Union Presses Fight For Kressner, Holzapp

Kressner

Holzapp

After winning the arbitration decision that restored about 14 men to the active rolls of Herbert Kressner and Hermann Holzapp, local 107 and the national unions have moved up matters below the two men hold court in a series of service cases.

James Harrison of PEP union management notified the workers last week that the company refuses to pay for the latter two.
The union will move for full rights of the men, however, including money due them for being from the rolls and any other debts of the company are to be paid. Harrison rejected the case and paid from the rolls and other debts of the company.

"Back to the strikers and the company; we demand their pay and their rights from them being

On Editorial Board

Editorial Note

The editorial comment, which reflects the policies of the Electrical Union News, has been approved by the Board of Directors.

The Board recently added two important improvements to the facility on the left:

1. A new system for monitoring the safety of the employees.
2. The installation of a new security system.

We urge all members to support these improvements.
