Wallace Praises UE in Convention Talk

"It is to the eternal credit of UE that your union has not been hampered by the rising of false issues. You have managed to keep forward on the path to assured gain and everywhere. I look forward to the day when every worker will have the protection of a strong union."

Your enemies and mine include those who schemed to pull all the end of the way. They include a Congress, allied and abetted by the bureaucracy of war, who have sought to make the sacrifices of your children and the sacrifices of your parents, and their real fear is democracy.

Discussing the methods used by the anti-labor element in the union, Wberson said:

"They will tell you that they agree with your objectives—but that you must get more reasonable leadership. They will tell you that all of you are fine citizeen—but that they won't work with you until you get rid of the 'unnecessary' elements. They will use the same methods of propaganda they used to frighten you into the CIO."
