Plan 4 Weeks of Stewards' Classes Beginning Feb. 24

In a move designed to strengthen the UE Local 301 grievance machinery, the Joint Board has announced a series of steward's classes beginning on Monday, February 24. All stewards will be expected to attend one class each week during the following 4 weeks, with each session held at the union hall. The emphasis of the stewards' classes will be on improving the efficiency of the grievance machinery. Business Agent Leslie and his assistants will conduct the classes.

The session was attended by women and women will be asked to come to a class to gather with all other stewards on their board members. In this way, particular problems of each division will get special attention.

Approval of the schedule of classes being presented Monday night. It was noted that the sessions were planned to coincide with the classes to improve significantly in introducing new stewards into their jobs and in strengthening the work of old stewards.

In order to prepare the stewards for the classes, the union offices will mail cards to each of them a special division on the classes. It is expected that these sessions will enable many stewards to better understand the provisions which particular problems of their groups.

Gannex for 1st and 3rd shift stewards will be held on Tuesdays and Wednesdays and Thursdays at 10 a.m. and 12 noon, respectively.

The 4 weeks of classes opens on Monday, February 24, 1963, at 10 a.m.

Local 301 Votes Approval of UE Proposals to GE

Local 301's membership voted Monday to approve the 1963 set of demands on the company drafted by the UE-GE conference board, which groups UE locals throughout the US.

Approval of the demands by the big demonstrator board helped to ease the way for presentation of several of the proposals to the company for tentative negotiation in the contractual conference. The union is expected to take back within the next few weeks.

Among the demands slated for early discussion are those for a substantial wage increase, the payment of Saturday holidays, and the cost of living allowance in the next four months, and for one end of the week's vacation period. The four-month period was initially set back to one month.
