International Oil Workers (CIO)—December 7, 1935 (Reprint)

Anti-Red Hysteria Is a Camouflage:
Butler Bill Will Destroy Free
and Bonafide Unions

"Conservative — Communist — Conservative"—The word is being repeated over and over again by the practitioners of the "Big Three" technique, repeated until it bears the semblance of a fact. It is the perfect technique to be employed by the traitors who would destroy the American labor movement. It is the perfect technique to be employed by the traitors who would destroy the American labor movement.

The word is being repeated over and over again by the practitioners of the "Big Three" technique, repeated until it bears the semblance of a fact. It is the perfect technique to be employed by the traitors who would destroy the American labor movement. It is the perfect technique to be employed by the traitors who would destroy the American labor movement.

"The logic of the"...
Vacation Unemployment Benefits Win After Appeal By Union

The Unemployment Insurance Appeal Board, after considering the appeal taken from a decision of a referee in favor of workers losing time from work because of vacation shutdowns last summer, decided that such workers who were not entitled to vacation pay during the shutdown are entitled to unemployment benefits.

The Board, in ordering a reinstatement of the unemployment benefits of the workers, stated that the 'employer had erroneously treated as a vacation shutdown that which was a normal shutdown due to the lack of work during the normal vacation season. The Board further held that the employer had no legal right to require the workers to take vacation during the normal vacation season, and that the workers were entitled to unemployment benefits for the period of time they were laid off due to the lack of work during the normal vacation season.

Profits, Taxes And Layoffs

Although it is said that the shutdown of operations during the vacation is a normal shutdown and that the workers are entitled to unemployment benefits, the employer has not been able to recover the lost wages of the workers. The employer has had to pay the workers their regular wages, but has not been able to recover the lost wages of the workers who were laid off due to the lack of work during the normal vacation season.

Company Announces Schedule For Vacation Shutdowns

The company has announced a schedule for vacation shutdowns in its departments for the year 1936. The schedule includes the times and dates for which the departments will be closed, and the employees will be required to take their vacations during these periods.

Rank and File Members

For Annual 203 Audit

Under the Rules of the Local Union, the members of a department are required to take their vacations during the period specified in the schedule. The members are also required to take their vacations during the period specified in the schedule, and to return to work on the specified date.

Officers Urge Army Keep Big Generator Job in U.S.

The local union has appealed to the Secretary of the Army to retain the contract for the construction of a large generator for the U.S. Army in the United States, citing that the Army needs the generator for its operations in the field.

McCarthy Fingers More GE Workers for Layoff

The company has announced a layoff of 500 workers due to a decrease in orders for large electrical equipment. The company states that it is necessary to reduce its workforce in order to maintain its financial stability.

Supreme Court Disagrees With GE

The company has appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States to overturn a lower court ruling that it is liable for the wages of workers who were laid off due to the lack of work during the normal vacation season. The Supreme Court has agreed to hear the case, and has ordered a recess to allow the parties to prepare their cases.

Officers Urge Army Keep Big Generator Job in U.S.

The local union has appealed to the Secretary of the Army to retain the contract for the construction of a large generator for the U.S. Army in the United States, citing that the Army needs the generator for its operations in the field.

McCarthy Fingers More GE Workers for Layoff

The company has announced a layoff of 500 workers due to a decrease in orders for large electrical equipment. The company states that it is necessary to reduce its workforce in order to maintain its financial stability.

Ought Not?...It’s Only an Orthogonal Rejection...

We’ve Weathered These Storms Before

Moves in Like Vulture To Help Company Put Over Its Layoff Program

The company has announced that it plans to lay off 500 workers due to a decrease in orders for large electrical equipment. The company states that it is necessary to reduce its workforce in order to maintain its financial stability.

Electrical Union News