Executive Board Election Postponed Pending Study

The election of a new UE Local 201 board was postponed by the UE Local 201 Executive Board, meeting on January 9, 1963, pending a study of the situation. The present board has suspended its activities, declaring that the results of the pending study will determine its future.
Women Get Runaround

Personal has been standing long to secure wage offers to current employees. These offers are on par with the offers of other employers in the area. It seems that the management has not taken into account the years of experience and skills that these women possess.

Signs EM’UP, SAYS IT’S EASY

Jimmy Dellaire, one of the workers, said he feels they are not being treated fairly. He added that they should get their fair share of the pie.

Seek Upgrading for Millwrights

The Union is currently negotiating a new contract for Millwrights, who are a group of skilled workers who maintain and operate machinery. The Union is asking for a raise in wages and better benefits for these workers.

Hiring Begins in Large M & G

UE Local 511 is in the process of hiring new members. The Union is looking for skilled workers to join their ranks. Interested candidates are encouraged to apply.

Aluminum Workers Vote to Strike

The Aluminum Workers have voted to strike due to dissatisfaction with the company's wages and working conditions. The Union is seeking better wages and benefits for its members.

Having Babies Sign of Undependability

According to Foreman, the company's policy on having babies is one of the reasons why women are considered unreliable. The Union is fighting against this policy and is seeking better conditions for all workers.

Political Strove of Carey and Co.

Challenges Right to Choose Union

Carey and his co-workers are challenging the company's right to choose their union. The Union is seeking a better contract for its members and is fighting against unfair labor practices.

VOTE AID TO UE STRIKERS

Nothing UE members in steel mills have voted at the January 15 meeting of the St. Louis Local Union. The Board took a 1-3 vote to sustain the UE strikers.

SET FOR NEW SELL-OUT

If the Steelworkers move into the new steel mill, they will be forced to take a lower wage. The new mill will have a lower cost of living, but the workers will be forced to take a pay cut.

NO WAGE FIGHT — NO CONTRACT

CIO textile union members, who have been negotiating a new wage scale, are demanding a new contract. The Union is seeking better wages and working conditions for its members.

Women Get Runaround

Personal has been standing long to secure wage offers to current employees. These offers are on par with the offers of other employers in the area. It seems that the management has not taken into account the years of experience and skills that these women possess.

Signs EM’UP, SAYS IT’S EASY

Jimmy Dellaire, one of the workers, said he feels they are not being treated fairly. He added that they should get their fair share of the pie.

Seek Upgrading for Millwrights

The Union is currently negotiating a new contract for Millwrights, who are a group of skilled workers who maintain and operate machinery. The Union is asking for a raise in wages and better benefits for these workers.

Hiring Begins in Large M & G

UE Local 511 is in the process of hiring new members. The Union is looking for skilled workers to join their ranks. Interested candidates are encouraged to apply.

Aluminum Workers Vote to Strike

The Aluminum Workers have voted to strike due to dissatisfaction with the company's wages and working conditions. The Union is seeking better wages and benefits for its members.

Having Babies Sign of Undependability

According to Foreman, the company's policy on having babies is one of the reasons why women are considered unreliable. The Union is fighting against this policy and is seeking better conditions for all workers.

Political Strove of Carey and Co.

Challenges Right to Choose Union

Carey and his co-workers are challenging the company's right to choose their union. The Union is seeking a better contract for its members and is fighting against unfair labor practices.

VOTE AID TO UE STRIKERS

Nothing UE members in steel mills have voted at the January 15 meeting of the St. Louis Local Union. The Board took a 1-3 vote to sustain the UE strikers.

SET FOR NEW SELL-OUT

If the Steelworkers move into the new steel mill, they will be forced to take a lower wage. The new mill will have a lower cost of living, but the workers will be forced to take a pay cut.

NO WAGE FIGHT — NO CONTRACT

CIO textile union members, who have been negotiating a new wage scale, are demanding a new contract. The Union is seeking better wages and working conditions for its members.