Seniority Rights Violated by GE

Level III has filed a formal complaint with a Federal Labor Relations Board (FLRB) to seek the reinstatement of all employees who have been deprived of their rights in the process of their quits.

The complaint was filed by the Union with the FLRB, which is an independent agency established by the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA) to adjudicate disputes between employers and unions.

The complaint alleges that the employer, General Electric Company (GE), engaged in unfair labor practices by interfering with the employees' rights to organize and bargain collectively through their Union.

The FLRB will schedule a hearing to determine whether the employer violated the NLRA by engaging in the alleged unfair labor practices.

City Group Criticizes
Dropping Bus Oversight

In response to the decision by the State Transportation Commission to eliminate the City Bus Oversight Committee, the City Group has issued a statement expressing its concern about the impact on public transportation services.

The City Group argues that the elimination of the committee will result in a loss of public input and accountability for the operation of the city's bus system.

More Steel Prices

The aluminum company has announced its latest price increases for wrought products.

The price increases are based on the company's cost to produce and sell these products, which include structural shapes, forgings, and TNT components.

Health and Social Security

The Union and the company have reached an agreement on a comprehensive plan covering all aspects of employee health care and social security benefits.

The plan includes provisions for medical insurance, retirement savings, and other benefits that will ensure the well-being of all employees.
