It Was A Big Night At 301 Hall

Hundreds of 301 workers crowded into the union hall to listen to Saturday night's 1953 electrical association's most successful spring dance held by the local in recent years. The newly-remodeled union hall was really jumping as Tony Villani and his band kept the music going from 3 to 6 o'clock until the small hours of the morning. The success of the dance got the union's 1953 entertainment program off to a flying start.

Next big event on the entertainment schedule is the annual fall dance, which is scheduled for Sunday, June 29. This affair will be followed by a baseball bonfire night, a football game and a basketball game.

He and his fellow members of Tony Villani's band packed many of the members from the local union hall, as well as from the local union hall, as well as from the local union hall.

A BIG PROBLEM. Robert Thomas, secretary of the Electrical Workers Committee, discussed the union's efforts to organize workers. He said that the committee is actively trying to organize workers. Van der Zee Seeks Improved Social Security for Widows

A letter by US Rep. William F. van der Zee of New York's 19th district has been taken as this month's Social Security for Widows Act, or the "van der Zee Bill." The bill would extend the benefits to widows of deceased workers, regardless of their marital status.

The bill is aimed at providing a more equitable system for widows, who currently receive only a fraction of the benefits available to widowers. The bill would also increase the amount of monthly benefits available to widows, bringing them closer to the level received by widowers.

Van der Zee is a strong advocate of Social Security reform, and has been a vocal critic of the current system. He has long advocated for increased benefits for widows, saying that they are left behind when their husbands pass away.

The bill is expected to receive broad support in Congress, and could be a key plank in van der Zee's re-election campaign.

In the meantime, van der Zee is working to get the bill through committees and onto the floor of the House and Senate. He is confident that with his strong support, the bill will become law in the near future.
