ESPOSITO'S SECTION

Next in 301 Drive

The needed section to be covered in the 301 newspaper drives will be Buildings 30, 39, and 41. The representation of the Executive Board delayed last week.

The committee, consisting of Members Guiseppe DeGioia, John Roselli, and Edward John, meeting with John, was informed that the drive is aimed to be completed by the end of October.

The union office is in contact with the membership to call on the members involved. The cards will be handed out by the committeemen, who will receive them through the board members.

It is important that every member gives his committeeman his correct address, so that the union mailing list and the distribution list of the UE News may be correct.

New Committeemen

Sworn into Office

Seven committeemen were sworn in as the 301 9th and 10th meeting meeting, bows at 7:30 by William Mattos, chief committeeman.

They are: Christopher Brereton, Blk. 61, Charles Chiarelli, Blk. 22, Peter A. Simon, Blk. 15, William A. Young, Blk. 46, Joseph Blandino, Blk. 26, Jack E. Nelsen, Blk. 60, and John Vitale, Blk. 16.

EXCUSE IT PLEASE!

Last week's issue of UE News was delayed due to a typing error that was corrected. William Young received $10,000 on the next issue of UE News, as a horizontal milling machine operator was transferred to a higher paying job by GE.

Industrial Relations

William Young is one of the few Local 301 members involved in the negotiations of all CIO unions on a new contract.

News of the Week

Election Calendar

The Pacific Coaster 301 Board Enlarges Shop Representation.

The Executive Board of Local 301 has appointed a new Board of Directors and shop representatives to the local union. The new Board consists of: Anthony J. Esposito, Chairman; Anthony J. Guido, Secretary-Treasurer; and Michael Negri, and John Keighley.

Named Alternates

William Street, Blk. 30, has been named by the Pacific Coaster 301 Board to serve on the Board as alternates to Edward Wellings for Blks. 90 and Blk. 46.

Unions Represented in Anti-Lynch Group

Leland Rice: "Leland Rice, a member of Local 301, went to Washington, D.C., to appear for the national program of the American Committee to End Lynching."

Herman Perriam: "Herman Perriam and Leland Rice went as representatives of the union, named by the Executive Board on recommendation of the union, to attend the general membership meeting.

For those interested in further information, contact the union office.

Union Members, Art Community Chosen

On recommendation of the Executive Board, the membership meeting of Local 301 voted to name members of the union, named by the Executive Board on recommendation of the General Union, to represent the company in the local union meetings.

GE also has other functions for their members, to be made on the payroll deductions. These are: Free Press, Blk. 15, Joseph Roselli, Blk. 46, and Joseph Blandino, Blk. 26.

The membership meeting was held at the union office on October 3, 1946.

PAC Committee Recommends List of State, Local Candidates

Candidates pledged to fight for labor control and to support the CIO program for wages and security have been recommended by the PAC Committee.

Local 301 was to take action at a special meeting to endorse the committee's list of state, local, and sub-committee candidates.

Public Notice to Workers

"If you want to survive, you will have to support the CIO program for wages and security."
PAC Committee Recommends Candidates

PAC Committee Recommends Candidates

best Dona, even though Joseph Dengler of Local 201 will be in the battle as ALP candidate. Brother Domenelli himself expressed this opinion of PAC.

"We don't think that the union is in a position to make any changes in this year's campaign," Domenelli added. "We're just trying to get our message across and let the members know what we believe in."