Many Jobes

Because of Age

A good deal of the present unemployment among the employees of the 11,000 workers who make up the Western Electric Company is due to the fact that there are large numbers of men and women over 50 years of age. This is true of the entire labor force in this country. As a matter of fact, it is estimated that in the United States, women over 50 years of age are forty per cent of the total employed women.

The job seekers, however, are not all those who are over 50 years of age. In fact, the number of men and women who are over 50 years of age is only a small fraction of the total labor force.

Lay-offs Show Need Of Guaranteed Pay

Recent layoffs on the part of the Aeronautics Corporation have been a severe blow to the morale of workers. The company, which has been in operation for over 20 years, has been forced to lay off a large number of workers because of a decrease in orders.

GE Rewrites History In Article On Prices

American history as written by GE in the March 3 World's Show place the incorrect statistic that the average daily wage of a worker in 1929 was $2.80. The true figure is $2.40.

GE's National Election

In a speech on November 2, the President of General Electric, who is also a Vice-President of the American Federation of Labor, urged the union to work for a three-day week. He said that the union should demand that wages be increased by at least 25 per cent.

Contract Talks Center On Pay and Pensions

(Continued from Page 1) The union and the company have agreed on a settlement of the contract. The union has agreed to give up its demand for a three-day week and the company has agreed to give up its demand for a 10-hour day.

Employers Grab Benefits Of Increased Production

The corporations have been able to increase their profits by cutting down their labor costs. This has been accomplished by paying lower wages and by using less skilled labor.

Earnings of Workers

The earnings of workers have not increased as much as the earnings of the corporations. The difference between the two is about 10 per cent.

Why Prices Go Up

While prices have been rising, wages have not increased as much. This has resulted in a decrease in the purchasing power of wages.

Prices of Materials

The cost of materials has also increased. This has been caused by the increase in the cost of transportation and the increase in the cost of labor.

Prices of Labor

The cost of labor has also increased. This has been caused by the increase in the cost of materials and the increase in the cost of transportation.

Why Wages Hold Steady

Wages have not increased as much as prices because the corporations have been able to cut down their labor costs. This has been accomplished by paying lower wages and by using less skilled labor.

How Wages Can Be Raised

The only way that wages can be raised is by increasing the demand for labor. This can be done by increasing the prices of goods and by increasing the purchasing power of wages.

The Future of Labor

The future of labor is uncertain. It is possible that the corporations will continue to cut down their labor costs and that wages will continue to be held steady.

The Future of Prices

The future of prices is uncertain. It is possible that prices will continue to rise and that wages will not increase as much.
