Stewards Approve Contract Proposals

Here's the Score In Check-off Case

A hearing was scheduled in Federal Court in New York yesterday on the injunction obtained by the former US. tera to enjoin the U.S. Steel Corporation from refusing to pay check-off money in a check-off case against the United Steelworkers of America. Judge Wilbur C. Kingsley was to have heard the case Tuesday, but re- served himself because he owns US stock. He set the hearing for next week, but US attorneys were able to have Judge John C. Hassett set it for next Monday (February 16). US is saying that there is no need to pay check-off money to the union because a tentative settlement was reached last month on a check-off case with the International Typographical Union, the only other union which has a check-off contract.

In the meantime, Local 301 has a general grievance strewn 10 days to file their grievances before the next meeting of the local. The strike was called by the union because of a refusal by the company to settle the grievance clause in the contract.

Proposed new wage figures, which have been made public, are not the answer that is needed. A new wage figure that will go into effect on April 1 is $4.75 per day for a 30-day period. This figure is to be increased to $5.00 per day for a 30-day period. The proposed new wage figure will be given to workers who are not working at the present time. However, the new wage figure will not be given to workers who are working full-time. The new wage figure will be given to workers who are working part-time. The new wage figure will be given to workers who are working less than full-time. The new wage figure will be given to workers who are working on a limited basis. The new wage figure will be given to workers who are working on a limited basis.

Their Own Figures Don't Add Up

Wage increases being proposed recently by the US Steel Corporation have been received with skepticism by the US Steel Corporation. The US Steel Corporation has been accused of trying to force the US Steel Corporation to accept its proposed wage increases.

Meet Your Union Leaders
This is the first of a series of articles on national union leaders.
Although L. I. Fisherman, who was in the United States Senate for over 40 years, made a name for himself in the AFL, he was not the first to bring the labor movement to national prominence.

As the head of the Fisherman family, he worked for years to bring the AFL to the forefront of the labor movement.

When he was elected to Congress in 1907, he was a leader in the AFL and played a key role in the organization.

In 1939, Fisherman joined the newly formed CIO, and in 1941, he was elected president of the AFL-CIO.

His leadership helped to bring the labor movement to national prominence, and he remained a major figure in the labor movement until his death in 1967.

The Fisherman family has been a major force in the labor movement for over 100 years, and their legacy continues to this day.

Big Build-up For Big Flop

The nationwide strike that was supposed to solve the problem of the OUR Local 33 strike was in full swing.

The OUR Local 33 had been involved in a series of strikes over the past few years, and the union leadership had been fighting hard to negotiate a new contract.

On the day of the strike, the company announced that they would be implementing a new policy that would affect all workers.

The reaction to the news was mixed, with some workers supporting the strike and others opposing it.

Here's the Score

In Check-off Case

A check-off case is a legal dispute that occurs when a union attempts to collect dues from employees in a company that is not a union member.

In the case of the OUR Local 33, the union was attempting to collect dues from workers at a major oil refinery.

The refinery was owned by a large corporation, and the union was trying to negotiate a contract with the company.

The case went to court, and the court ruled in favor of the union, allowing them to collect dues from the workers.

Did You Know?

The OUR Local 33 was founded in 1934 by a group of workers at the United States Steel Corporation.

The union was dedicated to improving the pay and working conditions of its members, and it became one of the most powerful unions in the country.

By the 1950s, the OUR Local 33 had become one of the most respected unions in the world, and its leaders were considered to be some of the most powerful people in the labor movement.

The union's success was built on a strong commitment to its members, and it remains one of the strongest unions in the country today.

Mr. Albert J. Fitzgerald,
General President, UE
11 East 51 Street, New York City

Dear Mr. Fitzgerald,

It is with pleasure that I wish to advise you that UE Local 610 has just signed a pension and health and welfare agreement with the Westinghouse Airplane and Union Switch & Signal companies covering 7,000 of our members. The settlement provides for:

- Minimum $120 a month pensions going as high as $300 a month... if a member is laid off or quits he is still entitled to his pension.
- Complete hospitalization and surgical benefits for our members and their families paid for in full by the company.
- Life Insurance of $3,000 to $5,000 and a $1,000 paid-up insurance policy, all paid for in full by the company.

Enclosed are further details of the agreement.

Fraternally,

Harold X. Brinly
President
What UE Members Say About the Plan

"I THINK IT'S SWELL!"
A UE member and a member of the Team Council, P. J. O'Conner, says to make this statement: "I was supposed to get $76 a month pension," he says. "With this new plan the union has granted the company will add $47 a month to give me $153. I think it's swell! It's the best thing that ever hit his plan."

"DEPARTMENT SOLID"
Says Charles Bush, UE worker who has 17 years at United Steel and Signal plant. "This offering $280 a year even if my earnings don't go up. It's eligible for $125 a month pension at 65."

"I was paying $7.10 for the voluntary program, now the pension plan will cost me $3 a month and I get the same program by setting up my department's fund for this."

"THIS IS WONDERFUL!"
UE's history has been shared equally by the views and values of UE (now U.S.) members. For example there is the Progress Party. "This is wonderful! It's a big difference from what we've been expecting," said Jim, annual Penn in whose hands, a UE worker, is relying on this plan. "The company will contribute $40 more pension every month than we had been expecting because of the new pension plan."

"PLAN IS A PATTERN"
Angelo J. Pizzuto, UE worker with over 17 years at United Steel and Signal plant. "With this new plan the pension plan will add $47 a month to give me $153. I think it's swell! It's the best thing that ever hit his plan."

WHAT ABOUT TAKE HOME PAY?

Take home pay of UE members increased as much as $40 per month as result of company taking over full payment for insurance and hospitalization. Younger improved UE pension plan costs workers the same as old company plan—$35 to $40 per month—and costs company $13.00 per month. The company may withdraw his money paid into pension plan at any time.
