District 3 Reelects Jandreau President

Leo Jandreau, Local 201, was unanimously reelected president of the District 3 area convention at Buffalo last weekend.

During the past year, 10,000 workers in the district were covered by first contracts in plants newly organized by UE. These plants include the General Motors at Waukegan, the Loma Linda Brass and the Potsdam, Posen and Redding plants in Illinois, the GE plant in Utica, and the Bethlehem Electric Co. at Jamestown. District 3 now represents 27,000 dues-paying UE members.

The convention, unanimously approved all resolutions passed and actions taken by the recent international UE convention.

District officers elected, in addition to Jandreau, were: Vice-president, Donald Watson, president of Local 31, Buffalo; secretary-treasurer, Charles Cooper, president of Local 201, North Tonawanda; and executive director, Lawrence Jandreau, president of the northeast district of the Industrial Union.

Local 201 delegates were Williams E. Johnson, Jr., Frank E. Rutkowski, John E. Egan, and George Miller.

Wallace Thanks Council For Letter of Support

President Charles C. Wallace, president of the Capital District Industrial Union Council, said that the letter of support was coming from Henry A. Wallace expressing appreciation of the Industrial Union campaign.

"You don't know how much it has meant to us," he said. "A letter from Henry Wallace as the Industrial Union chairman expressing appreciation of the campaign has meant more to us than all the speeches we ever made. We hope to see you in the history books as the heroes of the campaign.

"You are turning out the workers from all walks of life to support the cause of the workers. You are helping to bring about a new era of industrial democracy. You are giving the workers a voice in the factories, and you are helping to create a world where the working man is free to live his life as he sees fit."

"You are doing a great service to humanity, and we thank you for your help in this great campaign."

The letter ended with the following words: "Thank you for your help. We are proud to have you with us in this great struggle."

Putting the Blame Where It Belongs

The following statement was adopted by the Executive Board of Local 201 at its meeting Monday.

"With President Roosevelt's campaign to the nearest end of the people's welfare, it is important that the blame be laid in the proper place. We, as the United Electrical Workers, are the only union that has consistently opposed the policies of Governor Lehman's administration. We have been fighting for the rights of the workers, and we will continue to do so."

"The blame for the failure of the labor movement lies with the politicians, who are more interested in gaining power than in serving the people. They have sold their souls to the big business interests, and we will continue to fight against their policies."

"We are ready to do all that we can to help the workers, and we will continue to fight for their rights."

"We are proud of our membership, and we will continue to fight for their rights."

Conclusion

The meeting ended with the following words: "We are ready to do all that we can to help the workers, and we will continue to fight for their rights."

(Continued on Page 5)
Helped Get Out Big Schenectady Registration

ELECTRICAL UNION NEWS

October 17, 1946

Keep Kearney’s Record
In Mind Election Day

Congressman Bernard W. Kearney’s antidiscrimination record in Congress is so outstanding that most AFL workers need not fear further retaliation.

But in some cases, he has been in those crucial days before Nov. 3, when the Republican Congressman’s underwriting substantially has shown, there are a few miles to be run.

He voted for each of the ten items of GPAA and his bill granting benefits to war contracts. He voted for the 1945 revenue bill, which helps to rehabilitate corporations.

The bill, which is “the bill for reflation,” he said.

These are just a few highlights of the record.

Local 601 supports his opponent, John D. Goodwin, Smith, and A.L.P. who is pledged to work for the AFL-PAC program.

AFL Leaders Forget Depression of 1929

The last few days have seen the dates of the Executive Council of the national AFL have reminded America’s AFL members that they joined the party of the workers’ rights of 1929.

They have asked the ‘AFL members to remember the workers’ rights of 1929. They have reminded them that they are fighting for the rights of the workers of 1929.

The union has called for a 1929 AFL resolution as its 1946 program. This policy will not only bring about an end to the depression of 1929, but it will also bring about an end to the depression of 1946.

Good News for PAC — Registration Push

The Free Press for the talk of a 1945 registration campaign, the union has called for a 1929 AFL resolution as its 1946 program. This policy will not only bring about an end to the depression of 1929, but it will also bring about an end to the depression of 1946.

Free Tickets For Talk of Russell Nixon

For Free tickets for the talk of Russell Nixon, Washington representative of the AFL, at 5 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 28, the union has made arrangements for a 1929 AFL resolution as its 1946 program. This policy will not only bring about an end to the depression of 1929, but it will also bring about an end to the depression of 1946.

Open Negotiations

For Free tickets, representing District 3, U.S., is to start contracts negotiations this week with the Underwood Corp., to make the union’s workers’ rights of 1929.

Lockout Defended
By Candidate Ives

Irving B. Ives, Republican candidate for the St. Louis, believes the late American right of an employer to kill, as many workers as he wants to, in a speech Oct. 9.

After hearing the right of a man to kill, as many workers as he wants to, the late American right of an employer to kill, as many workers as he wants to, Irving B. Ives, Republican candidate for the St. Louis, believes the late American right of an employer to kill, as many workers as he wants to, in a speech Oct. 9.

Board Puts Blame Where It Belongs

(In contrast from Page 1)

(In contrast from Page 1)

Board Puts Blame Where It Belongs

(In contrast from Page 1)

Company to Consider Retirement Appeals

Following a decided announcement of the General Electric Company in New York City on the question of workers ordered to retire against their will under the changed pension plan, the company has announced that it will take up the question of workers ordered to retire against their will.

201 Board Calls
For Meat Seizure

In calling for a meat seizure, the 1929 AFL resolution as its 1946 program. This policy will not only bring about an end to the depression of 1929, but it will also bring about an end to the depression of 1946.

U.S. Employment Service
Praises Petitioners’ Work

Kearney himself, as the petition of the workers ordered to retire against their will under the changed pension plan, the company has announced that it will take up the question of workers ordered to retire against their will.

The union has called for a 1929 AFL resolution as its 1946 program. This policy will not only bring about an end to the depression of 1929, but it will also bring about an end to the depression of 1946.