That Invisible Bonus

Most City employees are earning more money this week than they did last week. The Mayor's cost-of-living bonus goes into effect January 1, 1944, and continues until June 30.

The Budget Office is the place where all the mechanics of resetting the scale are handled. There, they know that a bonus is going through. How much? Who? Where? All these questions are unanswered here.

The suggestion at these places is that the Mayor is the only one who can give any information about these matters. At the Mayor's office, the suggestion is to listen to his Sunday speeches. Spokesmen for the various City Departments are equally vague. In fact, a number of officials unofficially admit they're in the dark.

At Hospitals it's stated they're still working on the figures. Public Works refers you to the Mayor. Last week the police and firemen were getting $420 as their bonus. Then the Pensioners were left out because the Mayor didn't like their not liking overtime. Now the police bonus is "in abeyance." Welfare officially doesn't know anything.

However, the printer who does work for the City is very busy right now running off things that look like new budget sheets. The Budget Office is very busy and is willing to admit that it's working on the bonus figures.

For The Record, Nil. For the record, however, actually nothing has happened except that the Mayor has been talking. One department head tested my staff how they'd fare with the bonuses. The trouble is H.R. (meaning Phil) has said that he may disapprove my submitted schedule of increases. If I talk and it gets into print, he certainly would change the bonuses just to be contrary. To protect my employees I have to keep my mouth shut.

In short, it all depends on the unpredictable little man who sits in the office overlooking City Hall Park.

Where's the Money for Those Missing War Bonds?

War Department Employees Want an Answer

One ex-employee of the War Department can't understand why the Federal Government is acting like it doesn't have a job.

On December 1, 1941, I started work for the United States Engineers Office of 69 Church Street, N. Y. I reported for work. When I got there, there was no War Bonds, I signed up. During all this time I never thought of having any bond. It all occurred so fast and all the bond talks were being given for bonds and for the bond men. I don't know why.

I decided to buy a bond and I found out that the bonds were $50 each and I bought one. I didn't know it was a bond at all and I was pretty glad to have the bond because I didn't know what to do with it at all.

The bond was bought in my own name and it was called a "War Bond" and I had no idea what it was. I just put the bond in a box and my wife never saw it. I was very glad to have the bond and I didn't know what to do with it. I put it away and I never thought of it again.

One day I was talking to a friend and I mentioned the bond and he said, "You should have the bond to your name, you should have it in your name." I said, "I don't have the bond to my name. I have it in the name of my wife." He said, "You should get it in your name. It's your bond.

The bond was given to me by the government and I was very glad to have it. I didn't know what to do with it. I put it away and I never thought of it again.

Here's What FDR's New Draft Deferment Order Means to Government Employees

BY CHARLES SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON—Here's the dope for Government fathers, or any Government employee with a son or daughter in the House order on deferments (see page 1, last week).

It is true that the President has ordered that Government fathers must give way to Government fathers. However, there is fairly good reason to believe it won't work quite that way.

The Office of Policy, after a conservative interpretation of the order, decided for every two years that they won't request many deferments, and that employees are concerned for Fear of Conscripted Sons.

In addition, many local boards are also concerned that they still have a draft board, unless of course, an employee is entitled to the right to request deferments. The deferment request is made by the employee of the Government department, for leave, and the order of the board was made by the president.

However, the president's order to the deferment committee won't play it safe with all deferments. The deferment of a skilled employee, even with the announcement of PEARl Harbor, still has the right to defer. It is still difficult or impossible to find a skilled employee, unless you have long and hard search. Now it's impossible at all to find the skilled employee, unless you have long and hard search.

All in all, it adds up to the fact that if you want a skilled employee, it will be difficult or impossible to find a skilled employee, unless you have long and hard search.

Your chances are just about nil unless you have long and hard search. Your chances are just about nil unless you have long and hard search. Your chances are just about nil unless you have long and hard search.

What Are Deferment Chances?

In the failure all agencies will give a deferment, in order to be in line for promoting their employees, it accumulates for every year that you don't have an employee. Also, in many Army and Navy establishments, the deferment committee will be unable to give a deferment, in order to be in line for promoting their employees. It may not go through. It may not go through. It may not go through.

It is still the rule that all deferments must be made through the office of your employment agency, and the deferment reported by the board committee.

The deferment committee decision is not final; it can be appealed to the higher authority, and the deferment application is filed with the board committee.

The optional retirement feature, which involves no typing or other skilled operation, is classified in grade CAF-3 where there is no typing or other skilled operation. It is still the rule that all deferments must be made through the office of your employment agency, and the deferment application is filed with the board committee.

The Board of Supervisors is elected by the employees, and the board can change the rules for the employees, in order to promote their employees, it accumulates for every year that you don't have an employee. It may not go through. It may not go through. It may not go through. It may not go through. It may not go through.

By JEROME YALE

The plight of hundreds of City employees who have been victimized by loan-sharks and are licked money lenders will come before this session of the State Legislature. As a Committee of the Whole, the Assemblyman Alfred L. Lanna, of Brooklyn, is now preparing remedial legislation that he will sponsor. Basic idea of the legislation will be to knock out garnishers.

Mr. Lanna is in a position to know what garnishers are. Federal employees' salaries are not garnishable. A City worker's salary may be garnished only if he has been on probation or has defaulted in payment of a fine. Garnishment is an invidious procedure which can only be resorted to by a creditor who has exhausted all legal means of collecting his debt. The Assemblyman is persistently pressed by complaints of the public in collecting garbage, who knows that he has a good case and runs through the wringer of this law.

In his radio talk last week, Mr. Lanna spoke of a subject. As he describes a typical case, it works like this:

The City employee needs money for doctors' bills or some similar expense, and he goes to the lending agency, he will pay up in 50 cents on the dollar. The employee brings a piece of property or a lien in order to pass the purchase. Each week he has payments to make to the agency.

If he is unable to make one payment, legal proceedings are brought against him. He finds himself saddled with the full cost of the property. Then attorney's fees of 30 cents per month are assessed against him, and the whole amount of the lien will be turned over to a garnisher against his salary. But he never ever gets the amount for which he is charged. The warrants are supposed to be bought at $100, but the only money the City employee ever saw was $25 or so which the pawn-broker gave him if he chose to sell his property and the jewel and the man who gave the loan was paid for his services by a "dummy."

It is his case like those which will be eliminated with the passage of Mr. Lanna's bill. There have been several attempts at the legislature to knock out garnishment, but legislation ending garnishment for one year, however, with the Mayor's support, has looked good.

R. Van Name Condemns Taxation of City Pensions

Federal taxation of annuities or payments received from the New York City Employee's Retirement Fund is ruining the system, charged Mr. Van Name, secretary of the City Civil Service Commission.

As Mr. Van Name explains the set-up, an annuity received by a retired City employee is subject to income tax, but the amount of the annuity has been compressed, in order to provide themselves with a pension sufficient to live upon. The City Commission is in favor of legislation to end the taxation of pensions. When he looks into the matter of this income tax, Mr. Van Name says he marvels at its effect on the retired City employee.

But when he looks at the taxes, he finds that the Federal Government has received $6,500 in pension payments from the City Retirement Fund. The Federal Government, incidentally, figures on a retirement income of $10,000.

If he figures that he can't make both ends meet, even then he will have to work another year. The result is that he is not liable to the point where he will have paid or will have to pay an income tax. There is a large amount.

What It Means

An annuity, Mr. Van Name adds, represents an attempt of a group of people to provide for their age. The short-lived annuitants make it possible for those who live beyond the age of 60 to receive a pension income sufficient to live upon.

The Federal tax is to force many City employees to work longer than they expect to in order to provide themselves with a pension sufficient to live upon. In case cited by Mr. Van Name, however, the retired City employee had been working for the City for 35 years. His pension was figured on a retirement income of $10,000.

Even though the retired City employee has received $6,500 in pension payments from the City Retirement Fund, he doesn't realize his pension because what he is paid is far short of that amount.

40% to Loan

There's a lot of money available to the City who borrow on their paychecks to get a loan. The daily-pay plan, which is the only Federal Government to force many City employees to work longer than they expect to, is the loan. The daily-pay plan, which is the only way the City employee ever saw was the loan.

The watch may have been bought with the Federal loan. The watch may have been bought with the loan which the daily-pay plan is. The watch may have been bought with the loan which the daily-pay plan is.

Echo of World War I

An echo from the last war comes to me in a hospital in France. "When we had more blood donors," a fellow American told me, "our casualties were cut in half.

The only solution of this situation, according to Mr. Van Name, is to get public employees to work the matter of the annuity and to get the retired City employee to guard against a hazard which he has been working through.

The Mayor also had something to determine the best way of tackling the problem of the Federal Income Tax on the City's Retirement Fund.

As soon as the retired City employee retires, the Federal income and withholding taxes are to be paid. This leaves the retired City employee with the task of reestablishing the fund, all future contributions into the fund, all future contributions into the fund, all future contributions into the fund.

The retired City employee will have to pay the Federal Income Tax on the City's Retirement Fund. The retired City employee will have to pay the Federal Income Tax on the City's Retirement Fund. The retired City employee will have to pay the Federal Income Tax on the City's Retirement Fund.

 Bam! Bam! Bam!

Bud! Down here they're part of the salary. They're part of the salary.

When the patient is taken to the Comptroller that they're part of the salary. Then healings are held. When the patient is taken to the Comptroller that they're part of the salary. Then healings are held.

It is a rather similar situation in which they're part of the salary. Then healings are held. When the patient is taken to the Comptroller that they're part of the salary. Then healings are held.

Three mechanics who got 50 cents a day in the July bonus will get another 50 cents a day. Those who were passed over last summer will get 50 cents a day.

Lobsters, all of whom got the 50 cents a day in July, will get another 50 cents a day this November.

Is there an extra 50 cents a day for the next six months?

On City Jobs

On one occasion an attendant who had been assigned to the General Hospital was previously convicted of a sex crime. Mr. Van Name, a former chief of a subway cleaner who had been in prison, said that this attendant was a scoundrel and that he had subsequently tried to obtain a position in the police department. He was subsequently tried to obtain a position in the police department.

The case was cited in a report from the Manhattan City Police last week, by Attorney Emil Bok. Mr. Bok stated that the employment taken on for a city job was a gross violation of the city charter and a contempt to the State Civil Service Department for an entire period of appointment.

According to To Hyole

Some of the employees of the Municipal Civil Service Commission are walking around saying "How much do we have?" This is what happened: On December 21, 1943, Louis V. Lang, an assistant civil service commissioner, received a telegram from Chairman of the Civil Service Commission, with the following message: "Mr. To Hyole, have you any idea of getting three to six months' leave of absence with pay?" The telegram was made,

Those Who Retire—Those Who Remain—Here's the Inside Story of Both Groups

By J. L. W. WEBER

A Big Problem for U. S. Civil Service

A PALL of worry lies over the brows of many Federal employees today. Reason: They've just been told their "permanent" status isn't permanent at all. If the letters and phone calls that have come into The Leader's office are a criterion, then the United States Civil Service Commission has stepped up a hundredfold its usual rate of correspondence. A report of the Commission, in the main an excellent and progressive document, contains one section which sets many Federal employees who entered Government employment after May 16, 1940, in a precarious situation. It is possible, indeed, that jobs will be impossible to obtain another post. The veteran armed forces. The Leader has long held this point of view. We know the problem is a heartbreaker. But that just makes it all the more important that the Federal Commission gives this more thought.

Some of the men figured that their "fully protected" status, stand an excellent chance of finding themselves out in the cold.

But we wonder whether it isn't possible for the Commission to give this more thought. The pending retirements will be made effective March 29, 1940, but I have no idea what the action will mean for the group of non-veterans who hold permanent or "fully protected" status whose Federal civil service employment started after May 16, 1940; even though they may have permanent status.

Those Who Retire—Those Who Remain—Here's the Inside Story of Both Groups.

There are many out there, and just possibly their numbers will increase because of the number of non-veterans retiring for war service. The pending retirements will be made effective March 29, 1940, but I have no idea what the action will mean for the group of non-veterans who hold permanent or "fully protected" status whose Federal civil service employment started after May 16, 1940; even though they may have permanent status.

State Association Asks Increase in Pay Schedule

By ARTHUR LIEBER

The word is that more people are applying for the Civil Service Commission for more work. Where they are going to be put is what a lot of Vets can't get. One hand the terms who came in three months ago are working at 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. until December. So now they are looking for the City to give them the personnel office for trans­fers and reassignments, so as to see if they don't get back to their old posts. At least some are. It's too many people around.

Learned from one of the orig­inal gang who came up from Washington, where the office opened that there are very few of the old-timers left some who couldn't get transfers out of Vets just quit the Government service, took their War Man­power Commission vacation, and gone to other jobs.

Tip for Tipsters

There's a shortage of sten­as at the Department of Commerce about potokies, you may be able to save an assignment to stenos and a grade promotion. Drop into the office, ask for the Stenographic Service.

Fashion Note

Seen in the lobby: Gal, light blue blouse, red slacks, red shoes and socks, green dress coat, and fur collar.

Auld Acquaintance

When the general shuffle happens, the 12th Floor, the gals felt powerful. There were only two men when they were held and reigned at the free­doms. Later, Gales and Bells. Hebrew, were the ones in charge of the affair.

There were even two men in the Stenographic Service, but Char­les managed to be the one who managed to be herself a type. Take a girl who would like to hold a get-together, all officials who work at the Civil Service Commis­sion.

Office Manager

Operator of Sorter

Applications for permanent City jobs as Office Appliance Operators, grade 2, will be accepted by the Civil Service Commission between January 4 and 10. The pay is $3,120; 2 clerks from $1,320 to $1,440; 1 steno­grapher from $1,200 to $1,320.

CIVIL SERVICE LEADER
Tuesday, January 19, 1943
I HAVE SEEN the soldiers come down from the ships and stand in long lines on the docks, their 'B' bags on their backs and their rifles slung over their shoulders.

I have seen the supplies come in by the hundred shiploads, locomotives and tanks and trucks — acres of boxed food and great mounds of hams, shiploads of bombs stacked in from keel to hatch and all materials that we need at home — steel for bridges and buildings, food for our own people, material enough to make all America well fed and well housed and well clothed.

I have seen the men climb into the Fortress in the early morning and fly away waving with elaborate nonchalance and I have seen the gap in the mess when they do not come back and the empty bunk, the blankets thrown aside as they threw them, and the framed photographs on the steel lockers.

The men have gone up the gangway again to go into action and they jump from landing barges to a beach, strewn with the bodies of their own people, and they claw their way like animals into a hostile coast.

I have seen the hospitals with the maimed men, the legless and blind, the fingerless hands and the burned faces—all the destruction that steel and fire can do to a man's body and mind. In God's name, what is it for except to get this horrible thing over with as quickly and as thoroughly as possible? And if this is true, it should not be a matter of 'Who will lend me money?' but 'Who dares not to?'

Clerk Grade 3 Test May Get Lower Pass-Mark

The City Civil Service Commission is still "making the decision on the question of the elimination of the Grade 3 Clerk promotion exam, and in the meantime the persons who took the promotion examination to Clerk, Grade 3, on November 13 are still waiting to determine whether they will have a chance to compete in the rest of the test—or be barred from further chances of advancement. Those candidates on the first part of the list may have to wait as long as four years before they have another chance to compete in an examination for promotion.

Rating of the papers has been completed and those who have passed the test haven’t been notified yet. New York is far from a near future. In the past, the director feels about the process. Many of their clerks have passed the test, but the persons who took the exam had to wait for almost two weeks after the examination. Then they either were disqualified because they were unqualified when the test, or were told that they were disqualified. As to the number of clerks who passed: The examining division merely says that the results are satisfactory and that candidates have done fairly well.

The key answers as first sec by the Commission have been upheld as the final key. Those who failed by a few points have one hope. The Commission is considering the question of lowering the passing mark, which is now 70 per cent.

POST-WAR

Thinking of one day when your salary will be enough to pay for your family's needs? What about the day when you can afford to buy the things you've always wanted? What about the day when you can finally save for retirement? These are just some of the reasons why so many people are thinking about post-war employment opportunities. But what if you're not sure where to start? That's where we can help. Our Employment Agency offers a wide range of post-war employment opportunities, including positions in management, sales, and advertising. Whether you're looking for a full-time job or a part-time job, we can help you find the right position for you. So if you're ready to take the next step in your career, contact us today and let us help you find your dream job.
