FEDERAL CIVIL SERVICE LEADER

Questions-Answers on War Transfers

BY CHARLES SULLIVAN

Can You Go to Another Job? What Do You Gain? What Do You Lose? What’s the Procedure?

One of the problems which have troubled civil service employees is this: “Can I get a transfer to another job?” As many questions on transfers pour into The Leader offices (and presumably those of the Federal Civil Service Commission) as on any other single problem. Well, here are the answers! The material on this page deals with a great variety of situations. While the advice here is based on the Civil Service status of the employee, you should read this carefully. A point of advice: Clip the material and hold it for future reference.

What is the purpose of the War Transfers Program?

The transfer program is designed to meet the immediate and most effective utilization of all Government employees in the war program.

Who administers the War Transfers Program?

The Civil Service Commission administers the program under authority granted by the Federal Civil Service Commission, under the direction of the Federal Civil Service Commission, and of the Civil Service Commission, for principles, policies, regulations, and rules.

What employees seek to transfer to other agencies?

Transfers of employees are authorized to meet the war needs of the Federal Government, and are normally made on a voluntary basis. Transfers to other agencies are authorized by the Commission, in consultation with the agency, in transfer of the employee to the Civil Service, for which they are eligible by examination.

Are all federal employees eligible for consideration for transfer?

Federal employees in the executive branch of the Federal Government are eligible for consideration for transfer. This includes employees of the non-represented employees, the executive excepted employees, the executive excepted employees, and employees of the executive excepted employees.

Are there any exceptions to this rule?

Yes, there are a few exceptions to this rule. These include: Substitute casual employees, clerical employees, and service employees. These employees are not eligible for transfer.

May I specify the agency to which I want to transfer?

Yes, you may. You may specify any agency to which you desire to transfer. If you desire to transfer to an agency, you must file an application with that agency.

Can You Go to Another Job? What Do You Gain? What Do You Lose? What’s the Procedure?

First consult your personal officer, or request the assistance of the Civil Service Commission, or any other officer in your own agency who can help you.

May I resign, and then seek re-employment with the same agency?

No. An employee receives re-employment benefits only if his resignation is found to be justified.

What is a release from your agency for war service?

A release from your agency for war service is a demand in war activities, and if your agency has decided that your services are needed, you may be released for war service.

What is the duration of the war and the re-employment benefits?

The duration of the war and the re-employment benefits are specified by the Civil Service Commission. Re-employment benefits are offered to employees who are released from their regular positions in the war effort.

If you are released from your agency for war service, you will be given re-employment benefits. These benefits include returning to your regular position after the termination of the war, and if you resign, you may be given re-employment benefits.

If you resign, you may be given re-employment benefits. These benefits include returning to your regular position after the termination of the war, and if you resign, you may be given re-employment benefits.

uers, it is the Civil Service Commission that will decide whether a new employee is eligible for civil service status for almost all positions, and the right to appeal a personnel decision.

Yes, they will want typists and stenographers in Washington, D.C., and they’re offering all sorts of inducements to those people who can help them manage time and space efficiency, and in some cases, to help them work in a higher grade and pay. The Commission wants to be able to offer these inducements, and it will consider any offer within the rules.

Do I mention retirement with the Government if I mention employment with the Government? Yes. If you mention retirement, you will mention employment. The Civil Service Commission, however, will not mention retirement with the employee, but will make those arrangements as a matter of course.

If you mention employment with the Government, you will mention retirement with the Government. If you mention employment with the Government, you will mention retirement with the Government. If you mention retirement with the Government, you will mention employment with the Government.

The United States Civil Service Commission has issued several statements on the subject of civil service status. Forgotten Men
Of the NYC Fire Department

EXCLUSIVE

A group of firemen who are eligible for appointment to the Fire Department have just turned up. A meeting of the Select Committee last week told the LEADER that there are over 100 men affiliated with the County Firemen who are not working as conductors in the subway tunnels. These men passed the last exams as subway conductors in 1940. Last week, February 12, the Fire Department met and voted to reclassify them as firemen. The men were offered appointments to the subway lines, but had to agree to work as conductors to get a Fire Department job for one year.

The year is up for a number of these men now. If they agree to work as conductors, the Fire Department is offering to give them a list of firemen's jobs to work on for the year. If they do not agree to work as conductors, these men will lose their Fire Department jobs.

The Board of Estimate seemed willing to give civil service employees that they already have.

Give You What You Have

H.R. John Cashmore, of the Civil Service Commission, would allow city employees to work on farms during their summer vacations, and city employees shall work after working as conductors in the subway tunnels.

The Board of Estimate seemed willing to give civil service employees that they already have.

How It Feels To Be A Rookie in the P.D.

"What sort of a rookie do you want to be this time?" asked Commissioner of Police John J. McClellan, the Police Department.

"Oh, almost no kind," he told them.

"How about a postal worker turned cop?" He smiled as he stood there in the 84th Precinct.

He seemed to some who make good interviewing material.

"What does it feel like to be a rookie cop?" McClellan asked.

"You see, you know what it feels like to be a rookie cop," McClellan said.

Following which he started to walk toward the "arena" and said, "I'd like to bring up an honest cop."

"I tell you of that. But I also have an opportunity to show you the atmosphere."

McClellan, who's just six feet tall, weighs 165 pounds, has a brown, brown eyes and black hair, looks very bit of 10. He walked in with a native all about him, with a self-confidence which was immediately noticeable.

He'd Been P. O. Clerk

This was the man who was called a "mail room" to get along with the mail in the Toronto hotel, and who was later appointed to the Fire Department.

This was the man who gave up a P. O. clerk position in the civil service, to grab a spot as a constable in the police force in 1935, after six months.

This was the man who was a father of a ten-month-old daughter, Bonnie Reile, who was turned last Wednesday and received the better last Thursday. He was waiting for his minute, minus cigarette, minus stick and rubber "billy" when informed.

"Ten weeks ago, at an uniformed experienced officer, rookie Reid sat looking at what best lack of knowledge, you suppose," he supposed.

"Then I'll be better and more helpful when I'm an officer in the Fire Department."

"He've been P. O. Clerk."

The rookie who walked in said his name in Norman P. Field, Jr. of 31 St. Mark's Avenue, Brooklyn.

"I did that rode in six and one-half months," he said, "and it's never been my intention to quit.

Here’s the Lowdown on Report Of the Subway Grievance Board

Back there on May 29, 1942, the LEADER had a lot regarding the functioning of the then newly-created Subway Improvement Committee.

1. The Subway Improvement Grievance Committee, which was set up to hear and argue disputes arising out of the job.
2. The Board of Transportation Committee of the Whole, which handles or is supposed to handle grievances, is apparently responsible for delays.

Nathan Frankel and Andrew H. Abernathy, head of the Grievance Committee, headed by W. Francis Fitzgerald, Jr., expressed the view that there is a delay, you can infer where it is coming from.

The LEADER Was Right

Last week the Grievance Committee submitted its first annual report, and what the LEADER has been saying all along, and that is stalling a whole tempoed of unrest between the Grievance Committee and the Board of Transportation itself.

(1) For the Committee has actual able to perform its duties, but the Board is directly responsible for any necessary delays in grievance matters submitted to it by the Committee; and that the Board’s lack of a straightforward policy as well as its failure can be blamed for much of the confusion and trouble today disturbing the union members and the city’s entire transport system.

(2) That the Board should not let union relationships in mind rather than with the legal technicalities.

The LEADER frankly quotes about the complete frankness of the Board’s letter to the LEADER, an unvarnished chairman, and bluntly asked:

Are you sure of begging for the Board?”

“We are just honest,” remarked Mr. Fitzgerald, adding, “As your paper noted some time back we’ve got a job to do and, sir, we’re going to do it.”

No Comment

Just what the LEADER Committee has said that any no disposed of the recommendations submitted to it by this Committee either immediately upon their submission, or shortly thereafter are some of the grievances concerned matters of policy, for which formal recommendations were made to the Board of Transportation, were numerous, small and of no consequence, of strictly by explanation, the number of employees affected was larger. CIVIL SERVICE IN NEW YORK STATE

Many Patronage Jobs to Be Filled in Exempt Class

ALBANY.—Senate confirmation of Governor Dewey's two appointees to the State Tax Commission cleared the way for distribution of innumerable patronage jobs in the exempt class with aggregate salaries running into thousands of dollars.

As president of the State Tax Commission, succeeding Carroll W. Mosley at $12,000, the Governor named Bosse Brown, 45, a New York City attorney.

At the same time, the Governor designated Glenn Hay, Shook, 46, the Republican county chairman of Niagara County, as successor to F. R. H. Wyck and Assemblyman Malcolm Wilson have introduced a bill designed to "preserve and safeguard the rights" of such persons.

It would extend to any man or woman, summoned from their regular jobs to duty in war industry, agriculture or any other war operation, the same protection and to prohibit the Legislature in two years closed the positions of men called into the armed forces.

In explaining his proposal, Senator Wilson stated that it would make one exception—dose not apply to persons called into the regular Army, which includes elective officers, persons over 30 years of age or by statute, all legislative employees and the state, "of the Secretary of State, heads of several departments, department superintendents or teachers, or election officials.

Bill Introduced To Protect Laborers' Rights

ALBANY.—A bill to protect the jobs of State laborers, in the non-competitive class from being discharged without cause has been introduced by State Senator Hennessey. The measure was introduced last week by State Senator Mealey, chairman of the State Senate's Civil Service Committee.

At present, Senator Hennessey explained, laborers are included in the competitive class, where laid-off workers in any year have an order of their appointment to the particular department in which they served. If they are laid off, they lose their positions and may be reemployed only in the same occupation or competitive list. If they have years of service, the State Civil Service Commission will order their reemployment in the internal service.

"They are then placed on a pre­ ferential list for reinstatement, certified according to their standing in the internal service. But that does not mean they will necessarily be reemployed. There may be vacancies."

Employees on the competitive or non-competitive lists do not have this protection. Many of them who have worked for a department for twenty-five years have been laid off, while others in the same occupation or competitive list have been kept on after they have put in fewer years of service.

"This bill will give the Federal Civil Service protection to laborers employed in State jobs. These are duration appointments. The employees are not released on the usual expiration of their contracts, but are paid to work."

State Clerk Jobs Will Start at $1,200 Salary

ALBANY.—Questionnaires going out now to the 26,000 clerks employed in the state civil service departments and carrying a reminder that these jobs, now paying $900 a year, will be increased to $1,200 a year, in line with legislation with the Governor, passed by the Legislature, and approved by Mr. Dewey.

The salary boost is intended to induce greater group of acceptance by eligible who also are asked whether they will accept a temporary or permanent appointment and where they want it.

While the Civil Service is notifying the candidates directly, persons who are interested are requested to fill in the application blank March 31, in line with legislation sought by Governor Dewey, passed by the Legislature, and approved by Mr. Dewey.

Fight for $1,200 Minimum

Representatives of the employees organizations meanwhile are preparing to make the $1,200 level the absolute minimum for State employes.

They will seek to have the lower bracket eliminated entirely from the State-Hamilton classification schedule.

HUNDREDS OF PLACES

It is estimated that 200 new appointments will be made under the law, which has been passed and approved by the Governor. There are probably hundreds of these jobs to be filled under the new schedule, filled meanwhile by temporaries.

Other Lists

Employment

It will be a month or six weeks until the first state clerk appointment is made.

"Appointments are being advertised, and approved by Mr. Dewey."

Court Attendant List

It is going to be only a month or six weeks until the first State Court personnel is appointed. Jobs are open in the Civil Service.

State appointments are made only on a minimum of activity. There are a total of three appointments in the first Judicial District in the new personnel list. In the Second Judicial District there are four appointments, the last being No. 13, which gives special preference to war workmen.

SURGICAL APPLIANCES

More Privileges Asked for School Custodial Men

ALBANY.—State Senator Halpern introduced the legislation last week a bill to place New York State custodial and janitorial employees in the same collective bargaining unit as the other employees of the Board of Education.

Under the present law they are excluded from the protection which other employees of the Board of Education receive.

In explaining his proposal, Senator Halpern stated that it would give an equal footing and salary standards for custodial employees and would prevent any by the Board of Education to re­duce the number of custodial employees.

"I believe that these employees should be given the same rights as employees of the Board of Education," Senator Halpern explained, "as entitled to equal consideration with other employees of the Board of Education, including the technical equipment, including the janitors and for the proper heating and ven­tilation of the building."

"The men are all high-school graduates and trained operating engineers. At the present time these duties are left to men because of the lack of instructions and keep the schools heated and ventilated. They spend the time in keeping the schools heated and ventilated. They are not to have the time to perform the functions of the City."

If You're A Veteran Of Civil War

ALBANY.—Veteran preference in State Civil Service jobs is limited, is limited to disabled veterans who were granted pension and the State Civil Service Commission provides that "every original appointment to a position in the State Civil Service is for a probationary term and may continue indefinitely," the State Civil Service Law itself contains these clauses:

"1. All appointments or employment in the classified service of the State (except employees in the non-competitive or exempt service)."

"2. An appointment or employment in the classified service of the State (except employees in the non-competitive or exempt service)."

"It is probable that the number of such appointments now exceeds 150—and is going up."

At the same time the report released by the State Industrial Commission, which submitted the report to the City Civil Service Commission, stating that it had 674 appointments of veterans at State civil service jobs. The number of these jobs, which has increased steadily since the beginning of the war, has been 674 appointments at the State Civil Service jobs. U. S. Needs Men in Many Trades

To Work on War Jobs Abroad

Hundreds of skilled and unskilled workers have a chance to put away their tools in the tropics.

The government has urgent needs for the men in four naval zone stations in Hawaii. American citizens should apply at the offices of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Room 915, 641 Washington Street, Boston. Men in the armed forces are desired, but the government will try to get draft board releases for 18 men whose skills are needed.

Here’s the information about those jobs in Hawaii:

There is a need for laborers who will be given a chance to advance skilled and semi-skilled jobs at better pay. Age limit 62 years.

Laborers needed in Honolulu. Meals provided. Hourly rate 2 $10 a person a month. For more particulars, write to the employment office in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Vancouver:

 Pharmacy assistants are wanted for jobs in Canada’s west. Applicants must have at least 18 years of age and must be willing to accept duties in connection with the sale of drugs. Applicants must have a legal certificate of registration and must be able to furnish proof of such registration.

Panama Canal:

Applicants for job openings at the Panama Canal must be able to furnish proof of possession of a valid certificate of registration.

You Get the Squeeze

I F YOU'RE a New York City employee, here's the squeeze. On the one hand, you won't be given leave for a year and a half. On the other hand, if you quit, the City won't pull up your pay. You're stuck in the middle.

Now, if you touch the department heads, as we do, and suggest that employees should have the right to take a new job and be able to come back to their old jobs after the war's over, you'll find their hands in pocket as rigid as your own. Their staffs will just be depleted, they say, and the departments won't be able to function.

It's a pity, then, that you resort, of course, is this: why should the employee take this?

It's amazing how much a pay raise will do to help the manpower situation in New York City.

UNLESS— unless the administration is really serious of shoring down the number of city workers drastically, and is willing to make the emergency a means of upholding this choice. The possibility that such might be the case has occurred to us, though we aren't imputing the thought to City Hall. But it's no illegal inference. What do you think?

TAKE IT EASY!

There are intimations from certain Republicans in Albany that civil service procedures may be "simplified," that civil service is nothing more than the employment agency for a bunch of clowns, so that many employees are on the way out because their appointments may have come via rules and regulations that "nobody can understand".

If they simplified anything, they'd be simplifying with a delight... He has found a method to bring about this relief. He gave himself away by making a statement in which he said that the Civil Service Commission, and specifically its President, Harry B. Mitchell, is handing out the greatest patronage in history.

Nonetheless, Senator McKellar, a Democrat, does not want you to think that civil service is all about, how it works—or the kind of job the Civil Service Commission has to do in war time.

The Senator's proposal is that every position paying over $1,000 a year be made a competitive civil service job.

Frightened men away from government service. Few competent people relish the thought of facing Senatorial cross-examination.

2. But he also advocates the charge of conscientious, able executives simply because they might have incurred Senatorial displeasure.

3. The incentive motive out of government service, because the man who had worked up to a $4,500 job was called back to the $1,000 level.

4. Be a godsend to those. It would give politicians a fine chance to "play ball" with each other in making or denying appointments.

Such a bill has no place on the calendar of the American Senate.

AGAIN, THE POSTAL MEN

We wish we had the time to bring this up again—

The postal men deserve better from the government. Their morale can't stand up forever against the shabby treatment they've been getting. Some concern over pay bill just doesn't work for postal workers. Year in year out, the problem of fairness to these men has never creased up as Congress. It's a smelly mess and for civility.

The $30,000 bonus plan advanced by the various postal organizations is a reasonable proposal.
CIVIL SERVICE LEADER

Temporary Patrolmen—

A Necessity or a Deal?

The story of the P.B.A., held in the City Patrolmen's Building recently, was of the kind which was being discussed in those rare places where the temptation to want to want to do something new and to do it in a way that the people would accept. Never were so many Cooperative groups brought together, and those who are doing the talking are in no mind to be swayed from their positions. The idea of the releasing a large number of temporary patrolmen to the Police Department to do the work that has been left undone because of the war, is being discussed. The Police Department is in the hands of people who have been working for months to get the work done.

They did not appoint those temporary patrolmen, they do not delegate and in effect, "but they expect them to do certain things that have already been done."
The idea of appointing them has been discussed and the idea of releasing them has been met with the same enthusiasm. They are to be released to do the work that has been hanging over the city for months because of the war. They are to be released to do the work that has been waiting to be done for months because of the war. They are to be released to do the work that has been waiting to be done for months because of the war. They are to be released to do the work that has been waiting to be done for months because of the war.

"Incompetemps" would be created with the idea of releasing them to do the work that has been waiting to be done for months because of the war. The idea of releasing them to do the work that has been waiting to be done for months because of the war. The idea of releasing them to do the work that has been waiting to be done for months because of the war.

Still Arguing About Park
Per Annum Bill

A conference between Commissioners Joseph Shamberg, sponsor of the much-delayed bill that would place certain parks employees on a per annum basis, and the representatives of the BCMVA and the press, which went on last week, showed that the employees representative insisted that they wanted per annum bill, but felt that the marriage and the former provisions of the bill made it inadequate.

According to Jack Bigel, Rural Director of Shamberg's agency, the employees representative insisted that the marriage could not be fully utilized by the agency to which the transfer is made.

However, the Commissioners refill felt that the marriage could be fully utilized by the agency to which the transfer is made.

The bill would provide for the marriage to be carried over in cases where the employee is transferred to another agency.

CIVIL SERVICE LEADER

WILLIAM McCLARY has urged public employees to vote for the New York Civil Service Reform Party. "If you don't vote, you don't care," Mr. McClary said. "You may not have the means to make a large contribution, but you can help elect candidates who will do something for you.

March 15 marks the expiration of the current contract between the Civil Service Department and the New York Civil Service Federation. Mr. McClary believes that there is a possibility of a new contract being signed by that date.

The New Deal administration has been accused of neglecting the civil service employees. Mr. McClary said, "The Civil Service is in a state of emergency. The government has not done enough to protect the rights of its employees."

Mr. McClary also expressed concern over the activities of the National Labor Relations Board. He said, "The NLRB is not acting in the best interests of the employees. It is siding with management in most cases.

"The Civil Service Department is in need of a strong leader. A leader who will fight for the rights of the employees and ensure that they are treated fairly.

"If you believe in reform, cast your vote for the Civil Service Reform Party. Let's make a change and improve the lives of public employees."
Hearings Open on Higher Pay for U. S. Employees

WASHINGTON—The ways apppears likely that there will be no change in the federal payroll this week for speedy action on the new Government pay adjustment bill to replace the stopgap pay act which expires April 28.

Rep. Jennings Randolph (D., W. Va.), chairman of a House Civil Service Committee, said yesterday that no action on the bill is expected until this week.

The Civil Service Sub-Committee on Civil Service Commissioner, however, contains three principal changes:

1. Time on pay at full time.

- and-one-half—instead of the present one-fifty per cent.

2. Elimination of the present two years of retirement with half pay for those who have completed the thirty years of service.

3. Reduction of the present retirement of one-fifty per cent of the post office De­

The by their own request, the postal workers have petitioned the Post Office De­
