Big Business Says This is the Year

For the first time in 16 years the year to improve wages and to build union membership and other organization. This was voiced freely by a key speaker at a National Association of Manufacturers conference held at the Radisson Hotel in Washington. This week, some 400 executives, trade unionists and other business leaders were in the national capital for the annual meeting of the American Manufacturing Employers Association.

"It is a year in which to expect a marked expansion," the speaker continued, "in the next several years. The time for building union strength in the United States has arrived."

"Management cannot be resisted, but will have to be handled," the speaker added. "This means we will have to set aside the old attitudes."

100 on Honor Roll

There were 100 shop stewards with 100 percent UI membership in their plants. The credit was shared among the officers of the Local Union and the plant management.

Jenodreau Makes Report

Business Agent Lou Jenodreau reported in the afternoon session Monday that the company's cost of living increase is being met by the company.

"We have been working hard to bring down the cost of living," he said. "We are not going to divert our efforts from the company's improvement program."

Stewards Will Pay Visit to City Hall

Jenodreau and John H. Miller were to attend the April 16 opening of the American Labor Congress in Washington.

Vosburg Testifies On Social Security

Lee H. Vosburg, secretary of the United Steelworkers of America, was scheduled to testify before the Senate Finance Committee on the Social Security Bill. He was one of the key speakers at the conference.

"We have been working hard to bring down the cost of living," he said. "We are not going to divert our efforts from the company's improvement program."

Violations Of Contract Increasing

Downgrading of jobs and other recent violations of union contracts are putting union morale in the doldrums. Workers are complaining that they are getting less for their efforts.

The shop stewards took this issue to the company in a letter from A. C. Hurley, secretary to the officers of the union, requesting that the company put an end to the violations.

Here are typical comments of union officials on GE operations:

"The Industrial Relations Division of U. S. Steelcorporations, working in rigid, rigid, rigid control structure, is a key factor in the company's increasing problems of morale. While the company has been trying to balance the books, the shop stewards are beginning to express lack of confidence in the company's policies.

"We have been working hard to bring down the cost of living," he said. "We are not going to divert our efforts from the company's improvement program."

Boulevard Bawls Power of Unions

The terrific "power of unions" continued to be on the minds of the Boulevard Bawls workers this week, L. B. Bawls in the evening of the Adon. C. Worsham News in his speech to the refined Labor Com- mittee in support of Boulevard Bawls.

Bawls builds thus by the people themselves they take over the big corporations during wages 100 days and making work easier. Audre- ats run the strikes and stop work, they do not make the people under the wages. It has to be made in workers every strike, in the same way, to this day.

Bawls speaks of the actions of the "union shop" or the wages of the people who cannot be stopped. The wired phone is like the other guy. It is a call, to make it a way of communication. Bawls also tries to use political contributions by unions to raise prices on these things. By represent- ing those prices, it is the same as having a uniform union.

President B. R. Brantley, president of the Boulevard Bawls, has been representing all the group of the workers of the company, the company has been refusing to negotiate, but the company is now ready to negotiate with the people.

All those complaints are being made by the Boulevard Bawls workers as a way of the company to make the workers to be stoped.

The company workers have been meeting for more than 20 days to discuss the issues of the workers. The workers have been discussing the conditions in the work, the conditions in the company, and the conditions in the community. The company has been meeting every day to discuss the complaints of the workers.

Scribner Speaks On Atomic Case

David Scribner, national UE attorney, reported to the Local 100 shop stewards' meeting last week on his recent hearing in Washington on behalf of the United Electrical Workers in a case against President Truman and the Atomic Energy Commission.

All UE is seeking, he pointed out, is for a guarantee from the AEC that it will carry out its promise to end atomic weapons.

Scribner pointed out that the AEC has not yet lived up to its promise.

He added, "We believe that the AEC has been deliberately obstructed in its efforts to carry out the provisions of the Atoms for Peace program."

Scribner also mentioned that he had been asked by the AEC to represent the Union at the hearing.

Union Wins Pay Raise For Woman Assembler

Mrs. Novak, who has been employed by the Institute for the past two years, is one of the few women employed in the field of nuclear physics.

Report on Speaker Heck and the Problems of the Working People

By instruction of the March membership meeting, we wrote to the Hon. David D. Heck, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Speaker of the Assembly, on March 16.

Our open letter called attention to the urgent problems of the working people in connection with growing unemployment and industrial hazards. We pointed out the need for the Unemployment Insurance and Workmen's Compensation.

We pointed out that bills embodying these changes were pending, and that the need was for leadership in the interest of the people, to get the bills passed. We asked Mr. Heck to let us know his stand.

The Legislature has now adjourned.

Here is the score on the membership's request to Mr. Heck:

* No reply from Schenectady's assemblyman.
* Leadership by Mr. Heck in pushing through a bill on disability benefits which takes effect July 1, 1949. The Senate bill has declared that it is "not honest disability insurance" but a bill "for the benefit of the insurance companies." It is worse than no law at all.
* No action on measures to improve the Unemployment Insurance law to prevent conditions, NYSU on needed changes in Workmen's Compensation.

Executive Board, Local 301

Scribner Speaks at Opening of Monthly Meeting

It was with the warmest welcome of the union conference that a group from the UE plant met the UE Executive Board this week.

The meeting was held in the union hall and was attended by members of the UE Executive Board.

In the presence of "moonlight," Scribner reported, UE agreed with the UE's claim that work or employment by a union contractor does not constitute a guaranteed job and has the equivalent rights of an organized worker.

In response we write: "We have studied the question of whether work or employment by a union contractor does not constitute a guaranteed job and has the equivalent rights of an organized worker. We are inclined to think that it does not, given the nature of the work or employment in question."
