Local 301 Members Will Hold Raffle For Kids Aid Fund

Harry H. Hurst,步 by up and get your tickets now for a free vacation on the white sands of Bermuda! Or, if you're a fellow who likes the simple things in life, you can take CASH.

This is it, Local 301's VACATION GIVEAWAY. It's the annual raffle to raise funds for the union's annual children's Christmas Party.

Tickets are three for fifty cents and may be purchased beginning April 29 from your shop steward. Here are the prizes:

1st Price -- A round-trip to Bermuda, cash value $600.
2nd Price -- A two-week vacation for the family, cash value $200.
3rd Price -- A one-week vacation for the family, cash value $100.

The lucky winners will have the option of either taking the vacation trip or the cash.

The big drawing will be held at the regular monthly membership meeting, Monday, June 15, Local 301 auditorium. Executive Board members will get the ticket books at the next meeting April 27 and in turn will pass them along to the shop stewards. The cost will be $1 per book at the meeting. At the start, each steward will receive one book of 60 tickets but there will be plenty more as they are needed.

So get in on the giant VACATION GIVEAWAY now.

Local 301 News

News Editor: Larry Ganser, Washington, D.C. Ganser has been a member of Local 301 since 1971 and is a native of Garden City, N.Y. He has had extensive experience in all media, including press service, radio and television reporting.

According to the Washington bureau, the International Union has recently won an arbitration award for an 8 percent increase in hourly wages for members working on construction projects. The award is the first in a series of arbitrations for Local 301 members working on construction projects.

The arbitration decision was reached by the Arbitration Board of the International Union, and it will take effect immediately.

The arbitrator in the original case decided that the union had shown that it was necessary to increase wages because of the increased cost of living. The arbitrator noted that the cost of living had increased by 8 percent over the previous year.

The arbitrator also ruled that the company had not shown that it could not afford to pay the higher wages.

The company had argued that it was only making a profit of 2 percent on its construction projects, but the arbitrator ruled that this was not a valid reason for not paying higher wages.

The arbitrator also ruled that the company had not shown that it had tried to reduce costs in other ways.

The arbitrator noted that the company had not shown how it had tried to reduce costs in other ways, such as by finding cheaper suppliers or by changing the design of the projects.

The arbitrator also ruled that the company had not shown that it had tried to reduce costs by reducing the number of workers on the projects.

The arbitrator noted that the company had not shown how it had tried to reduce costs by reducing the number of workers on the projects.

The arbitrator also ruled that the company had not shown that it had tried to reduce costs by reducing the number of workers on the projects.

The arbitrator noted that the company had not shown how it had tried to reduce costs by reducing the number of workers on the projects.

The arbitrator also ruled that the company had not shown that it had tried to reduce costs by reducing the number of workers on the projects.

The arbitrator noted that the company had not shown how it had tried to reduce costs by reducing the number of workers on the projects.
We Have New Look
Starting with this issue, the local 301 News has a new look for you. We've worked hard to make the paper look better and more readable. We hope you will enjoy the new format.

Mastriani Attends Stockholders' Meeting
Mr. Mastriani, president of the local 301 News, attended the Stockholders' Meeting at the General Electric Company headquarters in Schenectady, N.Y., last week. During the meeting, the company announced a dividend of $1 per share.

THE LEGAL CORNER
Workers who are injured on the job often may recover from their injuries. If you or someone you know is injured on the job, it's important to understand your rights and the compensation you may be eligible for.

We Have New Look
Starting with this issue, the local 301 News has a new look for you. We've worked hard to make the paper look better and more readable. We hope you will enjoy the new format.

Mastriani Attends Stockholders' Meeting
Mr. Mastriani, president of the local 301 News, attended the Stockholders' Meeting at the General Electric Company headquarters in Schenectady, N.Y., last week. During the meeting, the company announced a dividend of $1 per share.

THE LEGAL CORNER
Workers who are injured on the job often may recover from their injuries. If you or someone you know is injured on the job, it's important to understand your rights and the compensation you may be eligible for.

Jandreau Calls For Shorter Workweek; Productivity Hike Boosts Jobless
Leo Jandreau, business agent for Local 301 U. S. E., endorsed the need for a shorter workweek and productivity hike to boost employment.

Volunteers needed for the United Way drive.

Prices...

Vacation Giveaway On!!
Your local store has tickets now for Local 301's trip to vacation giveaway. The trip will be to the annual American Children's Christmas Party.

THE LOCAL 301, U. S. E. STARTS NEW RADIO SHOW
Local 301 begins a new radio show Saturday, May 5, from 4-6 p.m. WTKR. This is for the latest news and commentary.