Stewards Campaign To Spur Fight For Decent GE Proposal

UE Local 301 has announced a campaign to fight for a better contract for its members working at GE. The campaign will include protests and rallies at the company's headquarters in Schenectady.

GE Is NOT Bargaining in Good Faith!

GE's so-called offer of a 1.7% wage increase is a total insult to hardworking men and women who have been struggling for decent wages for years. The company's actions show a complete disregard for the needs of its workers.

The company is not complying with the terms of the collective bargaining agreement and is not treating our members fairly. We will not back down until we get what we deserve.

EXECUTIVE BOARD TO HOLD MEETING WEDNESDAY EVENING

Members of the UE Local 303 executive board will meet on Wednesday evening to discuss strategies for responding to the company's proposals. The meeting is open to all members and will be held at the union hall.

Cover Story: How to fight for decent GE proposals. UE Local 301's stewards voted Monday to launch a campaign to ensure that its members receive a fair contract. The campaign will include protests at GE headquarters and efforts to educate the public about the company's record.

CONFERENCE DELAYED--Contempo plans to publish a story on the conference, which was scheduled for May 10th, but is now postponed.

Stewards were due in New York City last week to negotiate a new contract with General Electric Company.

GE's refusal to bargain in good faith is unacceptable. We will continue to fight for a fair contract that meets the needs of our members.
Aim of Goldwater-Rhodes Bill Is Outlawing of Unions

A specimen-sized city in the state of Ohio, Cincinnati, is home to the United Steelworkers of America (USWA). This union, with over 300,000 members, is one of the largest in the country. Their main goal is to negotiate better wages and working conditions for their members. On February 26, 1953, the USWA announced that it had reached an agreement with the management of the Cincinnati plant of the General Electric Company. The agreement covers a three-year period, during which the workers will receive a 10% wage increase and other benefits. The union also secured the establishment of a grievance procedure and a joint labor-management committee.

Cincinnati

The telegram printed on the front page of the newspaper reads: "The Steelworkers, including all steelworkers, have an important interest in the fate of the proposed bill outlawing strikes. If this bill becomes law, it will mean the end of collective bargaining and the erosion of workers' rights." The telegram is signed by the president of the USWA.

307 Wins 12c and 2 Holidays

With a strike deadline only a few weeks away, negotiations between the United Steelworkers of America (USWA) and the Round Table Steel Company in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, are being conducted in an attempt to avoid a work stoppage. The Union is seeking better working conditions, higher wages, and an end to the use of strikebreakers. The Steel Company, on the other hand, is offering less concessions. The negotiations are expected to continue until the proposed strike deadline.

301 Pledges Fight To Win Proper Rates for Welders

The United Steelworkers of America (USWA) has announced that it will fight for proper rates for welders. The union has identified the welding profession as a key area for improvement and has called for increased recognition and compensation for the work that welders do. The USWA has also called for the establishment of a national welding code to ensure safety and quality standards.

Draft NY Women's Conference Plans

The New York Women's Conference, scheduled for September 1953, is being planned by the United Steelworkers of America (USWA). The conference aims to address issues facing women workers and to promote gender equality in the workplace. The conference will feature panel discussions, workshops, and keynote speakers. The USWA hopes to attract a diverse group of attendees, including women from various industries and backgrounds.

12,000 Workers Swell Ranks Of Union in 3-Month Period

In three months, the United Steelworkers of America (USWA) has gained over 12,000 new members. The union's membership has grown significantly, reflecting growing worker demands for better working conditions and higher wages. The USWA has successfully organized new plants and has won concessions from established employers. The union's leadership attributes its success to strong organizing efforts and a commitment to worker solidarity.

Brisk Buying Marks First Dance Tax Sale

The first dance tax sale in Detroit, Michigan, was held on Tuesday, April 5, 1953. The sale was organized by the United Steelworkers of America (USWA) and generated over $1,000 in revenue. The sale featured a dance, refreshments, and a raffle. The proceeds from the sale will be used to support the union's organizing efforts.

The United Steelworkers of America (USWA) continues to fight for workers' rights. The union has reported a series of victories, including the successful organization of new plants and the winning of concessions from established employers. The USWA has also called for the establishment of a national welding code to ensure safety and quality standards. The union's leadership attributes its success to strong organizing efforts and a commitment to worker solidarity.

New Stewards

A new steward has been elected in the United Steelworkers of America (USWA). The new steward will work closely with the Local Union to promote worker solidarity and to protect the rights of workers. The steward will be involved in organizing activities, grievance resolution, and other union-related tasks.
