaders. Here's another angle on the Meclloch situation. Reliable observers believe he has a gentleman's agreement with the Mayor to stay in office until the case of the other officers and men whom he has retired is decided. The promotion program—perhaps the final test—is expected to decide the case in June. But since the Meclloch case is the first Patrolman exam given to provide mandatory retirements at the age of 60, they would rather follow the wishes of the membership and make the maximum age 60.

The Municipal Civil Service Commission has proposed a provision in the Navy authorization bill which would permit the Secretary of Navy to recall retired officers back to work. Retirement pay of the employees would be suspended while the officers were actively engaged in emergency work.

The American public might also like to reflect on the American public's attitude towards the American public's leaders. The American public might also like to think about what the American public might like to think about the American public's attitude towards its leaders.

Four Albany (N. Y.) Firemen, including Chief Fleming, were killed in a 15,000,000 new persons to carry on the peacetime strength. Hit Status Change

Nurses, Playground Directors, Court Employees Fight

Opposition to the reclassification of Public Health Nurses, Playground Directors, and court and legal employees was demonstrated in the form of public hearings, held by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Chairman of the SCWMA, Daniel Allen argued that the reclassi­ cation of nurses would be to the efcfect, cut wages because the maximum salary level would be reduced. The proposed salaries for the four titles involved are $300 to $400 lower than the present maximum.

Gresler opposition was expressed against the Playground Director reclassification. The present maximum salary for a Playground Director is $2,600. Under reclassification the entrance position would be for a new title, Recretional Director, at $1,800.

Those who objected believed the recreational services of the city would suffer if the salaries were cut. Bertha Dortmund, president of the SCWMA Local No. 2 for Playground Directors, declared that other large cities, such as Chicago and San Francisco, pay their playground directors more than New York City.

The Civil Service Forum op­posed the reclassification proposal by the city employees. The plan, which would transfer some 15 titles to the Clerical Service, would not be feasible because the positions are more of a clerical nature than clerical, according to Frederic E. Luey, Forum President.

Investigator Eligibles

Vs. Vets—Last Round?

Replacement of 201 provisional employees of the Welfare Department's veterans bureau by eligibles on the Social Investigator list was granted to the Appellate Division, in granting a stay to the veterans cited for test purposes.

Should the Appellate Division support Justice Schumuck's order to oust the procedure it will be pointed to the jobs forthwith.

The matter may still reach the Court of Appeals in the fall. But the eligibles will then be working. For the first time the provisions will go in on the side to retain their jobs. Instead of getting pay checks while the city goes through the motions of trying to fire them.

Legal Jockeying

A week of legal jockeying followed Justice Schumuck's decision. Both H. Eliot Kaplan, attorney for the eligibles, and Abraham 2. Rosenblum, who represents the veteran provincials, filed orders with the court to carry out Schumuck's decision.

Kaplan's order to replace 201 provi­sionals in the veterans bureau was replaced by 201 from the list. Rosenblum entered an order that the only 69 eligibles who were given jobs.

Why Schumuck disregarded Kapan's order and signed Rosenblum's order is nearer than it's ever been. On Saturday, June 7, the civil service board was to make a decision.

To the Court of Appeals

At the meeting of the Appellate Division on Saturday, Rosenblum urged that the stay last over the summer, because the court will take the matter to the Court of Appeals. Kaplan was upheld, however, in protecting this.

Rumors had predicted that the veterans would seek such a stay over the summer in the attempt to retain their jobs as long as possible. Once the summer has passed, it was feared that they would be unable to retain their jobs. Inability to retain their jobs is the primary issue of the case.

Alternately, during the past two years they have sought to have legislation passed. But opposition to the veterans bureau by the union has been taken a legal licking. For the past two years they have sought to have legislation passed to retain their jobs as long as possible. It is still possible that the 201 veterans who are now working may still have their jobs.

In the event that the court is unable to retain the veterans, the debate now centers on whether the attorneys for the veterans are able to retain their job. The 201 veterans who are now working may still have their jobs.

The Squeal

Teachers have decided not to take any more wanton criticism from official or unofficial sources laying down. And to put the final answer to the squealing of the Joint Committee of Teachers Organizations last week appointed a Committee on Defamation of the Profession. Dr. Frederick Hinkle Law of Stuyvesant High School was named chairman of the committee. The members are: Dr. Abraham Lettsone, principal of Tilden High School, and Mrs. Mary A. Healy, president of the Bronx Teachers Association.

One trouble spot in the situation is Dr. Emil Altman, who got himself into a fix by saying that some 1,500 teachers were mentally unbalanced and physically unfit, and then later, in his column on Dr. Altman, who is making the headlines, we are given the fact in such a way that teachers won't suffer.

Dr. William A. Hannig of the Teacher's Retirement Board has received a letter from Dr. Altman, the Teachers' Retirement Board, that the leading figures in the press and over the radio are being pressed to eliminate prospects before they become a menace to the education of pupils. The Committee on Defamation of the Profession, bitterness.

What can his age be? His face is smooth, but his hair is a strong steel-gray. He looks youthful, and his smile warm; but you can't exactly decide if he represents the changed political life which has swept through the schools. A man who, when questioned, can do untold damage to the morale of the teaching force.

Let us state some of the facts: Disability retirement may be made if there is conclusive evidence that the teacher, or by some one acting in the teacher's behalf, before the application of the Board of Education when the teacher is unbalanced or unbalanced. If the examination by the Retirement Board has been held and it is found unfit for service, retired immediately;

Some schools have turned out thousands of unsuitable teachers in recent years. The various city colleges have had the families of youngsters under promises of education are being pressed to make one of them.

Dr. Altman was certainly derelict in his duty not to report this avalanche of names; to ask the Board of Education to clear up the situation by putting these names in the hands of the employers; to allow these names to be struck off. The Joint Committee wants to take any more wanton criticism from official or unofficial sources laying down. And to put the final answer to the squealing of the Joint Committee of Teachers Organizations last week appointed a Committee on Defamation of the Profession. Dr. Altman told a "Confidential" that he would not make a "public announcement" of the teachers' recommendations if the Board of Education did not receive an answer from Dr. Altman, the Teachers' Retirement Board, that the leading figures in the press and over the radio are being pressed to eliminate prospects before they become a menace to the education of pupils. Transit Lawyers and Civil Service

The Municipal Civil Service Commission this week told the State, the New York City Board of Estimates, and the New York Central & Hudson River Railway Company that it will "enforce and carry out the terms of the Wicks Act." In reserving decision on a request of the Union that attorneys in the IRT and BMT systems be denied Civil Service status, the Commission said its interpretations of the terms being conducted, would reveal whether the request is justified.

Other items on the Commission's calendar follow:

Transit Commission Transfers

1932. The Commission approved the transfer of approximately 25 employees of the Transit Commission to the Board of Education. Originally the plan was to place the men in the field offices of the Board of Transportation; the Trans- mission Board will take over the functions of the employees. Guardian Examinations 2593. The Board of Guardians will examine the candidates for the Board instead of private doctors in giving governmental medical examinations.

Four scholarships of $300 each and $400 each will be made available to city employees next fall by New York University's Graduate Division for training in Public Service. Twenty additional scholarships of $30 each were awarded to the Division of General Education.

Scholarships will be awarded on the basis of merit both to New York University school graduates and to high school seniors entering New York University in the City in the first term of next year. Applications may be made at New York University, at Room 400, 200 Broadway, New York 13, N. Y., not later than July 15.

Three Training Supervisors in the Civil Service Commission's Bureau of Training already have been awarded scholarships. They are Harold Witter, Mary Tomatsu, and Theodore H. Lang.

Ponder Vet Preference

Disabled veterans for the 21 claimants on the ARC Board's veteran list are being considered by the State Civil Service Commission. It is very probable that the officers will be allowed for a number of immediate vacancies, a separate list will be established for the disabled class.

Leader Sponsors Civil Service Day

OFFICIALS, EMPLOYEE GROUPS COOPERATE ON FAIR DAY

BY BURNETT MURPHY

A gala program is now being prepared for Civil Service Day at the World's Fair on Saturday, June 15. The day is sponsored by The Civil Service Leader.

Enthusiastic offers of cooperation in making Civil Service Day an outstanding success poured into the Leader's office last week from City, State, and Federal officials, from scores of employee groups, and from friends of the merit system. Mayor LaGuardia, Senator James M. Mead, and Lieutenant-Governor Charles Poletti have accepted invitations to serve as honorary co-chairmen of the event.

Day's Program

The day has been planned to emphasize the work of all Civil Service groups. Arrangements are now being made for an extremely interesting, lively, and varied program for Civil Service Day. The Court of Peace has been reserved from 3 p.m. to 3 p.m. for part of this program, which will probably include, among other things, a competition to determine the best brass band of the various City, State and Federal departments and 3 minute speeches by prominent officials. The soft-ball diamond at the Fair has been scheduled for later in the day. It is expected that a same will be arranged between city and state employees, on the one hand, and officials, on the other, or between officials and employees of the Municipal and State Civil Service Commissions and members of the City Council.
