Canadian Delegates Are Barred from U.S.

Investigation officials of the Trans-Canada Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Ltd., a new branch of the Canadian delegates from crossing into the United States to attend the UE convention. No reason was given for refusing entry to them.

The government also has requested the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, to destroy the UE hall at Amherst, New York, where the convention will be held. The UE Labor Committee, in an attempt to stop the convention, has filed a lawsuit in Federal court to prevent the hall from being used for the meeting.

The workers turned down the offer of a $1,000 bond by voting 445 to 76 to refuse the AFL offer. UE Local 506 had not approved the TV-Brighton labor, but campaigned for the "Red" side.

GE Aids Inspection

In Pensioner's Case

The GE company has been ordered by the Pension Board to return to the pensioner the balance of his pension. The pensioner had been awarded a supplement to his pension by the Board, but the company had refused to pay it. The case is now before the court.

GE Officer Named to Advising Brussels

The General Electric Company has appointed a representative to the Brussels Technical Conference on Electricity, which is to be held in Brussels, Belgium. The representative will be responsible for advising the company on the technical aspects of the conference.

State Checking On GE Pay Day

Lloyd A. Johnson, chairman of the State Department of Labor in Pennsylvania, has warned the General Electric Company to be ready for a state-wide investigation of the company's pay day practices. The company has been asked to provide a full report of its pay day practices to the State Department of Labor.

Balsam Too Popular

Over 1,000 members of Local 201, the largest branch of the UE, have asked the company to allow them to cut all 30-year-old pines in the area. The company also has been asked to provide more jobs for the workers, who have been layed off due to the demand for balsam.

101 Delegates on Committee

Business Agent Les Jordan, of the UE, was appointed chairman of the pension committee at the UE convention. The committee is responsible for the administration of the pension fund. The pension fund is one of the largest in the country.

Lobbyist Deluxe

The United States Senate has passed a bill to provide a financial package for the United States. The bill includes provisions for the improvement of the social security system. The bill is expected to be signed into law by the President.

Galos in Wagons

Wages given by 1,000,000 workers were reduced during 1944 by the UE, and regulations are now in progress to strengthen the program. The UE Radio Program

The Arthur Schlesinger broadcast will be on the air on every Saturday at 8:00 p.m. The program will be broadcast from the UE headquarters in New York City. The program is expected to have a large audience of listeners.
Compensation Awards Made to 301 Members

Workers' compensation awards were granted recently to 301 members of the American Electric Company, Inc. 103 of whom were electricians, 99 of whom were mechanics, and 62 of whom were foremen.

Mr. James B. McLean, president of the company, said that the awards were presented to the men who had been injured or disabled while working on the job.

Mr. McLean said that the awards were presented in recognition of the men's hard work and dedication to the company.

He added that the company was glad to be able to make these awards and that it hoped that they would help the men who had received them.

Campbell & Company

95 King Street

Boston, Massachusetts

September 22, 1974

Mr. James B. McLean
American Electric Company, Inc.
45 Main Street

Boston, Massachusetts

Dear Mr. McLean:

I am writing to express my appreciation for the compensation award that was recently presented to my son, John. John was injured on the job on May 15, 1974, and it was a relief to know that the company was willing to help him.

I would like to commend the company for its prompt and efficient handling of the situation. The compensation was awarded in a timely manner, and I am grateful for the support that was given to my son.

I hope that this letter finds you well and that the company continues to succeed.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Paul Johnson

Campbell & Company

---

Conferences on the Future of the Union

The American Electric Company, Inc., held a series of conferences to discuss the future of the union. The conferences were attended by members of the company, as well as by representatives from other organizations.

During the conferences, members of the union discussed issues such as wages, benefits, and working conditions. They also discussed the possibility of forming a new union or joining another existing one.

The conferences were well-attended, with representatives from various industries and organizations present. The discussions were respectful and constructive, and it was clear that the members were committed to making the union stronger.

I am pleased to see that the union is taking steps to improve itself and to better serve the needs of its members.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. James B. McLean
President
American Electric Company, Inc.

---

Meeting with Pfiffic

On Rates for Crafts

A meeting with Pfiffic was held recently to discuss rates for crafts. Pfiffic is a group of workers who are members of the American Electric Company, Inc. The meeting was attended by members of the company, as well as by representatives from other organizations.

During the meeting, members of Pfiffic discussed the rates they were paid for their work. They also discussed the possibility of negotiating higher rates with the company.

The meeting was well-attended, with representatives from various industries and organizations present. The discussions were respectful and constructive, and it was clear that the members were committed to making the rates fair and reasonable.

I am pleased to see that the company is taking steps to improve the rates for its workers.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. James B. McLean
President
American Electric Company, Inc.

---

Protesting Army Scalp-Blocking

The American Electric Company, Inc., held a protest against the army's scalp-blocking policy. The protest was attended by members of the company, as well as by representatives from other organizations.

During the protest, members of the company spoke out against the army's scalp-blocking policy. They also discussed the possibility of taking legal action to challenge the policy.

The protest was well-attended, with representatives from various industries and organizations present. The discussions were respectful and constructive, and it was clear that the members were committed to protecting their rights.

I am pleased to see that the company is taking steps to ensure that its employees' rights are protected.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. James B. McLean
President
American Electric Company, Inc.

---

Compensation Awards Made to 301 Members

Workers' compensation awards were granted recently to 301 members of the American Electric Company, Inc. 103 of whom were electricians, 99 of whom were mechanics, and 62 of whom were foremen.

Mr. James B. McLean, president of the company, said that the awards were presented to the men who had been injured or disabled while working on the job.

Mr. McLean said that the awards were presented in recognition of the men's hard work and dedication to the company.

He added that the company was glad to be able to make these awards and that it hoped that they would help the men who had received them.

Campbell & Company

95 King Street

Boston, Massachusetts

September 22, 1974

Mr. James B. McLean
American Electric Company, Inc.
45 Main Street

Boston, Massachusetts

Dear Mr. McLean:

I am writing to express my appreciation for the compensation award that was recently presented to my son, John. John was injured on the job on May 15, 1974, and it was a relief to know that the company was willing to help him.

I would like to commend the company for its prompt and efficient handling of the situation. The compensation was awarded in a timely manner, and I am grateful for the support that was given to my son.

I hope that this letter finds you well and that the company continues to succeed.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Paul Johnson

Campbell & Company

---

Conferences on the Future of the Union

The American Electric Company, Inc., held a series of conferences to discuss the future of the union. The conferences were attended by members of the company, as well as by representatives from other organizations.

During the conferences, members of the union discussed issues such as wages, benefits, and working conditions. They also discussed the possibility of forming a new union or joining another existing one.

The conferences were well-attended, with representatives from various industries and organizations present. The discussions were respectful and constructive, and it was clear that the members were committed to making the union stronger.

I am pleased to see that the union is taking steps to improve itself and to better serve the needs of its members.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. James B. McLean
President
American Electric Company, Inc.

---

Meeting with Pfiffic

On Rates for Crafts

A meeting with Pfiffic was held recently to discuss rates for crafts. Pfiffic is a group of workers who are members of the American Electric Company, Inc. The meeting was attended by members of the company, as well as by representatives from other organizations.

During the meeting, members of Pfiffic discussed the rates they were paid for their work. They also discussed the possibility of negotiating higher rates with the company.

The meeting was well-attended, with representatives from various industries and organizations present. The discussions were respectful and constructive, and it was clear that the members were committed to making the rates fair and reasonable.

I am pleased to see that the company is taking steps to ensure that its workers' rights are protected.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. James B. McLean
President
American Electric Company, Inc.

---

Protesting Army Scalp-Blocking

The American Electric Company, Inc., held a protest against the army's scalp-blocking policy. The protest was attended by members of the company, as well as by representatives from other organizations.

During the protest, members of the company spoke out against the army's scalp-blocking policy. They also discussed the possibility of taking legal action to challenge the policy.

The protest was well-attended, with representatives from various industries and organizations present. The discussions were respectful and constructive, and it was clear that the members were committed to protecting their rights.

I am pleased to see that the company is taking steps to ensure that its employees' rights are protected.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. James B. McLean
President
American Electric Company, Inc.

---