Two Days in Compensation Court Bring $14,761 to Injured UE Local 301 Members

The size and scope of the UE Local 301 compensation service is hard to realize until you start to study the records of the cases handled by the union's attorney, Leon Novick. In eight years of practice before the board, Novick has been able to secure almost $300,000 in compensation for his members. A typical case is that of a member who was injured in a plant explosion and whose injury was so severe that he was unable to work for two years. The settlement in this case was $15,000.

Two Leaders Spy on Union Meetings in Building 60

There is nothing in the job description covering group leaders that says that they should spy on their fellow workers. But apparently supervising in Building 60 doesn't go so smoothly according to descriptions.

Many OK Does Boost After Meetings in Shop

UE Local 301 members were voting nearly 3 to 1 for the proposed division because a number of the shop stewards have been quite vocal in recent months. The vote was taken in several meetings held in the plant's largest building.

LOE Wins in Niles, Fort Edward Votes

The margin of the victories at the International Harvester Company, which was expected to be held by the UE, was not realized. The union lost in both plants, with the UE winning by a margin of 50 to 45 in the Niles shop, and by 52 to 48 in the Fort Edward shop.

Harvester Strike Called Vital to GE Bargaining

The importance of helping the strike on the GE side against the International Harvester Co. is evident in the election of two UE members to the board of directors of the company. This will give the UE a say in the running of the company, and will enable the union to influence the decisions of the board.

Two Leaders Preview New UE News

The new UE News is a major victory for the union, as it gives the local workers a means of communicating with each other. The paper will be published every week, and will contain news of local events, as well as articles on national and international issues.

District Delegates

The two members of UE Local 301 who were elected to the district delegate at the District 118 convention, which groups together UE local unions in western New York, are pictured above. On the left is Dennis McCullough, of Buffalo, and on the right is William Dunlop, of Rochester. Both members were named by the UE News editorial board.

ELECTRICAL NEWS

301 Stewards Meet Monday

UE Local 301's newly reconstituted steward's assembly will meet for the first time on Monday evening to organize themselves for thesymbolic negotiations required of them. The meeting will be in two sessions, with around 300 stewards gathering at 7:00 PM, and the first round of elections commencing at 8:00 PM. The second session will begin at 9:00 PM, and will continue until all elections have been held.

Harvester Strike Called Vital to GE Bargaining

The importance of helping the strike on the GE side against the International Harvester Co. is evident in the election of two UE members to the board of directors of the company. This will give the UE a say in the running of the company, and will enable the union to influence the decisions of the board.

Map Fights For Pensioners, Women

Meeting committee to outline General Electric Co. pension riders on women and end the company's history of discrimination in the company's charitable giving, the company's charitable giving, and the company's charitable giving.

301 Stewards Meet Monday

UE Local 301's newly reconstituted steward's assembly will meet for the first time on Monday evening to organize themselves for thesymbolic negotiations required of them. The meeting will be in two sessions, with around 300 stewards gathering at 7:00 PM, and the first round of elections commencing at 8:00 PM. The second session will begin at 9:00 PM, and will continue until all elections have been held.

Harvester Strike Called Vital to GE Bargaining

The importance of helping the strike on the GE side against the International Harvester Co. is evident in the election of two UE members to the board of directors of the company. This will give the UE a say in the running of the company, and will enable the union to influence the decisions of the board.

Map Fights For Pensioners, Women

Meeting committee to outline General Electric Co. pension riders on women and end the company's history of discrimination in the company's charitable giving, the company's charitable giving, and the company's charitable giving.
UE Wins Long Strike at GHF

GLENDORA, Calif. (AP) — On October 20th, after a two-month-long strike, the United Electrical Workers (UE) won a significant victory at General Electric (GE). The strike, which began on August 20th, was called over a disagreement on wages and working conditions.

All Locals Ratify Contract, Assuring Intractive Negro Pay

The majority of the UE Locals have ratified a new contract that includes an increase in Negro pay. The agreement was reached after several months of negotiations between the UE and the company.

GE Refuses to Retire Inactive Negro Veteran

In a surprising decision, General Electric has refused to retire an inactive Negro veteran who has been on the company's payroll for many years. The veteran, who has been unable to work due to his age and health, has been an employee of GE for over 30 years.

Final Decision on Dues Hike Slated at November Meeting

The United Electrical Workers (UE) union will hold a special meeting on November 1st to discuss the possibility of increasing dues. The decision is expected to be announced at the meeting.

FEDC Group Wins Upgrading in 273

The FEDC Group, which represents workers at GE, has won a significant victory in upgrading their jobs. The group has been fighting for better working conditions and pay for many years.

Carey Maneuvers Increase in Dues

The UE Local 301, which represents workers at GE, is considering increasing dues for its members. The decision will be made at a special meeting to be held on November 1st.

Protests arise as Carey's plan is revealed for an increase in dues. Members of the UE Local 301 are expressing concerns about the proposed increase.

Final Statement

The UE Local 301 has expressed its support for the increase in dues, saying that it is necessary to fund important union activities. However, members of the Local 301 have expressed their concerns about the proposed increase.

On the Job

A summary of the UE Local 301 News and Notes for the week of October 10th, highlighting recent union activities and issues.

Updated on: October 17, 1952

---

For the latest news and updates on the UE Local 301, visit our website at www.ue301.org.