U. S. Delegates at District 3 Conference on War

Over 100 delegates from U.E. locals in the State of New York outside the Greater New York area, representing 85,000 employees in the Electrical and Electronic Industry, met at the CIO headquarters, 85 Liberty St., Thursday, March 18th, to hear a speech on 17-minute union policy for labor-management cooperation.

Brother John Hanratty, national secretary-treasurer, opened the discussion on war production with his opening remarks: "I would like to emphasize why we as a labor movement are not involved in the war production. We are interested in seeing the production of war materials come to us in such a way that it can be distributed in a speedy and adequate manner. It is the wish of the workers in all parts of the country to see that we are involved in this war and that we do our part in seeing that the war is a war of production and not a war of another class of individuals." During the discussion from the floor many cases of discrimination were brought to the attention of the delegates. One case brought to the attention of the CIO was that of a man who had been in the service for 10 years. He had been given a lower grade job and was working at the rate of $1.00 per day, while another man, who had been in the service for only 6 months, was working at the rate of $1.50 per day.

The following resolutions which were adopted by the delegates:

1. Workers from skilled trades shall be assigned to skilled trades.
2. Eight-hour shifts shall be established to meet the demand for production.
3. Shifts shall be extended to meet the demand for production.
4. The maximum of three shifts per week shall be allowed to meet the demand for production.
5. The production of goods for the war shall be the responsibility of the individual worker and not the management of the company.
6. The war shall be fought on the jobsite and not in the streets.

Let's Go!

The response from the membership of the CIO to President Philip Murray's call for higher wages and better working conditions has been overwhelming. The response has been so overwhelming that the CIO has made a formal request to the War Production Board to increase the production of war materials.

The War Production Board has agreed to the request and has promised to increase the production of war materials.
