Membership Asks For Gov't Action

The membership at its meeting Tuesday, August 27, sent an appeal to the State Legislature and the City of Schenectady urging the immediate passing of adequate laws to protect the collective bargaining rights of workers.

Personnel

The management stated that one person per shift was being transferred. This person was replaced by a new employee who was not trained for the job.

Severance Pay Asked

With state officials refusing to be bound by the New York City contract, the Local 1199 Union asked for severance pay for unemployed workers.

1945 Union-GE Contract Articles

A meeting of the Local 1199 Union was held to discuss the 1945 Union-GE Contract. It was agreed that the contract should be renewed and that the workers should continue to support the Union.

Continuity of Service

The continuity of service clause in the contract was discussed. It was agreed that the clause should be strengthened to protect the workers from layoffs.

Jobs for All

A call for jobs for all unemployed workers was made. The Union stated that it was willing to work with any company that was willing to hire workers.

Schenectady Demands Jobs for All

With thousands of unemployed workers in the area, the Union asked for the creation of a community-wide committee to find jobs for all.

Plant Wide Seniority Won; GE Bows to Union Pressure

Plant-wide seniority was won by the Union, which is the result of their hard work and dedication.

Exec. Bd.

The Executive Board of the Union met to discuss the current situation. They agreed that the Union should continue to fight for the rights of its members.
We Win Together!

The future of the CIO rests on the question of whether or not we can win together. The strength of the CIO lies in its membership, and the security of its leadership is dependent upon this membership. Our military strength has never been so great as it is today, and yet our economic strength is in a critical state. We must now address the question of how we can win together.

The CIO cannot win without the support of its members. Without the support of its members, the CIO cannot achieve its goals. We must therefore work to ensure that our members are satisfied with the leadership of the CIO.

Local Credit

Marvin, WSNY

Among the credit for the success of the CIO’s local credit programs goes to Marvin, the local credit manager. Marvin has been instrumental in the success of the CIO’s credit programs.

First of all, Marvin has worked tirelessly to ensure that the programs are successful. He has been involved in every aspect of the program, from the development of the programs to the day-to-day operation of the programs. He has been a key figure in the success of the CIO’s credit programs.

Second of all, Marvin has been able to attract a large number of customers to the programs. He has been able to do this by offering customers a wide range of products and services, as well as competitive rates.

Thirdly, Marvin has been able to maintain a high level of customer satisfaction. He has been able to do this by providing excellent customer service, as well as a prompt and efficient response to customer inquiries.

In conclusion, Marvin has been an integral part of the success of the CIO’s credit programs. He has been a key figure in the development of the programs, and has been able to attract a large number of customers. He has also been able to maintain a high level of customer satisfaction. Marvin is a true asset to the CIO.

They Told of Need for Action

Janesville

In our city as well as in the country at large, the need for action is evident. The economy is in a critical state, and the CIO must take action to ensure that the needs of its members are met.

The CIO must take action to ensure that its members are satisfied with the leadership of the CIO. Without the support of its members, the CIO cannot achieve its goals.

One of the ways that the CIO can take action is by providing its members with the resources they need to succeed. This includes providing training, education, and job placement services.

Another way that the CIO can take action is by working to ensure that its members are treated fairly and justly. This includes advocating for fair wages, safe working conditions, and a voice in the decision-making process.

In conclusion, the CIO must take action to ensure that its members are satisfied with the leadership of the CIO. Without the support of its members, the CIO cannot achieve its goals. The CIO must provide its members with the resources they need to succeed, and work to ensure that its members are treated fairly and justly.
