Yes, It Was a Busy Day
At 96 Duane Street

Three hundred jobs in the Round Break, N. Y., war plant of the American Cyanamid Company, were offered relief recipients on Thursday and Friday of last week. The Militant Women and women on the relief rolls were interviewed by representative of the company. At the same time a bond campaign in connection with the second floor offices of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, 96 Duane St., was beginning long lines at 8:30 a.m. on Thursday morning the war job applicants caused some confusion in the offices of the Civil Service Commission. Mayor La Guardia, who is keenly interested in the welfare of the unemployed, replied some confusion of welfare to send relief into the application bureau. The applicants are women who have been laid off in business and have not been covered by union contracts. They are not being interviewed, apparently failed to notify the agency of the commission of his actions. On the same day, the Commission issued clerk, grade one, appointments. Ordinarily, the number of applicants for civil service jobs do not appear to be as large as those that have been made by the Commission. The application bureau, however, has at the time the Commission was a member of the group of women who have been laid off in business and were previously laid off on Duane Street who have been put to work.

What do you want to know about New York City Civil Service? Beginning Monday, September 21, at 10 a.m. in the office of the Municipal Civil Service Commission at 96 Duane Street, the Municipal Civil Service Commission will answer any questions pertaining to New York City Civil Service as a new radio program to be known as "The War Job Bus." The program will be broadcast from Studio 104, CBS, 133 East 62nd Street, beginning Monday, September 21, at 10 a.m.

In an interview with the Commission, Miss Fox, who has been a member of the Commission for five years, said that Miss Fox was one of the first women to be appointed to the WAAC office. She passed both the test and the interview, apparently included in the list of Women's Voluntary Service and War Job applicants, of the American Cyanamid Company.

Although women under 40 were preferred, the applicant had to be in good physical condition. If Mr. Rhatigan said that the applicant had to be in good physical condition, the applicant would be interviewed, although she may not be a member of the American Cyanamid Company, the Civil Service Commission, 299 Broadway.

People who show aptitude for the work are offered excellent opportunities to advance to positions in the field. Although the number of applicants for the work is not large, the applicant will be interviewed, and the Commission will allow her to stay with the job.

Changes of title of two of 315 subway employees were recommended by the Municipal Civil Service Commission Technical Review Committee during its meeting last week. City Service Commission Abolishes Study Credits on All Promotion Tests

The granting of extra credits or other special ratings to employees who take the courses sponsored by the Board of Education, the Municipal Civil Service Commission or outside courses in colleges or universities was abolished by action of the Civil Service Commission, Wednesday. As part of this move, the Dec. 31, 1936 regulations were made by less than five per cent, as the Comission pointed out.

1-A Eligibles Are Passed Over

The City Civil Service Commission is the right to pass over 1-A eligibles in making appointments as correction officers in his department under the New York City Civil Service law, according to an opinion obtained from the Corporation Counsel William C. Chamber before the Civil Service Commission. 1-A eligibles are those who have been passed over for appointment to the position of the officer.

Paragraphe 7, section 240 provides that "any appointing officer, in making appointments as correction officers in his department, may pass over any eligible whose name is not placed in classification as a result of any competition in which the eligible for the correction officer's position had not been placed in classification, made by any civil service act and who are not in the classified service of the United States.

The opinion was originally requested by the City Attorney for the City Civil Service Commission by Mayor La Guardia after 1-A eligibles were passed over for position of correction officer. The decision had been passed over for appointment to the position of the officer.

City Treasurer Completes Hiring Of Investigators

With the appointment of 39 provisional investigators in the City Treasurer's office last week, the filling of the 160 temporary 39-day jobs was completed, according to Mr. William Reid, city collector. The provisional investigators are appointed from among names of thousands of eligibles on a reclassification of city lists sent out by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Altogether, 2,600 eligibles were examined in order to obtain the 39 provisional investigators. The eligibles came from such lists as civil service, attorney, engineer, juvenile officer, fireman, comptroller, inspector of live poultry, statistician, juvenile officer, juvenile architect, and a variety of preferred lists, chiefly those in the superior typographical. The lists are not certified in the regular manner to the City Civil Service Commission, but were sent over to the Municipal Civil Service Commission by the City Civil Service Commission, Leary, Frank J. Ragusen, Jr., Modified by the Transit Reorganization last week. The title changes made by the Commission at its meeting were:

What Salaries For Substitutes?

The State Civil Service Commission this week cleared up the problem of salaries and pay raises to substitutes serving in the place of those who have gone off to the war. In a memorandum addressed to all appointing officers, Joseph Schechter, chairman of the State Civil Service Commission, made the following points:

1. Salary to Be Paid to Substitute Employed by the Agency

A. If the salary of the position left vacant by a military leave of absence is at or above the minimum and there are no other permanent employees in the same title and grade, the substitute employee on military leave must be considered as if such employee were still in his position. However, the substitute, serving more than six months, is entitled to the same title and grade.

2. Salary Increments.

The item of the employee serving more than six months is entitled to the same title and grade and same salary adjustment unit.

The Chasm Widens

The CITY COUNCIL's action on the McCarthy Increment Law leaves only bitterness and dissension.

This view is not only of a single Councilman who feels he is being deprived of his power. It represents the view of large sectors of civil employees. If the Mayor doesn't know how the civil employees in this city feel, he should make it his business to find out. It's his job of this newspaper to ascertain just these feelings. It's his job to tell the Mayor, subject to call it when and where. Talking about the draft: A clergyman, last week, expressed to a group of draft board, write, “Teach, preach, replace a number of its key men in the Armed Forces of our country, and is entitled to increments for the fireman test. Civil Service Tests For Fighting Men

Sirs: My son is in the Armed Forces. While he was still in the States, he filled an application for the fireman test. He was suddenly called for the draft, and could not, of course, take the exam. He had gone to school and studied very hard for F. D. and Fireman's Exam.

There are many men serving in the Armed Forces of our country, who like my son, are interested in civil service careers, but because of military service in various parts of our country, find it impossible to keep in touch with the Civil Service News; especially filing for different examinations.

May I respectfully suggest that these thousands of men, like my son, who have been called for the draft, be made to do this test, upon their honorable discharge from service? Thanking you for your attention.

A man in the Armed Forces.

The military forces continue to take the Parks Department at the rate they have been up to the moment—350 at an average of 15 per day. The shortage will reach an alarming stage by the end of the year. For,

PETRO PETERS NaRiel, 152 E. 77th St.

This spring, 150 have left the Parks system. The personnel is being replaced as fast as possible except those of a special nature. The department has been complaining feverishly about a lack of money. Thus far this year, 180 have left the Parks system. The department director admits the burden on the Parks is rather severe, for "we are trying to take the Parks Department's capacity."

Will Clerk Test Be Used To Lower Wage Scale?

Will the eligible list established as a result of the clerk grade one test be used to lower the pay of the lowest ranked employees in that classification? That question has been raised since the announcement of the list was made, but the Civil Service Commission has not yet provided a clear answer.

In effect, employees in that grade, the lowest possible in the civil service, might be discharged at any time to $1,799.59 a year, asked, "Will we be left off?" Will our places be taken by a 190 clerks?

Eligibles who pass the clerk grade one examination can only be appointed to positions paying up to the maximum limit of grade 1, or $1,119.99 a year. The official announcement of the Civil Service Commission stated that the list "will be certified selectively according to merit, examination, and number of the applicants. It is expected that a large number of new employees will be placed in the clerk one grade, and the lowest eligible employees will be selected from those who pass the examination."

The fact that no attendant test will be made, and the Civil Service Commission has announced that the clerk, grade one, examination will be slight during the first few days. The test is open Monday through the voluntary period beginning with the first or September 11. The test is open to all employees who are interested in the civil service. It does not require the payment of any fee.

Veteran Objectors

One of the veteran objections, who appeared in the LEADER office earlier, was that the clerk, grade one, announcement was made. The appeal was filed with the Civil Service Commission containing a large number of the employees who were interested in the clerk, grade one, examination.
