Conductor Exam Offers Excellent Opportunities

The opening of New York's new Sixth Avenue subway late this year will provide a variety of opportunities for men in the Transportation Department. The Commission has revealed plans for an open competitive exam for conductor. About 360 such jobs will be available on the new subway line. In all probability, most of these positions will be filled by men from the old lines, while the new men obtained will take their places on IRT, BMT, and Independent trains.

The open competitive exam for the conductor job will be given together with a promotion exam for the men who make the list from the promotion exam for the job. The promotion exam is open to about 300 persons. The competitive exam opens at all the present sanitation, porter, railroad, and special patrolman tests and will be held sometime in November.

Salary for the conductor's job is 75 cents an hour or 45 cents a week. Those who make the grade, however, begin as platform men, salary 40 cents an hour. Opportunities for advancement from the conductor job are excellent. Actually, the list of names resulting from this exam will probably provide more than the 360 conductor jobs, since the Commission believes that it will be necessary to have vacancies in the subways and even the surface cars. An estimate of the number of positions to be filled will be announced. There will be a total of 3,000 Jobs at stake.

The open competitive test will be a written and an oral examination. It will, however, delve into the candidate's ability to use the English language. The Commission explains that the conductor is a position which will be called upon for information by the passengers, and he should therefore know his English. It will also be a test of intelligence, and a physical examination. This last will not, however, be a particularly difficult exam, in fact, far less difficult than the present sanitation exam. It will be used, however, to eliminate obviou
No Telephone Operator

Appointments This Month

The chances for 200 immediate appointments from the newly promulgated Telephone Operator list were considerably reduced last week when Police eligibles now holding down provisional Telephone Operator jobs in the Police Department will not be dismissed.

The list was approved on the last day of the Civil Service Commission's sessions, and chances for appointments to Telephone Operator jobs will increase until September if the Department continues to feel the effects of the present economic depression.

The Commission will not be able to claim the rule requiring the dismissal of Police Operators within ten days of the promulgation of an appropriate list, for the exception is being made in this case on the ground that the provisions were adopted because of the exigencies of the war.

The appointments from the Police list were made early this summer at a salary rate of $1,200 per year. It is probable that most of the men who accepted the jobs will be covered in the nearest batch of Patronage appointments, which are expected in September or October, much like the Sanitation Man exam.

Testing Thiough Strength

One of the important parts of the physical exam for Firemen is this test in which the candidate proves a mechanism with his thighs. His grade—indicating the strength of his legs and thighs—is indicated on a clock.

Physical Tests

The physical exam, for which a grade of 70 per cent was required for passing, was as follows:

Test 1—Dumb-bell lift: Candidate must raise by sheer muscular effort a dumb-bell a full arm's length above the head. 30 lbs., one hand, 60 lbs., other hand—100 per cent. 50-50 merits 90% 60-50 merits 60% 50-50 merits 70% 40-40 merits 80% 30-30 merits 0% Also a strict qualifying exam was given.

Physical Tests

The new exam next year will be held in spring and summer.

SWIMMING WILL PROBABLY BE INCLUDED IN STRICT PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS

A new examination for Firemen can be expected next spring or early summer. The Leader learned this week from Paul J. Kern, president of the Civil Service Commission, that the Leader prepared a new examination so that all interested organizations begin their preparations.

The exam for city fire-fighter, one of the most popular in Civil Service, pays an average salary of $1,200-$2,000 per year and offers excellent opportunities for advancement to positions paying as high as $8,000 for Deputy Chief, or $12,000 for Chief.

The Leader has discovered that the pension requirements were strict, education requirements were lenient.

The present list for Fireman was approved December 13, 1933 and is due to expire December 4, 1941.

Dr. Coopers, the director of the Department of Health, the examiner of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, said that all other jobs for which the Sanitation list will be used are to appear in the fall.

The exception is being made for jobs in the Department of Sanitation.

The exam this week was held at least six weeks to complete after all physical and medical examinations have been completed in September.

The Commission hopes to have all the physical exams finished this month, but the medicals (medical re-exams) will take a longer time to complete.

Appointments will be made to the Department of Sanitation soon after the results of the physical exam are forthcoming.

In an exclusive statement, Commissioner Sayre has informed The Leader that the next physical exam will be held within two weeks by the Municipal Civil Service Commission and will cover the police, fire and sanitation departments.

What's Coming

A stringent list of medical requirements was included in the new exam this week by Wallace J. Sayre, Civil Service Commissioner.

The Leader will take at least six weeks to complete after all physical and medical examinations have been completed in September.

The Commission has not issued a New Year's call, but the bookkeepers will be required to have completed their records before the end of the year.

The exam for the popular job is anticipated for next spring. One of the new requirements probably will be swimming.

Four State Lists Ready

ABC INVESTIGATOR, STORE CLERK

INDUSTRIAL INVESTIGATOR

Four long-awaited eligible lists were signed yesterday by Grace A. Reavy, president of the State Civil Service Commission, to the rank and file of the Board of Examiners, Industrial Court; Senior and Assistant Industrial Court Referees, and Industrial Relations Investigators.

A few days more will now elapse—while the lists are being certified to the commissioner and the State Comptroller—before they will be received notification by the eligible candidates to appear before the State Civil Service Commission officials.

Approximately 1,500 names went to the 250 who took the Board test last October have made the list. Two names were added to the Civil Service Commission last Thursday and they will get the first appointment in the future list of the State Civil Service Commission, will not be on the list. The list of exam titles, filing fees, and the date of the tests follow:

Compensation Test—No Requirements Yet

Requirements for the Compensation Referee test, on the future list of the State Civil Service Commission, will not be determined until Solicitor General Henry Epstein returns from New York City where this was decided at an informal conference last week between Commission officials and members of Attorney General Bennett's staff.

The test was originally scheduled for the spring, then cancelled pending the ruling of the United States district court in the Coven v. Reavy case. This decision allows, however, five months to choose to compete in the Universal Employment Insurance Referee test, which has no requirements.

The Compensation test, therefore, must be held and the feeling exists that the requirements will be those for Universal Employment Insurance Referee, which has a salary of $3,500-$4,725. The point at issue is: shall the Coven decision hold for the entire All.

Public Hearings On Civil Service Extension

Public hearings on the manner of extending Civil Service to 200-600 welfare jobs in the 44-county unit have been called for the following dates:

New York—October 5, at 2 p.m.
Albany—October 7, at 2 p.m.

Filing Opens This Week for Big Batch of State Welfare Jobs

Filing for open-competitive exams to fill 1,058 jobs in 44 county welfare administrations throughout the State for the first time on Thursday. Deadline for applications is Thursday, September 22. The tests themseleives have been scheduled for Saturday, September 28 and October 5.

The 44 counties covered are Allegany, Broome, Catskills, Cayuga, Chemung, Chenango, Clinton, Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, Greene, Hamilton, Herkimer, Jefferson, Lewis, Livingston, Madison, Montgomery, Ontario, Orleans, Oswego, Otsego, Putnam, Rensselaer, St. Lawrence, Saratoga, Schenectady, Schuyler, Steuben, Warren, Washington, Wayne, Wyoming and Yates. The town of Union, Rensselaer County, is also affected.

State of New York Guarantee

JOBS TO BE HELD, SALARIES SECURED

Guarantees to all State employees that their jobs will be waiting for them on their return from military or naval duty, and that the State will pay the difference in their salary when the employee receives such part of his pay as the State may pay.

The guarantee is provided to take care of the excess of pay to the Civil Service employees, and is subject to such rules and regulations as the State Civil Service Commission may prescribe.

State Exam News

The Leader learns that an appeal hearing officers to be admitted without meeting additional requirements to the February 17th test for Subsistence Unemployment Insurance was not held because the Claims Examiner was ruled out.

Examiners for March 20th have been changed to 250 written, 95—training and 150—written and desk examiners. The bill has been passed by the Senate and Assembly, and the examination will be held at the end of the second year, and the test itself will be held October 5 at 1 p.m.

Applicant for Employment Insurance Referee test is probably going to be held up by the Civil Service Commission, and reported in last week's Tuesdays, similar to the February 1st list, but with a few exceptions, there are no provisions, but con sideration. For example, there will be no provision for city employees, and eligible employees are not sure that the lists are clean.

The examiners will be on conscription and its effect on the city, State and federal employees. The time for the state, New York City. The tests will be held on the last day of each week.
Postal Clerks, Stenos
To Get Fingerprint Jobs

Three hundred women trainees and nearly 100 substitute clerk-carrIers will be appointed soon to jobs with the New York Post Office and in the Government's programs to fingerprint aliens.

The typists which will be filled from the New York district register rather than from the nationwide list, will be "interim," that is, the work will not be steady. The reason for this is obvious. New York has 600,000 registered aliens and the Government does not know how or when they will register. The deadline is December 27 of this year. There will be heavy periods and light periods of registration. That means a typist might work as many as 60 hours one day and none another.

Pay for the jobs will be $60 per week. The appointments from the Clerk-Carrier list will be filled from the New York list, since the registration of aliens will be handled in Manhattan. The new appointees will not do the actual fingerprinting, but will take the place of others in the Post Office department who will be temporarily assigned to the fingerprinting duties.

The Card Punch

Latest data on the card punch situation, as authored by The Leader's Washington correspondent:

1. It appears that about 2,000 card punchers may be taken rapidly from the list which will result from the card punch exam. This is exclusive of 3,000 persons who have already started work in the census bureau.

2. Most of the jobs will be in the Census bureau.

3. Other departments will get card punchers, too, and as the defense program accelerates more punchers will be needed.

A Disgraceful Act, Mr. LaGuardia!

LAST Friday the Mayor of New York City took an action which we consider as one of the most disgraceful in his career.

With undue haste, he called before the Board of Estimate at a public meeting of the Welfare Department to retain their jobs.

These were the same men the country with the help of these veterans. The Leader commends them for putting up a stiff fight against the job of the society. Unlike the municipal courts, the city official took the responsibility for his bread and butter. If LaGuardia had wanted to help the vets, there are other methods, all of which are legally entitled to the help.

The Leader again returns to the Social Investigator. Elighibles—of this there can be no further doubt. The vets were professionals, not permanent employees. They held jobs which others had won through competitive examination honestly taken. Court after court handed down decisions favoring the eligibles.

Yet city officials went to absurd lengths to circumvent the decisions of the courts, and retain the professionals. For this very reason, to avoid punishment for contempt of court, these officials offered an agreement whereby the professionals would be employed at each pay roll period, and the positions would be filled by the qualified eligibles.

Apparently LaGuardia didn't like what the law says, and he doesn't care what the courts say. He made up his mind to keep the vets in their jobs, come hell or high water, "I'm going to keep these men and I want the Board of Estimate to know it," he shouted.

But this couldn't be done through ordinary Civil Service device. So Hizzoner created the fiction of firing the vets, then re-hiring them under a phony title to the same jobs at the same salaries. He performed this stroke without telling the eligibles, without offering them a position, without telling the eligibles he was going to do away with what they had, without mentioning the matter to the courts, and in defiance of the law, saying that that was direct, crude, unmanly, unfair, deceitful.

For an administration that has boasted about its interest in the merit system, this is a pretty raw performance.

And if Mr. LaGuardia gets away with it, what's to prevent the same technique from being used again at any time it suits his political designs?

More Cops for N. Y.

At last week's Police Conference, Joseph J. Burkard of the PBA urged that New York City increase its police force by 5,000 men. Mr. Burkard pointed that an additional 5,000 cops would bring New York's police force to 120,000. Mr. Burkard said that New York had, that they put in overlong hours, that the city is not policed as thoroughly as it should be—these are facts which anyone can easily ascertain. That's why The Leader endorses Mr. Burkard's proposal.

The need for upward revision of police pay is shown by comparison of pay. The highest paid Correction Officer is $2,400, while the highest paid Correction Officer is $2,000 to $3,000, in other words, are paid less than the lowest paid N. Y. couty employee. The need for upward revision of police pay is shown by comparison of the city's police force only to the size of London's. That the cops work hard, that they put in overlong hours, that the city is not policed as thoroughly as it should be—these are facts which anyone can easily ascertain. That's why The Leader endorses Mr. Burkard's proposal.

Sirs: The man who signs himself—"Three Year Resident" in his smallness is in perfect accord with our Post Office regulations. There is no objection to hiring men clerks in preference to other officials.

Does he see no advantage to being a three-year substitute, rather than a manuscript employee? His job is simple.

If the work in the Post Office is considered too difficult for the man who signs himself—"Three Year Resident," isn't anxious to have his money appropriated in any way? If the work in the Post Office is considered too difficult, with the Post Office policy of firing men clerks in preference to other officials, isn't anxious to have his money appointed in any way?

The man who signs himself—"Three Year Resident" in his smallness is in perfect accord with our Post Office regulations.

How the U. S. Civil Service System Discriminates Against New Yorkers

"Maybe I sound like a goon, but I say to Paul, A. Bloom doesn't look like a goon, talk like a goon, act like a goon. He's a dapper, pipe-smoking, smiling, friendly little man. But he has been called a goon, and other unpleasant names, and is200 per cent fighting against giving out money to people who see the city.

There was the case of James W. Gilligan, a city employee who met with an accident and had to go to the hospital one morning while traveling to his job. That was sustained by a modern West Side Highway had been built. Motorists who remained unaware of the road were isolated by a wall of stone and a wall of the highway, and there he had to be suspended. Gilligan sued both the Yellow Cab Company and the city. He made a pithy little case in court—wearing a brace which had immobilized a permanent fixture in his life, giving him a trial. He called a case, calling in experts to show that the work was a poor performing job. Gilligan was asked $250,000 of the city for his injuries. It is difficult for a lawyer to handle a case of this sort. The settlement of the jury are highly qualified to do it in this case. The case seems to be with him, who is not just a jury student of the law. His mind works around situations like an expert. If there were a case in which the jury were influenced by personal feelings, the case would seem to be with him, who is not just a jury student of the law. His mind works around situations like an expert. If there were a case in which the jury were influenced by personal feelings, the case would seem to be with him, who is not just a jury student of the law.

Bloom wanted trial work, and he couldn't get it in private practice. Well, he was assigned, of all things, to the Personal Tax Division. Very little trial work there! A year later he was shifted to the Port Division, and became the first Deputy Assistant permitted to try cases.

Bloom worked on a plan of handling cases in a manner that brought their losses down. They prepared their cases out of order, and forth from one to another.

Getting Promoted

Bloom succeeded. But each promotion test that came along would have its time requirements, and those in charge of the police force only to the size of London's. That the cops work hard, that they put in overlong hours, that the city is not policed as thoroughly as it should be—these are facts which anyone can easily ascertain. That's why The Leader endorses Mr. Burkard's proposal.

An analysis of the salary situation shows us a pitiable sight in court—wearing a brace which had immobilized a permanent fixture in his life, giving him a trial. He called a case, calling in experts to show that the work was a poor performing job. Gilligan was asked $250,000 of the city for his injuries. It is difficult for a lawyer to handle a case of this sort. The settlement of the jury are highly qualified to do it in this case. Mental Hygiene Notes

By John F. Montgomery

Program

According to the by-laws of the Association of Employees of the Department of Mental Hygiene, each unit has two delegates. On September 5, the delegates were present at the annual meeting at the State Office Building in Albany. The agenda of the meeting included:

1. Include all employees in the mental hygiene association.
2. Get temporary service withheld during moratoriums.
3. Set up an insurance fund for institutional employees.
4. Extend eight-hour day to all employees.
5. Additional commutation for all employees.
6. Retirement at age 55 after 10 years service.
7. Time allowance for attending compensation court.
8. Make all employees eligible during first seven days after accident. (Employees use this time for personal activities, instead of pay.)
9. New York State Retirement System to those in State Hospital Retirement System.
10. Get the statements confined to employees of the Department of Mental Hygiene.

The annual meeting will also take

1. The suggestion that ward supervisors pay be increased to that of clerks.
2. The suggestion that institutional employees receive the same federal service pay the difference between their State wages and federal service be paid the difference between their State wages and federal service.

Leavitt administration came in. And just at this point Bloom was shocked to araise for the city in the case of the J. S. Observation. A jury carrying to the signing of an agreement for a project planned to go up in the East River, 28 were killed. In this trial. Bloom claimed parties pouring in Bloom. Formerly, William R. White, who had worked on all the cases, said Bloom could arise in the case and had prepared legal briefs. Bloom had just been named to go to trial. But the new Corporation Counsel, William R. Sandoval, is going to be the thought of a Junior Assistant trying a case involving 1,000,000.00. The Corporation Counsel, 38,000 of his trial briefs which he had procured from Bloom.

Today, Samuel Bloom is in charge of the Workers’ Compensation Division. He has learned many things, and while he feels it is his duty to save money for the city, he also knows that the claims of the compensation is to be given to an employee through a trying and difficult time of mental compensation, he finds, is too slow. And if a man is found to have a condition that is as far as it is possible for the employee to go, the employee is told to be his own best advocate, to seek counsel at the nearest American Typewriter & Adding Machine Co.

Important To Stenographer and Typist Applicants:

Make Sure That You Are Well Prepared For This Test.

"The way to be sure is to you a good typewriter and practice at home. There are many office machines at the American Typewriter store in your city. Make sure that you are able to take your typewriter machine at the test, which will be held in all the offices in your city."
FIRE BELLS

Some Fire History Numbers

The idea of a well-staffed fire department is like a department of modern times. Not at all, say the illogical books. Rome, some two thousand years ago, had many firemen on hand as does New York City today.

When Life Begins

Rome's firemen, the heroes of more aneries than any other fire-fighting force in the city. One of the least known, though, is the one among the firemen, typical, is the tale of the blaze in which he was blown through a closed door, clear across the street. Mayor Hylan had rushed to the scene, heard about the fireman, asked and the vitriol, fire-fighter, how long. "Fire," was Joe's answer—as he halted at Hylan's feet. When he was revived, he tried to get on with the job of putting out the fire. The fireman was alarmed; "You're still weak, and you're past it. A man doesn't get his full strength until he's past sixty!" snapped back Joe.

LIEUT. EXAM BEING GRADED

The Leader learned Monday that Firemen who took the Lieutenant exam will have to wait three months before the list is promulgated. About half of Part II of the test has been rated.

Vocational Training Takes Backseat

Special classes in defense trades will be introduced in the vocational school at the last minute, according to Harold G. Campbell, Superintendent of Schools. These classes, for the defense industries, have been put under the direction of Dr. Franklin J. Keller.

The first fifty of four hundred master craftsmen to teach these special classes have been certified by the Board of Examiners, the rest to be chosen in groups of fifty until the required number is reached.

Defense classes themselves will have to take a back seat to the regular vocational curriculum; they will probably not begin until 3 or 4 P.M. in the day session nor in the evening session until classes are completed. Further conferences are planned to coordinate the leadership of the system more fully.

POLICE CALLS

Gala Police Show

There'll be a Police Show at Madison Square Garden on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, September 23, 24, and 27, and on Saturday, September 28, for the benefit of the Police Athletic League. The program will be considerably changed from its former presentation. It will include an opening parade, exhibitions by police recruits, mounted police, detective, police dogs, medical bureau, detective division units, songs by police glee club, music by police band, tug-of-war and a historical pageant.

An admission of tickets—tickets priced at 35c, 50c and $1 will be forwarded to the Borough Commanders of both Uniformed and Detective Forces.

If you're a toolmaker or an experienced machinist, you can get a job—a good job paying a good salary. The U. S. Government is looking for men with four years experience or who have completed a four-year apprenticeship for these positions.

So urgent is the need that the salary was recently raised in official announcements by the U. S. Civil Service Commission. The Machinist Job pays $8.90 to $8.40 per day, or $534 to $504 per month. Toolmakers will get $7.84 to $8.38, a raise from $7.55 to $8.88. Toolmakers must have at least six months of experience in the care of patients in a hospital or other institution, according to the grade of the job. No exam will be given applicants. Only the experience required must be included on your application.

There are also 17 vacancies for Instrument Makers and 13 for Gauge Designers. Within the past two years, 23 Tool and Gauge Designers have been employed.

Duties and requirements for these positions appear on pages 10 and 12.

COMPELLING COMMISSION TO HOLD PROMOTION TEST

W.L.—W. Leonard, President of the University of Hartford, has chosen the option to retire at the age of 55 and is contributing to the pension fund on that basis. E. O.—An employee who has retired under the law is not credited with the salary he was receiving at the time of his retirement. This would not improve the pension; the forfeited pay received from the State or Federal service in the unclassified service other than permanent classified service that is not credited to the pension fund. The President's retirement at the age of 55 would be of considerable interest to many employees.

PENSIONS AFTER RETIREMENT

Strong Action Planned Against Mayor For His Abolition of Welfare Jobs

By MORTON YARMON

Undaunted by the sudden abolition on Friday of 115 Social Investigator jobs in the Welfare Department, the Welfare Commissioners, who were abolished, and their appointments were held over by Mayor LaGuardia, the veterans bureau, eligibles on the Social Investigator list are moving on various fronts to get the jobs which were snatched from them.

Three major actions are already known:

1. The Municipal Civil Service Commission will hold an open competitive exam for Social Investigator in September 1940. Temporary workers in the Welfare Department bureau, including the veterans, were permitted to compete.

2. Several actions by the Municipal Civil Service Commission involve matters pending between the City and the veterans, and the eligibles, as of August 1.

3. The Social Investigators Eligible and in the veteran jobs will hold an emergency meeting of its executive committee today, Tuesday, Aug. 15, at 7:30 p.m., on the sixth floor of 13 St., between Park and Union Avenues, to discuss the possibility of calling a meeting of all former employees of the veterans bureau who have been or are now employed by the Board of Estimate. The Civil Service Reform Association was reported to be "inquisitive" at the Board of Estimate's action, and to be ready to demand of the Mayor an account of his action.

But it seemed to be a losing battle. With each passing month, the job prospects of the veterans were being eliminated, one by one.

Last week-end the demands seemed to have reached their zenith when 115 veterans were about to be ousted, and a surprising action took place. H. Elliot Kaplan, a prominent lawyer, requested Mayor LaGuardia to remain on the job until Monday midnight, on the grounds that the Mayor was still the Chief Executive. Mayor LaGuardia, however, still came after the change of administration, if in the city. But Mayor LaGuardia never attempted to oust the veterans. He was sure that the jip was up. Monday morning cannot be without a stay for the provisions. The eligibility list should be on the jobs Tuesday morning.

This is what happens when you hold your own at the 40 line.

Date: August 15, 1940

The suit is being brought by a number of veterans and the Civil Service Commission of Estimate.

If a question mark is correct and you fail to put up your job on the city's competitive tests, you fail for your salary. The only remedy you can do to right this injustice is to appeal him for the time.

Also, during the summer school, select a suitable breath of fresh air, and study the materials of this subject, so that you may have a subject in mind when you finish the course.

WHAT HAPPENED AT THE "40 LINE?"

"Will you hold your own at the 40 line?"

The Municipal Civil Service Commission held an open competitive exam for Social Investigator in 1936. Temporary workers in the Welfare Department bureau, including the veterans, were permitted to compete. Many of the veteran Investigators either failed to take the test or simply failed to pass. They then sought legislation which would allow them to take a special exam, restricted to those in the veterans group.

In June, 1939, the Social Service Commission held an open competitive exam for Social Investigator. Again a number of those in the veterans group failed to take the test or when they did take it, failed to pass.

Meanwhile the veterans started activity in the courts. They first tried to stop the Commission from holding the Social Investigator test, then to avoid appointments from the list. They sought to prevent the city from retaining points for the recent exam, and to prevent the eligibles in favor of eligibles from the newly established Social Investigator, and the eligibles intervened in the case.
