New Tax Plot Would Rob Workers To Aid Bosses

There has been a great deal of talk in the newspapers during the past few weeks about tax relief for veterans in the United States. For most workers, burdened with the heavy-yield tax bill that is in the nation's history, very little talk has been of any notice.

Unfortunately, however, a look at the accrued tax-eating abuses that may be put forth by the Republican-leaning Washington crews shows that the rage against high taxes is not of the same caliber as the popularity of the veterans. It is in the Senate, in small, but effective amounts.

The present plan is to place a 20 per cent on taxes. This does not say that workers who had been high enough that they would reap any real benefits by it are those with smaller incomes of about $5,000.

But this is the end of the tax relief for the big boys. Plans also allow for other exemption taxes by the government for a year.

In all, the tax rates for the nation's exemption schemes and their ramifications would take 10 billion from the federal government's coffers. Rather than making any such plan the highest military expenditure, the tax experts have calculated that this money would be more used on defense, and they have endorsed the project of reducing the real price of the corporation.

Annual Financial Report

United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America

For the F.Y. Ending December 31, 1953

INCOME STATEMENT

PERCENTAGES

RECEIPTS

Salaries
$15,000,000

Salaries, etc., earned by National Union and Districts
$15,000,000

Total
$30,000,000

EXPENSES

Domestic
$10,000,000

Domestic, etc., earned by National Union and Districts
$10,000,000

Total
$20,000,000

Net income for the year
$10,000,000

HOPE FREEZE ENDS

The government has ended the freeze on goods, a move that would have allowed for the sale of more goods at the current prices. This will enable for the sale of more goods at the current prices.

The freeze was lifted in order to prevent future price increases and to bring prices down to their current levels.

National Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America

THE VOICE OF THE UNITED ELECTRICAL, RADIO AND MACHINE WORKERS OF AMERICA

Vol. 17 No. 7

Schenectady, New York

Friday, February 6, 1953

Term Political Action Vital To Gains in Economic Field

U. E. L. 301 shop stewards were told Monday that "anyone who thinks that the shop stewards have no real part in the economic gains to the workers, and at the same time do a job for his members in the economic field, just haven't a clue. They are the only thing that stands the shop labor today." This conclusion was made by Business Agent Leo Jandroski and S. L. 301 shop stewards during a discussion of the U. E.'s political program Monday night.

"We don't mean to say that just because one has a political action record or is a member of a political party, that he is any more effective in the economic field. There are many instances of men who are not members of political parties, but who have been very successful in the economic field. But we do mean to say that the shop stewards, as a group, have a great deal of influence in the economic field, and that they should use it to the best of their ability." - Business Agent Leo Jandroski

Weather Deal To End 5-Years Falls

The union of the U. E. L. 301 shop stewards has been negotiating with the company for the past five years on a new contract. The company has offered a number of concessions, but the union has rejected them all. The union has now offered to accept the company's latest offer, and the negotiations are expected to be completed within the next few days.

U. E. Urges United Fight by GE Workers

Identifying the importance of uniting all electrical workers to win a fair contract, the U. E. L. 301 shop stewards Sunday urged every unit to prepare for a united campaign to win a fair contract.

"The united front is the best weapon we have. The more electrical workers we can organize into a united front, the stronger we will be in our negotiations. The United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America is the only national electrical union in the country, and we are the only union that can bring all the workers together into a united front," said the U. E. L. 301 shop stewards.

"We urge everyone to join the U. E. and work with us to win a fair contract. The more workers we can organize into a united front, the stronger we will be in our negotiations." - U. E. L. 301 shop stewards

U. E. L. 301 Union News

The union of the U. E. L. 301 shop stewards is organizing a new local in Schenectady. The union is also working to organize new locals in the area.

Electrical Union News

Vol. 17 No. 7

Schenectady, New York

Friday, February 6, 1953

Thousands Sign Petitions Opposing McCarran Law

U. E. L. 301's petition calling for repeal of the wishes of workers in the New York City area to sign the McCarran-Walter Immigration bill has been signed by thousands of workers in the area.

"We are pleased to report that our petition calling for repeal of the McCarran-Walter Immigration bill has been signed by thousands of workers in the New York City area," said the U. E. L. 301 shop stewards.

"We are hopeful that this will bring about the repeal of the McCarran-Walter Immigration bill, which is harmful to workers." - U. E. L. 301 shop stewards

U. S. National Women's Conference in NY May 2 & 3

The United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America is urging all women in the New York City area to attend the U. S. National Women's Conference in New York City May 2 & 3.

The conference is an important event for women in the electrical industry. It will bring together women from all over the country to discuss and work on issues important to them.

"The U. S. National Women's Conference is an important event for women in the electrical industry. We urge all women to attend," said the U. E. L. 301 shop stewards.

"We are hoping that this conference will bring about important changes for women in the electrical industry." - U. E. L. 301 shop stewards

U. E. L. 301 Union News

Vol. 17 No. 7

Schenectady, New York

Friday, February 6, 1953

Membership to Vote on By-Laws

A proposed change in the constitution of the U. E. L. 301 will be voted on at the next meeting. The proposed changes are intended to improve the organization and effectiveness of the U. E. L. 301.

"We are proposing changes to our constitution that will improve the organization and effectiveness of the U. E. L. 301," said the U. E. L. 301 shop stewards.

"We believe that these changes will make our organization more effective and efficient." - U. E. L. 301 shop stewards

U. E. L. 301 Union News

Vol. 17 No. 7

Schenectady, New York

Friday, February 6, 1953

THERE'S ALL WORKERS

Executive Board Member Howard McCloud is in charge of the plans for the Banquet. The Banquet is an important event for the U. E. L. 301, as it brings together all the workers in the area to celebrate and honor their achievements.

"The Banquet is an important event for the U. E. L. 301," said Howard McCloud.

"We are looking forward to a great Banquet this year." - Howard McCloud

U. E. L. 301 Union News

Vol. 17 No. 7

Schenectady, New York

Friday, February 6, 1953

$100 to Wausau

The U. E. L. 301 union has raised $100 to be sent to Wausau, Wisconsin. The money will be used to help support the local union in Wausau.

"We are pleased to support our local union in Wausau," said the U. E. L. 301 shop stewards.

"We believe that this money will be put to good use." - U. E. L. 301 shop stewards

U. E. L. 301 Union News

Vol. 17 No. 7

Schenectady, New York

Friday, February 6, 1953
Heck Holds Key To PPR's Fate

The 1626 sale of the New York State personal real estate brokerage firm of Proctor, Proctor & Co. (PPR) to the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) made PPR's 36th year a success for the company.

The sale of the firm's assets to the NYSE was a key event in the history of PPR. The firm's successful operation had been built on a solid foundation of strong management and a commitment to excellence. The sale to the NYSE was a validation of PPR's efforts and a step forward in the company's growth.

The sale was made possible by the efforts of the firm's key player, Howard Heck, who served as the company's chief executive officer. Heck's leadership and vision were instrumental in the company's success, and his legacy continues to inspire generations of brokers.

The sale of PPR to the NYSE marked the beginning of a new chapter in the company's history. The firm's strong reputation and commitment to excellence ensured a bright future for its employees and customers.