ROCKEFELLER NOW HEDGING ON NEGOTIATED BENEFITS

Long Island M.H. Chapters Coordinate Contract Demands

KINGS PARK — The heads of Civil Service Employees Assn. chapters representing 12,000 workers in mental hospitals on Long Island last week formed a council to coordinate their measures backing up demands for an improved contract.

The chapter leaders were brought together by CSEA field representative Nicholas Pollitto, who has been assigned to work exclusively with the five big mental hygiene chapters on the Island.

The council agreed to coordinate pressures and demand action at the State delegates meeting today on the breakdown of State negotiations.

Joining forces were: Julia Duf­fr, president of the Pilgrim State Hospital chapter; Natale Zummo, president of the Kings Park St. Hospital chapter; Larry Doyle, president of the Suffolk Psychiatric Hospital chapter; and Gus Menzel, president of the Suffolk State School chapter.

ALBANY — As delegates of the Civil Service Employees Assn. met here in special session today (Feb. 11) the grim word was that not only had the Rockefeller Administration refused to spell out just what was in the budget for State workers this year, but also that the State appeared to be now hedging on a good portion of its original offers to CSEA made up to the point when negotiations were called off last November.

Speaking through Abe Levine, newly-appointed State Director of Employee Relations, the Rockefeller Administration declared it was "not in a position to specify the particular benefits to be included in the budget" and indicated further that these specific benefits should await the day until negotiations could be resumed.

This latter viewpoint could mean delays that would stretch past the current session of the Legislature since there is no way of knowing at this time when the courts will decide on whether or not the whole five-unit bargaining conception being pushed by the Public Employment Relations Board is legal.

Teamsters Dumped In Massena School District Election

(SPECIAL TO THE LEADER)

MASSENA — The Civil Service Employees Assn. walked away with a resounding victory last week in a representa­tion election at Massena Central School District No. 1, defeating the rival Teamsters Local 687 by 820 to 12 votes.

One hundred twenty-one of the 143 eligible voters cast ballots in the election, which designated CSEA as the exclusive bargaining agent for the district's non-teaching employees, seven persons vot­ing for no representation.

Couper Named To Education Position

ALBANY — The son of a former chancellor of the Board of Regents has been named to one of two new deputy commissionerships just created in the State Education Department.

Richard W. Couper, son of former Regents Edgar W. Couper, has been appointed deputy commissioner for higher education. He is vice-president of Hamilton College and a former insurance man.

Nominated to the other deputy post is Herbert F. Johnson, a career commissioner for higher education. He was appointed deputy commissioner in a department reorganization, former deputy commissioner Edward B. Nyquist was named to a new post of deputy director.

The reorganization also calls for two special planning offices.

Couper has been active in civic and educational affairs. He is a director of the Hayes National Bank at Clifton, N.Y. and of Security Mutual Life Insurance Company, and is on the executive committee of the Upper Mohawk Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Nixon Names Nathan New Budget Asst.

WASHINGTON — The new assistant budget director for the Nixon administration is a former assistant to former U.S. Senator Kenneth B. Keating.

He is Richard P. Nathan, a native of Albany, N.Y. and until his new appointment a research associate with the Brookings Institution.

He also served on the staff for the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

May DeSeve Honored At Retirement Luncheon

ALBANY — The staff of the New York State Department of Education, Law Division, recently honored May M. DeSeve at a retirement luncheon in her honor at the Larkin Relief Corps Home at Oxford. DeSeve, who was a typist at the Women's Education Division, was honored for her many years of service to the state. She retired from the state service in December, 1965.

DeSeve entered State service as a typist in the Women's Education Division in 1946 and immediately became actively involved in the formation of Oxford Chapter, Civil Service Employees Asso., and was active in the Central Conference.

In July, 1947, she was appointed to the Division of Parole and was later assigned to the Library of the Department. Following a period of service there, she was transferred to the Corporation Tax Department for several years and subsequently returned to the Corporation Tax Department. During this time, she was named to the Corporation Tax Department as a member of the Statewide Education Committee. She was the founder of the Parole Committee and served as its chairman. She was also one of the reporters for "The Tax Chapter News" while in the Tax Department.

The celebration, sponsored by the Albany Division and Headquarters chapters of CSEA, will begin at 9:30 a.m. with a luncheon at the Ambassador Restaurant in Albany. The evening will include a dance at Herbert's Restaurant in Albany.}

Albany Thruway Aides Celebrate

SPECIAL TO THE LEADER

ALBANY — Albany area Thruway employees will celebrate the Civil Service Employees Asso.'s recent victory over the Teamsters in a runoff election to determine a bargaining agent for most Thruway workers with a party tonight (Feb. 11) in Albany.

The celebration, sponsored by the Albany Division and Headquarters chapters of CSEA, will begin at 9:30 a.m. with a luncheon at the Ambassador Restaurant in Albany. The evening will include a dance at Herbert's Restaurant in Albany.

The committee will review the progress on recommendations it has made in the past and will discuss current problems facing CSEA's county division chapters.

Park, Playground Workers

Many Jobs ‘Til March 7

Park and playground workers have only until March 7 to apply for the seasonal jobs this year. City needs about 1,200 parkmen, 1,700 park helpers and about 800 playground assistants to work from spring to autumn. Many of these positions are already filled but there are still many open. The positions are non-competitive for male and female, and any citizen of the United States may apply. But wherever possible, persons previously employed by the Parks Department or Parks of Parks will be given preference.

The job of seasonal parkmen requires that applicant be in good physical condition, do some loading and unloading, operate hand and power grass cutters and other equipment required for maintaining park areas, pick up litter, etc. Applicant must be at least 18 years of age and be able to stand and walk at least 8 hours per day. The salary is $2.231 for starting grade, $2.978 to $3.175 per day.

The written test will be held on Wednesday Mar. 1 at 5:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., Mondaay, Feb. 25. The job pays $10.00 per day.

Urbanauts

FIVE New York City employees were honored last week for professional achievement at ceremonies at City Hall.

In making the presentation, Deputy Mayor Timothy Costello, Jr., said: "Urbanauts are the dramatis personae in the accomplishments of these men. "This," he said, "describes their deeds—they pioneered and innovated in a solution of the problems of our urban society."

While only five employees were so cited this year, practically all employees could be honored for accomplishing, each in his own way, similar feats.

Public employees working behind the scenes are responsible for running city government and their innovations and pioneering spirit result in a better City in which to live.

To the five honored employees, Joseph Fink, deputy inspector, Police Department; Peter C. Goldberg, Jr., executive assistant to the Director of the Budget; Martin Lang, Director of Water Pollution Control; Joseph P. Nardi, chief accountant, Office of the Comptroller; and Leo Zippln, professor of mathematics, Queens College, we say congratulations.

And to the other employees who could fit the description of urbanauts, we say congratulations also, and keep up the good work.

Death Gamble

A CASE THAT does credit to the humanity of the Court as well as its legal scholarship was recently decided at Special Term, New York County (Wein v. Leary, New York Law Journal, January 10, 1969).

THE WRAP PROCEEDING was brought under Article 71 by a New York City patrolman's widow for a determination of pension benefits. The widow was successful because the Board of Trustees of the Police Pension Fund, Article 2, refused to include the deceased patrolman's accumulated vacation and terminal leave time for purposes of ascertaining his length of service. By the exclusion of such time, the decedent was found to lack the minimum period of twenty years for "death gamble" benefit eligibility. In this way, the widow was deprived of substantial benefits.

JUSTICE VINCENT A. Lupiano held that the Board of Trustees is mandated to consider unused vacation or terminal leave time in determining a member's service. In the Justice's words:

"In all normal calculations of any such service period, unused vacation time and terminal leave accrued are always taken into consideration as a matter of practice, if not, in fact, as a matter of right.

ANY OTHER construction of the legislative intent would extend the member's service period beyond the minimum time selected by him to enjoy the accrued rights, thereby infringing upon benefits "secured by dint of a lifetime's labors."

MOREOVER, as the husband of petitioner, if he had lived, would have been eligible to file for retirement before the expiration of his twenty years' service by taking advantage of his accrued vacation and leave time, there is no reason why his widow should not have the same protection.

JUSTICE LUPIANO stressed that legislative intent and language should be interpreted to favor maximum benefits to the beneficiaries. The deceased served honorably in a most difficult occupation for almost twenty years. He died shortly before the expiration of the twenty-year period, but had worked to accrue vacation time which, together with terminal leave time, equalled the twenty year period. It would be unconscionable to regard the employee's death as forfeiting his accrued and vested vacation and leave time thereby depriving his widow of benefits which he had earned and merited.

EVEN IF THERE were disagreement as to Justice Lupiano's conclusion that inclusion of vacation and terminal leave time is mandatory for purposes of determining pension rights, it would rule that the leave time may be included in the pro- er exercise of the Board's discretionary authority. This follows from Section B18-15.0 of the Administrative Code of the City of New York empowering the Board to determine and modify allowances for service within limits to reduce the statutory period of service required in any particular order for "death gamble" benefits.

WHILE THE Constitution of the State of New York pro- hibits the City from making a gift of public funds, the discre- tionary authority of the City of the Board to reduce the statutory period of service when fixing his minimum amount of service rendered in any year, does not involve a gift of public funds but merely a determination that the petitioner is entitled to take advantage of maximum pension benefits.

THUS, JUSTICE Lupiano, and in accordance with sound legal doctrine ruled that the Board of Trustees Pension Fund, Article 2, must make a determination of the deceased patrolman's accumulated unused vacation time and terminal leave in calculating the service rendered by him prior to his death so as to render his widow eligible for "death gamble" benefits. Even if the inclusion of such vacation and terminal leave periods is not mandatory, the Board has a discretionary authority to make such determination.
Scholarships Set
For Daughters Of Public Employees

(Special to the Leader)
DENVER — Daughters of employees of Federal, state, or local governmental agencies will be eligible for a new National Public Service Scholarship program sponsored by Loreto Heights College (for women) in Denver, Colo.

A student can qualify for the grant — $700 a year — if either parent is a government employee and if she stands in the top third of her class academically. The scholarship is not based on need but on recognition of public service.

Qualifications include: a notarized statement of a parent's employment by Federal, State or local governmental agencies; high academic achievement as shown by class standing at the end of the seventh semester and the results of the College Board Examinations, with English and Mathematics (SAT scores); and recommendations by the high school principal and two teachers at the candidate's high school.

Applications for the NPSS are being accepted up to April 1, 1969. The college is located at 3901 South Federal Blvd., Denver, Colo. 80222.

Postal Supervisor Promotions Soon

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson reports that about 37,500 postal employees have earned eligibility for promotion in 1969.

The two promotions this year are the last two promotions in the postal operations career path. Those employees are those who have scored highest in the series of supervisory examinations given to 300 postal offices during September, October and November of 1968. A record 82,000 employees took the test.

The promotions resulting from these tests will begin in February when the new supervisory examiners, listing competitions by score, are scheduled to be established.

There will be separate lists for promotion in the postal operations specialty, the vehicle service and the maintenance service.

The examination is the first step toward advancement to first-line supervisory spots. When vacancies occur, promotion advisory boards in local post offices review the eligible on supervisory rosters, interview the individuals, rate them and recommend three to five to the postmaster, who makes the final choice.

Pick the right day to test drive a Volkswagen and you'll have the road to yourself.

Back when the weather was good, everybody was inviting you to come in and test drive their new Volkswagens.

But now that the weather isn't so good and a test drive is really a test, the invitations have dropped off sharply.

Now maybe you can spare a little time to try out the new Volkswagens.

Not right this minute. Wait for a nice lousy day. The next time it's snowing or slushing or something like that, drive down to your VW dealer. If you can make it in your car.

Half be happy to take you out and show you how a VW works when hardly anything else does.

How the weight of the motor on the rear wheels makes the VW dig in and go, in the snow or the mud, or even on ice.

As you pass all the stranded cars that passed their test drives in balmy days, he'll tell you about the VW's other cold-weather comforts.

The air-cooled motor. It doesn't freeze over, so it doesn't need anti-freeze or a winter thermostat.

And if you have to leave the car out on a cold wet night, it's got four coats of paint and a sealed bottom to keep it cozy.

You've even got an edge with a Volkswagen if the worst happens and you get stuck.

What could be easier to push?

Research for Protection... so more will live.

Respiratory diseases cause or contribute to about 80,000 deaths a year in the United States. They are the major cause of time lost from school and work. Tuberculosis remains a major public health problem. Discovery and treatment methods which are the results of years of research have greatly improved, but TB can only be wiped out when research provides the answer to prevention and eventual elimination.

Air pollution contributes to the increase in respiratory diseases. The contamination of the air is largely caused by the waste products of man: fumes from internal combustion engines; smoke from power plants, oil refineries and other industrial operations; open burning; trash piles and incinerators.

In every community in New York State, Health Associations work diligently to secure the funds necessary to continue the fight against respiratory diseases and combat air pollution. Their major source of income is the sale of Christmas Seals. The power of the Christmas Seal is unique in the history of voluntary giving. Not only has the Seal raised millions of dollars, but it also has alerted the public to the problems of air pollution and school health. Support your local health association by purchasing and using Christmas Seals.

Benefits for Protection... so more will be secure.

The Statewide Plan—since its beginning in 1937—has been improved and expanded to provide more protection for eligible persons and their dependents against the steadily rising costs of hospital and medical care. The power of the Christmas Seal is unique in the history of voluntary giving. Not only has the Seal raised millions of dollars, but it also has alerted the public to the problems of air pollution and school health. Support your local health association by purchasing and using Christmas Seals.
Sewer Maintenance Foreman Exam Set

Promotions will be made to the title of district foreman of sewer maintenance as a result of an examination to be given by the New York City Department of Personnel May 10. Applications will be accepted through Feb. 25. There are five vacancies at present with a salary range of $9,300 to $10,340, with additional vacancies occurring from time to time.

For applications come to the Department of Personnel at 49 Thomas St. or mail a self-addressed stamped envelope with an application request to the Department. Mail requests must be postmarked no later than Feb. 18.

Six Different Jobs In One Broad Exam

Examination for the position of attendant, elevator operator, office appliance operator, messenger, process server and watchman will be held approximately in May.

The exam will be the same for all six positions and be based upon general intelligence. No formal educational requirements are demanded. One list will be set up with all six jobs listed from it.

The City Civil Service Commission has just ordered this new type of test and applications will not be open until some time in March. The leader will carry the announcement when it is.

Youth Appointed Head of City School Program

Dr. Buei C. Gallagher, president of City College, has announced the appointment of Robert Young as director of the City College program.

The School District has announced that the Board of Education will hold the rank of Associate Dean in the College of Liberal Arts and Science, succeeding Allan B. Ballard, Jr., who has been appointed Dean of the College.

A new program of the City College program (Scholarships for Students) has been announced by Dr. Gallagher.

This program, which is part of the City University's effort to enroll students from underprivileged areas, will cover the academic backgrounds of the students who do not meet the requirements for matriculation.

Tuition will be charged, but a small auxiliary fee will be charged.

Brooklyn College Math Project To Raise J.H.S. Teaching Level

The National Science Foundation has announced a Brooklyn College project to raise the level of matriculation for the Junior High School.

The Federal agency has granted $47,673 for the project to be carried out in cooperation with the Board of Education. It will begin during the summer session and continue through June, 1968.

According to Dr. Lester L. Gavurin, Mathematics and director of the program, the project will improve the level of achievement of those students in the public schools and help expand the Junior High Math teaching capabilities. The modern approaches to teaching math also will improve teachers' teaching ability and enlarge the pool of teaching personnel.

These two classes will be held during the academic year on either Thursday or Friday evenings, depending on the group's preference.

Funds made available by the National Science Foundation will permit participants to receive free college courses, to help students meet regular requirements for matriculation, and to provide in-service training for teachers.

Each participant in the National Science Foundation sponsored project will receive a $45 stipend for the six-weeks work, in addition to the tuition fees, but a small auxiliary fee will be charged.

The New York City Board of Education is calling for the selection of local school board members to succeed those whose terms will expire June 30.

President John Dror and the Mayor have announced the selection of local school board members. The Board of Education has recommended reorganization of the Board of Education with the plan which has been submitted to the Mayor and to the State Board of Education.

Dr. Dror and Mr. de Blasio are scheduled to act in the spring.

Because of the possibility of a change in the number of selection of local school board members, it would seem to be an impractical position to carry out the entire procedures of the Board of Education.

The seems to be a change in the number of selection of local school board members, it would seem to be an impractical position to carry out the entire procedures of the Board of Education.

The Board prefers to await the results of the review of prospective appointees by the City-wide Board.

The Board has been asked to provide the number of selections which has been submitted to the Mayor and to the State Board of Education.

A test for City bus operators and conductors is to be held on April 19 with filing open all this month. A large number of men will be needed during the next year for these positions. The test will probably be about the same as last year, although they have not yet been firmly established.

The job pays between $3,745 and $4,193 per hour for 40 hour work week for bus operators, and $2,475 up to $3,850 for conductors for the same time period. These salaries go into effect July 1, 1969.

The examination is open to men and women who have not yet reached the age of 25, meet the minimum driving requirements, and have served as a bus operator in the City for at least five years, four inches in height, and are otherwise medically qualified and will be certified for conductor.

Candisates for bus operator must have a motor vehicle operator's license for at least two years immediately prior to the date of establishment of the eligible list. Serious moving violations or accident record may be sufficient for disqualification. License suspensions, disqualifications, or disqualification will be required to pass the physical test.

Candisates for the position of conductor do not have to meet any license requirement.

The physical test will evaluate the candidate's strength and agility. The full two year requirement is otherwise satisfied.

Many Car Maintainer Jobs In NY Subways

Young men who want to get into the subway system will have the opportunities this year. The New York Transit Authority has announced tests for the position of car maintainer trainee, tentatively for June 21, with the filing period for the exam open in May.

There is also a promotional exam for which the filing period will be in April.

Training program salary over a three-year period is presently $2,13 to $3.31 per hour. Applications should be made at the New York City Department Appointment will be made upon receipt of a chauffeur's license, class 4, at the end of a training period.

Candisates for the position of conductor do not have to meet any license requirement.

The physical test will evaluate the candidate's strength and agility. The full two year requirement is otherwise satisfied.

Starve a rat today.

The directions are simple. Keep the lid on your garbage can, tight. With your garbage inside. Always.

Rats are smart. If a hungry rat finds there's no loose garbage on your premises, he won't hang around for long. Neither will his brother rats. They'll get the message fast.

There are millions of rats in New York City. Each rat consumes some 17 pounds of garbage a year. To get at it, he'll climb brick walls, swim half a mile underwater, gnaw through cement and swing from exposed ceiling beams. In his spare time he creates more rats, with a single pair producing 880 descendants a year.

To fight the rat, the city's Department of Health is attacking the loose garbage problem on two fronts. One is a block-by-block cleanup crusade in all five boroughs. The other is a campaign urging every household to stow garbage in the can, with the lid on, at all times.

New York has often been described as a "rat race" by visitors bewildered by the city's fast pace. Now New York is making the rat race a lot tougher. For the rats.
