What Every Sergeant Should Know

Study Material for Coming Police Test: Part 4

Below is the fourth installment of the study material series for the coming Sergeant’s exam. The study material is compiled by an outstanding authority, regularly until the exam is given. Each candidate for the exam is asked to look upon this series as though he were taking a course in school. The method employed is to give you a question one week and then the answer the next. During the interim, you should study the answer closely and compare it with the one that appears here. The series is based on the material upon which every prospective Sergeant will need to know for the exam. Last week’s question was:

Promotion Ordered for Sanitation Men
Class A Men Will Compete for $1,960 Jobs—400 of Them

A promotion examination for 400 positions for Sanitation Attendant—Messenger, with a salary of $1,960, was ordered this week by the Municipal Civil Service Commission following a request of Mayor La Guardia for better grades for the Commissioner of Sanitation. Mayor La Guardia has named the eligible list to be made from the examination, he will be eligible to compete.

At the same time the Commissioner announced that the eligibility list will be limited to men with one year’s experience in the Sanitation Department, provided they are 21 years of age or older or have had at least six months in the armed forces. The required grade will be limited to men with one year’s experience in the Sanitation Department. A high school education will be required for all positions. A no-filing date or official requirement for the promotion test has not been announced. Full details will appear in the Leader.

Since thesanitation workers have recently been brought into line with department and union men who have ever before been held for Sanitation grades, the Commissioner must work out a formal method whereby a grade promotion from A to B and B to C. It is expected that eligibility will be an important factor in the actual examination. A passing grade will be limited to men with one year’s experience in the Sanitation Department. The actual examination is a possibility.

As the Leader revealed last week, a budget surplus of $40,000 will be available for promotions. The number of Class B men from 6,050 to 6,800 is available for promotion. To men on the new list promotions will be made on a golden opportunity, for as $40,000 has been set aside for 6,000 men, it will be divided among 6,800, it will be divided among 6,800 men on the new list. In some cases, grants may be saved to complete a promotion examination to be held later.

LaGuardia Foreman, as revealed in an exclusive Leader article last week, was ordered to fill vacancies in the sanitation department and will soon be made to fill the new sanitation district.

The Leader will keep all eligible men informed of promotions through their promotions. Men will be notified of promotions in their respective promotions.

Civil Service Changes Await His OK

A completely new set of rules for the Municipal Civil Service Commission is now on Mayor La Guardia’s desk, awaiting approval. These rules are a codification of the rules which have been in effect for many years, but which have never before been gathered together.

Since the recent public hearing held on these proposed rules, a number of changes have been made, and certain errors of omission have been corrected. Mayor La Guardia has had some of Government Leader, as revealed in an exclusive Leader article last week, were ordered to fill vacancies in the sanitation department and will soon be made to fill the new sanitation district.

State Digs Deep Into Hospital Attendant List

Only 76 out of 1,177 Willing to Accept Jobs in N.Y.C. Area, Zone 4

By MORTON YARMON

With alarming rapidity, officials of the New York State Civil Service Commission are dipping deep into the Hospital Attendant list in their continuing efforts to fill the numerous positions which are available. Up to now, according to the latest information, there were 1,177 eligibles on the list. The number of appointments made by the State so far was 15.

The Civil Service Commission officials echo the findings of various other governmental agencies that the five boroughs and Long Island, with the notable exception of the Westchester County Commission, are dipping deep into their lists:

"We have an abundant number of eligibles, or two-thirds of the entire list," said a member of the Civil Service Commission last week, this was the situation in zone 4, which takes in the five boroughs, Long Island, Westchester County and the city of Peekskill, and with a total of 10,242 eligibles, or two-thirds of the entire list.

15 appointments have been made at the Midtown State Hospital, Brooklyn, and three at Brooklyn State Hospital.

One of the main Civil Service issues in the past year has been the possibility of appeal. Meanwhile, the Civil Service Commission's time is presently spent on a number of bills already in the hopper, some idea of what the administration will push for can be deduced from Governor Rockefeller's message to the legislature. Here's what he had to say about Civil Service:

"1. The policy of the State has been to continue to be disbursed toward extending and strengthening our Civil Service. In recent years, new measures have been adopted to effectuate this policy. Those of our civil service laws, salary standardization and increased opportunities for advancement, have maintained and enhanced the morale of our employees."

This is direct appeal of the Feldman, Greenberg, and Medoff law, necessary one of the main Civil Service issues in the past year. It would also indicate that the proposed 1941-43 budget, soon to be announced, will give increased appropriations to the State Civil Service Department, together with a provision for the State Board of Civil Service to examine by eligibles.

Although the State Legislature is yet to act on any of the dozens of bills already in the hopper, some idea of what the administration will push for can be deduced from Governor Rockefeller's message to the legislature. Here's what he had to say about Civil Service:

2. "In addition," said the Gov-

or, "the State has taken steps to extend Civil Service to non-competitive employees. At the time of last year's appointment of the 'Junior' list, we had increased the number of eligibles to over 2,000. The number of permanent Civil Service employees has been increased by the recent changes in the classification, amounting to over one thousand, bringing the total of Civil Service employees up to 18,000."

The General Assembly is presently considering the alteration of the State Civil Service system to non-competitive employees. The change would entail the establishment of a new classification, a change in the classification of Civil Service to 300,000 public employees in towns, counties, villages, and school districts as now covered by Civil Service is scheduled to report its findings to you at the institution needing the Attendants.

PDT Confused by Judge Decision

Civil Service employees as far as Civil Service legislation will appear recently. The post was vacated by a decision of the State Civil Service Commission which has been altered by a decision of the Board of Judges in a case involving the appointment of the 'Junior' list.

"The policy of the State has been to continue to be disbursed toward extending and strengthening our Civil Service. In recent years, new measures have been adopted to effectuate this policy. Those of our civil service laws, salary standardization and increased opportunities for advancement, have maintained and enhanced the morale of our employees."
A new demand for card punchers arose when the Allen Registration Unit announced that it would hire new employees, bringing the total for each one of the several million aliens who will be registered. The number of adults and employers in the country, etc., will be punched on cards.

The Census Bureau, despite the fact that it is lacking hundreds of coders and editors in Washington, needs several hundred additional machine operators, including punchers and calculating machine operators.

A large number of card punchers were needed for the Central Registration Unit and an additional number of card operators is expected later this week.

The Commission has raised the number of cards that it will have available to the public for the Census of the United States, which will be announced, de­spite the fact that a new test has been announced, da­vide, etc., as on the de­mand.

Appointments Now For Cop Eligibles!

The Patrolman eligibles make a powerful argument in their bid for appointments. Sticking to facts and statistics rather than emotions, they point out that, according to the present draft set-up, no more than five percent of any single group of eligibles under the Civil Service would be called into the army, without much less than that percentage have been called. But suppose that 200 eligibles were taken on to bring the police force to full strength. Of this group, 100 would be married, and would be deferred in any event. Of the remaining 200 men, only 12 would be drafted in the light of statistics issued by the Selective Service Board. Assuming that 10 percent would be drafted, that still means only 20 men would be taken.

With this argument the eligibles blow up the contention that no appointments should be made, because the men are being drafted into the army. While this trained, capable list of men is available, there is no reason to requisition a supplementary police force from the ranks of WPA—and there is no reason why the city should be under-policed.

Board of Appeals

A MAGNA CHARTA for Postal employees.

That's the glowing phrase used by men and women in our post offices to describe the Board of Appeals. The Board doesn't exist. It's something for which they have been petitioning the Civil Service Department for years. The Board of Appeals would stabilize relations between employees and officials; provide a fair means of reviewing the action of administrative officials; render it more difficult for petty officials to impose their will; eliminate the mystery and fear of being fired or demoted, and is plenty fond of his job...

Clerk Eligibles “Begin Fight”

From the letters to The Leader in the January 7 issue:

“Dear Sir: Among the letters to the Leader in the January 7 issue of that paper, I was glad to see a letter from one of the eligible clerks, "Bail Lot of Cop Eligibles!"

I think the title is entirely fitting. I have written a number of letters to the Leader about our situation, which might similarly be described as 'Bail Lot of Clerk Eligibles!'

Whalen Chautauqua Board

At a meeting of the Educational Sub-Committee, Frank D. Whalen, Joint Committee of Teachers, presented a resolution to the Board to vote an additional $18,000 for full pay scale for junior clerks and to discontinue its policy of retaining full pay absence for clerks who have been ill. Mr. Whalen termed the refusal of advanced salary as teachers in charge to those who have been ill as the "bacon of lawn" and expressed his objections to it. He pointed out that the number of days of absence among clerks was increased from 2,023 in March, 1910, to 3,768 in March, 1911.

The Joint Committee chairman characterized as "sharp practice" the Board's policy to refuse appointment to teachers-in-charge to those who have been ill. Mr. Whalen said that the Board, while refusing assignment as teachers-in-charge to those persons, continues to require the teachers in charge to which these assignments are to be made, to be done by teachers-in-charge, without assignment." He expressed the opinion that the Board's refusal of advanced salary was established, to be done by teachers-in-charge, to provide full pay scale for junior clerks and to discontinue its policy of retaining full pay absence for clerks who have been ill. Mr. Whalen stated that the refusal of advanced salary as teachers in charge to those who have been ill was trebled if the teachers in charge are examined. The Mayor said that he had been advised that the decision of the dual-job law and its purpose was to spread employment.

"The one thousand hours' practical exam for playground supervisors has been in effect for two years. We were meant one year—one year, one year, and we meant one year. The Appellate Division handed down that very decision to that effect. We meant one year—and we meant a hundred years for that to happen," Mr. Whalen said.

Mr. Whalen said that the Board was pointed out that associations of teachers and the teachers' organizations requested the Board to pay the maximum wage scale of $1,800 to junior clerks as provided by the vote of the Board in 1911. At the top scale of $1,800, Mr. Whalen said that there would be an increase of more than 1,000 teachers positions.
