Proposed Changes in Constitution

The Constitution Committee will submit proposed second amendment notices to the Members for consideration at the next meeting. Notice of the amendments is sent to all Members of the electric committee in order to consider the changes. They are also printed in the electric Union News.

Board of Directors

The Board of Directors consists of eleven men elected by the electric committee. The Board of Directors is responsible for the operation of the electric Union News.

Union Election

A ballot for the election of the Board of Directors will be held on the day of the meeting. The election will be held at 10 a.m. in the meeting room.

Did You Know?

The electric Union News has been in publication since 1913, making it one of the oldest electric trade journals in the country. The paper is published monthly and contains news, articles, and advertisements related to the electric industry.

Local Backs Program for GE Contract

The Local Backs Program is a cooperative effort between the electric Union News and General Electric Company to promote the use of electric products. The program includes a series of articles, advertisements, and promotions designed to educate consumers about the benefits of electric products.

Through the Wringer

The electric Union News is a member of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association (NEMA), which is a trade association representing the electric industry. The NEMA is responsible for promoting the use of electric products and ensuring that consumers receive the best possible service.

Burnish Threatens Local Understanding

Burnish, a member of the local electric union, was arrested for making threatening statements at an electric Union News meeting. The arrest caused a rift between the local electric union and the electric Union News, leading to a decline in membership and support for the union.

How to Recover Lost Confidence

The electric Union News is a valuable resource for electric industry professionals, offering news, articles, and information on the latest developments in the electric industry. The paper is available for free to all members of the electric Union News.

Grade School, Where electrical education is introduced, is often the first step in a career in the electric industry. The electric Union News is a great resource for students and educators interested in the electric industry.

Through the Wringer

The electric Union News is a member of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association (NEMA), which is a trade association representing the electric industry. The NEMA is responsible for promoting the use of electric products and ensuring that consumers receive the best possible service.
Wilson Gets Award
For Program He Hits

The Works News May 13 ran a photo of New York Gov. Frank la Guardia receiving an award from the American Veterans Committee for his work as chairman of the President's Committee on Veterans. The New York governor was in town for the dedication of the new veterans hospital when he was presented with the award, which included a check for $500 and a plaque.

More Shop Stewards Take Oath of Office

Nearly 1,000 shop stewards were sworn in at the meeting of the stewards' meeting held at the Labor Temple on May 13. The shop stewards are responsible for the discipline and welfare of the members of the union.

Union Gets Back Pay
For Promoted Worker

It has been a long time coming, but the United Steelworkers of America finally got what they deserved. The union has negotiated a settlement with the company for back pay for a worker who was promoted.

Boogie Your Ticket
Dodge’s T-Q Question

The Automotive Research Foundation has announced that it will provide a $10,000 prize for the best answer to this question: "What is the average age of a Boogie Your Ticket attendee?"

Higher Wages Vital
To the Whole Nation

The struggle for wages is one that must be fought for the benefit of all Americans. It is a struggle for a fair and just society, where everyone is treated equally.

Stewteackers to Seek
Wage Increase

The United Steelworkers, a labor union that represents steelworkers across the country, are planning to seek a wage increase for their members. The union has set up a bargaining team to negotiate with the company on this issue.

$92,000 More Jobs
Reported in N. Y. State

The state of New York reported an increase of $92,000 in jobs in April. This is a significant increase in the labor market and indicates a positive trend in the economy.

Ranger Works
Beat UAW RAID

The Ranger Works, a machine shop in New York, successfully defended its members against an attempt by the United Auto Workers to organize them. The company is committed to maintaining a non-union workforce.

301 Fights Boost in Bus Fare at Hearing

The State Senate Committee on Transportation held a hearing on May 31 to discuss the proposed increase in bus fares. The committee was divided on the issue, with some Members pushing for the increase and others opposing it.

Local 301 Approves
Contract Proposal

The local 301 of the United Steelworkers of America has approved a contract proposal that includes wage increases and improved benefits for its members.

State UE Conference Takes Action
On Unemployment and Legislation

The New York State AFL-CIO held a conference on unemployment and legislation. The conference included discussions on the impact of the recession on the economy and the need for government intervention.