Building Trades Committee Work Out New Bargaining Program

Representing building trades at the Schenectady GE plant, this group of committee members met at the Local 301 Board Room to discuss details of the bargaining session. This week's meeting, which was held in last week's EU News, was submitted under a special meeting of all building trades members at the plant. Left to right: Benjamin Ford, Building 13 F; electrician; Charles Freeman, 191, stenographer; John Hadden, 193, layman; Frank Cramer, 195, electrician; Albert Spence, 197, machinist and welder; W. C. Smith, 198, machinist; Charles Spencer, 199, machinist; Charles Dumas, 191, electrician; Charles Dumas, 191, electrician; Charlie Dumas, 191, electrician.

Famous C-E Efficiency Breaks Down on Dues

A number of double dues deductions will be occurring shortly because of the structure of the GE payroll system in breaking up with the transfers in the closing of refrigerators.

With transfers heavy in July and August, there have been a number of cases where two dues were checked off in both August and September. This means there will be double check-offs in each case in both October and December. This situation has been called to the attention of the company, which is entirely responsible for the bookkeeping.

White Collar Workers Sue for Overtime Pay

A test case filed by UE General Council David Haskins for 11 members of Local 301, at Lynn, Mass., challenges the company's policy of excluding white collar workers from overtime pay due under the Wage-Hour Law.

If the ruling of the court is to be followed, many other white collar workers may be able to collect millions of dollars. The workers involved in this case may be able to collect tens of millions of dollars.

Check Your Pay Rate in Any Job Transfer

Workers transferred from one job to another must do well to check with their representatives to make sure they are given the right rate. Under the union contract, the new rate on transfer is better than the rate for a layman's employees on the same job. Your representative has the contract and can tell you what your rate should be.

There have been frequent cases of transferred employees receiving less than the correct rate, through a foreman's error. This has been corrected promptly upon being called to the management's attention.

$1,000 for Canadian Strikers

A distribution of $1,000 for the strike fund of the Canadian UE district was voted by the general membership meeting of Local 861, Sept. 17.

The convention resolution on UE unity and democracy, upholding the right of any member to hold office without regard to "classifying" one's nationality, race, creed or political belief, was overwhelmingly approved also, with only nine dissenting votes.

Union Will Decide On Endorsements
Local 301 Will Continue to be Run By Its Membership—Not by Gazette

This statement by Leo Johnson, was approved by the Local 301 Executive Board at its Sept. 29 meeting and the Board directed its publication in EU News.

"This issue has a highly-organized campaign by big employers and their political and newspaper spokesmen to break up our unity. The campaign is intended to block our program of real price control; improve conditions of living, wage to meet price increases, and political action against the forces of labor at the polls.

"We must expect this campaign to grow in intensity. Our ability to stand up to it and resist will determine whether or not we remain as strong and effective an organization as is the merit of our members' will.

"In the second of two editorials within a period of 10 days, the Socialister is trying to show that the Gazette is anti-Green, anti-Green, and the other Green is not being anti-Green. The Gazette is trying to show that the Green is not being anti-Green, and the other Green is not being anti-Green.

"The issues are to be open to us, and the union workers must be able to express their views in an open and democratic manner.

"As we continue to learn of some of our members, the Gazette into itself is even more than the Socialists. The Socialister has published this editorial, and the union workers must be able to express their views in an open and democratic manner.

CIO Convention Reports
Defend Unit Ochsenheim

Remitting reports of delegates to the recent CIO Convention at Lake Placid will be heard at the Octo-her membership meeting of Local 301. They were postponed from the Sept. 27 meeting because of a canceled program.

The 301 meeting defeated by a two-to-one vote a motion of John Ochsenheim, a delegate to the state CIO convention to disapprove the state CIO's foreign policy resolution which called "Communism." All the other delegates from Local 301 had voted for this foreign policy resolution which was unanimously ly recommended by the RI-CIO Executive Board, overturning every interternational CIO unity in New York state.

The vote of the representatives was overwhelmingly in favor of the resolutions.

New Machinery Appeals Machinery Set Up:
First Committee Session Called for Tomorrow

Any 301 member who has a complaint to make about the handling of a grievance can appeal at any step to a grievance sub-committee set up by the Local 301 Executive Board at the recommendation of Business Agent Leo Johnson.

The next procedure for speed appeal was voted at the board meeting last Friday.

The board decided the grievance was to direct the appeal to the appropriate member of the committee or the employee who handled the grievance.

The committee will meet every Friday at 5 p.m. to hear appeals, beginning next week.

The board felt that the machinery was important enough to bring it to the Local's attention. It will recom-
