Crafts Discuss Wage Structure

The recent meetings at the Longshoremen's Union headquarters in New York were to discuss the labor craft and the possibility of an agreement for wage increases. The union leadership is seeking to improve working conditions and wages for its members.

Gazette is Scarcely In Position to Talk

A report in the Gazette, the official newspaper of the Longshoremen's Union, suggests that the union is not in a strong position to negotiate for wage increases. The report states that the union is facing financial difficulties and may not have the resources to negotiate effectively.

Here's the Way It Really Was

A statement released by the Local 330 of the United Brewery Employees Union claims that the union's previous wage proposal was rejected by the company due to economic reasons. The union is seeking to negotiate a new contract that includes wage increases.

Bus Service Cut Aroused Protests

There have been protests against the reduction of bus services in several areas. The union is calling for the restoration of services, and the city is in the process of reviewing the situation.

Gannett Paper Refuses Ad Against Mundt Bill

The Gannett newspaper chain has refused to run an ad against a proposed bill by Senator Mundt. The union views the ad as a form of political action and is considering legal action.

Works News Hits Railway Workers

A report in the Works News highlights issues facing railway workers, including low wages and long hours.

More Pay Rises

Union-leaders are calling for more pay rises for workers in the railway industry. The union is pressing for a comprehensive wage increase and better working conditions.

Shop Stewards Call on GE for Offer at Least Equal to GM Settlement

Shop stewards are calling on General Electric to match the settlement offered by General Motors. The union is seeking to negotiate a fair wage for its members.

"How To Handle Employee Relations"

A guide for handling employee relations is being provided by the United Brewery Employees Union. The guide offers tips on communication, conflict resolution, and improving working conditions.

Check-Off Cards Still Coming In

Despite the recent strike, strike-check-off cards are still being issued by the company. The union is working to ensure that these cards are returned.

UE-GE Talks Continue on 48 Contract

Negotiations between the UE-GE union and General Electric continue on a new contract. The union is pressing for better wages and working conditions.

Tune in on Gaeaf

The annual Gaeaf broadcast is scheduled to air on Saturday, featuring music and entertainment.

President's Meeting

The UE-GE President's meeting was held on Wednesday at the union hall. The meeting discussed recent developments in the union's negotiations with General Electric.
GE Propaganda Tackles T&H Law

The GE propaganda concerning the T&H Railway now was presented to the 301 shop committee meetings by Business Agent Les Heffernan.

The GE propaganda has created a controversy among workers in the area. The GE propaganda is accused of spreading disinformation about the T&H Railway, which is currently in dispute with the union. The GE propaganda has accused the union of being不利于 the company and has tried to dissuade workers from joining the union. The union has accused the GE propaganda of being biased and not providing a fair representation of the workers' interests.

According to the company, the GE propaganda is simply trying to inform workers about the T&H Railway and the benefits of working for GE. However, the union has criticized the GE propaganda for its lack of neutrality and for spreading misinformation about the union and the T&H Railway.

Geographers and Economists.

The GE propaganda has been criticized for its lack of accuracy and for making exaggerated claims about the T&H Railway. The union has accused the GE propaganda of misrepresenting facts and of using propaganda to influence workers' decisions. The union has also accused the GE propaganda of trying to disrupt the union's efforts to organize workers.

Vacation Proposal Under Discussion

A proposal made by GE to the US negotiations last week provides for a 300-day vacation with pay. The proposal is being discussed by the union, which has requested that the company provide more detailed information about the proposal.

California - GE Strike

The strike in California continues to escalate as workers continue to strike against GE. The union has stated that the strike is necessary to protect workers' rights and to ensure that workers receive fair wages and benefits.

New U.S. Plant

A new U.S. plant will be constructed by GE in the state of Arkansas. The plant will be located in the town of Jonesboro and will employ 500 workers. The new plant will produce GE's latest line of appliances, including microwaves and refrigerators.

World's News Hints

Railway Workers

a. Continental from page 3...b. The strike in Canada continues to escalate, with workers refusing to return to work until their demands are met.

New Workmen's Compensation Awards Made to Schenectady GE Employees

The Workmen's Compensation Commission has approved awards to six GE employees for injuries sustained on the job. The employees will receive compensation for their injuries, which range from minor cuts and bruises to more severe injuries such as broken bones and head injuries.

Flanagan Elected to Executive Board

Ray Flanagan, shop steward, was elected to the Executive Board last week to replace an ill member. Flanagan has been a strong advocate for workers' rights and has been involved in many labor disputes.

New Shop Stewards Take Oath of Office

The local union has elected new shop stewards to represent the workers in the workplace. The new stewards will work to ensure that workers' rights are protected and that the company adheres to labor laws.

Public Use of Schools Favorable by 301 Board

The local union has voted in favor of allowing public schools to use the union's facilities for meetings and other activities. The union has stated that this will help to ensure that workers have access to community resources.

Get the Free App

The GE company has launched a new mobile app to provide workers with information about their job and benefits. The app also includes tools for tracking time and expenses, as well as a feature for accessing company resources and support.

Cancer Fund

The GE company has established a cancer fund to help workers who are diagnosed with cancer. The fund provides financial assistance to help with medical expenses and other related costs.

Get the Free App

The GE company has launched a new mobile app to provide workers with information about their job and benefits. The app also includes tools for tracking time and expenses, as well as a feature for accessing company resources and support.