'273' H Bay Stoppage Halts Machine Helper Rotation

A foreman who said he was "running the shop"—regardless of safety conditions and past policies, which he ordered changed, provoked a stoppage of work by large machine operators in H Bay Building 232 on Wednesday, April 2. Not contented with a 4-hour period to change his tools, he continued working on the picket line. The strike started on March 31, when a number of workers walked out and threatened to strike for safety improvements and other grievances.

The strike is now in its second week, and as of April 1, about 200 workers are reportedly still on strike. The company has not made any official statement regarding the strike, but workers have been reported to be in good spirits.

30 GE Siliconics Victims' Case Is Pressed by UE

The long campaign to compel GE to meet its obligations to 19 Schenectady porters and 14 Union founder workers, who are partial victims of siliconics, is going to the N. Y. State Supreme Court of Appeals.

A recent New York state commission report states that a worker's sole remedy available under the law if he is injured is to sue the employer. However, the case has not been heard by the court yet, and it is unclear what the outcome will be.

Vermont Senator Hits Humphrey's Aim

Senator George D. Allen (R., Vt.) has spoken out against Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's (D., N.Y.) latest attempt to get legislation which would permit the government to "redeem" select weapons from private hands.

Allen is a member of the Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, of which Kennedy is chairman of a subcommittee holding hearings.

In a letter to Helen Marqu, chairwoman of the Vt. Equal Rights League, Allen explained: "I don't believe that we should have any legislation that permits the government to dictate what labor unions the people of this country may choose to have. It is enough that we respect the rights of the people to choose for themselves.

The need for labor unions, Sen. George J. Murphy (D., Wyo.) chairman of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee, has been "to organize and maintain a bargaining agent to protect "any efforts to prevent this necessary union.""

March of Labor Editor Addresses '31 Board

Walter H. H. Murad, associate editor of the progressive trade union movement, March of Labor, and editor of its magazine, will be the guest speaker at the last meeting of the '31 executive board.

March of Labor dominates the field of labor unionism with a policy of unity and the organization known as the "March of Labor," which is responsible for the Red Spanish Aid, and the wage-fighters, and its success has been due to its policy of unity and the organization of labor.

GE Rate Shakedown

Dayton, Ohio—A U. S. CED.rotator at the door of the Federal Communications Commission has ordered the Federal Communications Commission to reduce the rate of $0.05 per hour to $0.04 per hour for the month of April.

The order was announced by the Communications Commissioner, who said the reduction was necessary because of "the present financial condition of the country." The commission has been ordered to submit a report on the proposed rate reduction to the Federal Communications Commission.

Skilled Workers Step Up Fight For Rate Increases

If GE had any lingering doubts that its toolmakers and skilled building craftsmen will not take "no" for an answer in their demands for special adjustments, it was startled on Tuesday, April 15 when 43 representatives of those groups, together with 661 Business Agent, Local 31, I. W. W., held a meeting in Dayton, Ohio.

Laying A Ghost To Rest

A ghost was laid to rest at a skilled trades meeting in New York, Thursday, April 18. The meeting was called to order by President E. W. Blumberg, who said that the meeting was held to lay to rest the ghost of the New York Central Railway strike of 1931.

The meeting was attended by 500 members of the skilled trades. President Blumberg said that the meeting was held to lay to rest the ghost of the New York Central Railway strike of 1931.
ON THE JOB

Trifecta of Bolognas are handled by Gil Zdziadzki in a five-minute (or less) rush on a job which is due the next day. Gil’s first step is to organize the работу so that the numbers are in sequence. Then he and his crew work on the job, with the result that the work is completed in the specified time. They are the “trifecta” of Bolognas in this area, providing a fast, reliable service to their customers.

WSB Approves Two Contract Goals

The Wago Subsidiaries Board last week approved two goals suggested by the Governor for the company to meet. The first goal is to increase production by 5%. The second goal is to reduce costs by 3%. These goals were recommended by the Governor based on the company’s performance last year. The goals will be communicated to all employees and will be a focus for the company’s efforts this year.

Skilled Workers Step Up Fight For Increases

A letter from Paul F. was received by the union, outlining the workers’ concerns and asking for higher wages. The union has sent a letter to the company expressing its support for the workers. The workers have also been active in organizing protests and strikes to demand better working conditions and higher wages.

Westinghouse Bulb Boycott Urged

An appeal for workers to boycott the company due to low wages was made by the union. The workers have been working under difficult conditions and demand better compensation.

To See Kearney

The "Big Head" campaign has been launched, with a call to action to workers to support the union’s demands. The campaign is intended to increase awareness among workers and encourage them to join the union.
