The ball team's bad luck seems to continue despite some wellplayed games. This week, they came in at the third inning with four runs and the score of 4-0, although they encountered the Thomas Park Senators. The Senators have a team of veterans with a record of 25 wins and 10 losses. Bad luck, however, seems to be the story as they got seven hits and in the end, were defeated by a score of 7-4.

A Lesson in Americanism

When we contrasted the progress we have made in our war on spies, we can't help but marvel at the steadfastness of our forefathers. In the face of enemies, they stood firm, unyielding, and fought for the cause of democracy.

The American Volunteers, an organization that supports the war efforts, has been active in spreading the gospel of Americanism. They have distributed thousands of pamphlets and posters, urging citizen participation in the war effort.

LOVING THE BOSS

by BILL VOTTY

Many G.E. bosses are trying to do their jobs better by making use of the "local" personnel relations handbook instead of old practices. This handbook is a guide to the new type of boss-reader, offering tips on how to handle the self-indulgent, self-important worker.

One day, Jock, a boss, said to one of his foremen, "What can I do for you?"

Foreman: "There's a new boy in the department." Jock: "Well, what can you do for him?"

Foreman: "He's a real pain in the neck." Jock: "Well, I'll see what I can do for him." He walked into the department and said, "What can I do for you?"

Boy: "I don't know, I just got here and I don't know what to do." Jock: "Well, I'll show you."

Jock took the boy under his wing and taught him the ins and outs of the job.

The boss and the worker developed a great rapport, and the boy began to enjoy his work.

The boss learned a lot from the worker, too, and the two became good friends.

The boss realized that sometimes the workers are the ones who need supervision and guidance, and that the boss is the one who needs support.

In conclusion, bosses should take the time to get to know their workers, and work with them to help them succeed.

Personal Story

At a meeting held at Union Headquarters, the president of the union addressed the group and said, "I believe in teamwork. We must work together to make our lives better."

A worker named John spoke up and said, "I've been at this company for 10 years, and I've seen a lot of changes. But one thing hasn't changed, and that's the need for teamwork."

John's story inspired many of the other workers, and they vowed to work together to make the company a better place.

"Suggestion" Note Gets Facts Wrong

A member of the Vapor Tube production council brought to the attention of the union an anonymous letter written as a suggestion for the improvement of production.

The council thought the letter was a valuable suggestion, and decided to investigate it further. However, on closer inspection, they realized that the letter was a gross exaggeration of the situation.

The council was disappointed, but they decided to continue investigating the matter to ensure that the production levels were as high as possible.

"Shh..." Navy "E" Award Credit to Union

By Marni Winters

The members of Local 999 awarded the "E" Emblem to Union Headquarters for their dedication to improving production.

The award was given to recognize the union's efforts in increasing productivity through the implementation of new safety measures and employee training programs.

The "E" Emblem is a symbol of excellence, and the union is proud to have earned this recognition.

"Shh..." Labor Rent Meeting Enlarges Committee

By Marni Winters

Representatives from various organizations met at the Labor Rent Meeting to discuss the expansion of the committee.

The committee is responsible for negotiating rent agreements on behalf of union members.

The expansion of the committee is expected to increase the effectiveness of the negotiations and to improve the lives of union members.

"Shh..." Consumer Meeting to Aid Price Control

By Marni Winters

An organization meeting was held to discuss the implementation of a price control program.

The meeting was attended by representatives from various organizations, including the union.

The program is designed to control the rising cost of living by limiting the increase of prices and stabilizing the economy.

"Shh..." Write To Boys In Army

By Marni Winters

A letter was written to the boys in the army, encouraging them to stay strong and to continue fighting for their country.

The boys were thanked for their service, and were reminded of the sacrifices that have been made for their freedom.

"Shh..." It's Better to Produce as Men for the Man with the Long Whiskers Than It Is to Produce as Slaves for the Man with the Little Moustache

By Marni Winters

The importance of producing for the people who need it most was emphasized, and the need to produce for the benefit of the nation was stressed.

The union is committed to producing for the good of the country, and they will continue to do so despite any obstacles that may arise.

"Shh..." The Original Torn

By Marni Winters

The story of how the union came to be is told, highlighting the sacrifices and struggles that were made.

The union is committed to continuing the fight for the rights of the workers, and they will not give up until justice is achieved.

Every worker in General Electric is hard at work against the wave of victory over the hated Axis.

And yet we have in our United States Congress a man who is determined to destroy everything you and I have done. His name is Martin Dies.
