Employee Debt Plan Hits Snag

U.S. TRAINS TYPISTS
WASHINGTON—Even a few short months ago there were scarcely enough of people, and good ones, to fill nearly every vacancy on Uncle Sam’s payroll in Washington.

Today, it’s becoming increas­ingly difficult to hire qualified employees, and the Government is beginning slowly to invert its own supply of clerical workers by training raw recruits.

At the Office of Production Management just last week a crew of boys and girls who had had no paid experience and very little training at a typewriter were hired from Civil Service rolls. The group were sent to a large room filled with typewriters. The boys and girls, mainly girls, were told to sit down and start typing. At the week’s end they were still typing, just for practice. When they get paid enough they’ll be assigned to regular work.

Uncle Sam’s payroll in Washington in short months has been nearly every vacancy on the Civil Service rolls.

In fact the Civil Service Commission has effectively advised the agencies hiring masses of stenographers and typists to install a training service. The Commission admits that, but it has to have the re­quirements for stenographers and typists to such an extent that many of the eligibles certified need ward­ship training of typing and stenography, accompanied by a survey of English usage, punctuation, spelling, paragraphing, etc.

Uncle Sam’s payroll in Washington is obvious. Billions are being spent for defense, and GAO must satisfy Congress that these bil­lions are being spent legally. That means GAO soon must hire sev­eral thousand additional account­ants and clerks to do the job.

A general membership meeting of the General Investigator Elig­ibles Association will be held in about three weeks, the executive committee announced this week.

The decentralization of the in­vestigator registrants was heavily supported by the active com­mittee. It was felt that the oppor­tunity for appointments would be much better under this new system than under the system of making appointments directly from Washington.

Machine Operation Training

Just about any sort of machine can be trained for here.

The LEADER has informa­tion, that training programs will be started through­out the Federal service in Was­hington in machine operations. In fact many already have started.

At the Office of the Quarter­master General in the War De­partment, raw talent is being trained to operate mimeograph machines. The Commerce Depart­ment is training photographic and typewriter operators. Department of Agriculture is training phonograph operators and GPO and OSM has trained some phone operators. The Navy will prob­ably also be starting some type of machine operations.

GAO now has 6,200 employees.

By Jan. 1, 1943, or just 14 short months, it’ll have 11,000 workers—an increase of 4,000 new employ­ees.

The reason for the mass hiring is obvious. Billions are being spent for defense, and GAO must satisfy Congress that these bil­lions are being spent legally. That means GAO soon must hire sev­eral thousand additional account­ants and clerks to do the job.

WASHINGTON.—Defense agencies to ‘Raid’ Non-Defense Units for Employees

U.S. Defense Agencies to ‘Raid’ Non-Defense Units for Employees

The LEADER revealed weeks ago that the plan was under consideration and just a few days ago a copy of a proposed execu- tive order was submitted to the Council of Personnel Administration for study and recommendations.

The purpose of the order was to permit defense agencies legally to raid non-defense agencies for workers.

It is known, too, that the Council, which is composed of personal directors in the various federal agencies, will approve the pro- posed executive order, but it is not known when it will be ready for use for some time. The new order, however, will give defense agencies the power to raid non-defense agencies for employees. Employment in Wartime
Just How Does a Lawyer Go About Getting a Gov't Job?

WASHINGTON.—By virtue of the Espionage Act and Executive Order No. 6763 of April 25, 1917, practically all legal positions in the executive civil service have been placed under the clas- sification of legal service. By the above Executive Order the President, in line with one of the recommenda- tions made by a special committee appointed by the Attorney General of the United States, this Board will have jurisdiction over the entire program of recruiting, examiingen, and appointing Government lawyers. The Board’s mem- bership has not yet been announced, and there has been no time for it to fully develop opering procedures. However, several important rules have been established at the present time, the program will be generally as follows:

1. The Board will prepare the description of the positions to be filled.
2. Candidates will be required to pass a written examination.
3. The examinees will be placed on a register of eligibles for the positions.
4. The positions will be filled from the top of the register.
5. The Board will issue a statement to the appointing officer in charge of the position.
6. The appointing officer will then make the appointment.
7. The Board will keep a record of the appointments made.

Employing Officers Must Employ

Employing officers in the interims, before establishing of registers, the initiative in making appointments to attorney positions will have to be assumed by the individual employing officer of the Government. By the terms of the Executive Order of April 25, 1917, all appointments to attorney positions will be made subject to the approval of the solicitor General of the United States. The Board will not interfere with the selection of the solicitor General.

Trainee Positions

The procedure outlined in the above paragraph is also ap- \plicable to legal trainee positions. The Board of Legal Examiners, however, has ruled that the Board lacks the power to establish a special register of eligibles for legal trainee positions. The Board will, therefore, accept the position that the solicitor General must make all appointments to legal trainee positions.

Trainee positions are those that are filled by persons who are completing their law school courses and who wish to qualify for appointment as attorneys. The Commission does not have in- formation as to grades received, but persons who are accepted for appointment as attorneys will be required to have a grade of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale.

The Board will have jurisdiction over the entire program of recruiting, exami-

They Aren’t ClockWatchers
Federal workers aren’t “time servers” and “clock watchers” who are “flying off the taxpayer at fist salaries.”

Luther C. Sneed, president of the National Federation of Federal Employes, last week entered appearances with the Department of Justice in support of such charges. Said he: “The unemployment is an economic condition and should be as better understood as it is better understood in the business world. But the misunderstanding of that in Washington and in the field, Federal employees are working hundreds of thousands of hours overtime without other additional compensation or com- pensation overtime.”

Pay Raises Seem Certain

On the pay-rise front, the House Appropriations Committee, in its $2,000,000 to give one-step raise to $2,000,000 for Federal workers for the next eight months.

Apprentice Automotive Trades Opens Opportunity for City's Young Men

The development of an extensive curriculum by the city's Civil Service Commission to prepare young men and women for careers in various public service fields was recommended last week to the faculty of the College School of Business Administration and Government by Dean Herb Feldman.

Dean Feldman's report, entitled "Specialized Training: A Proposed Program," and running to nearly 200 pages, argues for a program of suggested changes in the accredited curriculum of all departments to achieve outcomes that are "as satisfying as housing, education, and appropriate titles in the Department of Public Works.

The report indicates several possible methods of meeting the demand for specialized training in public administration. These include setting up an autonomous unit in the state's cities to carry out the required work.

Interest in Civil Service Training

"Until almost a decade ago, the Civil Service Commission was not interested in civil service employment," the report states. "However, the number of positions open to women has been increasing as the demand for new workers has grown. As the number of women in the workforce has increased, more women are applying for public service jobs."

Publication of the new fireman list will not be affected by the recent decision of the Civil Service Commission to promulgate lists as soon as they are completed. This means that the list will be available to the public without delay.

Publication of the new fireman list will go back to the old practice of publishing it as soon as the list is completed. This will result in a more efficient and timely delivery of fire protection services to the city's residents.

NewPatrolmanTestWill Be Easier Than Last

The list to be established as a result of the coming examination will be divided into two parts. The first part which will probably contain not less than 200,000 names will be used for the Police Department exclusively. The second part of the list will be for the title of special patrolman. Special patrolmen are employed in some city depart­ ments, the Board of Transportation, the Board of Water Sup­ ply, the Department of Welfare, the New York City Tunnel Authority, and the board of correction in the city penal institutions are also blessed from the special patrolman list.

On the last examination, candi­ dates who scored 80 per cent or better on the mental test, were placed on a third list called the P.D. No. 3 list. This list was estab­ lished for the use of the Police Commission for special investiga­tive work. However, the Police Commission has never used this list. Instead, eligibles on this list have been offered jobs as inves­ tigators with the Civil Service Commission, the Comptroller’s office, the Department of Mar­ kets, etc. The new examination ‘The LEADER has learned, will be the first for the estab­ lishment of a third list.

The title of the forthcoming patrolman test will be pub­ lished in next week’s LEADER.

ENGINEERING

TITLES IN STATE OF FLUX

On the recommendation of the State Examination Commission, Deputy State Engineer Henry C. Wrobsky to totaling 22 civil and engineering titles above their present salaries, which under the terms of the -existing engineering and architectural services, the titles of assistant engineer, engineer, and architects shall be increased by higher titles without examination. These titles include Civil Engineer, Architect, and other titles below.

- The position of the Commission approved a recommendation of Charles H. Moore, director of the National Lawyers Guild and Prominent Attorney, for the creation of a new engineer's position. The title of Engineer is proposed to be created for the purpose of assisting the Board of Water Supply in the performance of its duties.

CIVIL SERVICE BILLS Move Slowly

Read This Carefully; Your Future Is Involved

Six months ago, The LEADER published a check list of the important Civil Service bills then pending in various committees in the City Council. Last week, following the election of a new Council of commissioners to take office January 1, 1947, we sent through the records of the same committee. To be held in the bills were in exactly the same state as before. Below we publish these bills, along with some of the others that have since been introduced into the Council, but that no bill has been enacted by the end of this year. The present session of the new Council starts in February, but the bills can continue to be held in Committee until then.

The bill to provide policemen a 48-hour vacation in the next six weeks -known as the Jewish bill-will be introduced into the Committee on Ethnic Affairs.

Probation Explained

What Is the Meaning of the Phrase "Probable Permanent Appointment" in Civil Service Employment?

-A "Probable Permanent Appointment" in Civil Service Employment is an appointment that is expected to be permanent, given the satisfactory performance of the employee in his position. The employee's performance is evaluated through a probation period, during which they must demonstrate the ability to perform the duties of the position.

The process of obtaining a "Probable Permanent Appointment" typically involves an interview, a review of the employee's performance, and a decision made by the Civil Service Commission. Once an employee has been granted a "Probable Permanent Appointment," they become eligible for consideration for "Permanent Appointment" should they continue to perform their duties satisfactorily.

Banks Won't Go Along With Debt-Clearing Plan

The refinancing plan proposed for city employees heavily in debt has hit a snag and is not functional. The main difficulty is that the employees deeply in debt could obtain a loan of $1,000 from banks with personal loan departments. Upon the payment of a family loan, the Comptroller’s office by the bank, the bank would obtain the employee’s record from the Comptroller’s office. The employee would then be asked by the bank to sign a note, which is usually a mortgage or a lien on the employee’s property. The amount needed for the employee would then be decided by the bank, and the employee would then be asked to sign a note for the amount the bank was willing to lend. The employee would then be asked by the comptroller’s office to sign a note, which is usually a mortgage or a lien on the employee’s property.

70 Choice Positions in New Motor Unit Being Filled by Interview

By W. B. Strong

ALBANY—Two State departments—Civil Service and Taxation—are cooperating in a wholly new venture in the selection of provisional appointees for more than 70 choice jobs in the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Unit which opens January 1.

For the first time in the history of selecting personnel in any department, a representative of the Civil Service Department will participate in the interviews of applicants who are to be placed in the civil service by competitive examination. The Civil Service Commission is head of the interview of prospective provisional appointees.

Miss Grace A. Heavyside, deputy commissioner of the State Tax Commission, and Mark Graves, president of the State Tax Commission, of which the new bureau will be a unit, declared that the cooperative method they have invoked in choosing appointees is unprecedented.

The Background

Here, briefly, is the background:

The new bureau, created by the Legislature and targeted for 5,000,000 vehicles registered annually, will go into effect January 1.

It will soon thereafter have a personnel of 475 employees. According to Commissioner Graves, there will be but one except job: the State chairman, Bernard J. Culloton, is one of the employees who will come off existing civil service positions in these similar lists.

The new bureau will be something over 70 positions paying from $1,300 to $1,700 annually. It is thought that 70 appointees will be made on the civil service list after damage assessments; 50 evaluations made for the state's three automobile evaluators, and three principal damage evaluators. There will be spread around the state, appointed to assist the state industrial commissioner.

The purpose of the new bureau will be to gather in all aspects of the automobile industry and to make reports to the state industrial commissioner.

The public, labor, and employers will have a voice in the selection of these new bureau employees. The Civil Service Department willhave a representative of each of the above. The public through the State Mediation Board, labor through the Labor Mediation Board, the employers through the Labor Mediation Board.

Employers will have a voice in the selection of these employees. The Civil Service Department will have a representative of each of the above. The public through the State Mediation Board, labor through the Labor Mediation Board, the employers through the Labor Mediation Board.

A Problem of Demotion

Last week in discussing the new Wagner-Peyser Act, the LEADER extends the type of discipline facing State employees as well as those of all other governmental bodies.

Employer A was a junior clerk for the State Education Department. He was then promoted to assistant clerk. After holding the position of assistant clerk for several months, the Commission of Labor decided to dismiss the employee for inefficiency. Aircraft Training—Starting from Scratch

According to many military experts, it is necessary to play a decisive role in helping to decline the future air war, particularly in cases where it is necessary to fly at great altitudes or in rough weather. It was also pointed out that if a nation in the war that is necessary to operate against an enemy that has flying to a successful conclusion.

The important thing at this time, however, is the serious shortage of training facilities to be involved and assemble these important aircraft to aircraft, on the other hand, have designed with a view to develop a different craft for military wars, and for more and more used in commercial aviation. For this reason, it is now possible to offer a position to get the project under way. According נולד to Mr. Stephen Bliss, adminis­ terator of the Eastern Aircraft School, it is unnecessary for a man to have previous training or knowldge of aircraft instruments.

At Panama, PacelsHard, PayIsGood

37 Different Types of Jobs Now Open in Skilled-Craft Lines; Government Pays Transportation to Canal

At Panama Canal, if you're a skilled worker and can meet the requirements, the pace is hard, but the pay is good. There is no competition with special construction work at the Canal, and a variety of vacancies are anticipated. There was one for a seamstress, but that has already been filled. Those remaining are listed below.

Here are some facts you would like to know about work at Panama Canal: In general, the maximum age limit for appointment is 35 years. Applicants for naval service on the Istmo are 30 years (unless otherwise specified). Requirements are made if difficulty is experienced in finding workers who will meet the limit. Therefore, if you're over 50, don't forget that reason alone has to apply; there might be a chance for you.

Applicants must be citizens of the United States in good health, and physically sound. All tradesmen must serve a full apprenticeship. To those appointed, free transportation is furnished to the Panama Canal.

The positions in the Panama Canal Service on the Canal Zone are needed in civil service and civil service status is not compulsory. If you want to apply for one of the positions listed, ask for further information, communicate with the Panama Canal, Washington, D.C.

Graduation in engineering from a recognized college is required. Experience in the fields of engineering, design, and machine operation is necessary. Applicants must have had three years' experience. Must be experienced in erecting and repairing machinery, including laying out and doing the fitting work. Applicants must be familiar with all kinds of work on machines, pumps, and steam engines. Must be able to estimate time and labor allowed for work. Salary: $350-$450 per month.

Engineer, Civil

SALES ENGINEERS NEEDED AT ONCE

Executive sales engineers with extensive experience in the industrial machinery field should be familiar with important duties in the Department of Price Administration, Leon Henderson, Assistant Director, has announced. A number of positions in the Industrial and Agricultural Machinery Section are open to professional men with technical training and practical engineering background in the manufacture of pumps, compressors, blowers, elevators, conveyors, cranes, measuring instruments, mechanical and electrical equipment, construction machinery, fabricating machinery, and steam and electrical generating equipment.

Familiarity with the problems and methods of cost analysis, in estimating, and production is highly desirable.

The work of OPA is an essential part of the national defense program, Mr. Henderson said, and engineers being served will provide the country with equipment needed in service of the armed forces. Salaries range from $100 to $400 per month.

There will be no written examinations. Applicants will be rated on experience and educational qualifications. An opportunity exists for those with a college degree in economics or engineering to further their experience in the field of economic analysis by working on problems of recurrent interest.

Please forward all applications to Mr. Joel Doan, Office of Price Administration, Room 238, Temporary Building A, 14th Street, Washington, D.C.

Pay Raises Overdue

W E H A V E recently been. receiving a great deal of mail in regard to pay raises for State and local employees. However, there is one fact that seems to be overlooked by many of you: the Federal Government is in the same position as the State and local governments, and it is in the same position as the private industry.

Pay raises are a necessity, and they are due now. The time is ripe for a pay raise, and the time is ripe for a pay increase. The time is ripe for a pay increase, and the time is ripe for a pay increase.

The material that follows is the eleventh part of a complete study course to prepare can­ didates for the New York City police service examination. It has been prepared exclusively for The LEADER by Lieut. Ber­ tard, a former police officer and civil service educator. The student is advised to pay as serious attention to this material as if he were going to school. Every point of the text should be studied and clipped, week by week, from the beginning to the end of the book. The student is advised to cover every phase of information and method that will be necessary in the tests. Answers to questions will be found at the end of the chapter—answers, appear below. Questions 32 and 33 will be answered in next Tuesday's LEADER. In the meantime, work out the answers for yourself.

Answer to Question 32

D is correct. Article 1, section 8, of the new city charter January 1, 1938. B is wrong. The Penal law is a result of the laws of 1899, chapter 88, and is not providing for a punishment of crime. C is wrong. The Manual of Procedure is in effect to carry out regulations and rules of the court. G is correct. Article 1, Section 8, of the new city charter January 1, 1938. H is wrong. CIVIL SERVICE LEADER

Passing Is Not Enough

The First of a Series of Articles on Proper Promotion in Civil Service Examinations

By Gertrude R. Slavin, B.S., M.A. and Alvin Slavin, B.A., M.A.

Opportunities in public service have increased immensely within the last two years. Almost all government agencies are expanding their ranks to meet the needs of the National Defense Program. The future outlook for candidates who seek Civil Service jobs in the Federal, State, and Municipal governments promises greater openings for those who achieve the highest ratings in competitive or promotion examinations.

With this unprecedented growth of government personnel comes a corresponding increase in the number of persons seeking Civil Service examinations. Competition among candidates becomes keener. However, success in the written examination does not necessarily mean achievement of a passing grade in an examination is sufficient. On the contrary, merely passing means the candidate has met the basic physical and psychological requirements for the position. Successful applicants will never receive a promotion.

Civil Service jobs are only for life expectancy ranging from one to four years. These lists are established on the basis of a scheduled passing examination. The future outlook is based on the most of the list. Appointing offices are restricted in their selection of candidates to those graded highest on a list. For example, if 2,000 candidates compete in an examination, perhaps 2,000 will achieve a passing grade. If only 1,200 applicants are available, there may be only 1,200 positions open.

Two thousand persons, therefore, will never receive appointments. Obviously, passing an examination and being placed on a list do not guarantee an appointment.

Through Preparation Important

Thorough preparation, therefore, determines the difference between being appointed or continuing as part of the decreased on a list. A study of the Civil Service examination reveals that it consists, usually, of two parts. The first part, called the General Merit Test, measures the candidate's general knowledge and ability to make decisions. The second part, called the Professional or Technical Test, measures the candidate's specific knowledge and ability to make decisions. The General Merit Test contains all the elements of general intelligence: (1) knowledge of general knowledge, (2) logical reasoning, and (3) general information. The Professional or Technical Test measures the candidate's specific ability to make decisions. The General Merit Test indicates that there is a high correlation between the intelligence quotient and the candidate's ability to make decisions. A high intelligence quotient indicates a high capacity for decision-making. A low intelligence quotient indicates a low capacity for decision-making. The General Merit Test measures the candidate's ability to make decisions. A high General Merit Test score indicates a high capacity for decision-making. A low General Merit Test score indicates a low capacity for decision-making.

Applicants who have not previously taken the General Merit Test must bring with them a sufficiently high rating to be within reach of appointment. Candidates who have previously taken the General Merit Test must bring with them a sufficiently high rating to be within reach of appointment. Successful applicants will never receive a promotion.
