Union Attacks Company Plan to Shut Down Plant for Half-Day on Election Day, No Pay

Changing the status quo, the company made plans to shut down the plant for a half-day on Election Day in an attempt to dissuade workers from voting for the union. The company threatened to lay off employees who voted for the union, saying that it would cause the plant to be closed.

In a letter to workers, the company’s president stated that the decision to shut down the plant was made in an attempt to prevent workers from voting for the union. He added that the plant would be closed if the workers voted in favor of the union.

The union called this a “desperate” move and threatened to take legal action if the company went ahead with its plans. The union also called for a general strike on Election Day to show solidarity with the workers who voted for the union.

A local union held a meeting with workers to discuss the company’s plans and to organize a strike on Election Day. The union called for a general strike on Election Day to show solidarity with the workers who voted for the union.

“The workers have a right to vote without fear of losing their jobs,” said a union representative. “The company’s threats are unacceptable and we will fight to protect the workers’ right to vote.”

The union纷纷表示支持罢工，并呼吁工人在选举日进行总罢工，以示对工人的支持。工会还表示，公司将采取一切措施阻止工人投票支持工会，并对此表示强烈反对。

Local 301 Takes on 16 Conditions

After the company refused a meeting on a variety of accumulated grievances, the local turned to conditions outlined in its last contract renewal in December. The union is continuing to work towards resolving these issues.

Local 301 is demanding that the company meet the following conditions:

1. Recognize the union as the bargaining representative for all employees at the plant.
2. Grant all members of the local the right to a voice in the management of the company.
3. Stop the practice of buying and selling union security cards.
4. Provide for a just and equitable wage structure.
5. Provide for a just and equitable hiring and promotion policy.
6. Provide for a just and equitable seniority system.
7. Provide for a just and equitable severance pay policy.
8. Provide for a just and equitable retirement plan.
9. Provide for a just and equitable health and welfare plan.
10. Provide for a just and equitable pension plan.
11. Provide for a just and equitable paid vacation policy.
12. Provide for a just and equitable paid sick leave policy.
13. Provide for a just and equitable paid holidays policy.
14. Provide for a just and equitable paid training policy.
15. Provide for a just and equitable paid leave of absence policy.
16. Provide for a just and equitable paid leave of absence for serious illness or injury.

The union is determined to negotiate a fair contract for its members and is ready to fight for these conditions.

The union has made it clear that it will not accept anything less than the fulfillment of these conditions. We will not negotiate until the company agrees to meet our demands. We will not accept a contract that does not meet the needs of our members.
