CIO Large Motor Generator Division's Management Still "In the Clouds"

Apparently oblivious to the responsibilities of their position, the new and young management of Large Motor Generator Dept. are still wringing haplessly from their lofty perch in the clouds.

This week they flippantly refused to answer a written grievance presented to them by Stewart Williams and Enerwave Byrds. Although Mr. Williams submitted a written answer according to Contract, Mr. Byrds remained adamant about the grievance.

Ramon E. Union has also indicated that the Cloud staff is not able to deal with their responsibilities. The Union has made this request several times in the past two weeks.

CIO GREETINGS TO AFL Parley

The close relationship developing between the AFL-CIO and CIO was evident at the AFL-CIO Convention held in New York City in September. The CIO unions were among the first to extend their support to the AFL-CIO, and the two organizations have continued to work closely together on a variety of issues. The CIO has been particularly active in promoting the rights of workers and fighting for fairer wages and working conditions. The AFL-CIO has also been a strong advocate for workers' rights, and the two organizations have worked together to improve the lives of working people across the country.

The arrangement for holiday pay on the Friday following Thanksgiving was made possible this year as a result of decisions made by the Company's management. Union Local 45 in the area was notified in advance of the plans, and the agreement was reached with the Company.

The Company's management, in turn, notified the Union of its plans, and the agreement was reached with the Company.

Local 301 invited to Join Local Area CIO Council

The Schenectady Area Industrial Union Council has invited Local 301 to join the union and representatives to its next meeting which will be held in Amsterdam.

In a letter from the Council, President Frank P. Mullen stressed the importance of local unions joining the Council. Local 301 was invited to join the Council because of its size and influence in the area.

The letter stated that the Council believes in the importance of local unions joining the Council, and that Local 301's support will be invaluable in strengthening the Council's position.

The letter also stated that Local 301's support will be valuable in helping the Council to achieve its goals and objectives.

Local 301 has agreed to join the Council and will attend its next meeting, which will be held in Amsterdam.

Textile Workers Oppose Contracts; Fight $120 Min.

New York - Union leaders and textile workers met today to discuss the proposed $120 minimum wage contract. The meeting was held in response to an announcement by the company that it would be offering a $120 minimum wage contract to its employees.

The union leaders expressed their opposition to the contract, stating that it does not provide enough wage increases for the workers.

The union leaders also expressed concern about the possibility of job losses if the workers do not accept the contract.

The union leaders have called for a protest rally to be held in response to the proposed contract.

Third Shift Inspector Added Thru Grievance Procedure

In response to a recent grievance, an additional shift was added to the third shift. The grievance was filed by an employee who claimed that the company was not providing adequate supervision on the third shift.

The company responded by adding an additional shift to the third shift, which has helped to improve working conditions on that shift.

The company has also made other changes to improve working conditions on the third shift, including the addition of new equipment and the hiring of additional workers.
